Editor's Column

by STUART R. PADDOCK

ON VACATION—

When an editor leaves on vacation, should it extend to readers of his column? If you think so, don't read it.

Three thousand miles from home the only thing we can write about is California, so here goes.

First, . . . the weather . . . . 63 days without a rain drop and the rainy season is past due.

We have listened to tales of what happens in Marin county when snow melts and water pours down all the hills through business districts. They are worrying about the "snow crop." If it does not come there are going to be a lot of thirsty people.

Situated near the Napa Valley with thousands of acres of grapes and huge wineries, why should they worry about a water shortage?

We have never been an authority on wine, but a visit through the wine cellars is enlightening in more ways than one. The winery owner is so proud of his product that he holds a continuous open house to all visitors, offering guests the opportunity of being a "wine taster."

We now know what makes the "oop" when a bottle of champagne is opened.

After looking through San Francisco's Sunday newspapers, we discovered a new advertising potential. It was listed under "Introductory Services." Several columns in the classified section are devoted to what we would call "marriage market."

If any of the bachelors back home are interested, a few of the girls on the marriage block seek to attract the wary males with . . . . "dynamic, companionable"; "slim, warmhearted"; "delightful brunette"; "cute as a button"; "dainty little widow" etc.

In the adjoining column the lonely male advertisers boast of their pleasing personality and financial stability.

We never expected in this day and age to see advertisements on the front page of such a nationally known newspaper as the San Francisco Chronicle.

We ended such a practice 50 years ago.

That same paper this morning started 16 stories on the front page which were carried over to twelve other pages, making it a time consuming job to learn the news of the day.

Railroads operating in the San Francisco suburban areas fifteen years ago found a way to solve their financial commuter problems.

They just quit operating . . . turning their rights-of-way over to speedways for autos.

We now know how it will be back home when the predicted built-up areas will extend to the Fox river on the west and Milwaukee on the north.

San Francisco suburbs are one continuing mass of municipalities extending nearly a hundred miles, except for the various bays and population signs that separate them.

Yet in the adjoining hills there is a reminder of home, in that an area on the nearby coast is one known as "Inverness."

Illinoisans cannot escape taxes by coming to California. First there is the 4 per cent sales tax, then the state income tax, a use tax, a county tax and the personal property tax. If you drive a car in California, regardless of its age, there is a healthy vehicle state tax.

We have not met anybody who threw their personal property tax bill into the wastebasket.

A telegram from home reports snow and zero weather. We are glad we are in California although our overcoat is excess baggage.

We have accidents in California. We know. We have just broken our left wrist. The surgeon says it will be six or eight weeks before we can drive or use a typewriter.

We wonder if it is worthwhile coming home?

SUIT FILED OVER SHOPPING CENTER

Plan 14 Stores At $1.4 Million Cost

Plans to build a $1,250,000 shopping center at the northeast corner of Kirchoff and Wilke rds. in Arlington Heights were taken to Circuit court last week.

Seeking to have the nine acre tract rezoned from residential to commercial use, Nicholas Prassas of George W. Prassas and company, commercial developers, contends the present classification is arbitrary, discriminative and an abuse of the power of zoning authorities.

Prassas' petition for rezoning, made last March, has made the rounds of village committees, boards and commissions. Village home owners and the Rolling Meadows' plan commission got into the act last April when they appeared before Arlington Heights' zoning board of appeals to object to the planned 14-store shopping center.

A REPRESENTATIVE of the Westgate Homeowners' association, representing over 200 homes in west Arlington Heights, told the zoning board of appeals that, "We feel existing Westgate shopping center is adequate and the proposed center would aggravate an already bad traffic situation." Rolling Meadows plan commission chairman told the board that his city feared if the tract in question went commercial, other property in the area would follow suit.

Following recommendations by the zoning board of appeals and plan commission that the petition be denied, the village board appointed a committee that came up with the conclusion that the proposed shopping center "is not basically inconsistent with the overall planning of the village." Prassas was advised to make some changes in his plans, which he did, and the matter was referred back to the zoning board of appeals.

Last week, however, Prassas' attorney, G. H. Hennessey, asked that the petition be formally denied. The board granted his request and the matter went to court.

HENNESSEY told the Herald that Prassas still hopes to settle the matter peaceably, but that certain option requirements on the land required immediate action. "Perhaps we can make some acceptable changes in our plans and drop the suit," he said.

The contemplated center would be larger than Westgate's, but smaller than Rolling Meadows'. It envisions two food markets, a variety store, drug store, a 2-story, 30,000 square foot junior department store, and several smaller shops. Parking spaces would be provided for 700 cars.

RALPH E. CLABAUGH

Elect Clabaugh To State Post

Ralph E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington Heights school district 25, has been elected president of the Illinois Association of School Administrators.

The 750 member association is a statewide organization of school superintendents. Clabaugh previously served as vice president and has been on the board of directors for three years. He is also school education chairman and a member of the board of managers of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers.

Hayride Is Scheduled Saturday

Anyone for an old fashioned hayride? The Arlington Heights park district is offering a leisurely excursion in a covered wagon full of the grassy stuff this Saturday night.

A bus will pick up hayriders at Pioneer and Recreation parks and take them to Idle Hour Stables, 8600 Higgens rd. where the wagon trip will originate. Music and singing will prevail during the ride and the bus will return the group to Arlington afterward.

Reservations may be phoned by calling CL 3-0620 but everyone must pay the $1.00 fare at Pioneer park before Friday at 5 p.m.

Only adults of post-high school age may go. Riders should wear warm, informal clothing and expect a casual pleasant evening. If there is enough snow the affair may be converted to a sleighride.

Jaycees Sponsor Christmas Contest

Applications for Arlington Heights' second annual Jaycee outdoor Christmas decorating contest are available starting this week.

Entrants outdoor Christmas displays will be judged December 22 through December 26. Judges will look for artistic merit, lighting techniques and originality. Cost of decorations will not be an item of judgement.

Open to all Arlington Heights residents, the contest entry deadline is December 20. Entry blanks will be printed in the Herald and are also available in local stores. Mailing instructions are included on entry blanks. Cash prizes will be awarded and local winners will be elibable for entry in the national contest.

School Bus Law To Be Drafted

An ordinance requiring vehicles to stop when a school bus is unloading is being drafted by Arlington Heights village attorney.

Mayor Edward Carlisle told the village board that he had received several phone calls protesting that cars weren't stopping while school buses were unloading.

Village Attorney Stephen Jurco noted that the state statute applies only to rural areas and is not enforceable within a municipality's boundaries.

MRS. ARTHUR HULTIN looks over clothing that children of Dr den school brought for burned out family of six, all of whose possessions were destroyed in fire.

Open House Set For N. Dunton

Arlington Heights residents are invited to an all day open house Tuesday and Wednesday, Dec. 8 and 9 by N. Dunton st. businessmen to celebrate the widening of Dunton st. and installation of street lights.

Free coffee and doughnuts and 11 turkeys will be given away. Stores participating are Arlington IGA, Cimelia Gift shop, deForest TV, Dream Age Fashions, Heinz Shoes. Landwehr TV, E. B. Lattorff, Mors Bakery, Sherrill Sewing Center, Larry's Shoe Repair, and Webber Paint co.

Tax Lists

The quadrennial tax assessment lists for Wheeling township are published this week in the Herald.

Discuss Fee Changes In Business Licenses

Business license fees will be a topic of discussion at the Arlington Heights village board meeting, Monday, Dec. 7. A committee has recommended that various fees be raised in some instances and lowered in others.

Leaps Curb

Careening Car Causes Crisis

It "took a tow truck to untangle the mess" caused by a six-car accident set in motion last Friday in Arlington Heights' Dunton Court shopping center, when an elderly man's snow-slick foot slipped off his car's brake.

The trouble started when Harry P. Clark, 73, of 1908 N. State rd., started to back his car out of a diagonal parking space on Dunton in front of the shopping center, he later told police.

His bumper hooked onto the bumper of the car next to him, as he misjudged his distance.

At this point, he became excited, and his slippery shoe, enmeshed in snow fluttered on the brake, slipped off and hit the gas pedal.

AWAY SHOT the car, forward at an angle, striking the car parked adjacent to it. Off went the car again, jumping the curb, flattening a parking meter.

Like a ricocheting bullet, the vehicle seemed possessed as it dashed over the sidewalk and zoomed into the shopping center parking area, struck another parked vehicle, caromed off, and hammered still another car.

The latter was propelled into still another car as it rocked sideways. Within the widely careening car Clark's foot still pressed down upon the pedal, "frozen" to it.

No one was injured, but police said it "took a tow truck to untangle the mess."

Village Snow Law Altered

A decision that you can't force people to shovel their sidewalks free of snow led Arlington Heights' vilalge board to amend its snow removal ordinance last week.

The ordinance originally proposed that all walks must be free of snow by 10 a.m. of each day excepting Sunday.

Village Attorney Stephen Jurco noted, however, that while a state statute gives municipalities the power to enforce snow removal, courts have repeatedly ruled that a community cannot force a property owner to clean his sidewalk.

VILLAGE Manager L. A. Hanson told the board his office had been contacted by residents in opposition to the ordinance. Trustee Wendell Prunty added that he was concerned as to how elderly persons would get their walks shoveled. "I think we should enforce the shoveling of sidewalks in the business districts but not in residential areas," said Prunty.

The board finally agreed to delete the portion of the ordinance requiring the clearing of snow from sidewalks. It added a provision prohibiting the parking of cars in village parking lots from 10 p. m. to 6 a.m. if there is over an inch of snow in a lot.

Retained in the ordinance was the provision that limits parking on streets when snow is falling and for eight hours after snow stops falling, if the snow on the street exceeds one inch, to three minutes for loading and unloading passengers and 30 minutes for property.

Thanksgiving Spirit Helps Burned Out Family of Six

MINUTES AFTER FIRE started, house at 818 S. McKinly was reduced to charred skeleton. Heat was so intense that windows in houses on both sides of burning structure were cracked. Family had lived in dwelling only three months.

Suddenly finding themselves out in the world with nothing but the clothes on their backs, $5 in the bank and a 1949 Hudson, an Arlington Heights family of six found a community ready to share its Thanksgiving blessings.

Mrs. Arthur Hultin and her four small children saw nearly everything the family owned go up in flames last week when a fire leveled their house at 818 S. McKinly in southeast Arlington Heights within a matter of minutes early Wednesday morning.

Mr. Hultin was still at work when his wife was summoned to the rear of the house by her oldest son's cries. She found a bedroom wall covered with a sheet of flames.

The pretty, blue-eyed, 21-year-old mother barely had time to throw a coat over her shoulders, round up her pajama-clad, shoeless youngsters, ages four, three, two and seven months, grab the family puppy, and rush out into the raw wintry morning before the house was burned to the ground.

Neighbors summoned the fire department, but the best it could do, with the assistance of Mt. Prospect's tank truck, was wet down neighbors' houses to keep the fire from spreading. In a few minutes it was all over.

All the accumulations of five years of marriage, clothes, appliances, stove, refrigerator, furniture, a new hi-fi TV set, children's toys, all went up in smoke with a $17,000 home that had been occupied by the family only three months. The family had no insurance.

Neighbors didn't stop with calling the fire department. Word of the calamity spread quickly and within hours help started pouring in.

Employees and officials of the Charles Bruning company saw the fire to the west of their plant and collected over $700 for the family. The Welfare Committee of Arlington Heights' district 25 PTA went into emergency action and sent flyers home at noon with Dryden school pupils telling of the family's plight.

The response was fantastic. Children gave their allowances and new toys. Blankets, towels, sheets, silver ware, an iron, and enough clothes to outfit an army of children were brought back by the school children. Finally eight tables in the school's multi-purpose room were piled high and the overflow was stacked around the walls.

The day after Thanksgiving a Herald reporter found Mrs. Hultin still going through clothing, looking for things for her and her husband. She told of the community's kindness and how over a thousand dollars had been contributed to the family, with money still coming in.

She cited churches, civic organizations and veterans' clubs as those from whom the family had received help.

And how does she feel about starting life over again? "Well, it's kind of rough to be paying for furniture and things you'll never see again, but we're all alive and the way the community has helped us, we'll soon get back on our feet," she said.

What the family needs most, she noted, is a house, "but not a frame one," she added quickly. The family is presently staying with Hultin's brother in Elk Grove Village. There phone number is HE. 7-3023.

Set Department Store Opening for Saturday

Arlington Heights' newest and largest department store, Benj. Allen and Company, will open for business Saturday, Dec. 5, in Arlington Market shopping center.

Covering over a third of an acre the store will offer merchandise ranging from fine jewelry to electric appliances. Customers will also find toys, recreational furniture, records, phonographs and radios, infants' wear, luggage, cameras, sporting goods, and golden tools.

A Santa Claus will be on hand opening day to greet the youngsters and distribute balloons. Specially priced merchandise will also be offered until Christmas.

A GRAND opening has been scheduled for Thursday, Dec. 10. Door prizes valued at $2,000 will be given away from December 10th through the 19th. The grand prize, a $370 12 cubic feet freezer, will be given away on the 19th.

The supermarket type store will allow customers to select their purchases from shelves. An automatic self-stocking feature lets shoppers help themselves to unopened factory-packed cartons and wheel them to check-out counters in shopping carts. In addition to the no-waiting self-service, other cost cutting economies include elimination of charge accounts and delivery service.

R. M. CALVIN, president of Benj. Allen and Company, and an Arlington Heights resident, said that every item in the store will carry a specification tag describing it in detail and showing Allen's price compared with the usual retail price.

The Arlington Heights store is the fourth Benj. Allen and Company store to open in the Chicago area within the last 14 months. Existing stores are in Park Ridge, La Grange and Northbrook.

The store will have the same merchandise, prices and policies as the Chicago area Flagg's stores owned by the same company.

It will stay open until 9 p.m. Monday through Friday and until 6 p.m. on Saturdays.

The Bank of Arlington Heights is scheduled to open adjacent to the store shortly after the first of the year.

Engineer Survey Funds Are Voted

A split Arlington Heights' village board has voted funds for an engineering survey of the cost of an underpass at State rd. and Northwest hwy. and an extension of Foundry rd. to connect with Sigwalt st.

The projects have long been a goal of village planners and are recommended in the village's recently completed master plan.

Before approving addition of the $7,500 engineering fees to this year's budget, board members engaged in a lively debate as to the priority of village needs.

TRUSTEE Eugene Schlickman, who cast the lone vote against funds for preliminary survey of an underpass, favored conducting the survey at a later date, "Because we're going to have difficulty as it is in financing the new village hall." Schlickman also questioned whether there might be village improvements more immediately needed than an underpass.

Trustee Bob Bukowski answered that "This village has many of its problems today because it has planned too small."

"I don't know of a more immediate need for Arlington Heights than an underpass," he said.

"It will take several years after the survey is completed before negotiations are concluded with the state and county and an underpass becomes a reality," noted Trustee Melvin Kurtz in voting for funds for the survey. (AF

Musical Talent Sought by Park

Do you enjoy playing a musical instrument? The Arlington Heights park district would like to know how many people are in the area who would participate if they sponsored an adult band or orchestra.

The parks' recreation program will consider backing whatever type of musical group for which they can find eager talent.

If a sufficient number and variety of instrumentalists exist, a symphony orchestra might develop. If not a band, any type of group which meets the need could be formed.

THE GROUP would practice regularly under a skilled director and would be available on civic occasions as well as offering occasional concerts.

If you are a skilled player of post-high school age and would enjoy such an organization please phone the park office, CL 3-0620.

Q. My daughter has become engaged to a young man whose home is in a distant city. She has never met his mother, but would like to write her a note. Don't you think his mother should be the first to write?

A. Yes, the man's mother should write a letter of welcome to your daughter—and, if necessary, her son should ask his mother to do this.

First Grand Opera Slated for Suburb

Grand opera will make its debut in the northwest suburban area with the coming production of "Opera Highlights" by the Greenview Estates Musical Drama Guild, Sunday, Dec. 13, at 8 p.m. in the Prospect high school little theater.

The producers of this "first" for the area, Mr. and Mrs. William Fricke of 103 S. Waterman, Arlington Heights, will be the featured soloists, singing the baritone and soprano leads in all the scenes.

Their students, Ellen Janda and Andrea Fonecker, both of Arlington Heights, also are to do solo parts. Edward M. Joyce of Arlington Heights has the difficult job of singing three different parts.

GIAN - CARLO Minnotti's one act buffa opera, "The Telephone," is one of the numbers on the program.

The guild will also present a scene from Verdi's "Masked Ball" and the second act of Verdi's "La Traviata."

Mrs. Mary Smith of Palatine, a former San Carlo member, will sing the part of Ulrica in "Masked Ball." Robert Alson of Chicago will do the tenor solo of Riccardo.

MUSICAL DIRECTOR for the new company is Mr. Ando G. Cutronu of Lake Forest, who has had experience directing the New York City Center Opera Co. and a number of local companies.

Mrs. Margaret Coutts of Palatine and Mrs. Bertha Fricke of Berwyn are the accompanists.

Study Possible Revisions Of Illinois Constitution

Encouragement in planning a long range study for the possible revision of the Illinois constitution was given to the league of women voters November 18, at a statewide meeting at the Sherman Totel in Chicago.

Eight members of the Arlington Heights league were present at the all day conference.

John E. Bebout of the national municipal league was the opening speaker and explained to the 500 women present the qualities of an ideal constitution. He served as a consultant in writing the new Alaska constitution and at present is working with the state of New York on their revision plans.

* * * *

THE LONG BALLOT, judicial system, and revenue are some of the specific items in the present Illinois constitution which need revision, according to Bebout.

In 1970, the Illinois Constitution will be 100 years old. To plan for a constitutional convention by that date is not too far-reaching, Bebout believes. He urged that league members don't work for a constitution suitable for 1970 alone, but instead, "look forward to writing a document that will meet the needs of the year 2,000, at least."

BEBOUT pointed out that in both New Jersey and Missouri the league of women voters took the initiative in urging and working for a successful constitutional revision. A committee of the legal profession rewriting the judicial article, or one entirely of business men revising revenue can be dangerous, the league was told. Women as well as men outside the fields of law and business should be allowed a place in laying the groundwork of constitutional revision.

According to Bebout, no constitutional convention should be called without research and preparation by an official constitutional revisional committee made up of representative citizens of the whole state.

"The league of women voters can help in every phase of this worthwhile and long overdue project," Bebout stated in conclusion.

The second portion of the morning session was devoted to three separate meeting covering subjects which are under study by local leagues this year.

"WATER conservation" was attended by Mrs. R. B. Yadon, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Julian Pelletier, Mt. Prospect. Present at the "election laws and procedures" meeting was Mrs. John Solon, Mrs. John Vork, and Mrs. Gerald Chapman, all of Arlington Heights. Mrs. Fred Marks, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Seth Grossman, Elk Grove Village, participated in the meeting covering "Illinois revenue problems."

Dr. Harland Cleveland, dean of the Maxwell graduate school of citizenship and public affairs of Syracuse university, addressed the entire assembly in the afternoon session on foreign policy. Dr. Cleveland was recently called upon by the Senate foreign relations committee "to enlighten the committee about matters in the field of foreign policy."

Dr. Cleveland opened his remarks by pointing out that the United States is now in the process of adopting a new set of attitudes and policies regarding foreign affairs. He stated that we must know why the world is unenthusiastic about our foreign policy, and that we must not sell ourselves short by realizing that our spirit — not our machines bind us together.

IN WORLD affairs, he stated, we must realize that we are dealing with the internal make-up of other countries. Not only must our diplomats, technical advisors, and public officials concern themselves with the political powers and philosophy of a country, but also they should be aware of those who will next be in power.

The lack of faith and support of the public in our foreign relations was condemned by Dr. Cleveland.

"Let us believe not only in what our leaders say, but give them trust in what they intend to do about our foreign policies," he urged the group.

IN CONCLUSION, DR. Cleveland pointed out that foreign policy is not a question of "do we want to be involved?" Rather, it is "how are we going to be involved?"

Material secured from the program conference will be made available to the membership of the Arlington Heights league through unit meetings and workshops scheduled for the next five months.

Persons wishing additional information and dates of the workshops can call Mrs. R. B. Yadon, president, CL 5-6488, or Mrs. Leonard Castle, membership chairman, CL 3-5765.

CHATTING AT STATEWIDE meeting of League of Women Voters are Mrs. Paul Green of Prospect Heights; state treasurer; Mrs. Gerald Chapman, past president of the Arlington Heights league, and Mrs. Seth Grossman of Elk Grove Village, board member.

Hospital Doors Open To Receive Patients

The Northwest Community hospital at 800 W. Central rd., Arlington Heights, opened its doors to patients for the first time Wednesday morning, Dec. 2, at 7 a.m.

The 110 bed hospital dedicated on November 22, is now operating on a 24-hour, round-the-clock basis, with physicians in attendance at any hour of the day or night. All departments are functioning, and the hospital is already accepting emergency and obstetrical cases and pediatrics patients. Two categories of cases are being restricted until Monday, Dec. 7—acutely ill medical cases and elective surgery (those in which operations can be temporarily deferred).

WITH OFFICIAL license for operation received from the Bureau of Hospitals of the State of Illinois last week, all forms of official sanction for operation had been received. This week, the last of the hospital staff personnel were engaged by Alan Campbell, hospital administrator. Dr. Thomas Harwood was named head pathologist, in charge of the hospital laboratory, and Dr. Constantine Soter, was appointed radiologist.

Dr. Harwood has had extensive hospital experience in Chicago, and also is on the teaching staff of Northwestern University Medical school. Dr. Soter, who is a graduate of the University of Athens, in Greece, also has had Chicago hospital experience, and is consulting radiologist to the U.S. Public Health Service in Chicago.

CAMPBELL SAID he believed it would be only a short time until the new hospital is operating at a near-capacity rate. Many doctors on the staff have had patients scheduled to enter, pending announcement of official opening. On opening day, the hospital staff numbered approximately 70 persons, with many more on a stand-by basis ready for call as the hospita moves toward its full patient capacity. At peak, the hospital will have a staff of slightly more than 150, according to Campbell.

With the inauguration of service to sick and injured by doctors and nurses, the Volunteer Service Department of the hospital Women's Auxiliary will also go into action. There are many duties which the women will perform as the hospital moves into its regular routine.

Plans will be worked out by Mrs. James G. McCartney, head of Volunteer service, working with Campbell. Already the women have planned to honor the first baby born in the new hospital with a $25 government bond.

Campbell said that normal visiting hours would be observed—2 to 4 o'clock in the afternoon and 7 to 8 o'clock in the evening. He also announced that the cafeteria, already open to staff members, would also be open to hospital visitors. (AF

Seek Delegates to Select School Board Candidates

Arlington Heights' civic and educational organizations are being asked to select delegates to serve on the nominating committee which chooses candidates for the school board of district 25.

This committee is a non-partisan group organized to nominate candidates to fill the three vacancies on the school board at the April, 1960 election.

The first meeting of the nominating committee is scheduled for January 11, 1960.

NON-POLITICAL and non-religious organizations are eligible to send two delegates who are residents of school district 25 to the committee. Each delegate is allowed to serve for two years.

Groups that have been in organization for less than two years are not eligible to serve on the committee.

Qualified organizations that have selected delegates should contact committee chairman George S. Hoban of 645 S. Burton, Arlington Heights.

AMONG THE groups that have previously had delegates on the nominating committee are the Arlington Heights Parent-Teacher Association, American Association of University Women, American Legion, Nurses club, Junior Women's club, Campfire Girls association, Chamber of Commerce, Home Bureau, Kiwanis club, Lions club Newcomers club, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and various property owners associations.

Any questions pertaining to qualifications may be directed to either Mr. Hoban or Mrs. John Kehe, vice-chairman, 638 N. Highland Ave., Arlington Heights. (Af

Christmas Carols Ring Out on Prospect Stage

"Till Christmas Chimes," the seventh annual Christmas program of the Town and Country Mixed Chorus, will be presented Saturday, Dec. 5, at the Prospect high little theatre, 801 Foundry rd., Mt. Prospect.

Directed by Mrs. Marguerite Westphal, with assistance from pianist Charlotte Weigel, the program is comprised of Christmas carols and songs, both old and new.

Among the featured soloists will be Mrs. Dorothy O'Brien, soprano, of Mt. Prospect. She has been singing since she was 12 years old and studied under a German professor in her home town of Cannonsburg, Pa. Mrs. O'Brien has been much in demand as a featured soloist.

MRS. MARY Waishwell, mezzo soprano of Mt. Prospect, studied for two years at the Eastman school of music in Rochester, N. Y. Among groups that she has been associated with are the First Episcopal choir of Rochester and the Pirmyn chorus, an operatic group in Chicago.

Town and Country will present Don Hermann's arrangement of "I Will Compass Thine Altar." Hermann, who received his masters degree in music from Northwestern university, is the music director at St. Peter Lutheran school and church in Arlington Heights.

Alec Catherwood, a young violinist, will do much of the accompaniment, and is at present studying at the Conservatory of Music in Chicago.

NUMBERS ON THE lighter side also are scheduled. Mrs. Linda Kudla and Mrs. Kathy Denzinger will play "The Waltzing Cats." Ann Dickson is the soprano soloist in "Toyland," and a new version of "The Chipmunk Song," directed by Santo Perricone and his chipmunks will be presented.

Many of the choral arrangements will be accompanied by orchestra bells, organ, violin, and piano music.

Two numbers will have trumpet, trombone, and bass drum accompaniments supplied by the Palatine village band.

Tickets priced at $1.00 for adults and 50 cents for children, can be obtained from chorus members or at the door.

Q. Should birth announcements be mailed to everyone, including those whom you have already told over the telephone?

A. No; only to friends and relatives whom you have not told.

Arlington High School Youths Give Concert

"Our Christmas Gift to the Community," Arlington high school's annual Christmas concert, will be presented Sunday, Dec. 6, at 3 p.m. in the boys gym auditorium.

Vocal and instrumental groups representing the entire Arlington music department will perform a program of traditional Christmas music including "Carol of the Bells," "O Come, O Come Emmanuel," "The Christmas Song," "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks," "O Holy Night," and the Hallelujah Chorus from "The Messiah."

Miss Marjorie Beu, Robert D. Wolff, and F. C. Schmoyer will direct the concert groups.

Q. Should garage employees or service station attendants be tipped?

A. Only if some special service has been performed outside of what is regularly charged for.

Trouble

The fundamental cause of trouble in the world today is that the stupid are cocksure while the intelligent are full of doubt.—Bertrand Russell.

Teenager Is Helped By 2,000 'Parents'

DISPLAYING LETTER and translation from Korean youngster whom students at Arlington high school are sponsoring under auspices of Foster Parents, Inc., are Jane Schaefer (left), a senior, of 25 S. Salem, Arlington Heights, and Ann Warren, a junior and student council corresponding secretary, of 817 N. Harvard, Arlington.

(B-8)

Moon Yung Sook has over 2,000 parents.

They come from all avenues of endeavor, are of disparate and mixed national, religious, and cultural origins, and probably wouldn't know a diaper pin from a sky hook.

Not that Moon Yung Sook has any need for diapers these days; the Korean miss, at 13, isn't too far distant from the age of her pseudo parents.

"They" are (although some of them probably even aren't aware of it) the student population of Arlington township high school, which acts as foster parents for Moon under the auspices of the Foster Parents, Inc., a national organization with headquarters in New York.

MOON HAS BEEN under the students' financial wing for about four years now; prior to that time, a contemporary of hers, i. e., Korean girl, received assistance from the Arlington school.

"If I recall," said Martha Craig, high school counselor and co-sponsor of the student council along with Bruno Waara, assistant principal, "she no longer needed our support." So Moon became heir to student compassion.

"Her Christmas package—which usually consists of clothes—was mailed to her last week," said Principal Waara.

Moon receives $180 annually for subsistence and educational purposes, with the student council managing a school fund drive in the spring for this amount.

A TYPICAL LETTER from Moon Yung Sook ("She writes on the average of once a month," said Waara) detailed just how part of such a grant was spent.

Moon, after speculating on how her "parents" were bearing up under "sultry summer weather," thanked the students for the cash grant of Hwan 8,560 and receipt of five notebooks, five pencils, one bottle of insect repellent lotion, two bars of soap and two boxes of crayon.

The Foster Parents, Inc., parcel out Moon's financial support in allowances, and also translate her letters for the student body.

"We usually read the letters at assemblies," said Waara, and some of the students—such as Ann Marie Warren, the student council's corresponding secretary—take it upon themselves to answer the Korean child's letters.

MOON ISN'T AN orphan in the strict semantics of the term: she resides with her mother and also has a sister living.

In addition to financial support and periodic gifts, Moon also received a scrapbook compiled by students which gave her an outline of high school activities in the states.

The foster parent plan is open to anyone, according to Waara. He mentioned that his sister-in-law and her husband in Milwaukee dispatch $10 a month to a child they have "adopted" in this distant in space but intimate in terms individual foreign assistance program.

(B-8

Q. What should one say to persons who have just had a death in their family?

A. Upon the occasion of death, some expression of sympathy is always appreciated by the family, but the less elaborate the expression the better. A simple "I am sorry. Is there anything I can do?" is sincere and sufficient.

IN JUST ONE YEAR . . .
since moving into our new home

52% INCREASE A solid 52% increase in savings dollars is the record of Arlington Heights Federal Savings' first year in our new Williamsburg Colonial home. The nest eggs of the Association's patrons grew from less than $8½ million as our new building opened on December 8, 1958, to almost $13 million as of last Monday, November 30.

56% INCREASE The Federal Savings family of thrift-minded persons was enlarged by 56% during the past year. There were 7,200 members as the Association moved a year ago from its old location to new and more comfortable facilities on Campbell Street. As of last Monday, the number of savers — men, women, and children — had risen to 11,250.

4% DIVIDEND The Association will offer a larger 4% dividend beginning January 1. This means a 14.3% increase in the earning capacity of our savers' dollars. With our friendly, personalized service and our policies that encourage thrift habits, it adds up to the fact that Federal Savings is the place for you to start your savings program. Why not today?

Arlington High Seniors Cited for Scholar Tests

Thirty-six seniors at Arlington high school have been cited for outstanding performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test last spring. Each has received a formal "Letter of Commendation" from the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

JOHN M. Stalnaker, President of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, declares:

"Letters of Commendation" are being awarded to some 27,000 students from all over the United States in recognition of high performance on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. While these bright youngsters did not achieve the status of semi-finalists in the 1959-60 Merit Program, they are so outstanding that we wish to single them out for special attention. We send these letters to provide tangible recognition of superior ability, and it is our earnest hope that the recipients will continue their education, and thus benefit not only themselves, but the entire country.

"Our objectives in the Merit Program are complex. While the most powerful beams of the spotlight are trained on the Merit Scholars, we strive to foster the pursuit of excellence among all highly able students in academic work and intellectual fields. We urge the students honored today to make every effort to attend college, and develop to the fullest their highly promising potential."

THE "commended" group were among the 550,000 high school juniors from 14,000 U. S. schools who took the NMSQT last spring. The test, a three-hour examination covering five separate areas of educational development, was the first step in the 1959-60 Merit Program to be climaxed about May 1, 1960 with the announcement of the Merit Scholars.

The National Merit Scholarship corporation gives recognition to two groups of students who achieve high scores on the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test. The top scores in each state, pro-rated according to the number of graduating high school seniors in the state, are named semi-finalists and take a second examination in December to further establish their eligibility for Merit Scholarship consideration. Students in the commended group (27,000) are selected on a national basis without regard to the high school population in the state.

The annual Merit Scholarship Competition offers the largest system of privately financed scholarships in the United States, and is open to all high schools in the United States and possessions.

THE MERIT Scholarship Program is now in its fifth year. Founded in 1955 with grants of 20,000,000 from the Ford Foundation, and $500,000 from the Carnegie Corporation, it now has more than one hundred sponsors including business and industrial organizations, foundations, and other groups. Now more than one and one-half million students have been tested in the annual academic competition.

Currently 3,000 of the country's most able students hold Merit Scholarships at 400 colleges and universities. Fifteen million dollars have already been committed for these awards.

Northbrook Girl Wins Gala Trip

When Carson Pirie Scott and co., Edens Plaza, apointed Georgia Borchardt, 1803 Shermer rd., Northbrook, to be the "Seventeen" National Fashion council representative, they did'nt know they had chosen a winner.

Georgia is one of the 12 national winners of the "Date Setters" contest which was conducted by "Seventeen" magazine in conjunction with Celanese Fibers co. Miss Borchardt will receive a four-day trip to New York from November 29 to December 2 as the guest of Celanese.

CELANESE FIBERS company sent a swatched fashion survey to 1,000 teenagers throughout the United States to determine what type of fabrics, colors and styles in date clothes interested them for their special social occasions. Each entrant was also asked to submit a written essay. Two hundred and three teenagers in this group represent "Seventeen's" official 1959-1960 National Fashion council and are active participants of a high school fashion board program sponsored by retailers in their cities. These girls were eligible for the contest and were asked to undertake the responsibility of distributing four questionnaires to their fellow advisory board members. The winners were judged by an impartial committee for the excellence of their essays as well as their promptness and neatness in returning their questionnaires plus the four from their Boards.

The first major event planned in honor of the winners is a special luncheon held in the Skytop Room of New York's Statler Hilton hotel. At this time, the tabulated results of the Celanese teenagers' viewpoints on their fabric preferences for date-time dresses, will be presented to leading mills and fabric manufacturers. Arrangements have been made by Celanese for the girls to visit prominent manufacturers in the teen and junior apparel markets as well as to see famous New York sights.

Along the Camp Fire Trail

by Dorothy Schomburg CLearbrook 3-7017

Mt. Prospect

Wednesday, Nov. 11, Eluohtamiki Camp Fire Girls traveled to the Chicago loop to sell donuts during the annual Camp Fire Girls Donut day. The girls were stationed at 30 N. Michigan and after about one and a half hours of selling, had sold close to 100 boxes of donuts. Lunch was enjoyed at Hardings restaurant on Wabash, and a tour of the Art Institute followed. The seventh grade girls found the American exhibit very interesting and were fascinated with the Thorne miniature rooms. Group guardians, Mrs. Charles Phelan and Mrs. Richard Martin, accompanied the girls.

Iyokihi Camp Fire Girls visited the Lutheran Old Peoples Home October 12, bringing Halloween and Thanksgiving tray favors for the residents. A tour of Mars Candy Co. in Chicago was the special treat in store for October 27.

The girls together with a group of boys, saw how the different candy bars are made and received two free samples at the conclusion of the tour.

New officers for the fifth grade group are Ellen Starck, president; Rita Seyring, vice president; Diane Airey, secretary; Janet Thompson, treasurer; Carolyn Morris, scribe; and Linda Willets, hostess.

THIRD GRADE Merry Maids Blue Bird group from St. Paul school held a "mother-father-daughter" potluck supper November 23 in the home of Jean Schroeder. Ten girls and 17 parents enjoyed the 6:30 p.m. dinner, played games and sang songs. Highlight of the evening took place when Mrs. Don Jaacks, one of the group's sponsors, presented the girls and their leaders with Golden Jubilee charms. Happy owners of the charms are Valerie Bodenstab, Jane Denne, JoAnne Hedke, Lynn Hedke, Wendy Jaacks, Debra Robey, Jean Schroeder, Ellyn Seeman, Cecilia Watts, Kathy Weigt, Mrs. Elmer Hedke and Mrs. Henry Schroeder.

Th Merry Maids made get well cards for Mrs. Jaacks and took them to her at one of their first meetings this fall. October 12, the girls toured the post office and for their October 19 meeting they were driven to Elk Grove to see and feed the elk. The girls are now working on Christmas gifts for their parents. The group sold 102 boxes of donuts on Camp Fire Donut day and placed second in sales in the Mt. Prospect area.

Arlington Heights

Okiciyapi Camp Fire Girls elected officers at their November 18 meeting. Elected to serve the fifth grade group for a 3-month period are: Sandy Ormsbee, president; Shirley Owen, vice president; Paula Schomburg, secretary; Nancy Roth, treasurer; and Christine Baldassari, scribe. Patty Ayres was appointed attendance secretary.

The 20 girls discussed plans for Christmas service projects and enjoyed a display of Christmas handicrafts. The December 2 meeting was the first of two meeting devoted to the making of family gifts. Junior high aides, Lynne Schomburg and Nancy Staadt, assisted the girls in the handicraft project.

Village Theatre's 5 p.m. performance of "Sleeping Beauty," sponsored by the Arlington Heights district of Camp Fire Girls, will play to an audience of 750 Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and friends Sunday, Dec. 6 in the Miner junior high school auditorium. Tickets for the annual children's play were distributed by leaders at recent group meetings. Chairman for this year's theatre party is Mrs. Bruce Graham, 611 Mayfair, and distribution of tickets may be obtained by calling her at CL 3-1999. (B9

How Equalization Aid Is Figured for Public School

By
W. RUSSELL ARRINGTON
State Senator,
4th Senatorial District

Last week's article dealt with one aspect of the state's program for financing our local schools. That was the so-called "flat grant aid."

Today's article will deal with the second aspect of state school financing, viz: "equalization aid."

The amount of equalization aid which the local school district will receive is computed by the utilization of three factors:

(1) Establishment of the so-called pupil foundation level for each pupil in average daily attendance (ADA). This amount is established by the Legislature and at its last session this figure was increased to $252.00 per ADA pupil. This is the amount which, in the judgment of the Legislature and when combined with additional local revenue available, is supposed to buy a good common school education.

(2) A deduction of Item (1) above of an amount determined by applying a certain qualifying tax rate to the equalized assessed valuation of the school district. The Legislature elevated these qualifying rates per each $100.00 of equalized assessed value to 54c each for both elementary and high-school districts and to 67c for unit districts.

(3) A further deduction of the amount of flat grants which the school district received from the State.

"Equalized assessed valuation" is the total value of the property of the district, as determined by assessment and application of multipliers by the County Board of Review and the State Revenue Department. The application of the multipliers is designed to equalize property assessments throughout the state.

PERHAPS AN example of the computation of a State aid claim against the common school fund may provide a more graphic illustration of the distribution of such funds.

Assume that the school district making the claim has the following characteristics:

(a) An assessed valuation of $30,000,000.

(b) An elementary district (kindergarten through eighth grade).

(c) 1500 ADA elementary pupils.

Flat Grant

Equalization

$252.00 less $47.00, or $205.00x$1500.00 .... $207,500.00
less $30,000,000x$.54 ....
100 $162,000.00

Equalization aid ..$ 45,500.00

This latter amount when added to the $70,500.00 of flat grant makes a total claim of the district against the common school fund in the amount of $116,000.00.

Thus, in Evanston elementary school district 65, the total assessed valuation was approximately $287,000,000. Because of this high valuation, that school district received only flat grant aid during the biennium ended June 30, 1959.

GLENCOE, on the other hand, because of a much lower valuation (approximately $58,000,000), received a small amount of equalization aid during the past biennium.

None of the high schools in my Senatorial District received any State aid during the past biennium beyond the flat grants described in last week's article. On the other hand, of the 29 elementary school districts in the area, 22 of them did receive equalization aid in addition to the flat grants of $47.00 per ADA pupil.

Perhaps the total assessed valuations in the five townships in the 4th Senatorial District may be of interest:

Evanston Township, approximately	$287,000,000
New Trier Township, approximately	$311,000,000
Niles Township, approximately	$319,000,000
Northfield Township, approximately	$107,000,000
Wheeling Township, approximately	$175,000,000

Christmas Concert Is Set Sunday

Prospect high school's music department will present its third annual Christmas concert Sunday, Dec. 6, at 3 p.m. in the school gymnasium.

Musical selections include "Cantique de Noel," "No Candle Was There and No Fire," "Christ Is Born," "Ave Maria," and "Born Today."

Choral groups and a symphonic band will appear together publicly for the first time at this concert. Recently purchased choir robes and band uniforms will be worn.

PROSPECT HIGH music instructors Martin Dahlberg, Edward Volz, and Miss June Leick are in charge of the program.

No admission will be charged. (ACM

Free Concert December 7

A free concert, sponsored by the Music Performance Trust Fund of the American Federation of Musicians and Local 10 A.F.M. will be given by the Northwest Symphony orchestra, Monday, Dec. 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Lutheran Home for the Aged, Arlington Heights.

Perry Crafton will conduct the orchestra in a "pops" program including Egmont Overture, Finlandia, Scheherazade, and the Andalucia Suite. The public is invited. (ACM

Shroyer to Seek Senate Seat

Malcolm Shroyer of Hawthorn Woods this week announced his candidacy for State Senator from the 52nd district on the Republican ticket. In his announcement he said that he has no "ax to grind nor special interests to serve at the expense of my constituents. One cannot serve two masters."

A graduate of the University of Illinois and a flier in the first World War, Malcolm Shroyer, with his wife, Frances, and four children, has lived for 25 years on a farm in Ela Township. He is a trustee of the Village of Hawthorn Woods and President of the southwest Lake county Civic Improvement association.

In addition to his [illegible] participation in community and civic affairs, [illegible] served on school boards in Ela Township, is president of the Church Council of the Long Grove Community Church and is a member of the Farm Bureau.

EXTENSIVE TRAVEL in this country, Mexico, Europe, and the Near and Far East has given him an opportunity to study and evaluate conditions both inside and outside this country. A year ago he retired from Sears, Roebuck and company where he was an executive for more than 20 years.

Shroyer believes that "the job requires a full-time effort and that the state senate, now comprised largely of lawyers, needs members who will contribute a more representative experience. I have no outside interests in conflict with the best interests of my constituents." He adds that "with my background as a business man, farmer and community worker, I believe that I will give the 52nd senatorial district a more vigorous and faithful representation than it has been receiving." To Discuss Exceptional Children

"Special Education from an Administrator's Standpoint" will be discussed Thursday, Dec. 3, 4 p.m. at Lions Park school, Mt. Prospect as the feature of the regular meeting of the N. W. Suburban Chapter of the Council for Exceptional children.

Discussants are Todd Fouty, principal of South Junior High school, Arlington Heights, and Lawrence Jenness, assistant principal, Prospect high school. All interested persons are welcome to attend.

Some of the points to be discussed are communication between s epciatou nai edlc between special education teachers and other faculty, staff teamwork to aid the child with special problems and unmet special education needs in the Northwest suburban areas. Also to be considered are ways of helping the child in a special class feel a part of the larger school and share in some of the activities enjoyed by all children.

At this meeting dues will be accepted by Robert Stein, membership chairman. Dues may also be mailed to Stein's home, 1414 W. Oakton, Arlington Heights, in the amount of $8.50 payable to the Council for Exceptional Children.

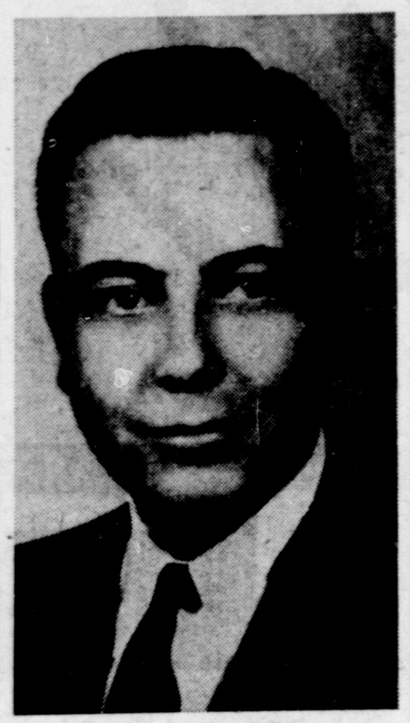
Red Owl Officials Tell Market Entry

Three vice presidents of the large, Minneapolis-based Red Owl grocery chain journeyed to Chicago to tell 300 merchandising and grocery executives of the Merchandising Executives Club of Chicago how and why they are entering the Chicago area market. An Arlington Heights store is scheduled to open after the first of the year.



W. J. QUINN

W. J. Quinn, vice president of merchandising, told the group that the chief emphasis on merchandise was full variety and choice, with special emphasis on two full choices—the quality and the economy in the meat department, large selection in the produce department and special bakery and delicatessen departments.

MICHAEL J. McMAHON

Michael J. McMahon, vice president of advertising, emphasized their use of all types of advertising to tell the quality and variety story of their stores. The unique Red Owl symbol has identified the friendliness of the Red Owl stores. Each attending executive went home with a handy plastic window scraper, one of the many Red Owl incentives for customers. As it was below freezing, this was a welcome gift.

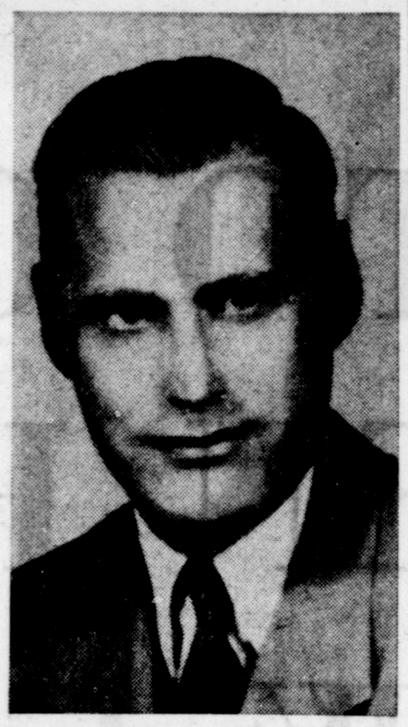
JAMES A. Watson, vice president of store operations, showed many pictures of Red Owl stores, which will be opening in Arlington Heights, Wilmette and Lincolnwood. Of particular interest was the emphasis Red Owl places in training of store personnel and delivery from check out counter to car doors. Other locations are now being selected in the North Shore and Chicago area.



JAMES A. WATSON

Red Owl is entering Chicago, now served by four national food chains, several large local chains and a large group of independents, because it is such a large and growing market, because it is so close to the widespread Wisconsin Red Owl locations, and because they believe they can offer a fine type of grocery store for the Chicago market.

Begin Construction Of New Chapel-Parsonage

Construction has recently begun on a chapel-parsonage for the Church of Our Lord, Evangelical United Brethren, which is one of the new congregations of Arlington Heights.

The Church of Our Lord was organized in Easter, 1958. Services are now being held each Sunday in the Forest View school at State rd. and Algonquin.

The contractor, Mr. Leonard Gathman of Itasca, has given a tentative four-month completion date.

THE CHAPEL-parsonage is being built on the Church's 2.5 acre plot of land at the corner of Lincoln and Meier rds., just south of Arlington Heights.

Its facilities will include a chapel seating 60 adults, a 4-room apartment for the pastor, and a large basement for Sunday school, fellowship, and recreational use.

Anyone interested in further information is invited to phone the pastor, the Rev. Truman Stehr, at CL-3-9420.

Building Industry Enjoys Good Year

The building industry without a doubt is enjoying a good year in new construction in unincorporated Cook county.

This is readily spotted in monthly building totals reported by the county which show dollar volume of new construction is sailing along at a respectable pace of 31 per cent above a year ago.

Value of permits issued in the first 10 months of the year totals $85,187,600, or $20,399,022 above the 10 months total of $64,788,578 in 1958.

IN THE FACE OF THESE unbending totals, any opposite interpretation of the building trend in unincorporated areas fails to stand up.

There were 5,051 permits issued in the 10 month period this year, compared with 4,565 at the same time last year.

Area townships, number of permits and valuations for October:

	Permits	Valuations
Barrington	1	$ 18,400
Elk Grove	17	166,200
Hanover	3	92,000
Leyden	18	98,400
Maine	32	774,400
Northfield	39	1,141,100
Norwood Park	5	132,200
Palatine	31	468,600
Schaumburg	15	113,500
Wheeling	23	293,000

The classification breakdown by townships:

Barrington: 1 house.

Elk Grove: 6 homes, 1 residential addition, 8 accessory buildings, 1 business addition and 1 well.

Hanover: 2 homes and 1 business.

Maine: 13 homes, 4 home additions, 1 apartment unit, 9 accessory buildings, 1 business addition and 1 industrial addition, 1 well and 2 miscellaneous.

Northfield: 16 homes, 4 home additions, 14 accessory buildings, 1 business, 1 industry, 1 business addition and 2 miscellaneous.

Norwood Park: 2 homes, 2 accessory buildings and 1 business.

Palatine: 20 homes, 5 home additions, 3 accessory buildings, 2 businesses and 1 well.

Schaumburg: 6 homes, 6 home additions and 3 accessory buildings.

Wheeling: 13 homes, 2 home additions, 7 accessory buildings, and 1 business addition.

Round 'n About Westgate

Robert and Carolyn Herigodt, 1513 Fremont, invited Joyce and Skip Akerlund and Bruce and Margaret Merry in for cocktails before the Jr. Womens club dance, November 21.

Neighbors Shirley and Wally Weisenborn, Dr. and Mrs. Ray Houtz of Inverness and Ridgeley and Ed Jackson of Scarsdale had cocktails at the home of Ruth and Stephan Stein, 1518 Fremont, November 21, before attending the same dance.

Joey, 5, son of Dee and Al Perry, 207 Illinois drive, had a tonsillectomy in Resurrection hospital November 23. Family plans for Thanksgiving had to be postponed when sister, Susan, 3, got the mumps.

Thanksgiving for the Steins, 1518 Fremont, was spent in Mississippi at the home of Ruth's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Baughn. The Steins left home last Wednesday and returned Sunday.

A dinner and card party was held at the home of Robert and Carolyn Herigodt, 1513 Fremont, November 28 for Joyce and Skip Akerlund, Mr. and Mrs. L. Almquist of Oak Park and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Raines of Chicago.

GEORGE AND Betty Timson, 1706 W. Fremont, had Betty's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. I. F. Houseman of Madison, Wis., and Betty's mother, Mrs. Harry Behrens, Davenport, for Thanksgiving dinner. Mrs. Behrens is spending a week with them.

A birthday party was held November 21 at the home of Marian and Joseph Rhinehart 205 S. Yale, in honor of their son, Glenn, who was 5. Joining in the festivities were Marshall and Warren McEuen, Kathy and Mary Ellen Kreutz, Tricia Thomas, Amy and Beth Wroe, Michael Warns, Karen Jacobsen, Brenda Zubowsky and Norah Kay Murawski. Also present for the occasion were Glenn's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rhinehart, Brookfield and Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lahtinen, Detroit.

Dot and John Venning, 1607 Johanna terr., and their children, Johnny and Lisa, left last Wednesday for Fort Atkinson, Wis., to spend Thanksgiving with John's parents, Dr. and Mrs. John Venning. November 24 the Vennings went to Baraboo, where 24 relatives gathered for a reunion at the home of John's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. George Martiny. Several of the relatives saw little Johnny for the first time. The Vennings returned home Saturday evening.

A 'Turkey Shoot' at the Rolling Meadow bowl last Monday was rewarding for four bowlers in the Westgate league. Carolyn Burkett was first and Bert Graczyk second in the woman's division. Howard Huff was first and Andy Graczyk was second in the men's division. They received cash awards.

Marv and Arlene Verbeck, 1511 Euclid, and their children spent Thanksgiving at the home of Marv's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Verbeck in Naperville.

Patricia, daughter of Esther and Tony Van Bladel, 108 N. Reuter, is recuperating at home from undergoing a tonsillectomy in West Suburban hospital, Oak Park, November 24.

IT DOESN'T take many more to fill the home of Larry and Dolores Smith, 1611 Johanna terr., what with their 10 children. So they had a full house Thanksgiving when Dolores' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rose, Chicago, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Rose and their 3 children from Rockford, and Larry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Smith of Chicago, arrived.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mooney, 204 Illinois dr., and Mr. and Mrs. William Nasher had dinner at Simoninis in Algonquin November 19 to celebrate Richard's birthday.

Tom, son of Larry and Pearl Anderson, 3 S. Yale, came home last Wednesday from North Dakota State university to spend Thanksgiving with his family. He and another boy from Wheaton drove and returned to school Sunday.

Despite bad weather, Esther and Carl Fortner, 112 N. Reuter, and their two children had pleasant visits with their respective families. They spent last Saturday to Tuesday with Carl's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Fortner in Rockville, Ind., and then visited Esther's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kaetzel, Dale, Ind., until Sunday.

Eileen Dasher, 1505 Illinois dr., entertained neighbors at a bridge party November 23 to introduce Mary Richard's mother, who was here for a visit from Canada. Also present was Norma McKean of Cleveland, who spent a week with the Dashers.

A family gathering was held at the home of Richard and Carol Mooney, 204 Illinois dr. Thanksgiving. Enjoying the turkey and fixings were Richard's brothers and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Mooney and Mrs. Nieman of Mt. Prospect, Mr. and Mrs. John Mooney and two children of Des Plaines and his father, John Mooney, and sister, Margaret, from Chicago.

SEVERAL neighbors gathered at the home of Lillian Ulizze, 1516 Grove, for luncheon November 30. Surprised guest of honor was Mary Ellen Coddington, who is moving to California. The guest list included Rose Smith, Velma Sindorf, Pat Miresse, Sarabel Lazor, Beverly McCall, Adrena Murray and Ruth Kock. The ladies presented Mary Ellen with a going away present.

Doug, son of Joyce and Skip Akerlund, 1509 Fremont, celebrated his second birthday November 24. Joining in the festivities were Dennis Agnes, Raymond Herigodt, John Dalley, Jimmy Graham, Pam and Mark Graczyk and Judy Block of Chicago. Dick Blocki was invited, but was too ill to attend. The mothers came along to give Joyce moral support and enjoy neighborly chit-chat over coffee. Thanksgiving Doug received gifts from aunts and uncles and his grandmothers, Mrs. C. O. Akerlund and Mrs. J. D. Merry, both of Chicago, who all enjoyed the day in the Akerlund home.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Smeele and their two children of Lake Zurich had Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Tony and Esther Van Bladel, 108 N. Reuter.

Dorothy and Bob Agnes, 1503 Fremont, spent four days last week in Cleveland, visiting their respective families. They stayed with Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Agnes, and had Thanksgiving dinner with them. They also visited Dorothy's parents and had the opportunity to meet a new niece and nephew, from each side of the family, both born in September.

Jean Bruyere (1645-1696) said:
"THE MAJORITY OF MEN EMPLOY THE FIRST PART OF LIFE MAKING THE REST MISERABLE"

There is no machine ever invented that can equal your body. All it asks is some nourishing food, sufficient rest and a little help when sickness attacks.

Some people forget that if their bodies are not cared for, life can be miserable because of poor health. Fortunately, it is never too late to rebuild your body. Just visit your physician for a check-up and follow his advice. Take any medicine or vitamins he may prescribe and your body can be a joy to live in.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

$20,000 Growth Eases Morton Motor's 'Pains'

Growing pains of the Morton Pontiac in Arlington Heights has contributed $20,000 worth of growth in the purchase and remodeling of one building and the rehabilitation of two others, reports Morton Kantoff, president.

The new building, at 1 S. Hickory, remodeled at a cost of $10,000, occupies 9,000 square feet and has a 12,000 square foot lot adjacent. The building, too be used as a service department, will house 35 cars at one time.

Also remodeled is the 506 E. Northwest highway (at the water tower), which has been Morton property for the past three years, rehabilitated at a cost of $5,000 to serve as a used car department, beginning this week.

AND A THIRD building at 701 E. Northwest highway, also remodeled at a cost of $5,000, will serve as a new car sales department. There are currently 45 new 1959 and 1960 cars, ordered in anticipation of the steel strike's second outbreak, available for immediate delivery.

Although the firm is about 44 years old, originated by the Kantoff family in Chicago, it boasts growing pains in only four years in the village. Sales have leaped to six times its original figure four years ago.

When Morton Motors opened its doors in Arlington Heights, the firm enjoyed the use of one building at 18 S. Evergreen. A year later, the firm expanded to new quarters at 506 E. Northwest, for new and used car sales.

BUT EVEN the expansion was soon outgrown and the 1 S. Hickory building was added. And with the growth of building facilities, the personnel has been expanded from its original four persons to its current force of 27 employes.

This includes the oldtimers like Kantoff, of course. who has been with the firm almost since the beginning; Marvin Sholl, who is a cousin, and is the general manager; Edward Muss, service manager, and Robert Shaffer, auditor, both of whom have been in the organization for 16 years.

With its increased sales force, too, patrons have discovered that there is no waiting line for service. The service. department, too, is equipped to handle adequately not only Pontiacs, but hydromatic transmissions and other difficulties that may arise in other General Motor cars. (A

Multi-Million Motel Resort Slips Away From Arlington

An annexation petition filed, Monday, in County court would put the village limits of Palatine next door to the Arlington Park race track and would all but cut off Arlington Heights from ever annexing a proposed $5 million resort motel on the Northwest hwy.

Attorney Francis E. Kelly filed the petition on behalf of 158 property owners and electors in Arlington Crest, an unincorporated territory of 45 acres at the edge of Palatine township.

Kelly said the petition for annexation was signed by more than 90 per cent of the electors and almost all the homeowners in the subdivision. Judge Otto Kerner will hear the petition, January 4.

ACTION BY THE Arlington Crest Civic association, spearheaded by president David Miller, has been brewing for more than four years, Palatine president Howard I. Olsen said.

"This is no new subject with them, and I've met with the homeowners informally over this period of time while they have been studying the benefits of annexation," he added.

"Obviously the motel proposal next door to the subdivision acted as a catalyst to bring the action to the petition stage at this time.

"We ar edelighted to welcome these persons who have been attending our schools and churches into the official village family. Our master plan provides that Wilke rd. should be the ultimate line of the village. At Winston Park this is now a reality, but this property will help fill out the boundary. The move is highly desirable from their standpoint and the villages," Olsen said.

FROM Arlington Heights, village manager L. A. Hansen said that this was only further proof of our democratic way of life. "People are free to make their own choice," he said," and this annexation should not hurt development of Arlington Heights in other directions."

Two parcels of land in the subdivision are already part of Arlington Heights and are excluded from the petition. These are at the northwest corner of Wilke rd. and the highway and at the northwest corner of Wilke rd. and Olive st.

At the closest point, the subdivision is a quarter mile away from Palatine. But the statute requirement that areas for annexation be contiguous to a municipality they seek to join is met in the annexation petition. This is accomplished by including a quarter mile long stretch of property alon gthe west side of Wilke rd. from Thomas st. north to village limits at Kenilworth ave.

THE COUNTY court is asked to approve the petition and forward the matter for consideration and final action by the Palatine village board.

Forty acres on the Northwest hwy. near Williams ave. was rezoned by the county board of commissioners in November for a hotel and winter-summer recreational center planned by a Chicago firm.

Owners of the 40-acre tract have held discussions relative to annexation with officials of both Palatine and Arlington Heights. The annexation of Arlington Crest to Palatine would make this tract contiguous to Palatine.

Shut-Ins to Enjoy 'Christmas Town'

It's a wonderful gift, an unusual Christmas greeting card, a calendar, a toy, and a Christmas decoration. It is especially appreciated by shut-ins, children adore it. And it's a charitable contribution. What is it?

It's "Little Christmas Town," the advent calendar with windows to be opened for each day from Dec. 1 to Dec. 25. Each year, Illinois Epilepsy league issues a new calendar; this year's scene is an old English town. The windows of the buildings open to display beautiful Christmas scenes.

PROCEEDS FROM the sale of the calendars are spent in Illinois to aid as many of the 90,000 children and adults who suffer from epilepsy as the League can reach.

As a convenience, Little Christmas Town is available at Paddock Publications, 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights. You may order them from Illinois Epilepsy league, 327 S. LaSalle st., Chicago 4, for $1 plus 10 cents each to cover mailing cost. The league also will mail calendars to a list of persons supplied by the purchaser, with a signed gift card enclosed, for $1.20 each. (B8

Q. Does it really make any difference whether one sits down from the right or the left side of the chair at the dinner table?

A. No; whichever side offers the easier and quicker access is the one for you.

Q. Is it correct to have a monogram engraved on the envelope of social stationery? A. No; the monogram should be engraved only on the note paper itself.

Thanksgiving visitor of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Pakyz and their son Larry, 727 N. Hickory ave., was Richard Williams who is a freshman at William Loras college in Dubuque, Iowa.

A DOUBLE birthday party was given on November 24 at the Jan Behrens home, 203 N. Brighton pl. Celebrants were Tammy Behrens and Jeffie Haseman, both of whom were marking their third birthday - Tammy's on the 24th and Jeffie's on the 22nd of November. Their guests for lunch were Gary Glader and their baby brothers, Johnnie Behrens and Randy Haseman, both five months old. Johnny Harty and his mother were to have been present but illness prevented Johnny from attending his playmate's party.

University of Illinois freshman students home for the Thanksgiving vacation were Gary Snell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Snell, 710 N. Dryden, and Roger Uhlhorn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Uhlhorn, 314 N. Dryden ave.

Don Snell, senior at Arlington High school received his letter for football at a banquet given recently at the high school by the Cardinals Booster club. Don played center on this year's varsity team.

Attending the Continental club dance at the Arlington Heights VFW hall on the 21st of November was Eileen and Jack Anderson's way of celebrating their 17th wedding anniversary.

THIS COMING Saturday the Andersons, along with Betty and Matt Cockrell, Lois and Dick Evans and Jean and Charles Barton, will enjoy dinner and the performance at the Drury Lane theatre. They will see Guy Madison in "Who Was That Lady I Saw You With?" This party is an annual bridge club get-together.

Other anniversary celebrants were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Carlman, 311 Lincoln lane. For their 26th wedding anniversary on November 25, the Carlmans, accompanied by friends, dined at the Milk Pail in Elgin.

Because the whole family couldn't get together on Thanksgiving day, the Glenn Johnsons, 405 N. Dryden, celebrated the festive day on Sunday. Their two boys, one from Wheaton and one from Des Plaines, and their daughter from Beloit, were all present to make the occasion a happy family affair.

Hasbrook Report

Christmas Display Contest Started

Now that Thanksgiving is over, homeowners are beginning to search for last year's Christmas lights and to think up ways to make their house decorations the hit of the neighborhood.

There seems to be no end of homeowner originality in thinking up Christmas decorations. Just when we think we've seen the last word, we come across another artistic creation that outdoes all the others.

We like this friendly competition between homeowners. It adds color and gayety to the celebration of Christmas. To encourage new and original outdoor decorating themes, we're sponsoring a contest.

RILEY

Every Hasbrook homeowner is eligible to enter. For the best exterior Christmas decoration planned and built by a Hasbrook resident, we'll award a cash prize of $100. Second best decoration wins $75. Third best earns $50.

We'll name an impartial board of judges to tour Hasbrook Dec. 23 and name the winners on Dec. 26.

This contest should make Hasbrook the most colorful spot in Arlington Heights. We invite everyone to come out and see what our Hasbrook homeowners can do. It should be a highlight of the Christmas season.

STILL ON THE subject of art, you may be interested to know that Hasbrook has given the Arlington Heights Art Center a new home.

We've turned over the house at 715 Palatine Road to be used by the Center as its headquarters for one year. During this time, we'll also heat the house at no cost to the center.

Why are we doing this? Because we believe in cooperating with worthwhile community endeavors. The Art Center is doing valuable work in encouraging artistic development and appreciation among our young people. We think that by providing a home for the Center, we can contribute to the Center's success.

DOES TIGHT money mean anything to you? It should. Tight money affects you when you buy anything on credit whether it be a car, refrigerator, or a house. And tight money is becoming more and more of a problem.

Tight money means that the cost of borrowing money is high. The Federal government has deliberately increased the cost of borrowing money in an effort to curb spending and fight inflation.

The results of this policy have hit home building extremely hard in two ways:

1. The builder must pay more to get the money he needs to buy the land, put in sewer, water, and street improvements, and build the homes.

2. The family that wants to buy a home, new or used, must pay a higher mortgage interest rate and even a discount to get the mortgage.

As a result, many fine families which could normally afford a home can't qualify under the higher mortgage requirements specified today. Many smaller builders are finding it hard to stay in business.

This is unfortunate, because as our population continues to grow, so will the demand for housing. As things now stand, the home building industry is slowing down. In Cook County, the experts say home building will be off 10 to 20 per cent in 1960 from what it was in 1959.

Since home building is an important industry, the situation should concern us all. Unless we find a way to stimulate the flow of mortgage money at reasonable terms, the home owning dreams of many families will be unfulfilled, and the industry will suffer.

Traditionally, home builders have relied on financial institutions, such as banks and savings and loan associations, to provide the money needed to build and sell homes. But since money from these sources is in short supply and expensive, it may become desirable in the near future for home builders to look for new money sources.

One source could be the public itself. Just as major corporations sell stock to individual investors, home builders may find it helpful to offer stock to the public. This would give the builder the money he needs. It would also give the public a stake and an opportunity to share in a growing industry.

ANYONE WHO has bought a new home realizes that dozens of little details must be taken care of during the first year's "break-in" period. A reliable builder provides a guarantee to take care of these details. But what happens when the year's guarantee expires?

Hasbrook homeowners have this problem solved. We provide our owners, at no charge, a year's free membership (regular cost: $12) in the National Home Owners Club. This is a new and growing private service organization which provides reliable maintenance and repair service to homeowners at reasonable cost.

The club takes a lot of headaches and high cost out of maintenance, and is one more way that Hasbrook has of showing faith in the quality of the homes it builds.

Sometimes we have to say no

Occasionally a customer asks us for some medication he's read about. And we must refuse him. The reason is that the particular medicine must be taken under a physician's supervision, and is available only on prescription. This is a safeguard to your health. As your pharmacist, we suggest you see a physician if you feel you need potent medication. We'll be happy to fill his prescription. Till then, perhaps our greatest service is saying "No."

new Princess phone

There are so many reasons why this lovely new extension phone fits gracefully wherever you put it in your home.

One is that it's small—to take less room on table or desk or kitchen counter.

Another, it's modern—styled for the modern taste that likes beauty with simplicity.

And the dial lights up. It glows in the dark so you can find it quickly and, when you lift the receiver, lights up brightly to make dialing easy.

Your choice of attractive colors helps you decorate, too: white, beige, pink, blue or turquoise. Just call or visit your telephone business office. Or ask a telephone installer to show it to you.

ILLINOIS BELL TELEPHONE

The Princess phone with dial and night lights built in costs only pennies a day after a one-time charge. Your choice of five colors.

RED OWL STORES' Vice President, V. J. Winter, is welcomed to Chicago area as he deplaned from his firm's aircraft at Meigs airport. Greeting Winter is J. Lawrence Bennison, president of Bennison Bakeries, Inc. Winter is in charge of manufacturing, warehousing and transportation for the Minneapolis based food chain.

Red Owl Includes Bakery in Stores

Red Owl Stores, Inc., announced this week the Bennison bakery products will be featured in the three Red Owl food stores under construction in Wilmette, Lincolnwood and Arlington Heights. The Arlington Heights store is under construction at Northwest hwy. and St. James st.

Bennison bakery departments in the Red Owl stores will be operated by Bennison Bakeries, Inc. and the same home-style, hand-craft items will be available as are now offered in the eight Bennison retail outlets in the Chicago North Shore area.

Deliveries of oven-hot merchandise will be made four times daily to each Red Owl store in Bennison's own fleet of trucks.

THIS IS THE first time that Bennison's have operated a bakery department in any food chain outlet. In commenting on Bennison's departure from their usual method of distribution, Mr. J. Lawrence Bennison, President of the firm, stated, "Before entering into our agreement with Red Owl, we thoroughly investigated their stores, their personnel, and their methods of operation. We are convinced that their objectives are the same as ours, namely, to bring to the people of Chicago the best merchandise, with the finest service, at economical prices. We therefore concluded that our teaming up with Red Owl in Chicago would be a step forward for our expanding operation."

Club Toasts Old Timers

Plans for the "Old Timer" party to be given at the Dec. 22 meeting of the Arlington Heights Toastmasters club were prepared at the November 24 club meeting in the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association building.

President Jim Kulze welcomed members and guests, and then a brief business meeting was conducted by Bill Nelson, chairman. Speeches were given by Frank Callahan, Bob Schultz, John Holdeman, Joe Dister and Ed Janos, who was selected as the "best speaker of the evening."

WERNER BAULE acted as toastmaster for the entire roster of speakers. Among guests attending were Ed Lauing and Howard Sitka. Bob Williams became the club's newest member.

Next club meeting will be held at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 9. For all interested, further information may be secured by calling Bob Mongrain at CL 5-3252.

Phone Program For Rotarians

"Sun, Sand and Transistors," the latest developments in the field of communication, will be the program at this Thursday's meeting of Arlington Heights Rotarians December 3. Program is sponsored by Illinois Bell Telephone company.

Next week club members will hear Virgil Peterson of the Chicago Crime Commission. Club meets each Thursday noon at Gunnell's Restaurant. (A

Choir of Bells to Perform For Our Saviour's Guild

Bells will ring when the women's guild of Our Saviour Lutheran church gathers for the annual Christmas program and business meeting Tuesday, Dec. 8, at 8 p.m. at the church, Arlington Heights. Presenting the program for the evening is the Crusader Bell choir of Grace Lutheran church of Westchester, organized and directed by Mrs. George Heisler.

This special choir, the first of its kind in the American Lutheran church, is composed of high school boys who meet weekly to learn and perform bell music. The bells used by the choir have been imported from Holland, and were made in the same foundry that forged the special bell used at the recent Brussel's Fair.

THE BELL Choir has participated in many church and civic events including the 39th anniversary of the Maywood Children's Receiving Home, the dedication of the chapel at Long Lake Camp, and the Proviso Junior Choir festival.

Also on the Christmas program will be a women's chorus of guild members who will sing carols under the direction of Mrs. Robert Wolff. Mrs. Paul Erickson is in charge of devotions and will serve as narrator as the background of some of the Christmas carols and customs are recalled. Mrs. William Stueber will be accompanist.

HIGHLIGHT of the business meeting will be the annual election of guild officers and circle assignments for 1960. Retiring officers are Mrs. Earl Snodgrass, president; Mrs. Edgar Neas, vice president; Mrs. Albert Roggenbuck, secretary; and Mrs. Richard Brettner, treasurer. serve as hostesses for the The executive board will meeting.

Baptized at Thanksgiving services at Our Saviour's were Kimberly Louise Brettner, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Brettner of Rolling Meadows, and Randall Eric Savukowski, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Savukowski of Prospect Heights. Rev. John P. Petersen officiated.

Curt and Woody Stress Safety

ArlingtonHeights'newest e
Arlington Heights' newest safety team—ventriloquist Curt Kenyon, 313 N. Brighton pl., and Woody Birch, his perpetually young companion—made their first program appearances here last week. Speaking to 75 members of the Dryden school Parent-Teachers association and to 250 pupils in the first five grades of the school, Curt and Woody directed their first two programs to bicycle safety and safety of children in automobiles.

Arlington Heights Chief of Police L. W. Calderwood stressed the critical need for community emphasis upon traffic and bicycle safety practices in situations involving children and young people. He noted there have been 21 auto-bike and 12 auto-pedestrian accidents in the past year in the village. Twenty-two injuries resulted.

From his "experience," Woody offered the grade school pupils hints for skillful and safe bicycle riding. "Always ride on the right side of the street with traffic," he cautioned, "give the proper hand signals when turning or stopping, and never carry riders."

DURING the program, the pupils saw two safety films, "I'm No Fool on a Bicycle," and "You Can't Stop on a Dime." Later they received a demonstration of the proper methods of lighting bicycles at night, conducted by Raymond Jahnke, traffic lieutenant in charge of public and parochial school safety in Arlington Heights.

At the PTA program Curt and Woody first reviewed bicycle safety rules and then stressed safety in the family car. "Safe riding rules should be made for everyone riding in the family automobile, and these rules must apply under every circumstance," Curt said. Together, he and Woody presented three situations in which parents should answer their children with a firm and effective "No!": "no"—to all pleas to ride in the front seat; "No"—to candy-on-a-stick while riding; and "no"—to any rough-housing or friendly scuffling in the car.

PRINCIPAL SPINKS indicated that the Dryden School will follow Curt and Woody's two programs with a series of classroom discussions and film showings on bicycle safety throughout the school year.

Curt Kenyon, who is a sales and service agent in Allstate Insurance Companies' Arlington Heights office during the regular business day, began planning and programming his series of safety talks early this fall. Using Woody Birch as his spokesman and appearing before adult and student groups der sponsorship of the A tate Safety Crusade, he is making a personal effort to encourage family and community safety practices.

Safety crusading with Woody Birch is not Curt's first venture into ventriloquism. Ventriloquism became his hobby while he was still in Senn high school in Chicago, his native city. He was encouraged in his self-taught talent by a high school friend, Jimmy Nelson, a prominent ventriloquist today. During his college years, Curt scheduled programs and acts after school hours, in addition to completing his major field of study, agricultural economics.

DISCOVERED AND purchased by Curt more than 20 years ago, Woody Birch was constructed by Frank Marshall of Chicago, the same ventriloquists' dummy maker who created Charlie McCarthy. Today, after being refurbished several times, Woody has a body of basswood, a wig of human hair, and white pine hands. He also has movable eyes, eyebrows, and mouth and the ability to smile and wink.

In addition to programming and performing, Curt has constructed four other dummies patterned after the personality of Woody Birch. (A

Arlington Housewife Speaks Frankly of Deerfield Issue

(An increasing amount of local as well as national attention is being focused on the northern suburb of Deerfield, which is presently debating the pros and cons of a racially-integrated community. An Arlington Heights housewife, Mrs. Sally Leighton, has written her personal views as one suburbanite to the Herald. The editors are pleased to publish her comments.)

It was Saturday afternoon. I was discussing with a South Side clergyman my concern for the development of a northwest suburban community relations group to prepare the way for eventual peaceful integration of the area.

"The northern suburbs won't be touched for years," was his confident reply.

Saturday evening the Sunday papers disclosed the initiation of an experiment in integrated housing in Deerfield.

I tell this story not to point up personal foresight, but rather to dramatize what has probably been the reaction of most suburbanites: it can't happen here—at least, not yet.

THE FACT that it has happened, only in another community, may give many of us cause for joy or relief. We remind ourselves that Deerfield is "far away." It won't happen here for another little while. And very likely, it won't happen here at all, lacking as we do the prerequisite natural flora and fauna the pilot plan would need for painstaking preservation, to demonstrate the desirability of "undesirable" property owners. With such pitiful rags of irony do we clothe our worst fears.

For quite different reasons, we in other suburbs have an advantage Deerfield has no longer: the opportunity to examine ourselves privately and publicly on the issue of integration, and to rationally decide what we will do when, not if, people of color make their home in the area. We could not halt the process of change even if we wanted to. Our opportunity, then, is to actively meet the challenge of racial integration, making it work for us as a means of personal and community moral growth and spiritual maturity.

Without doubt, when reading the news stories quoting the comments of the various Deerfield officials and residents, we all identified with one or another of them. Some of us would line up with the concerned but resigned citizens who said, "There is nothing we can do but accept the change and make the best of it." Still others would join the "Gentlemen's Agreement" contingent who leaped into the village hall with alacrity, and landed hip-deep in ordinances which might provide the necessary legal nooses with which to hang the culprits. More peaceful, but no less determined, another line forms at the rear of the ladies armed with petitions, politely worded, to be sure, yet spelling out just as plainly, "Nigger Go Home." Wherever "home" is. Many more, we can hope, would prefer at least intellectually to stand strong with the minister who said, "We have been chosen. We have no choice. We dare not fail, if this is not to become another 'Cicero'."

STILL, WOULDN'T it be better to go even further? Would we not want to be the "choosing," rather than the "chosen"? Wouldn't we prefer, in our communities, to have something to say about the where, when, and how of racial integration? In a nation which is desperate for leadership, for voluntary use of personal resources for the common good, would it not be wonderful to be able to say, "Our team welcomes all qualified buyers without uproar, and this was brought about by our own persistent effort, not by an outside agency which forced a decision on us."?

We suburbanites have been the target for every kind of literary brickbat, culminating perhaps in Sydney Harris' column a few weeks ago in which he described us all as terribly frightened people running from every big problem. Living superficial lives dedicated to the proposition that all lawns must be created equal, we are presumed to have abandoned all sense of responsibility for the world outside the suburb, and like Pilate, to have washed our hands of the world's bleeding humanity with the sorrowful observation, "We are not guilty of the blood of these innocent people. Look thou to it." Our defense would include some excellent reasons for leaving the city: dangerous streets, sky-rocketing home prices, poor schools, no space and trees to move about in. Most of these reasons are child-centered, which is another "bad word" used to beat us over the heads.

THERE IS little doubt that most of us are truly interested in the well-being of our children, and we would include their mental and moral development in our concern. If so, we will have to give them opportunities to watch their parents fighting the dragons of the times. Once they have seen evidence that our idea of fight is flight, any preachments we care to make about "liberty and justice for all" will fall on deaf ears. Outward and rapid mobility will be absorbed by them as a solution to difficulty, as effortlessly as they copy our driving habits, complete with purple patches.

Our time has many dragons, many of them completely beyond the best efforts of individuals, wherever we live. Racial justice, however, is clearly within the power of every citizen who cares, provided he acts. Seeing their parents take up arms against panic peddlers with the same ferocity with which they would attack dope peddlers, children will make no mistake as to where justice lies. Observing a parent who welcomes an individual Negro to his community, but steadfastly closes it to all of whatever race who do not meet its objective standards, children will learn to discriminate between good ends and wise means. Hearing father tell mother that he has at last located a good home at a fair price for a professional friend who wanted to enter the community, but who happened to be an Oriental, children will learn more of international relationships than he would in a dozen dutiful trips to Chinatown or a year's viewing of "See It Now," "You Are There," or "Small World."

SINCE WE ARE cut off from the population centers where we might of necessity be caught up in the problems of the time, especially, right now, the thorny task of peaceful, brotherly integration, we have to bring the problems to us. We have an advantage in being able to take the initiative, to direct the moral growth of suburbia to its tremendous potential, and to show our children how to overcome evil with good, not with distance.

Surely, the solid satisfactions of home ownership and political power can build in people sufficient personal security that they are able to strike out for the rights of others. Many of us who carry a sense of lost opportunity with us from the cities, will welcome a job of the size we can hope to handle. Control of this opportunity for good or ill is as near as our local realtors and polling places.

If we fail here—next stop, Mars?

James, son of June and John Kelly, 1337 N. Race, was baptized November 22 in ceremonies at St. James Catholic church, Arlington Heights, with John's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Heiberger, Elmhurst, as godparents. Later in the day a buffet dinner was served to guests gathered together for the happy occasion. Among them were the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Staniforth, Chicago and Mrs. Catherine Kelly, Oak Park, and other relatives. The Kellys' other son, John, was also present.

An after-school party was held Monday in honor of Scott, son of Lois and Gilbert Martin, 1417 N. Chicago, who was 5. Those invited to share in the birthday fun were his brother, Gary, sisters, Beth and Barbara, and playmates, Janet Fluhrer, Kenny Hermann, Andy Staubitz and Marilyn Donath.

Vaneta and Ray Kellogg, 1341 N. Wilke, and their children, Whitney and Jean, shared their Thanksgiving dinner with Ray's brother and family, the James Kelloggs Chicago, and their children. Inasmuch as Whitney's 10th birthday was the next day, dinner was topped off with birthday cake and ice cream.

Friday Whitney entertained his boyfriend, Larry Larson, for the day, and he remained at the Kelloggs as an overnight guest. The birthday celebration was concluded Saturday morning after the boys spent several hours at bowling.

A luncheon-birthday party was the order of the day November 24 for Cathy, daughter of Carol and Bill Narup, 1207 N. Race, who was 5. Helping her to blow out the candles on her cake were her brother, Scott, great grandmother, Mrs. Herbert Norton, Chicago, and maternal grandmother, Mrs. Robert Petersen, Park Ridge, as well as her aunt, Mrs. Richard Broderick, and cousins, Karen and Tommy, who have been visiting the family from their home in Dallas.

Thanksgiving day Lorraine and Ray Kunstman, 1309 N. Chicago, along with their daughters, Cassandra and Rae, entertained Lorraine's mother, Mrs. Mary Schlicht, Chicago, and good friends, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Anderson, Northbrook. After dinner the Kunstmans and their guests retired to the bowling alleys for an afternoon of fun.

Adelaide and John Fairfield, 1333 N. Illinois, and their children, Jeffrey, Patricia and John, spent the Thanksgiving weekend at the home of John's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Dyer, Eagleville, Tenn., near Nashville. With most of the traveling done on Thursday, the annual dinner was held Saturday. Joining the family reunion were the Dyers' four sons, all able to return home from college, John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Fairfield, and Adelaide's father, Walter Denis.

A pleasant Saturday evening was enjoyed by Audrey and Howard Miller, 1222 N. Illinois, who had dinner and then attended a performance of "West Side Story" at the Erlanger theatre together with Audrey's brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Koch, Harvey.

Although Dean, son of Lois and Ken Schafer, 1231 N. Chicago, was 2 November 20, his celebration was held the following Sunday afternoon, when his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gibis, Mt. Prospect, and great grandmother, Mrs. Charles Roeske, Arlington Heights, and other relatives were invited to the Schafers' for coffee and dessert, which was in the form of birthday cake and ice cream, much to the delight of the children, among whom were Dean's sister, Janae, and brother, Greg.

MARY AND Ray Funk, 1401 Clarendon, and their children, Jackie and Teri, just returned from a 10-day trip to Findlay, Ohio, where they visited Ray's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Funk. They enjoyed the Thanksgiving holiday there, and Jackie's sixth birthday was celebrated as well.

Among Terrace couples attending the annual dance sponsored by St. James Catholic church November 27 at Chevy Chase country club were Sandy and David Yates, 1522 Oakton.

Also attending the dance, known as the "Welcome Whirl," was a group which first met at the home of Dorothy and Bill Henneman, 1200 N. Chicago, for a predance cocktail. Enjoying the evening of fun together were the Hennemans, Rita and Joe Talaber, Eileen and Ray Brown, Mary Louise Dieter Burkhardt and Laverne and Bud Reichert.

Eleanore and John Blomquist, 1248 N. Illinois, and their children, Elaine, John and Bobby, were happy to welcome paternal grandfather, John Blomquist, Chicago, aunts and cousins Thanksgiving day guests.

Saturday the Blomquists' son, John, entertained Brad Nielsen at dinner and as an overnight guest as a partial celebration of his 12th birthday, which was November 29. Sunday John celebrated at a family dinner party. Present were his sister, Elaine, and brother, Bobby, and aunt, uncle and cousin, Mr. and Mrs. George Von Oepen and Sharon of Des Plaines.

AN HONORED guest last week at the home of Dorothy and Dick Chase, 1301 N. Chicago, was Dick's dad, Sherman Chase, Seattle, Wash., who came to view his new grandson, David. His granddaughters, Pamela and Patricia, received their due share of attention, too. Mr. Chase, Dorothy and Dick and the children were guests of Dorothy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bullock, Chicago, Thanksgiving day.

Phyllis and Milton Formhals, 1401 N. Chicago, are the parents of a son, Steven Wayne, born November 20 in McHenry County Memorial hospital, Woodstock. The news of the baby, who weighed 7 pounds 9 ounces, thrilled the Formhalses' other son, John, as well as maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Fisher, Twin Lakes, Wis., with whom John stayed while Phyllis was hospitalized, and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Mary Formhals, Ottawa, Ill.

Mary and Dan Healy, 1329 N. Chicago, and their children, Danny, Mary Ann and Michael, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mary's mother, Mrs. Edward McKee, Maywood, where they were joined by Mary's brother, as well as many other relatives, many of whom enjoyed a peek at Michael for the first time.

Friday evening Mary and Dan, together with Mary Lou and James Charleston, 1333 N. Chicago, were among the Terrace couples who had a wonderful time at the annual "Welcome Whirl" at the Chevy Chase country club.

Robert and Ronald, twin sons of Connie and Charles Dolejs, 1200 N. Race, held the spotlight Saturday afternoon as they celebrated their 12th birthday by entertaining their sister, Dawn, Mark and Larry Larson, Charles Marshall, Billy Jacobsen, Whitney Kellogg, Jeffrey Fairfield and Tommy McGuire. Jack Hult was unable to be present. The children attended the matinee at the Arlington theatre and then returned to the Delejs, home for birthday cake and ice cream.

MISS KAY Kratz, a student at Bluffton college, Bluffton, Ohio, was a guest at her home away from home, which is actually in Philadelphia, Pa., meaning that she enjoyed the Thanksgiving holidays with her sister and husband, Martha and Captain Charles Dillman, 1256 N. Chicago, and nephews, Craig and Shane.

Barbara and Ralph Weiderhold, 1322 N. Chicago, and their sons, Kim, Kyle, Kevin, Robert and Dwight, enjoyed the Thanksgiving day at the home of Barbara's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Alexander, Park Ridge.

Over the river and through the woods went the family of Diane and Sheldon Staubitz, 1447 N. Race, to the home of Sheldon's cousin and his family, the William Tholans, Cary.

Joining the rest of the family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Rix, Chicago, Thanksgiving day were Jerri and Bill Rix, 1244 N. Chicago, and their children, Jill and David.

Two busy weekends are past for Hal and Herb Trowe, 1240 N. Chicago, and their children, Brad, Martha, Margaret and Barbara. A pre-Thanksgiving treat was in store when the Trowe family visited Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Copeland, Iowa City, the highlight of the visit the Iowa-Notre Dame football game. On the way home that Sunday, the Trowes stopped in Rockford to attend a family dinner party in honor of their niece, Diane, who was christened that day.

Barbara, who was one November 28, was guest of honor at a birthday party last Sunday, when she received assistance in blowing out her birthday candle from her brother, Brad, and twin sisters, Martha and Margaret. On hand, too, for the happy occasion were her great grandmother, Mrs. Margaret Clemensen, and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson, all of Chicago.

Eileen and Ray Brown, 1504 W. Oakton, with Marianne, Kathleen, Jimmy, Barbara, Ray and Peggy, enjoyed the day out last Thursday at the home of Eileen's aunt, Mrs. Lewis Green, Chicago. A happy reunion was held when Eileen and her second cousin, Miss Diane Tatem, who lives in the Dominican Republic and attends school in Massachusetts, got together for the first time in years.

A HAPPY EVENT took place in the lives of Andrea and Ernest Honecker, 1342 N. Chicago, November 18, as that day Ernest was sworn in as an attorney before the Supreme court of Illinois and presented with his license. Preceding the swearing-in ceremonies, they were entertained at luncheon and afterwards attended a reception in the Hall of Flags, Centennial building, Springfield.

Friends and neighbors of Isabel and Ray Nottoli, 1227 N. Race, express their sympathy upon learning of the sudden death of Isabel's mother, Mrs. Black, who had been living with them.

While Dorothy and Richard Kirstein, 1310 Jo Lane, and their children, Ricky and Donna, enjoyed Thanksgiving dinner at the home of Dorothy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lierman, Bloomington, they were also able to visit Richard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kirstein, Normal, over the long weekend.

A 7 pound 13 ounce boy, Rowlin Patock, was born November 24 in Swedish Covenant hospital, Chicago, to Phyllis and Walter Busch, 1420 N. Chicago. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Busch and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Webb, all of Park Ridge. On hand to help Phyllis this week and to admire her grandson is her mother, Mrs. Webb.

Really getting around over the Thanksgiving weekend were Helen and Jack Martin, 1337 N. Chicago, and their children, Lori and Douglas. First stop was at the home of Jack's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Allison, Taylorville, where the entire family gathered for the festive occasion. Later in the day a wedding reception for Jack's brother, who had recently married, was held there, also. Leaving Doug with the Allisons, the rest of the family went on to St. Louis, where they visited Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Martin, and Lori was able to visit Santa Claus and see the Christmas decorations. Back to the Allisons on Sunday, where a family dinner party was held in honor of Lori, who was celebrating her third birthday.

At home Monday, a party was held in the afternoon to which Doug was invited, as well as Ross Alexander, John Formhals, Donna and Ricky Kirstein, Danny and Mary Ann Healy, Guy Eisenhuth and Kevin Corley. The children enjoyed a general playtime, listened to Lori's new records and enjoyed birthday cake and ice cream. (A

Swingin' Squares

Thirteen squares attended the pre-Thanksgiving dance of the Swingin' Squares held in the recreation park fieldhouse, November 20. Don Finfrock, the club's co-caller with Bing Bengson, did a solo because Bing was busy with something more important, recuperating from an auto accident.

Everyone reports a gay time at the dance and three couples reaped a profit above and beyond an evening of fun. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Epsky won the prize for guests, a fruitcake, and club members Joe and Charlotte Rauscher of Arlington Heights and Fred and Myrtle Lindenau of Chicago, won Thanksgiving turkeys.

Tomorrow night the club meets again in the fieldhouse in Arlington Heights, with Don starting the stomping at 8:30 p.m. Guests are welcome, no advance reservations are necessary.

Club officers report the selection of a panel of top callers in this area for the jamboree, Saturday, Jan. 30, in South Junior high school, South and Chestnut, Arlington Heights. The callers, all well known to Chicago area dancers, will rotate in the three halls set up to accomodate new dancers, better dancers and fast dancers, with the choice of hall left to the judgment of each couple. Booked for the big event are Don Finfrock of Palatine, Bing Bengson of Mt. Prospect, Bob and Zella Lewis of Franklin Park, Clarence Preusen of Chicago and Frank Green of Glen Ellyn.

Every Swingin' Square extends to all dancers an open invitation to their dance of the year. (A SANTA'S ELVES, Jill Astley, Linn Gray, Debbie Warejcka, Susan Crise and Ann Van Duzer, will be among the children in the winter wonderland scene from "A Dream of Toyland," 2-act children's Christmas story to be presented at 3:30 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 5, in South Junior high school, Arlington Heights. Children in the show, are dance pupils of Mrs. Charles C. Parvin, of Westgate, and will tell the story in music and dancing. (A

High School Youth Killed

An Arlington high school senior from Rolling Meadows was killed in a head-on collision early Wednesday.

James A. Fedak, 17, of 2905 Starling lane, was driving southeast on route 14 when he apparently lost control of his car and swerved into the path of an approaching tractor-trailer, crashing into the left front of the truck.

Driver of the B and M Manufacturing company truck, Willie E. Goins, 38, of rural route 1, Elkhart, Ind., was injured and taken to Sherman hospital, Elgin.

THE ACCIDENT occurred at Northwest hwy. and Hillside rd., about a mile northwest of the Dundee rd. intersection, at 12:45 a.m. Wednesday. It took two hours to clear the wreckage from the road.

Jim worked at Mell and Paul's drive-in in Mt. Prospect after school. He left about 11:30 p.m. Tuesday night, to take another employee home. He was returning to his home when the accident happened.

Miner Junior

"Columbus of 1992 is already born," was the comment of John Sternig, assistant superintendent of the public schools of Glencoe, when Miner Junior high school parents and teachers heard the well informed speaker at their meeting Tuesday evening.

Mr. Sternig held his audience spellbound as he described the hazards, responsibilities, qualifications of the men and the wonders of exploring the unknowns of outer space. He felt that we are not prepared to undertake such a task until we know the reason for an exploration. Science education is important, but of far more importance are the values of the human beings involved. Are they going into space for exploration, visitation, investigation and friendship? Are they going for exploitation and conquest?

In this great and vast universe, our earth is but a speck of dust. The speed of release from gravity is seven miles per second, and at this speed, we could possibly visit the Moon, Mars, Jupiter and even Pluto, although it would take seventeen years to make the trip to Pluto, and thousands of years to reach the nearest star. Mr. Sternig used charts, black board illustrations and models and gave a very understandable picture of rockets and the men who will travel in them.

South Junior

"To be good parents, not too strict or too lenient, is the desire of all parents," so stated Richard Boone, director of Youth Gangs for the YMCA of Chicago, as he laid the foundation for the South Junior high school PTA program Tuesday evening.

Conduct, according to Mr. Boone, is shaped by fear, a sense of responsibility and the influence of the persons associated. He emphasized that a parent, in order to maintain a sense of responsibility, must remember to tell the child the truth, adhere to a bonafide schedule of time in the home, plan certain activities together and give the child active responsibilities.

Preceding the speaker of the evening, Mrs. G. W. Watland, chairman, made several announcements.

Safety

The days are growing shorter and Mrs. Paul Hemnes, safety chairman, would like to bring to the attention of parents the state law, requiring that bicycles ridden at night have a light in front and reflector in back. The recent tragedies in nearby suburbs should alert all of us to review traffic safety habits with our children.

Mrs. Thomas Stewart To Head Newcomers

Mrs. Thomas Stewart was elected new president of Arlington Heights Newcomers' club at its monthly business meeting held November 18 in Pioneer park club house.

Other officers elected for th next 6-month term were Mrs. Robert Staebler, vice president; Mrs. George Logsdon, recording secretary; Mrs. Leroy Peterson, treasurer; and Mrs. Marshall McEuen, corresponding secretary. Past President, Mrs. James Evanger, will serve on the executive board in an advisory capacity.

New officers will be installed during the December 9 buffet luncheon at Old Orchard country club, at which time Mrs. Stewart will announce new board chairmanships.

DURING the business session, the organization voted upon and passed an amendment to the by laws which will extend eligibility for membership in Newcomers to women who have resided in the Arlington Heights vicinity for a year and a half. This is extending the period in which newcomers in the community may become members for six months beyond the previous limit of one year.

Before the close of business, Mrs. Donald Slusser, program chairman, reminded those present to make plans now to attend Newcomers' December 6 couples event, a cocktail dance at Old Orchard country club. The event will begin at 6:30 pm.. and will feature hot and cold hors d'oeuvres provided by the club and music of a local "combo."

CARDS WERE played during the remainder of the evening with bridge prizes going to Mrs. Howard Sjorgren, Mrs. Cal Copsey and Mrs. Mrs. Joseph Koenen; canasta prizes were won by Mrs. Richard Burke and Mrs. Neil Werner; and Mrs. Arnid Alvin and Mrs. Lyle Mullvain tied for high at pinochle. Mrs. Bengt Bengtson was recipient of the early bird prize.

The annual buffet luncheon will be the next scheduled meeting of Newcomers' club at 12:30 p.m. December 9 at Old Orchard country club. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Thomas Mallow, CL 5-3595 or Mrs. Harold Drew, CL 5-9115. All newcomers in the Arlington Heights vicinity are invited to attend, providing they have resided in the area less than a year and a half.

Talent Bank New Service For Performers, Groups

by JOEL CARTER

One of the newest recreation services of the Arlington Heights park district is the Talent Bank. The unique organization is a clearing house for amateur performers and program seekers.

Anyone who can give a program that is entertaining or informative may register with the bank. No limitation on type of talent exists. Banjo strummers, one-man bands, card trick artists, and yogi demonstrators are just as welcome as the more conventional singers and dancers. Registration is merely a matter of phoning us at CL. 3-0620.

Those who register will later audition for the Talent Committee so the committee can list a description of the act on their referral card. The audition will also assist the committee in planning a variety show for the Talent Bank. These shows will be given from time to time so the public can see the Talent Bank and to give members another performing credit.

THE PARK district will then maintain an up-to-date file of registrants classified according to the type of act offered, the program chairmen can phone the park district to receive a list of the people available who can perform the type of act they seek. We don't endorse the performers or guarantee them appearance. The bank is just an aid to recreation by helping those who enjoy performing and assisting audiences to find good fare.

Registration has been slow but steady since the Bank opened in October. A few more performers are needed for the first Variety Show but it should be ready to go on during the latter part of the winter. Most needed are comedians, masters of ceremony, magicians, and similar entertainers whose talent is on the light side.

Available already are several pianists with varying skills and some ballet and modern dancers. Two songstresses are signed up as is the Town and Country Chorus, a mixed group of adult singers.

ONE GENTLEMAN has a unique presentation of color slides including some rare views of the 1893 Exposition Worlds Fair. There is also an accordianist with a popular and semi-classical repertoire, Anyone Else? Phone Pioneer park.

TWO GLENVIEW youngsters were injured Friday night when they ran a stop sign at Wolf and Central rds., skidded 400 feet and rolled another 100 feet into a cornfield in this car. The youths, Lawrence J. Casey, 16, who was driving the car, and James Smith, 16, were treated at Resurrection hospital for multiple cuts and bruises. Witnesses told Des Plaines police the car was going at least 100 miles an hour when it passed the intersection.

Mayor Carlisle Opens Traffic Safety Drive

Mayor Edward Carlisle of Arlington Heights has proclaimed the month of December as "Traffic Safety Month."

The mayor urged all villagers to "do all in their power to assist in the success of "Project Salad" (Save-A-Life-A-Day) and to proceed with extreme caution while walking or driving during the month."

The village president is acting in cooperation with Gov. William G. Stratton, whose goal, set by the program is to save a life a day from traffic accidents.

IF PROJECT Salad is successful in the state, there will be at least 31 fewer traffic deaths next month than in December a year ago when 208 persons died in Illinois traffic accidents.

Mayor Carlisle, in his proclamation, said "experience has shown more persons die in traffic accidents in December than in any other month.

He called upon motorists to proceed with caution during the dangerous month, made even more hazardous by the year-end holidays.

THE MAYOR said motorists should be particularly watchful for pedestrians who are Christmas shopping and who may have their vision obstructed with large packages.

Pedestrians, he said, should cross only at intersections and should step off the curb only after the traffic light has turned to green. (A

Day of Recollection At Wayside Sunday

Fr. George Slominski, chaplain of Columbus hospital, will conduct Our Lady Of The Wayside, Catholic Woman's club, annual Day Of Recollection, Sunday, Dec. 6, in the parish hall. To accommodate a greater number of women and with hopes for a larger attendance, the time this year has been set from 1 p.m. to 5:30 p.m., with time out for a coffee break. (AME

Hold First Camp Out

Explorer post 32, sponsored by the Presbyterian Men's club of Arlington Heights, had its first camp out of the season this past weekend.

Saturday morning the boys pitched their tents at Dan Beard campsite, near Des Plaines, and spent two days hiking, cooking their own meals, initiating newcomers to the Royal Order of Siam, and fulfilling requirements for merit badges.

At the weekly meeting Joel Martin won the rank of life scout, appearing before a board of review consisting of Erv Westfahl, Bob Herigodt, Don Paluch and Milt Singleman.

The first action of the gun club of this post took place Wednesday when they joined other explorer gun groups at Maine Township high school for target practice.

Explorer adviser for Post 32, Mr. G. A. Martin, may be contacted at CL. 5-8483 by boys interested in becoming explorers. (A

Whirlwind Thanksgiving Sets Pace for Busy Holiday Season

Sidelights
Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate
Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

As everyone settles back into a normal routine after a happy, hectic holiday schedule, the same thought plagues a lot of people: how can a long holiday weekend, so long awaited, go so fast? Parents of collegians wonder if perhaps that was just a "whirlwind" home for Thanksgiving and the whirlwinds sit in class this week wondering if they only dreamed a holiday vacation at home. The reality of Christmas is right beside the memory of Thanksgiving, however, and suddenly it's the busy season.

The Philip Hagens, 2023 E. Park, had Thanksgiving dinner in Miami with Mrs. Hagen's aunt and uncle, the Melvin Strusses, and returned home Sunday from a week's vacation in Miami Beach and Miami.

The John Kitch family, 1032 S. Dunton, spent the holiday weekend in Cedar Rapids with the senior Mrs. Kitch and other relatives on both sides of the family.

For about half the residents of the 1000 block on S. Dunton who had a quiet stay-at-home holiday planned, the William Pattersons held open house at 1011 S. Dunton Thanksgiving evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Austin Fox returned Sunday to 809 S. Walnut after a 10-day vacation in Kentucky and Tennessee. They visited friends in Kentucky, then had a week in Knoxville, where a Thanksgiving celebration reunited them with members of both families. Their "back home" stay was shared between Mrs. Fox' mother, Mrs. Ira Akridge, her sister and family, the R. S. Hutchisons, and the senior Mr. and Mrs. Fox.

TOM ROBERTS, a freshman at Purdue university, had Thanksgiving vacation at home with the family at 506 S. Chestnut and on the holiday greeted his grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Roberts of Wilmette, and his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Byington of Glencoe, who spent the day here.

The Howard Jarvis family, 101 N. Phelps, spent last week with their relatives in Washington, D.C. and Philadelphia and were part of a family group Thanksgiving day at the home of Miss Helen Nevin, an aunt, in Philadelphia.

In keeping with their "share our home" Thanksgiving custom, the J. A. Smiths, 909 S. Dunton, again welcomed two foreign exchange students to their family celebration of the day our country gives thanks for its being. This year the American holiday was enjoyed by a young married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Jalal Fadhli of Baghdad who were sent here by the government of Iraq to study dramatics at the Goodman theater in Chicago. Mrs. Smith's cousin, Henry Benz of Park Ridge, joined the holiday party and his showing of slides taken during a recent trip to Japan added to the international spirit at 909 S. Dunton.

Patrick Rocca, Northwestern university student, is much closer to home than his campus friend, Bill Killan of East Andover, Mass. so Bill was asked to be a holiday weekend guest and share the Rocca family celebration at 117 S. Fernandez.

Mrs. Richard Whitson, 834 N. Walnut, is home again after a month in London, Ohio, with her father, E. S. Speasmaker and other family members. Mr. Whitson and the children joined her for the holiday weekend in London and the family returned here together Sunday.

MR. AND Mrs. William Trude, 801 S. Dunton, returned a week ago Monday from a 10-day stay in Louisiana and Alabama. They enjoyed a brief visit in New Orleans then went on to Point Clear, Ala. where they vacationed for a week.

Doug Stoehr, 441 S. Prindle, was 13 years old Monday and celebrated a day early with a festive family dinner party at the Milk Pail in Dundee.

The L. J. Lubers, 844 S. Dunton, were part of a family get-together Thanksgiving day in Highland, Ill. at the home of the senior Lubers.

The Ellis Larson family, 400 N. Lincoln, spent the Thanksgiving weekend in Massillon, Ohio, with Mrs. Larson's mother, Mrs. J. A. Mauger.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Temen, 814 S. Vail, were Thanksgiving guests with their daughter and her family, the Charles Peters, at the home of the senior Peters in Lake Geneva.

The Saunders Reinhard family, 801 S. Walnut, returned home Sunday evening after enjoying the long holiday weekend in St. Louis with Mr. Reinhard's brother, Edward, and his family, their father, H. H. Reinhard, and other relatives in the St. Louis area.

The John Frieburgs, 1303 E. Eastman, were among family members spending the holiday in Leroy, Ill. at the home of Mr. Frieburg's parents.

WHEN A GAL has a birthday practically in Thanksgiving's lap she can hardly expect a party besides all the holiday excitement. Kathy Metz, 421 Carlisle, turned 16 Saturday and since 16 is such a crucial age, a family dinner party that included her grandparents, the J. Strobels of Chicago, was on the busy holiday weekend schedule for Sunday.

There was a surprise party on the schedule, too, which Kathy discovered abruptly Saturday evening when a dozen high school friends arrived at her home. Suddenly there was a supper party and an evening of games and dancing for the gal who doesn't expect a party when her birthday's practically in Thanksgiving's lap.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Funk, 416 N. Drury, hosted 28 local friends at a holiday party Friday night. Games, dancing and a late buffet supper provided a full and happy evening to supplement everyone's full and happy Thanksgiving.

The Ed Bakers, 638 S. Dunton, had a pleasantly full and busy house over the holiday weekend and the silence since Monday is deafening. Nancy was home for the Thanksgiving vacation from Beloit college, Jack was home from DePauw university in Greencastle, Ind., their grandmother, Mrs. John A. Brown, was here from Sycamore and Grandpa Baker of Chicago joined them all for Thanksgiving day.

Mrs. Brown and Nancy took off in different directions Sunday, but Jack had an extra day at home because DePauw's football team is pretty hot stuff. When DePauw meets Wabash on the gridiron each Thanksgiving season the winning team earns an extra day of vacation time for themselves and all their schoolmates. DePauw won last year and tied this year, thus retaining the extra-day privilege for Jack Baker among countless happy others.

HOLIDAY weekend guests at the John O'Berry home, 733 S. Mitchell, were Mrs. O'Berry's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Richards and Scott of Perrinton, Mich.

The junior Newell Crockett family, 802 S. Chestnut, left a week ago Tuesday for an extra-long holiday weekend stay with the senior Crocketts in Ft. Madison, Iowa. The family also spent some time with Mrs. Crockett's mother, Mrs. H. N. Ames, also of Ft. Madison.

The Robert Bliss family, 1307 E. Eastman, enjoyed a holiday family reunion in New Philadelphia, Ohio at the home of Mrs. Bliss' parents, the E. B. Cookes. Also at the Cooke home were Mrs. Bliss' brother, Churchill, and his family from Beaver, Pa. and their sister and her family, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Rea and children of Marion, Ohio.

Mr. and Mrs. James Loudon and Jim, 746 S. Dunton, returned before the holiday from a 2-week business and pleasure trip to the west coast. They went by jet to Los Angeles and spent time also in San Francisco, Seattle and Portland.

Mrs. George Held, 706 N. Dunton, returned Sunday from a 2-week vacation in Florida where she enjoyed visiting and sightseeing in the Clearwater area. She accompanied her son, Don, and his wife of Des Plaines by plane to Florida and with them stayed at the home of her daughter-in-law's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Munson, long time Des Plaines residents who moved to Clearwater early this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Munson took the Helds to many scenic and historic spots in their new home state and enjoyed lots of relaxed "just being together" with their guests.

THE FRANK Leth Thanksgiving family get-together at 503 S. Evergreen this year included Mrs. Leth's sister and family, the Alvin Kahlings, who celebrated with everyone here for the first time in several years. After an 8-year residence in Broomall, Pa. they moved back to Arlington Heights about three months ago and last Thursday especially appreciated the family-all-together spirit of Thanksgiving.

Here to join them around the festive table were the Leths' daughters with their families, the Ted Lisecs of Urbana and the David Gallimores of Park Forest who spent the holiday weekend here. The senior Mrs. Leth of Chicago arrived Wednesday morning to spend the weekend visiting her son, granddaughters and great-grandchildren, returning to her Chicago home Sunday. Completing the four generation family group at the Leth home Thanksgiving Dav were Mrs. Leth's parents, the August Schulenburgs of Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Robert Kozeliski, 901 E. Davis, and Mrs. Edwin Johnson, 1008 W. Miner recently celebrated their mutual November 23 birthday together as per their annual custom. They let their husbands take them to dinner. The festive foursome dined at Simonini's in Algonquin the Saturday night before the double duty birth date.

The Paul Blacks, 701 S. Chestnut, weekended in South Bend to attend the Notre Dame-Southern California football game Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Plotner of Gowrie, Iowa returned to their home Sunday after a 2-week visit here with their daughter and family, the Dale Hausers, 101 N. Forrest. Entertaining several times in the Plotners' honor, the Hausers were hosts to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, Miss Ardelle Johnson, the Robert Isaacson family and the Edmund Mears family, all of Arlington Heights. The Plotners were guests with their daughter and family at the H. M. Howard home in Evanston and at the Mears home here.

FRIENDS AND neighbors of the John St. Germaine family, 913 N. Frederick, extend condolences to Mrs. St. Germaine on the sudden death November 23 of her father, George P. Fiederling of Topkea. The St. Germaines left for Kansas immediately upon receiving word of Mr. Fiederling's death and returned here Monday.

The Don Wheeler family, 540 S. Ridge, left Monday for a new home in Palos Verdis, Cal. and among their belongings being moved with extra-tender loving care are farewell gifts from friends here. Many parties have been given for the couple and at two recent farewells, gifts that bore the names of the Wheelers, local friends were presented to the honor guests.

Saturday night six couples were dinner guests at the Northfield home of the "Bret" Bretons, former Arlington Heights residents, and Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler received a silver tray engraved with the names of the donors.

Earlier, Mrs. Wheeler was farewelled by a bridge group in the Floyd Trebell home, 402 W. Kirchoff, and the "don't forget us" gift guaranteed remembrance. Each of the 16 women present had embroidered her name on a bridge cloth which was given the honor guest and four napkins are in widely scattered parts of the country being similarly "signed" by four former members of the bridge club who have moved away. The napkins will be sent to the California home of the Wheelers to complete the set.

ANOTHER bridge group, The Vulnerable Eight, also recently farewelled Mrs. Wheeler and presented her with a silver silent butler at a final meeting with their departing partner at the Wier Swanson home, 901 S. Highland.

Last Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Wheeler and her mother, Mrs. Frances Leher of Pittsburgh, were luncheon guests of Mrs. Floyd Terbell, Mrs. Lawrence Medill and Mrs. Peter McAndrews at the Spinning Wheel and the cohostesses gave their guest of honor a personal gift of remembrance. After a Thanksgiving celebration with her daughter and family, Mrs. Leher returned to her home in the east and all the final farewells have now been said.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Riley, 738 S. Mitchell, spent the weekend before the holiday in Kansas City enjoying the homecoming activities of Kansas university where their daughter, Laurie, is in her second year. One of the weekend events was the college presentation of "Brigadoon" in which Laurie had a part. Monday she accompanied her parents on their return trip to spend the Thanksgiving week at home.

Arriving by plane late Tuesday to join the family here was Tom Gore, son of family friends in California. The Rileys' son, Richard, and his family, including Laurie and Tom, spent the weekend at the family cottage on Lac LaBelle in Oconamaworc, Wis. where ice skating, skiing and tobogganing were at their best. Sunday, Tom and Laurie returned by plane to Kansas City to resume their studies at the university Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Smith, 913 N. Beverly, entertained with a family dinner Thanksgiving for their daughter and her husband, the Gordon Greens, their grandson and his family, the William Greens, and Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Charles Spies of Indiana.

November 24, members of the Sunshine club honored Mrs. Mary Peters on the occasion of her 80th birthday. The Sunshine club, a bunco club, has been in existence for 30 years in Arlington Heights and Mrs. Peters is one of its original members. The party was held in Mrs. Peters' home at 214 N. Vail and all present wished her many happy returns of the day.

MRS. WALTER Kellin, 105 Stratford, received birthday congratulations at an impromptu surprise party given by her Stratford rd. neighbors, November 19.

Mrs. Stephen Jurco, 217 Windsor, entertained at a coffee November 23 for Mrs. W. Birch of Sommerset, England. Mrs. Birch will spend a month here, visiting her niece and family, the Robert Bukowskis.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Todd, 103 S. Brighton, Mr. and Mrs. John Schuck, 1215 Kensington, and Mr. and Mrs. William Kuivinen of Mt. Prospect attended a concert Saturday at Harrison hall of the National College of Education in Evanston. The program featured the well known Lindberg chorus. After concert, they joined more friends for a late supper at Cooley's Cupboard.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bredehoft, 201 Wilshire, and their sons, Bill, Carl and Paul, spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Lawrence, Kan., visiting her mother, Mrs. L. D. Pierce.

The John E. Vanniers and their daughters, Pamela and Sue, spent Thanksgiving with their Stonegate neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Gutzman, 344 S. Windsor dr.

MISS BARBARA Gutzman will participate in the horse show, at the Amphitheater in Chicago Saturday afternoon. She will perform in the jumper class for children 18 years and under, and will ride her new horse, Prince Andrew.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Allen Kovar, 431 S. Windsor dr., recently returned from a busy 6-day visit to New York City where they visited friends, attended a performance of "Redhead" and went to New Haven to see the Harvard-Yale football game.

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. George Jackson, 111 Wilshire, extend sympathy on the recent and sudden death of Mrs. Jackson's father, Frank Nekola, November 21. Mrs. Nekola, who with her late husband made her home with their daughter, left for Dallas, where she will visit her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Kolar.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Baker, 115 S. Brighton pl., spent the weekend in Columbus, Ind., visiting friends.

GUESTS OF Miss Babs Rasmussen, who joined a large family gathering in the Rasmussen home, 202 S. Windsor dr., were her DePauw roommate, Miss Sherry Hornbeck of Ottawa, Ill., and Miss Andy Wickendon of North Bennington, Vt., a student at MacMurray college.

Miss Rasmussen, who is most enthusiastic about DePauw, has taken an active interest in many of its activities. She was recently elected dormitory treasurer and also elected to the Association of Women's Student Senate, and is co-chairman of the Quad dance.

Weekend guests of the Robert Deibels, 644 Newbury, were Mr. Deibel's father and brother, Louis F. Deibel of Columbus, Ohio, and Paul W. Deibel of Washington D.C.

Miss Faith Samson was home from Miami university in Oxford, Ohio, to spend the holidays with her parents, the Parker E. Samsons, 618 S. Burton.

Miss Lynn Knight, who will be married January 2 to Daniel Lukasik, was feted at a miscellaneous wedding shower and supper party Sunday, given by her fiance's sister, Miss Millie Lukasik, 526 E. Central rd.

The party had a pink and white color scheme, with pink flowers and candles decorating the tables. Suspended above the dining table was a cloud, fashioned of tulle, with streamers for raindrops, each bearing messages of good will for the future bride.

MRS. LOWELL F. Christy, 505 S. Belmont, entertained at a coffee Friday, Nov. 20, for Mrs. Willet O'Dell, who with her family, recently moved to Scarsdale from Georgia.

Thanksgiving guests of the Christys, were Mr. Christy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph R. Christy of Bloomfield, Iowa, who visited here for the weekend.

John Holdeman, 444 S. Lincoln lane, and his son, John, joined Jack Weiffenbach of LaGrange and his son, Conrad, to spend a weekend at Ann Arbor to visit the University of Michigan campus and to attend the University of Michigan-Ohio football game.

The Holdemans spent Thanksgiving at home with Mr. Holdeman's father, L. H. Holdeman, and his sister and family, the Robert Hartmans joining the family circle.

The elder Mr. Holdeman is here from his home in Spring Lake, Mich. and will share his visit with his daughter and her family, who recently moved to Prospect Heights from Royal Oak, Mich.

Bruce Richmond was home from Coe college to spend the holidays with his parents, the C. Stewart Richmonds, 731 Burton. The Richmonds joined their eldest son and his family for Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley C. Becker of Chicago, parents of the junior Mrs. Richmond. Also in the family group was Mrs. Martha Becker, great grandmother of the Richmond children.

ONLY ONE OF the C. H. Rosene's children was able to be home for the holidays. Gail, who attends Coe college came home, while Roger, a student at the University of Denver, spent Thanksgiving in Denver with the family of one of his fraternity brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Bohn, 921 S. Beverly, have bid farewell to their friends and neighbors in Arlington Heights, and left Monday for Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., where they will make their home.

Mrs. George J. Betts, 516 Lincoln lane, returned last week from a 3-week visit with her sister and brother in Hayward, Cal.

Mrs. Betts motored to California, and was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. W. J. Healy and Mrs. Carrington Bowles, who had flown here from Menlow Park, Cal., to be present at the recent wedding of Mrs. Bett's son, William, to Miss Helen Marie Leonard.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles D. Ewert, 349 Bristol lane, are home from a 10-day visit in the east, spending Thanksgiving with her mother, Mrs. James Roach of New Haven, Conn., and with Mr. Ewert's mother, Mrs. Fred Ewert, who came down from Farmington, Long Island to join the family for the holiday.

While in New Haven, the Ewerts attended the Harvard-Yale football game.

MISS SUSAN Macdonald celebrated her 16th birthday, Thanksgiving day at a family gathering in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alan H. Macdonald, 515 S. Belmont. Joining the family group were Mrs. Macdonald's brother and family, the Hendrick Blues of Highland Park, and Mr. Macdonald's mother, Mrs. Addie Macdonald of Barrington.

There was a combination birthday party Saturday at the Richard A. Seibert home, 534 S. Dryden, for their daughter, Lynn, and her good friend and neighbor, Mark Schwank, who celebrated their fifth and sixth birthdays, respectively, at a traditional party for 16 guests. Mark is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schwank, 526 S. Dryden.

Mrs. Seibert's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael P. Rudy, flew in from Reading, Pa. for a weekend visit.

The Charles E. Skinners, 721 S. Beverly lane, spent the holidays with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wallman of Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Krabenhoft and their daughter, Pam, were here from Indianapolis to spend the weekend with the R. W. Daeschners, 310 E. Fairview. (A

An Ordinance

AMMENDING CHAPTER 9 OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS OF 1954 BY ADOPTING ARTICLE VII RELATING TO SNOW REMOVAL.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COUNTY OF COOK, STATE OF ILLINOIS, THAT:

SECTION ONE: Chapter 9 of the Municipal Code of Arlington Heights of 1954, be and the same is hereby amended as follows:

"Article VII. Snow Removal.

Section 9-701. Parking Limited During Snow Removal. It is unlawful to park any vehicle for a period of time longer than three minutes for loading and unloading of passengers or thirty minutes for loading and unloading of property in any place, whether designated as a loading zone or not so designated, at any time after snow begins to fall and for a period of eight (8) hours after snow stops falling, if the snow on the street exceeds one (1) inch in depth, provided that said eight (8) hour parking restriction shall continue during snow removal operations until completed.

Further, it is unlawful to park any vehicle, or allow any vehicle to remain parked, in a parking lot owned by the Village of Arlington Heights, between the hours of 10:00 P.M. and 6:00 A.M., at any time after snow on the surface of the parking lot exceeds one (1) inch in depth.

Section 9-702. Penalty. Any person, firm or corporation violating any provision of this section shall be fined not less than five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for each offense; and a separate offense shall be deemed committed on each day during or on which a violation occurs or continues."

SECTION TWO: This ordinance shall be effective upon its passage, approval and publication as required by law.

AMENDING SECTION 8-302 OF CHAPTER VIII OF THE MUNICIPAL CODE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS OF 1954

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE PRESIDENT AND BOARD OF TRUSTEES OF THE VILLAGE OF ARLINGTON HEIGHTS, COUNTY OF COOK AND STATE OF ILLINOIS, THAT

SECTION ONE: That Section 8-302 of Chapter VIII of the Municipal Code of Arlington Heights of 1954, as amended, relating to the purpose and scope of Subdivision Regulations, be and the same is hereby amended in the following respects:

That Paragraph 3 of said section, the first sentence, which reads: 'The provisions herein contained shall not apply to any lot or lots forming a part of a subdivision created and recorded or registered prior to the effective date of the adoption hereof, but the provisions contained herein shall apply to any resubdivision of such lot or lots or subdivisions" shall be deleted and there shall be inserted in its place and stead the following sentence:

"The provisions herein contained as to minimum requirements of lot frontage and lot area size shall apply on and after the effective date of this amendment as to each and every parcel of vacant and unimproved land regardless of any lot size thereof created and recorded or registered prior to the effective date of the adoption hereof, except, as to any parcel of vacant and unimproved land held on said date in separate ownership from adjoining property which parcel shall be exempt from the provisions herein contained if being a corner lot it has less than seventy-five (75) foot frontage or if being otherwise than a corner lot it has less than seventy (70) foot frontage."

and that the said Section 8-302 as amended shall read as follows:

"Section 8-302. Purpose and Scope. (a) In their interpretation and application, the provisions of this Article shall be held to be the minimum requirements adopted for the protection of the public health, safety and welfare. To protect the public, among other purposes, such provisions are intended to provide for permanently wholesome community environment, adequate municipal services, safe streets and comprehensive and sound development of the municipality, both as to its present and future requirements.

(b) All lands offered to the Village for use as streets, highways, alleys, parks and other public use within the Village or the extra territorial lands under Village jurisdiction, shall be referred to the Arlington Heights Plan Commission for review and recommendation before being accepted by the Village Board or by any other governing authority.

(c) The provisions herein contained as to minimum requirements of lot frontage and lot area size shall apply on and after the effective date of this amendment as to each and every parcel of vacant and unimproved land regardless of any lot size thereof created and recorded or registered prior to the effective date of the adoption hereof, except, as to any parcel of vacant and unimproved land held on said date in separate ownership from adjoining property which parcel shall be exempt from the provisions herein contained if being a corner lot it has less than seventy-five (75) foot frontage or if being otherwise than a corner lot it has less than seventy (70) foot frontage.

(d) It is not intended by this Article to repeal, abrogate, impair or interfere with any existing provision of other laws or Ordinances except those specifically repealed herein, or with private restrictions placed upon property by deed, covenant or other private agreement, or with restrictive covenants running with the land.

(e) Where the provisions of this Article impose a greater restriction upon land than is imposed or required by such existing provisions of law, ordinance, contract, or deed, the provisions herein shall control, except as affecting any Zoning Ordinances, rules or regulations, present or future."

SECTION TWO: This Ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its passage and approval and publication in accordance with law.

Winter Recreation

The Arlington Heights park district's winter recreation program opens this week with a wide variety of activities for local citizens of all ages. Most of the activities start at this time but some are delayed until after the holidays, and others are short term special events. Participants may register by phoning Pioneer park, CL 3-0620.

Badminton Get-Togethers will be held at Recreation park fieldhouse every Wednesday. Equipment is furnished for the sessions which start at 7:30 p.m. and both young people and adults may come and play.

Recreation Fieldhouse will become an indoor sports center Monday and will be open for use afternoons and evenings. A basketball court, table tennis room, game room, rubber horseshoes area, plus men's showers and dressing facilities are available.

A SUPERVISOR will be on duty to issue equipment, keep order, and check valuables. The sports center will be open on weekdays 3:30-5:30 p.m. and 7-9:30 p.m. On Saturdays and school holidays the building will open at 1 p.m. but it will be closed on Sundays.

Mike Karon, assistant gymnastics coach at Arlington high school, will teach children's tumbling classes every Saturday morning beginning this week. Third grade and under children will meet at 9 a.m. The class for older children will start at 9:45 a.m. After the first meeting part of the students in each class will be shifted to an advanced class at 10:30 a.m. The courses will continue until February 27 and a $2.00 instruction fee will be charged.

HAROLD BEST, radio specialist for Arlington police, is teaching an electronics course for teen-agers. His classes meet at Pioneer Park on Wednesday nights at 7 p.m. and new students are sought.

A men's basketball league plays on Tuesdays and Wednesdays at Miner Junior High. Each team plays one game each week at 7:15 or 8:30 p.m. There is room in the league for one more team and space is available on the Pioneer Park team for individual players.

A volleyball league plays at Recreation park on Thursday nights. Men's games are at 7 and 8 p.m. The women play at 9 p.m. The league opens on December 10 and there are places for both team registrations and individual players.

ACTIVITIES opening after Christmas include a ladies slimnastics class, men's physical conditioning, the Rotary Ice Carnival, ice skating rinks, hockey classes, a boy's holiday basketball tournament, the Talent Bank Variety Show, children's art classes, indoor golf classes, and ice skating instruction.

The Fencing Club meets Wednesdays at Pioneer park. Both beginners and skilled fencers are invited to their sessions at 7:30 p.m. (A

Dramatic Reading For WSCS Meeting

Mrs. Ebba Baldo of Des Plaines will present a dramatic reading "Elizabeth Denton's Christmas" at a one o'clock tea next Tuesday afternoon in the parlor of the First Methodist church, Arlington Heights. This event will be the Christmas meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Mrs. Baldo is a graduate of the Chicago Musical college. For many years she was active in Chicago radio, and is presently a member of the Screen Actor's Guild.

In the spirit of Christmas, carols will be sung by the group. Also, children's gifts will be brought for the Chicago Parental home.

Mrs. John Holdeman will give the devotional meditation.

Bykota, Naomi and Susanna circles are planning the tea with Mrs. John Latta, Mrs. Robert Higgins and Mrs. Joseph Corcoran in charge. A nursery service will be provided for small children.

Q. When is it proper NOT to make introductions?

A. Although there's no magic formula for this, generally we skip unnecessary introductions. There's no point in introducing persons who aren't going to talk anyway. When you pass friends on the street, you needn't introduce the person you're walking with unless you're going to stop and chat. At a large party, we usually don't bother to introduce a stranger to everyone in the room — just to one group of persons that he can talk with.

Chipper and Cary saw their first play recently, when their parents, Betty and Ray Howe, 945 N. Kaspar, took them to the Goodman theater to see "Jack and the Beanstalk." This wasn't a "first" for their sister, Chris, however, as she has been going to plays for several years. Betty read the story to the boys before they went so that the play came to life for them right before their eyes.

Nan Stocking spent Thanksgiving day in Evanston hospital. The reason - Kristin was born November 22, weighing 7 pounds 9 ounces. She has two brothers, Charlie, and Jerry, who think she is just about the prettiest baby in the world. Nan's folks, the L. B. Parsons of Baraboo, Wis., came down to be on hand for all the excitement. Larry's folks are the M. F. Stockings, Davison, Mich.

It's two and two for the Jack Meades, 1003 N. Kennicott, since George Hutchinson Meade joined the family. Born November 3 in Resurrection hospital, he weighed 8 pounds 12 ounces. He is the fourth child and second son to be born to Jack and Mary and was named for Mary's father. His sisters are Mary and Maggie and his brother is Tom. The good news has been flown to Jack's folks, the junior Thomas H. Meades of Brockton, Mass., and to Mary's father in Clinton, Mass., who will pass the word along to the rest of the family living near him.

The Jack Williams, 1021 N. Yale, have been out of town for a week, in which they took in the Illinois - Northwestern game at Champaign-Urbana. Jack is a graduate of Northwestern, so the score didn't please him too much; but being with his folks in Decatur and spending Thanksgiving with them made for a nice week.

GOING BACK TO Cedar Rapids for the long weekend was like going back home for the William Griffins, 1521 Oakton. They lived in Cedar Rapids before moving here and they enjoyed visiting old friends there.

Barbara Burns, daughter of the W. D. Burns, 721 N. Patton, was 14 November 19. The family celebrated the occasion the following Saturday at her grandmother's house.

The R. A. Beckmans, 812 N. Fernandez, spent Thanksgiving in Kansas City, Mo., with one of their daughters and her family, the Phil Johnsons. Coming home, they stopped in Lincoln to visit Audrey's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Reeder.

Lorraine and Bob Cummings, 1115 W. Elm, took their sons, Jack and Tom, to Marshall, Wis., last weekend to spend the holiday with Bob's family, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Cummings. With the brothers and sisters and their families, they were 18 in all. Lorraine, Bob and their boys returned home in time to go into Chicago Sunday to the Rogers Park Methodist church, where they were godparents at the christening of their niece, Renee Ruth Iverson. Renee is the daughter of Lorraine's brother and sister-in-law. After the ceremony they all went to the Iversons' for dinner.

Terrence Platt, son of Ruth and Dick Platt, 806 N. Kennicott, was 5 November 18 and had a family celebration the following Sunday and another party last Wednesday, this time for his playmates. David Mills was there, as well as Michael Topp, Randy Smeltzer, Pamie Rosheger, Nancy Urban and Johnny Stevens. Departing from tradition, they had black cows and individual cupcakes each with its own candle. Terrence and his family went to his grandparents' house for Thanksgiving, only to find another birthday present waiting for him there.

By noon last Wednesday, Joyce and Jim Lauer, 1020 N. Kennicott, had the car packed, complete with Jim, Joey, and John, and were headed for Indianapolis for Thanksgiving weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Meston. This was the first time they had seen their folks' new home.

Charlotte and Jim Ronayne, 1011 N. Kennicott, will find a little extra meaning in Thanksgiving from now on, as that was the day Jim's sister, Mary Ellen, was married to Joe Aiu in St. Peter church in Chicago. Jim had the honor of being best man. The reception afterward for family and friends was held at the Bismark hotel. Mary Ellen and Joe went to Washington, D. C., and Virginia for their honeymoon.

THE WEATHERMAN may predict snow, sleet and ice, but Mary Ross, 818 N. Princeton, isn't going to let that bother her one bit. She's boarding a jet plane Friday for Hawaii and the outer islands for a 10-day vacation. Mary, who works for the Wayne Griffith Travel agency, wlil be traveling with a group of travel agents who will see first hand the places they talk about to their customers.

The Lawrence Geislers, 816 N. Ridge, were at home for Thanksgiving entertaining her mother, Mrs. Ruth Brucks, aunt, Miss Marie Anderson, and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Crawford and their two boys.

Mrs. M. D. Boyd and Linda, 1407 W. Elm, were especially glad to see Mr. Boyd for the holiday. He has been transferred to Atlanta, and gets home spasmodically these days.

There was quite a house full at the J. D. Christensens, 725 N. Patton for Thanksgiving dinner. Included around the table were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Claussen and their children and Mr. and Mrs. Les McCloud, all of Chicago. Ann doesn't let a big dinner like that bother her though, as she has plenty of help from her young daughter, Debbie.

There were at least four Ridge Parkers at the north division of the Jewel Manager's Union annual fall dinner and dance at Weller's Fabulous Elbow room in Niles November 21. Dolores and Joe Morici, 720 N. Patton, were there and so were Doris and Cas Nastal, 701 N. Kennicott. Joe is manager of the Palatine store and Cas is manager of the Mt. Prospect store.

The Werner C. Beckers, 1004 N. Ridge, helped the John Pilgards eat turkey Thanksgiving day. There were several friends and relatives there for the holiday.

Thanksgiving evening found the Adolph Danes, 725 N. Harvard, snacking on turkey, playing cards and listening to the hi-fi with their friends, the Michael De Stafinos of Barrington and the Herbert Foxes.

The bad weather didn't stop Helen and Dick Bulinski, 725 N. Kaspar, who had been invited to the wedding of one of Dick's co-workers at St. Paul of the Cross church, Park Ridge. It did slow them down a bit, however, when they left the church for the reception in Wheaton.

Len Garasha, 809 N. Harvard, timed his operation just right so that he could be home with his family for Thanksgiving. In fact, he did better than that, he even made it to West Chicago to have dinner with his sister and her family, the Dave Fosters. Jean and the boys will enjoy the holidays more, now that Len's operation is over and he is on the mend.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Shriver, 1004 N. Harvard, recently returned from a most enjoyable week at the Americana, Miami Beach, flying down and back on the jet.

The Shrivers' son, Bob, returned Monday to De Pauw university, Greencastle, Ind., after spending the Thanksgiving weekend at home.

FROM SHERWOOD

All the Sherwood folks say the same thing about the college crowd. When they come home for the holidays, they just drop their bags and go look up their friends to swap notes about fraternities, sororities and college life in general. Still the Wilbert W. Pates, 1112 N. Harvard, found that Dwight coming home from Miami university for a long weekend made the holiday complete for them. Dwight, too, was one of those who was on a round of reunions with his friends, which also included several parties.

The Robert Fernstroms, 1219 Watling, set an extra plate at their table this Thanksgiving. Robert, a sophomore at Bradley brought home one of his friends from school—Frank Fernandez, whose home is in San Juan.

While Sheila Robertson came home for the holiday from the College of St. Teresa in Winona, Minn., she was kept mighty busy with a dance and a trip to South Bend for the Notre Dame-Southern California game. Her parents, the John A. Robertsons, 1110 W. Clarendon, are always glad to have her home, though, and are already looking forward to the next holiday vacation.

The Paul Fellinghams, 1145 N. Patton, announce the marriage of their daughter, Carol, to Robert Redeker November 16 in Dubuque. Carol and Bob are now living in Des Plaines. (A

Assessment Lists Out For Maine

New assessments for tax purposes on all real estate in Maine, Leyden, Orland, and Calumet townships will be out in December.

The 1959 quadrennial assessment volumes for these suburban townships will be open for public inspection December 7, 8, and 9 in the third floor County Building office of Assessor P. J. Cullerton.

By law, the assessor's office reviews and places a value on all property for assessment purposes every four years.

THE ASSESSOR gives taxpayers three days in which to determine their new assessments before turning over the real estate volumes to the board of tax appeals. The board accepts complaints from those who feel their new assessments are too high and hearings are held later.

It's up to the property owner to prove his complaint has merit before any reduction is allowed in the asessment.

The period for filing complaints lasts 10 days and is expected to start on December 10 for the townships ,of Maine, Leyden, Orland, and Calumet. (B8

Education

Wear your learning like your watch, in a private pocket; and do not pull it out, and strike it, merely to show that you have one.—Lord Chesterfield.

Q. Is it still considered proper for a man to ask permission to smoke when he is with a group of women who he knows do not smoke?

A. This is still the courteous and thoughtful thing to do.

Knights, Cards To Open League Play

Prospect To Host Glenbrook

Prospect high school starts on the road it hopes will lead to the Interim association basketball title Friday evening.

Coach Dick Kinneman's Knights, fresh from a 55-54 squeaker against St. Charles, will host Howie Helfrich's twice-beaten but still dangerous Spartans.

The varsity encounter will be preceded by the frosh-soph tilt at 6:45 p. m. in the PHS gymnasium.

Friday's clash at Prospect is one of three Interim association games slated for the evening's action with the squads launching the 10-game loop schedule.

In other contests, Willowbrook will travel to Proviso West and East Leyden will host Wheaton.

ALTHOUGH Glenbrook has been decisively beaten in its two varsity encounters, the season is young and Helfrich's Spartans are expected to improve with game experience.

At Prospect

	Prospect (1-0)		Glenbrook (0-2)
6-3	Pomey	F	Slettland	6-3
5-10	Empkie	F	Fabiszak or Peterson	6-0 6-3
6-3	Zadel	C	Holder	6-5
5-9	Lussow	G	Lass	5-10
5-9	Grams	G	Roach	5-9

TIME
Frosh-soph game, 6:45 p.m., Friday.
PLACE
Prospect high school gym.
COACHES
Prospect, Dick Kinneman; Glenbrook, Howie Helfrich.

Highland Park pasted the Glenbrook aggregation, 69-39, and Niles followed that up with a 61-39 victory.

Ron Holder, a 6-5 pivotman, has been the Spartans' top man offensively with a 14.0 average after two games, but Helfrich expects Holder to blossom into a more productive scorer as the season progresses.

JOINING HOLDER in the front line are Greg Slettland, a 6-3 senior letterman, and either Ed Fabiszak or Grant Peterson.

Three boys have been seeing the most action at guards with Dave Lass and Don Roach the two starters. Johnny Elmberg, a 5-8 senior, is the top backcourt reserve.

Helfrich indicated early this week that some inept outside shooting has been the biggest disappointment in the Spartans' two games. The club hasn't been able to connect from around the charity line with only ten baskets finding the mark from any significant distance.

PROSPECT'S Kinneman feels there is a lot of work to be done in the Knights' play if the club is going to rank as a title contender.

"Although our shooting was better than expected for an opener," Kinneman pointed out, "our ball handling was still erratic due to a lack of confidence. We have some mistakes to clear up in our defense and our free throw shooting nas to be more consistent."

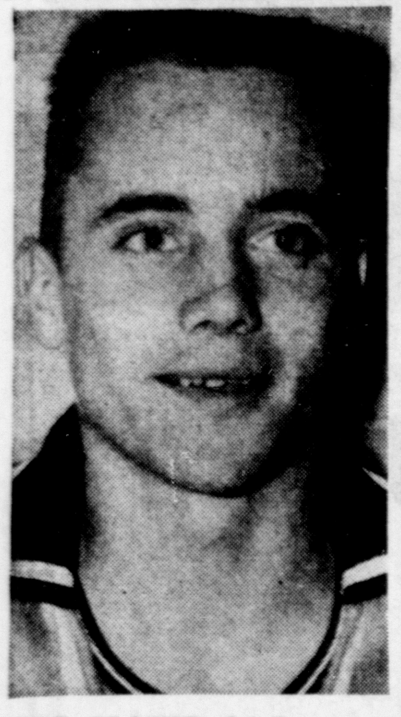
PROSPECT HIT on 20 of 46 from the field in the win over St. Charles but only 15 of 27 from the charity line and only six of 15 gifters in the first half.

Kinneman praised the play of 5-9 guard Keith Grams last Friday and indicated it was "the best game I've seen Keith play."

Dick Palmer, 6-4 forward, dislocated a finger against St. Charles but should be ready for the Glenbrook tilt Friday.



BOB GLASER, 6-1 Prospect high junior, delivered a key basket in the Knights' 55-54 victory over St. Charles last Friday evening.

Wrestling Squads Open With Glenbrook

KICKIN' IT AROUND

By BOB FRISK

IT'S NO SECRET that Glenbard West has been tagged as the team to beat in West Suburban basketball circles this winter.

But what about the other contenders? How does the league stack up this winter? What clubs and what individuals will be grabbing the headlines throughout the 14-game card.

The pre-season dope sheet and appraisal of the clubs from around the loop indicate that the 1959-60 race could develop into one of the most interesting dog-fights among the area conferences.

MARTY RIESSEN

Coach Bob Metcalf's Glenbard Hilltoppers are stocked with veterans—five lettermen to be exact—and the squad has good front-line size, including a talented 6-6 performer in Dennis Hansen.

And the ease with which the Glenbard aggregation breezed through its first two games is indication enough that the Hilltoppers are rough. Metcalf's unit rocked Dundee, 62-42, and followed that up with a 72-54 victory over Bloom of Chicago Heights.

But Glenbard can be beaten and Arlington, Hinsdale, Maine East and York have been designated as the clubs with the best chance to up-end the pre-season title favorites.

Arlington has two of the finest individual performers in the league in Bob Inman and George Bork. Bork is averaging 20.7 after three tilts with Inman at 17.3. But this duo will need some offensive support if the Cards are going to threaten for the crown.

Frank Bohac's Cardinals are averaging 67.6 points per game so have given some backing to the pre-season forecast that they would be one of the conference's highest scoring quintets.

Hinsdale lost some good boys—Dave Brown, Steve Goulding, Bill Haarlow—off the strong 1958-59 outfit but has Marty Riessen, an All-WSC performer as a junior, back as the sparkplug. Riessen is the only returning letterman.

The Red Devils are relying on some of the juniors who paced Hinsdale's frosh-soph outfit last winter to an outstanding campaign. One soph, 6-1 Bob Haarlow, is expected to stay with the varsity with junior Jim Tamalunas the tallest squad member at 6-5.

Hinsdale should improve steadily as the season progresses!

Maine East has only one returning letterman in 6-0 Bud Hamilton, but the Blue Demons shocked Evanston, 56-54, and will be rough in the WSC wars.

Coach Bernie Brady has a fast club and is stressing this speed. As Brady comments, "These boys are excellent shooters and are strong defensively. We aren't as tall as last year, but there's a lot of desire on this club."

Some of the top cagers at Maine East are 6-4½ Don Gebbie, 6-3 Eric Brookens, 6-1 Ed Petrick, 6-2 Bob Habetler, 6-2 John McSwaney, and 5-11 Terry Wasley.

York has three lettermen—6-5 Jim Bolin, 6-3 Jim Long, and 6-6 Bill Wendt—and has been impressive in victories over North Chicago and Morton. Dick Haselton, who guided Rock Falls to second place in the '58 state tourney, is in his first year at the Elmhurst school, and he expects the Dukes to improve on last year's 6-15 over-all slate and 4-10 conference mark.

One returning regular is back at Downers Grove, 6-3 Truman Phillips. The Trojans have better team balance than last year and good speed but lack experience, size, and depth.

Downers' Guy Wellman calls his Trojans "one of the most aggressive teams we've had in years."

LaGrange appears to be having as much trouble in basketball as it had in football but only time will tell how the Lions will fare in the conference. The squad is lacking in height and experience with junior Dick Ruggles the leading scorer.

Riverside-Brookfield doesn't have any returning regulars and only two returning monogram winners in 6-3 Glen Hess ano 5-8 Jerry Kracht. The squad is young and Coach Chuck DeWild just hopes "they'll be eager to learn some basketball!"

A lot can happen over a 14-game schedule but right now Glenbard West has to rate as the team to beat.

Whether or not the Hilltoppers can withstand the cnallenge of Arlington, Maine, Hinsdale, York, et al, remains to be seen.

We'll know more about that Feb. 26 when the firing is over in another WSC basketball campaign!

THIS 'N THAT:

It was disappointing to see some empty seats at Elgin Friday night, especially in view of the fact that Arlington was only allotted 100 tickets for the games . . . The facilities at Elgin are anything but acceptable right now but a new setup is in the offing . . . The University of Illinois Board of Trustees will meet Dec. 16 with the decision on the new coach expected to come out of that meeting . . . Pre-season collegiate basketball ratings list Cincinnati, Kentucky, North Carolina, St. Joseph's, and West Virginia as the top five clubs in the country . . . They're experimenting with three officials in a semi-pro basketball league and this could possibly lead to adoption by the Illinois High School Assn. . . . Two officials work either side when the ball is brought down the floor and the third man will work the back court .

One of Arlington's All-Staters, halfback Mike Dundy, will have a big weekend in Champaign. The only Cardinal honored on the News-Gazette squad, Dundy will attend the All-State luncheon on Saturday at the Hotel Tilden Hall where he will be informally honored and introduced with the other All-Staters.

Following the luncheon, there will be the freshman-varsity basketball game at Huff Gymnasium with a banquet at the Urbana-Lincoln Motor Inn. Each All-Stater will receive his All-State certificate at the banquet and miniature laminated certificates and then David D. Henry, president of Illinois, and Illini coach Ray Eliot will deliver short talks.

Dundy, Arlington's head grid coach "Bus" Ormsbee, and their sponsor will gather at the Urbana-Lincoln Motor Inn Sunday morning for the All-State breakfast, terminating the festivities.

It'll be a big weekend for Mike and one he definitely deserves!

Prospect To Battle Two Foes

"The toughest pair of openers since I've been coaching wrestling."

That's the way Prospect high's Dick Mudge looks at the forthcoming mat battles with Glenbrook and Niles.

The Knights' varsity and frosh-soph grapplers will open their campaign Friday with a 7 p.m. affair at Glenbrook, then the varsity will matriculate to Niles Saturday for a 2 p.m. match.

Hal Henson's frosh and frosh-soph matmen will test Glenbard East Saturday at 9:30 a.m.

GLENBROOK AND Niles fashioned impressive wins over Maine East and Palatine in mat contests last week, and Mudge is aware of the two victors' capabilities.

Last year Arlington topped Glenbrook, 25-17, but graduation and the split in schools took all but three of the boys from the lineup Mudge started in that '58 battle with Walt Sherman's Spartans.

In addition, Mudge has three key grapplers out with injuries. Mike Hogarty, 165-pounder, is progressing after an injury but won't be ready for the weekend matches.

LETTERMAN BOB Trausch has a bad knee and is expected to be out for six weeks. Trausch had a 20-2 mark last year and would have been working in either the 112 or 120 pound classes this winter. Don Buick recently injured his back and will be out for the season.

As of Tuesday morning, Mudge hadn't conducted any elimination bouts so the definite lineup for the mat opener was unknown.

Prospect's tentative varsity alignment includes Del Blakely at 95, Tom Krause at 103, Joe Ortiz at 112, Jim Liska, Brad Blair or Al Gehrke at 120, Doug Vaughan at 127, Rog Owen or Bob Laden at 133, Ken Pieper or Ed Pederson at 138, Nick Abbinanti or a boy from the frosh-soph unit at 145, Mike Field at 154, Ron Christensen or Dick Zell at 165, Jim Peters or Bob Wemheuer at 180, and Darryl Phillips or Jim Minikel at heavyweight.

Krause, Ortiz, and Phillips all competed against Glenbrook in the first match last year while participating for Arlington high. Krause won a 3-2 decision at 95, Ortiz pinned his 103 opponent, and Phillips dropped a 2-0 heavyweight decision to the eventual state runnerup.

Correction

The blue schedule cards for Prospect high's winter sports seasons should be corrected under varsity and frosh-soph wrestling. The asterisk does not refer to frosh-soph meets only as indicated but does designate Interim association contests. The two meets with Glenbard East, however, will be just frosh and frosh-soph.

Arlington Opens Gymnastics Slate

The defending state champions are ready for action!

Following over two months of pre-season workouts, Coach Gay Hughes' Arlington gymnasts will launch the 1959-60 campaign today (Thursday) in a triangular meet with East Leyden and Maine West at Maine.

In addition to the varsity test, the frosh-sophs, under Coach Mike Karon, will also open their schedule. Karon, former gymnastics captain at the University of Illinois, is in his first year at Arlington.

State champions last season stocked with some impressive talent this year, Hughes' varsity unit is a definite favorite for today's opener.

THE VETERAN Arlington mentor will be without the services of Tom Geocaris who is sidelined with "strep" throat, but Hughes isn't faced with the lack of depth that has plagued him in recent campaigns.

Hughes has listed his varsity lineup for today's meet with Gary Erwin, Bill Flood, and Bob Cordaro on the trampoline. Cordaro is the only soph currently on the varsity squad.

DICK WETZEL, Larry Bousseau, and either Ron East or Dick Anderson will be on the side horse with Don Ballou, Bruce MacCullum, and Arnie Harvey on the horizontal bar.

State champ Harvey will head his specialty, the parallel bar, with Ballou and either Bob Russell or Mike Nelson rounding out the event for Arlington. Nelson, Russell, and Harvey will handle the rings.

Bill Sayre, Anderson, and Cordaro will be Hughes' three entrants in tumbling.

IN THE frosh-soph meet, Karon will have Ken Lyons, Eric Vittinghoff, and Pete Engle on the trampoline with Bill Berg, Jerry Russell, and Bob Paddock on the side horse.

Russell, the most versatile performer on the frosh-soph squad, will head the horizontal bar entries with Len Witter and either Bill Poole or Don Schanmier also competing.

Russell heads up both the parallel bar and rings squads with Len Witter, Bill Sauerman or Dave Wollerman joining him on the former and Witter and Schanmier on the latter.

Engle, Dick Lonergan, and either Lyons or Rog Lindstrom will compete in tumbling.

Prospect Gymnasts To Open Dec. 11

Prospect high school's varsity and frosh-soph gymnastics squads will open their 1959-60 campaign Fri., Dec. 11, with a home meet against Proviso West. A complete rundown of the lineups for Rick Farris' varsity and Jack Murray's frosh-sophs will be included in the Dec. 10 sports section.

Cardinals In Opener Saturday

One freshman, two sophomores, one junior, and eight seniors will be in the opening alignment Saturday afternoon when Arlington's varsity wrestlers launch their 1959-60 mat campaign against Glenbrook.

The first AHS wrestling affair of the season is slated for the Arlington gym at 2 p.m. Saturday. Julius Flieher's frosh-sophs will also kick off their mat campaign Saturday.

Bob Emmons is handling the Arlington varsity and is in his first year as head coach of the Cardinal grapplers.

EMMONS doesn't have any lettermen at Arlington this year, but the new mentor is "satisfied" with the progress of the squad and the way with which the boys have taken to a new style introduced at the school.

Glenbrook provides a formidable opening opponent as Walt Sherman's Spartans are a highly-regarded outfit this winter. Glenbrook will test Prospect Friday and has already beaten Maine East.

Emmons listed his probable competitors for Saturday's battle with plebe Denny Fitz-Patrick the only first year boy in the varsity lineup. Fitz-Patrick will handle the 95 pound weight class.

Lind and Anderson are both sophs with Edelblute the lone junior in the lineup.

Other boys who have shown promise and are pushing for positions are George Dilley (165), Shane Gorman (145), Bill Klouthis (133), Mike Koenig (138), Bob Owen (180 or heavyweight), Jim Sikorski (145), and Garner Simmons (165).

Following the opener with Glenbrook, Arlington will face Fenton and Palatine before moving into the conference tests Dec. 18 against York.

Arlington, LaGrange Battle

by BOB FRISK

The preliminaries are over.

Arlington starts playing for the conference record Friday evening.

Coach Frank Bohac's Cards will hook up with LaGrange in one of a quartet of West Suburban basketball openers.

In the other WSC lidlifters, Maine will travel to Hinsdale, Riverside will tackle host Downers Grove, and Glenbard West will battle York.

Saturday evening Arlington will matriculate to Northbrook for a non-league affair with Glenbrook's Spartans.

Both varsity affairs for the Cards will be preceded by frosh-soph games at 7 p.m.

FRIDAY'S LOOP battle between Arlington and LaGrange will pit two clubs which have had some trouble breaking into the win column this season. Arlington is 1-2 for the campaign with a win over Palatine and losses to Evanston and Elgin. LaGrange has dropped a pair to Morton and Oak Park.

At Arlington

	Arlington (1-2)		LaGrange (0-2)

But Bohac's Cards have flashed an impressive offensive attack, twice eclipsing 70 points.

Only a cold second quarter kept Arlington from approaching or topping that 70-point figure at Elgin. The Cards were outscored 22-5 in the second stanza but still wound up with 56 points.

BOB INMAN and George Bork have been the offensive leaders in the first three games, accounting for 114 of the club's 201 points. Bork has netted 62 for a 20.7 average.

Bohac plans some lineup changes for the LaGrange tilt with Bork moving to a forward berth opposite Inman. Either Dan Striegel or Rick Johnston will get the nod at center with Gene Dahlquist and Carl Massa sharing the guard slots.

Massa turned in an outstanding performance against Palatine with 14 points in a reserve role, but the senior tapered off against Elgin. Bohac hopes the 6-1 guard will

Dundy, Striegel Cited

Two All-Staters at AHS!

Arlington high school has two All-Staters!

Halfback Mike Dundy and tackle Dan Striegel were named to All-State football aggregations last week, and three other area gridders gained special mention on the post-season honor teams.

Dundy, a hard-running 167-pound halfback, scored ten touchdowns and picked up 819 total yards on offense this fall. He led the squad in scoring, rushing, and was second in pass receiving with 21 receptions for 270 yards.

Striegel was an iron-man in the Arlington lineup, playing all but the final eight seconds of the season. A 6-3, 220 pounder, Striegel also ranked as one of the top extra point kickers in the West Suburban.

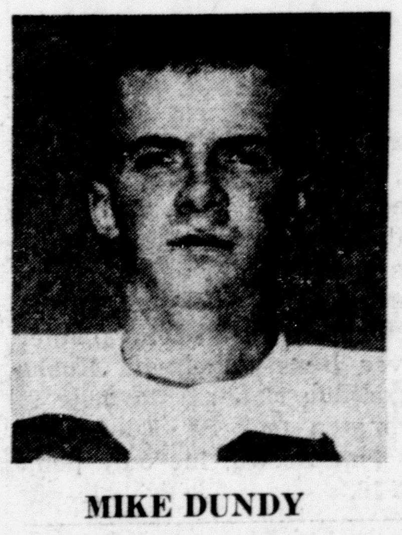
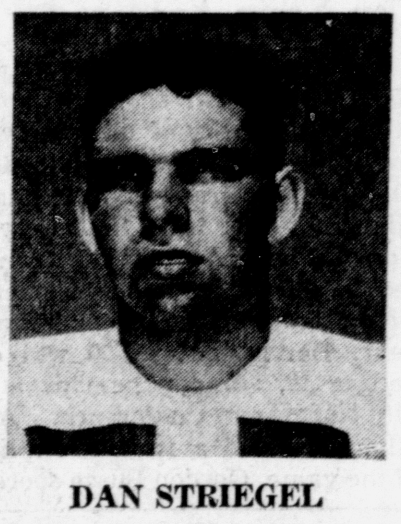
TWO ARLINGTON products and one Prospect athlete earned the special mention honors. Cited from Arlington were quarterback George Bork and guard Roy Klehm. Jeff Rogers, Prospect's 190-pound junior guard, also received special mention.

Bork was a near-miss in the quarterback battle on the Champaign News-Gazette All-State squad. He was one of the finest passers in the state, according to the selector's appraisal, but he gave way because of the versatility of the three boys chosen.



MIKE DUNDY



DAN STRIEGEL

Both Dundy and Striegel were hard-workers at Arlington this fall, easy to coach, and well-liked by their teammates.

AS HEAD coach "Bus" Ormsbee commented, "Both boys will certainly be outstanding representatives of the school and the community at whatever colleges they select."

Two other West Suburban conference competitors picked off berths on the All-State teams, Maine's Doug Schmidt and Riverside's John Holland. The selector had this to say about Schmidt: "He was an excellent all-around performer. His pass receiving statistics weren't that impressive but Maine didn't throw much. But he was an important cog in one of the finest defenses in the state and an excellent blocker.

Holland was a two-time All-WSC tackle and is rated by R-B's Jim Perkins as one of the finest competitors he has ever coached.

DUNDY WILL be feted at a banquet for the Champaign News-Gazette All-Staters Saturday, Dec. 5. Although Striegel was not named to the Gazette's honor team, he did receive special mention on that squad.

Arlington and Prospect were represented in the honorable mention list by the following boys: Gene Dahlquist (Arlington), Keith Voigt (Prospect), Fred Lussow (Prospect), and Bill Zadel (Prospect). Only Dahlquist will graduate in June.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

ON THE BASIS of two non-conference and one league game, Barrington and Crystal Lake loom among the best in the suburban area as well as the North Suburban Conference. Barrington lost a one pointer to powerful Hinsdale, defeated Waukegan by seven points, and outpointed Crystal Lake by eight points. Crystal Lake beat Maine by one who in turn defeated Evanston. The Tigers lost to East Rockford by two points and dropped the league opener to Barrington.

Last year in mid season Crystal Lake moved three sophomores to the first team and immediately had a winner. Later the sophs won the Belvidere invitational frosh-soph tournament. This feat in the majority of cases has been a good indication that the group will go to the state tournament two years later as seniors. This has happened over and over in the case of Freeport, East and West Rockford, Elgin, and West Aurora. This would make the 1960-61 season the magic one for Crystal Lake. This year they will concentrate on trying to keep Barrington from winning the North Suburban.

Run Into 4 Rough Opponents

PALATINE'S IMPROVING cagers got a bad break in the opponents listed for them in the first weeks of the North Suburban campaign. The first 4 games are with Zion, Barrington, Crystal Lake, and Dundee. These are rated the four best in the league. This weekend Palatine takes on the co-favorites in Barrington on the road Friday and Crystal Lake at home Saturday. Barrington has a string going of 17 straight over Palatine and there is little indication of a break. Last year Palatine's winless five led Barrington until the final four minutes, losing by only 70-65 on free throws. Back in the late thirties and early forties Palatine won 12 in a row from the Bronchos but that was before the coaching talents of Les Harmon, Harold Gaffney, and the present caoch, Bob Madding, came on the scene.

Coach Dick Kolze of Palatine appears to have found three regulars out of his big squad. These boys with real hustle and desire to win are Ron Angerer at guard, Soph John Seehousen at forward, and Bob Schneble at center. Who are the other two needed to give Palatine a team of hustlers? Time will only tell. Every boy has been given ample opportunity to prove his worth in competition. The primary prerequisite is competitive spirit. Some have it and several do not. Others do not like basketball well enough to give it their all. The process of elimination goes on but a good team is shaping up earlier than we had expected.

Possibly at Couple League Records

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE North Suburban openers include 33 points scored by John Nelson of Zion in the Palatine game, including 17 of 19 free throws which may be a record. Also, the 61 points tallied by Crystal Lake and Barrington in the last eight minutes of their set too, may likely be a record for one quarter of a game. Locally, we saw a sophomore, John Seehausen, play the best scoring and rebounding game by a second year student in the last 20 years. You have to go back to the 1938-39 season at Palatine, when a winning varsity had four soph regulars, to find an equal to Seehausen's performance. That would be Bob Hollinger who, with Chuck Snyder, won a varsity letter as a freshman on a district tourney winner, and as a soph was one of the best players in the area.

Palatine high wrestling fans and students will have a chance to see a lot of good wrestling competition in view of the fact that, in addition to the annual holiday tournament scheduled for December 18 and 19, Palatine will host the state district meet on February 11 and 13. At the eight-team invitational later this month the teams competing will be Barrington, Crystal Lake, and Libertyville of the North Suburban, West Aurora of the Big Eight, North Chicago of the Tri-County, Naperville of the Little Seven, and DeKalb of the North Central League. DeKalb was the winner last year. North Chicago is rated the favorite this year. Palatine will be very much in the running.

Beloit College has the best basketball prospects since the years when Dolph Stanley got the school banned from the Mid West Conference for going big time in the cage sport. Three lettermen from the Chicago suburbs who figure prominently in Beloit's plays in the Mid West are Jared Dornburg of Naperville, Dennis Hodge of Grant high at Fox Lake, and Bill Biederman, former Glenbard star.

Twenty Years Ago

PALATINE WHIPPED Downers Grove, 39-26, with a full court press defense and even scoring as Hollinger had 13, Hahnfeldt and Snyder 9, Fink 8. Niles beat Arlington 47-26 with Williams getting 16 and Boyk 12. Bensenville took Ela 35-33 in an overtime. Leuderman of the Bisons got 13 and G. Knigge of Ela 12. Palatine's team, all under 6 feet, lost to the alumni averaging 6'2", by 18-16 in the homecoming game. Alumni players were Bud Nangle, Cliff Haemker, Chuck Buenzow, John O'Brien, Russ Golden, Bob Kraft, Harlow Smith, and Bob Stewart. Palatine is favored to win the Northwest championship but Wauconda and Barrington will push them.

Ten Years Ago

PALATINE HIT ONLY 15 per cent, but beat Northbrook, 37-33, with Klein scoring 15. Geneva nosed out Arlington, 44-43, as Busse had 12 and Evans 11 for the Cards. Grever got 11 as Ela edged Bensenville, 37-35. The Bisons had a 33-22 win over Grant and Palatine took Antioch by 55-29. Realignment talk is in the air with a possible Northwest and North Suburban shuffle of teams plus bids of McHenry, Marengo, and others to be considered. T. R. Birkhead of Antioch will study the situation and action is expected in another year. Barrington's 54-20 win over Bensenville with Roake getting 19, stamps them as a possible runaway favorite in the Northwest Conference. Arlington took St. Edward of Elgin 34-33 on a free throw by Jim Brown, his only point of the game. Gordon Busse scored 16.

Arlington Gains Cage Split

2nd Period Lapse Fatal At Elgin

by BOB FRISK

Take away that second quarter and Arlington battled Elgin on even terms last Friday evening.

Without those disastrous eight minutes, Frank Bohac's Cardinals compiled as many points as Bill Chesbrough's host Maroons - 51.

But when the final count was in, that second period - unfortunately for the Cards- was included, and Elgin had recorded a 73-56 victory in the friendly confines of its own floor.

ELGIN'S VICTORY came in its opening game of the 1959-60 campaign while the loss was the second for Arlington in three hardwood affairs.

Arlington's dry spell in the second quarter came at the wrong time as the Maroons pecked away for 22 points, their highest output in any of the four eight minute periods.

Baskets by Mel Von Bergen and George Bork and a free throw by Gene Dahlquist accounted for the visitors' entire output in the second period while seven Maroons counted in setting the margin at 22-5.

THE SHARPSHOOTING of Arlington's two offensive standouts, Bob Inman and Bork, accounted for 14 of the Cards' 17 points in the initial quarter with both seniors tallying on three baskets and a free throw.

Elgin got off to a fast start with a 21 point production in the first eight minutes of play, then added that 22 point second period George Clark, a 7-0 pivotman, went to work in the final two periods and rimmed 17 points, concluding his evening's efforts with 27.

Bork and Inman led the Arlington offensive attack in the final half with an aggregate 20 points, 12 by Bork and eight by Inman.

Bork netted 21 points to finish behind Elgin's Clark for scoring honors. The Maroons' Rog Lenart added 17 and Inman chipped in with 15 for Arlington.

Arlington

(Cont. from preceding pg.) pick up where he left off in the 75-54 victory over the Pirates.

ONE ARLINGTON reserve guard Mike Dundy, has dropped off the squad in order to concentrate on indoor track. Dundy was one of the state's top half-milers last spring.

LaGrange will put a rugged quintet on the floor Friday although Les Glick's Lions don't have exceptional height. But the visitor's front-line will average around 185 in weight.

In the backcourt, Glick has a pair of capable scorers Hooper. Hooper netted 18 in a 48-44 loss to Morton and Ruggles collected 14 in last week's 55-35 defeat to Oak Park.

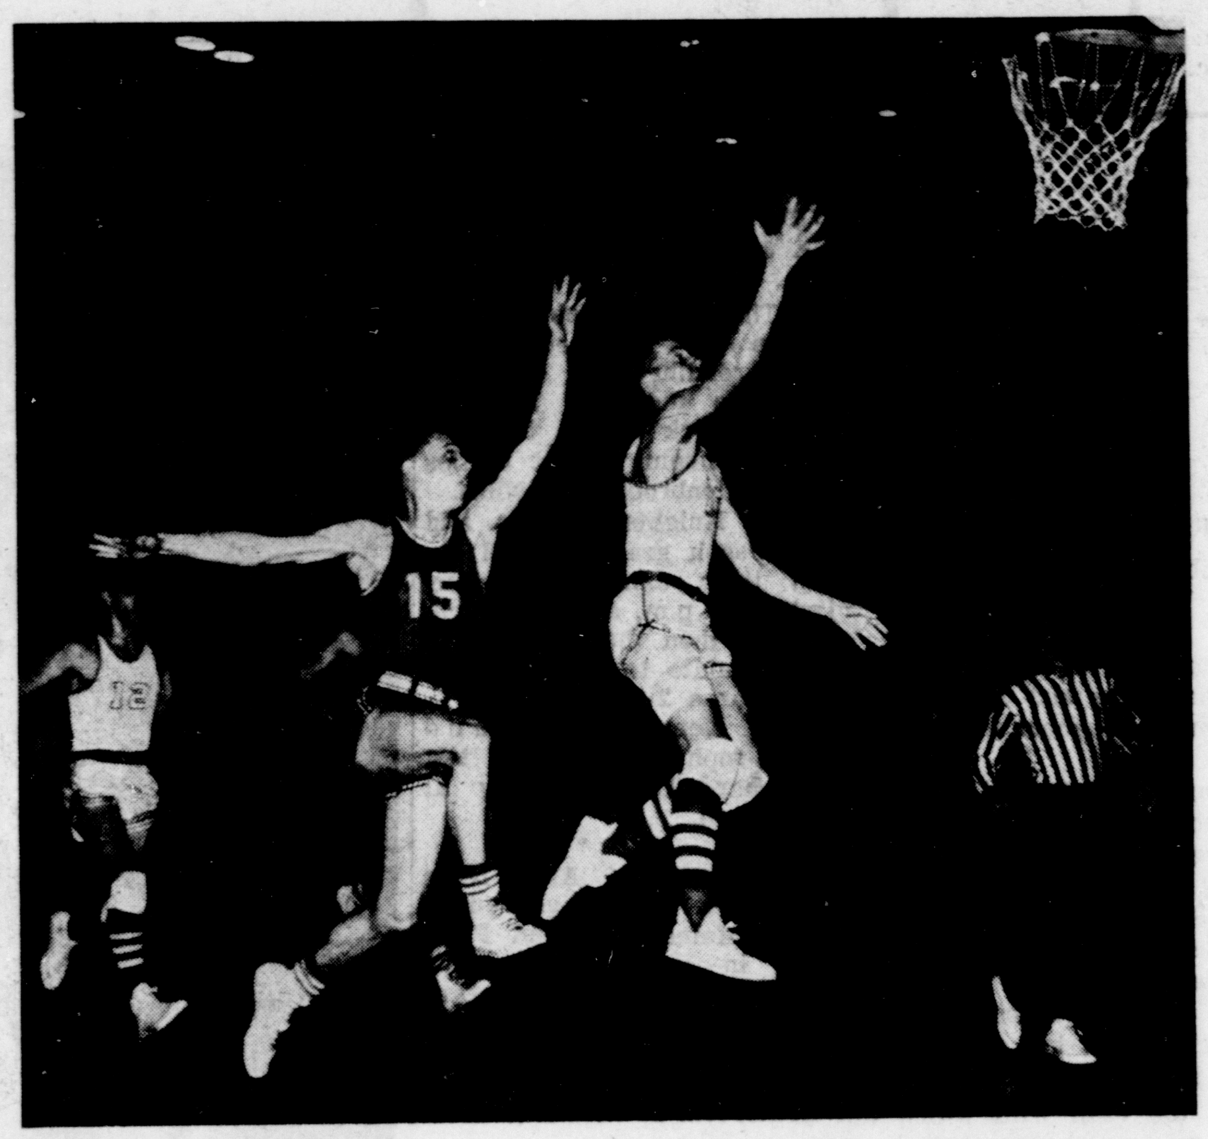
SATURDAY Arlington will face a club which has dropped its first two games but which is expected to rebound as the season progresses. Glenbrook's Howie Helfrich has two lettermen back in 6-3 Greg Slettland and 6-5 Ron Holder with Holder the club's top scorer.

Glenbrook fell to Niles, 61 39, and Highland Park, 69-39, in its varsity openers with the frosh-sophs bowing 39-36 and 46-40.

The Spartans will meet Prospect high Friday evening.



ARLINGTON PULLED out to a 32-17 lead after Gene Dahlquist dropped in this basket in "Sleigh Bells" action Thanksgiving Eve. Ron Angerer (15) of Palatine and Carl Massa (12) of Arlington both trail Dahlquist. The Cards won the prestige battle, 75-54.

Cardinals Hit .516 In Dumping Pirates

by BOB FRISK

Pouring in 47 points in a torrid second and third quarter offensive display and hitting. 516 from the field for the evening, Arlington's hot-shooting Cardinals ran over Palatine in the Thanksgiving Eve prestige battle, 75-54.

Over 4,000 fans watched Frank Bohac's host Cards move off to a 36-22 halftime advantage and increase the margin to 60-30 before the substitutes took over for the final minutes of the Nov. 25 basketball headliner.

The victory gave Arlington a 30-19 edge in the series and the coveted "Sleigh Bells" trophy.

Palatine was handcuffed from the floor with only 12 of 45 shots finding the mark, but the Pirates experienced amazing success at the charity line. Coach Dick Kolze's aggregation connected on 30 of 38 free throws with guard Ron Angerer tallying 13 of 15 and adding two baskets for 17 points.

ARLINGTON'S two senior standouts, Bob Inman and George Bork, paced the winner's scoring with 22 and 15 points respectively, Inman hitting 10 of 14 from the field in three quarters of action.

But a 6-1 reserve guard put the spark in the Cards with an impressive offensive performance. Senior Carl Massa counted on seven of nine shots for 14 points, hitting six straight over one stretch.

Arlington fired up 62 shots and connected on 32 for a .516 mark while Palatine's 12 for 45 was good for only a .267 standard.

A SLOW first period was backed by an explosive second stanza with the two clubs combining for 39 points, 23 by the host Cardinals.

Arlington picked up right where it left off in the third quarter with 24 points in the eight minutes following the intermission. A lineup of Rick Johnston ,Gene Dahlquist, Bork, Inman, and Massa combined for ten straight points before Palatine could counter from the free throw line.

A wild fourth period saw 13 of the 29 points accounted for via the free throw route, Palatine collecting 12 of them.

PALATINE had another boy join Angerer in the double figures with Bernie Seitz netting three baskets and four free throws for ten markers.

Arlington led by as much as 31 points in the second half, but the Pirates' expert marksmanship at the free throw line whittled the margin down to the game-ending 75-54 count.

Knights Top St. Charles, 55-54

Prospect Rallies In Final Period

by TOM McSHANE

A determined band of Prospect high school juniors fought its way back to a 55-54 win over St. Charles in the schools' first varsity basketball game Friday night.

Down by eight points with 5:48 left in the game, Coach Dick Kinneman's Knights staged a thrilling, ball-hawking rally in the closing minutes to edge the taller Fighting Saints.

Reserve Forward Bob Glaser put Prospect ahead to stay on a 15-foot push shot with 1:17 remaining after Guard Keith Grams had brought the Knights within one point with two neat baskets.

Glaser's shot made it 52-51 Prospect. Eighteen seconds later George Pomey put it on ice with his 13th and 14th points of the night.

The Knights actually stole the game away from the Fighting Saints in the wild final period. Led by Grams, who countered seven of his team's final 16 points, and guards Freddie Lussow and Fred Empkie, the Prospect quintet scrapped and scrambled for the ball, upsetting the famed St. Charles' stall that actually shut out Batavia last year, 3-0.

THE FIGHTING Saints started the fourth quarter with the big freeze. Riding a seven point lead, the Kane county quintet stalled away two minutes and 12 seconds of the period before its big center, 6-7 Jack Brens, drew a foul and converted the free throw to make it 49-41.

Coming back down the floor after the free throw the Knights lost the ball and the freeze was on again. This time it lasted only 32 seconds, ending when Pomey and Brens tangled to mid-court, with the St. Charles big boy getting the short end and his fifth foul of the night.

Pomey sank his two free throws and the race was on.

The loss of the big man hurt the Fighting Saints considerably. With its backboard edge gone, the Little Seven conference team had to play the Knights' game the rest of the way.

POMEY CLOSED the gap again with a 10-foot jump shot with 4:58 left.

The next minute looked like a football game, and ended when the Knights all-conference quarterback Lussow fouled out on a charging call. Forward Elmer Anderson sank one free throw to make it 50-45 St. Charles.

Seconds later Empkie blocked an easy fast break layup by Guard Mike Slatinsky, and then drew a foul and converted two free throws to bring Prospect within three points at 50-47.

WORKING A tight full court press after the free throws, the Knights prevented the Fighting Saints from taking the ball out in the alloted 10 seconds, and took over under their own basket.

A fancy pass from Pomey to Grams under the basket made it 50-49 St. Charles. Grams was fouled on the throw that would have tied it up.

A few seconds later Pomey fouled Forward Bob Knott and Prospect again was down by three.

BUT GRAMS was up to the occasion. The little guard arched a beautiful 15-foot jump shot from the right sidecourt through the nets to make it 52-51 and set the stage for Glaser's lead-producing basket.

Grams led the Knights in scoring with 15 points for the evening. Pomey followed with 14, and Lussow ranked third with nine.

Brens was high man for the game with 17. Slotinsky had 14 and Sophomore Ken Gustafson 10 for the losers.

St. Charles led at halftime 33-26.

The Knights' next game will be their Interim association conference opener with Glenbrook tomorrow night in the Foundry rd. gym. The frosh-soph contest will start at 6:45 p.m.

Hill Eclipses Keane's Pass Receiving Mark

An Arlington Heights resident saw his Chicago Bears' pass receiving record broken Sunday in Soldier Field.

Jim Keane, a former National Football League standout with the Bears now living in Arlington, was in the stands as Harlon Hill caught five passes to establish a new pass receiving record.

Hill now has 208 receptions since he joined the Bears, two more than Keane compiled in six seasons from 1946 through 1951.

Cash Prizes Listed For Paddock Tourney

First prize money in the Paddock bowling tournament will run to about $195 for the men and $109.50 for the women.

That was learned this week as final details of the approaching Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournaments were consumated.

First place teams of 8 men's leagues, and leaders of 50 women's loops are expected to compete in the ninth annual tourneys sponsored by the sports department of the papers.

FULL ENTRY of 88 teams in the men's tournament at Beverly Lanes Jan. 9 and 10 will mean a gross prize fund of $660. Cash breakdown will mean first place money of $195, second $130, third $97.50, fourth $65, fifth $52, sixth $39, seventh $32.50, eighth $26 and ninth $13. There'll also be a $10 award for high team game out of the money.

For the ladies at Gunnell's Jan. 17, with an expected 50 leagues represented, cash prizes will be first $109.50, second $73, third $54.75, fourth $36.50, fifth $29.20, sixth $21.90, seventh $18.25, eighth $14,60 and ninth $7.30.

There'll also be a $10 award for high team game out of the money.

FIVE TROPHIES will also be given to the top keglers in each tourney, plus the large traveling trophies to the sponsors. These awards travel from winner to winner each year, with permanent plaques given winning sponsors when they give up the trophies a year later.

First place teams of all local men's leagues as of Dec. 19 will be eligible for the big event at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights Jan. 9 and 10. First place teams of all local women's leagues as of Dec. 26 will be eligible for the ladies tournament Jan. 17 at Gunnell's Lanes.

No mixed leagues can enter the tournament, nor can leagues competing from any houses outside of the "local area" served by Paddock Publications unless they can prove more than 50 per cent "local addresses" to sports promoter Bob Paddock.

Prospect Sophs Bow In Opener

Coach Ted Wissen's freshman-studded Prospect frosh-soph basketball team took it on the chin in its season opener Friday night.

The little Knights, suffering from opening-night jitters, lost to a good St. Charles quintet, 57-47.

After a shaky start which found them down by 11 points at the end of the first quarter, the Prospect youngsters settled down and bounced back to play the Fighting Saints even the rest of the way, but the deficit was too much to overcome.

WISSEN OPENED the game with freshmen Dennis Mitchell, Jim Hogarty, and George Gaiser in his lineup, along with sophs Tommy Thomas and Mike Francek.

The Knights took a 1-0 lead on Francek's free throw in the opening minute, but quickly fell behind to stay as Guards Hal DeWitte and Center Tom Peich split the nets for eight and six first period points respectively for the Kane county team.

St. Charles led at halftime 28-18.

THE ONE saving grace for Wissen and his team were the showings of Thomas and Mitchell.

Thomas, brought down last week from the varsity to add scoring punch to Wissen's five, lived up to expectations with a 21 point barrage, 11 of which came in the final period.

Mitchell countered 13 in his first high school ball game. He got nine in the final quarter.

The little Knights will see action again tomorrow night on their home court when they open their conference season against Glenbrook.

Frosh Spark 51-29 Win Over Palatine

A trio of freshmen proved to be the backbone of Arlington's sophomore basketball team Thanksgiving Eve in a 51-29 victory over Palatine.

When Coach Ken Schaller put the trio together at the start of the last half of the November 25 game, Palatine came within five points. Then Arlington, behind Gary Brodnan, Chuck Close and Phil O'Connell put on the fast break.

At the three quarter mark the young Cards had stretched their 27-19 halftime lead to 42-24. With 5:30 to go in the final period and Arlington ahead, 46-25, Schaller inserted the reserves.

ALL TOLD, the three plebes scored 28 of the Cards' 51 points. Close got four field goals and added four free throws for 12 points. Brodnan, a nifty shooter and dribbler, caged five baskets and a charity toss for 11 points. O'Connell had only five points but his 6-5 frame made a big difference on rebounding.

Palatine had only one man in the ball game, Andy Merutka. He wound up the night tying Close as the game's high scorer. Merutka, Palatine's lone consistent rebounder, had three baskets and six free throws and would have had more had he been able to hit at the free throw line.

Behind 27-19 at halftime, Palatine drew within five points mainly on the strength of Merutka's rebounding and his ability to draw fouls. Then Arlington put on its winning drive behind two third period baskets and a free throw by Brodnan and Close's field goal and three gifters.

PALATINE'S only highlight during the third period was two 15-foot baskets by Guard John Roberts, who saw his first action since suffering a broken ankle in football in September.

Palatine opened the game by pressing the Cards but it didn't make as much difference as did the Pirates' inability to move the ball. Brodnan and Ross Retterer each whipped in two baskets and John Burgermeister netted a field goal and a pair of gifters as Arlington broke to a 16-7 lead, helped by the Cards' strength under the offensive boards.

Merutka, who scored five first period points, netted two baskets and the same number of charity tosses to help offset closes three baskets. The Pirates' defense became completely fouled up in the quarter and Arlington didn't waste any time in taking advantage of it to move to a nine-point halftime lead.

Dons' Sophs Split in Two Cage Contests

After an opening loss to Grant, the Notre Dame sophomore basketball team took a decisive victory over Ela-Vernon, to even up their season's record at 1-1. Friday afternoon they will try to break into the winning column against Taft of Chicago.

The sophomore hoopsters trailed all the way to a 35-27 loss at the hands of Grant. Pete Chepulis had ten points for the Dons.

At home, Saturday night, the sophs turned the tables and led Ela-Vernon all the way to a 41-33 victory. Jerry Broderick of Rolling Meadows and Pat Kelly of Arlington Heights teamed up in the forward spots to pace the Dons to their first victory. Broderick scored ten points, Kelly six.

Friday's Score by Quarters:

Prospect JVs Fall, 41-36

A fourth quarter rally fell five points short Tuesday afternoon as Prospect high school's junior-varsity basketball team fell to Maine West, 41-36.

Coach Bob Hoese's Knights only trailed by three points at the intermission, but the visitors erupted in the third stanza to pull away before PHS put on a mild fourth quarter rally.

Bob Glaser rimmed eight points to emerge as Prospect's top scorer with Mark Thorne and Rich Bachhuber tallying seven and six respectively. Schriver paced the victors with 16 points.

Hoese started a unit of Glaser, Bachhuber, Gordon, Buchanan, Tom Polzin, and Al Gehrke.

Prospect will travel to Glenbrook Saturday for a 9:30 a.m. affair.

Junior Equestrian Teams Slated Here

Two junior equestrian teams are being organized in the northwest suburbs at Idle Hour Stables, 8600 Higgins rd., Park Ridge.

The teams are designed to promote the interest of junior horsemen in international and olympic type of equestrian competition and to familiarize them with the rules and regulations of the F.E.I. Teams will compete throughout the season in a continuing series of designated trials.

Homer Adcock, instructor at Idle Hour, will coach the two area teams.

Team members shall not be less than 12 years of age and not more than 21 years of age. A team member who shall reach his or her 21st birthday after January 1 shall be considered as eligible for that year. There is no restriction as to sex. Team members shall be amateurs under F.E.I. rules.

There are still a few openings available at Idle Hour. Interested persons, who must have their own horses, should contact Adcock at TAlcott 3-0100.

JUST DOGS

Christmas Market

There have been many figures put forth regarding Christmas sales this year and among them is one put at $40,000,000. This represents what one research group has come up with from the standpoint of what the public will spend for puppies and accompanying accessories as well as for holiday gifts for dogs already in homes throughout the country.

Americans will purchase, perhaps, around 750,000 puppies, and with the majority in the pure-bred class it is understandable that sales figures should reach an all time high.

If you are going to be involved in the purchase of a new pup, do it now. Figure out what will be best from the standpoint of size, what color, will the dog be used as a companion to the youngsters, a watchdog, or perhaps dad wants to get one for hunting only. Whatever the answers are, get out and do it now. Don't wait until the last minute before making your selection. And, above all, bring the pup home a few days before Christmas so that he can get used to his new surroundings.

It takes the puppy awhile to get used to strange people and a new location. Feed him as per instructions given by the seller, and don't try to change the diet or you may have a few problems spread out around the house which the clean-up detail will have to take over. After the pup has settled down to his new home you will have all the time in the world to make changes in the diet.

One other little tip. Do not give him a bath until he gets a little older. Use one of the prepared "dry cleaning" products along with a good brush to keep him looking good. Wait for warm weather before you attempt to get him soaked in the bath tub. More than one pup has died from getting in a draft and catching cold after a winter bath. Veterinarians and kennel folks with special drying equipment can do the job, but even they sometimes don't care to.

Famous Collie Book

The 40th anniversary of Albert Payson Terhune's outstanding book, "Lad, a Dog," is being marked this year with the publication of a special edition by E. P. Dutton & Company.

A moving and dramatic tale of a Collie, the book has been rated as the best-loved dog story of all times. Highly in demand, it has been reprinted more than 70 times.

The new edition carries striking illustrations designed to appeal to dog lovers regardless of breed favoritism. The publisher has high hopes for wide distribution among young people, who would thus enjoy a work that was a favorite with their parents years ago.

Barks & Bays

In these days of ours with the headlines bringing up the subject of this law and that law, plus everything that goes with it, and also the changes that should be made in this and that procedure, it would seem that we are not alone in bringing things up to date. Among existing British laws dating back to the middle ages, the penalty for stealing a dog is heavier, a year and half in the local jail, than for attacking a neighbor, under certain conditions — one year.

Notre Dame Dons Top Grant, Ela In Cage Action

by DAVE SCHLAVER

Notre Dame's varsity basketball team will try for its third straight win Friday afternoon at Taft high school in Chicago. The Dons had a successful Thanksgiving week-end, beating Grant and Ela-Vernon respectively.

Last Friday night, the Dons traveled to Fox Lake and came out on the better end of a close, 43-38 score. Although Notre Dame trailed 25-21 at halftime, they picked up in the third quarter, outscoring Grant, 13-5. Bob Hammarley, guard from Mt. Prospect, led the Dons in scoring with 14 points.

Saturday, at the home opener with Ela-Vernon of Lake Zurich, Notre Dame won an even closer 70-68 victory. John Schramm's ten points in the first period enabled the Dons to jump to a 23-18 lead. Ela-Vernon tied the score once in the second quarter, but the Dons opened up to a 36-30 halftime lead.

AT THE end of the third period, Notre Dame held a thirteen point lead. Bob Bachmann, Notre Dame's high scorer with 26 points, fouled out early in the fourth period and the lead rapidly disappeared. John Hunsaker, Ela-Vernon forward scored most of his 35 points in the last period as his team staged a last minute rally.

The score was 68-64 with less than two minutes left. Schramm netted the final Notre Dame basket and with only a few seconds left, Ela-Vernon made the score 70-66. Hunsaker grabbed the ball and scored again on a last-second jump shot. The margin of two points was enough and Notre Dame posted its second victory.

For Notre Dame, the game was really won on foul shots. The Dons scored eighteen shots for eighteen opposition personal fouls, an average of one for each foul.

The Dons next home game is Friday, Dec. 11, when they open Catholic Suburban League competition again at St. Procopius.

70% Handicaps Established For Paddock Tourney

Seventy per cent handicaps will be used in the coming Paddock bowling tournaments, giving equal opportunity for all teams to win the pot o' gold in January.

First place squads of all men's leagues as of Dec. 19 will be eligible for the men's tourney Jan. 9 and 10 at Beverly Lanes. Leaders of all women's leagues as of Dec. 26 will be eligible for the women's event Jan. 17 at Gunnell's.

Both tournaments will use the 70 per cent basis for computing handicaps. For the men it will be "against 1,000," while for the women it will be "against 875."

THE TITLES (and cash) invariably go to the team that can bowl just ten pins per man, per game, over average, regardless of handicaps, though the latter is always a psychological help. Every squad is urged to aim for scores that will have each man hitting a series of 30 pins over average, with good cash money almost assured.

Other rules of the tournament generally follow ABC standards for the men, and WIBC qualifications for the women. No bowlers will be able to compete unless they are sanctioned by one of the two groups. In the case of the men, though, "eligible non-members can qualify by paying a $1.50 unattached fee."

ACTUAL NAMING of just which team is eligible for the tournaments is left up to league officers. This takes the Paddock sports department out from under any possible intra-league disagreement, though tourney promoters ask for the leaders.

Substitutions can be made for missing bowlers, but they should be drawn from the same league and approximately same average as the missing men. Also, in event the first place team does not choose to enter the tournament, the second place squad will be eligible.

Bowlers may enter only once in this year's tourney. Those rating the honor with two different leagues will have to make a choice, and provide a substitute for the other team. All keglers must have bowled at least 18 games.

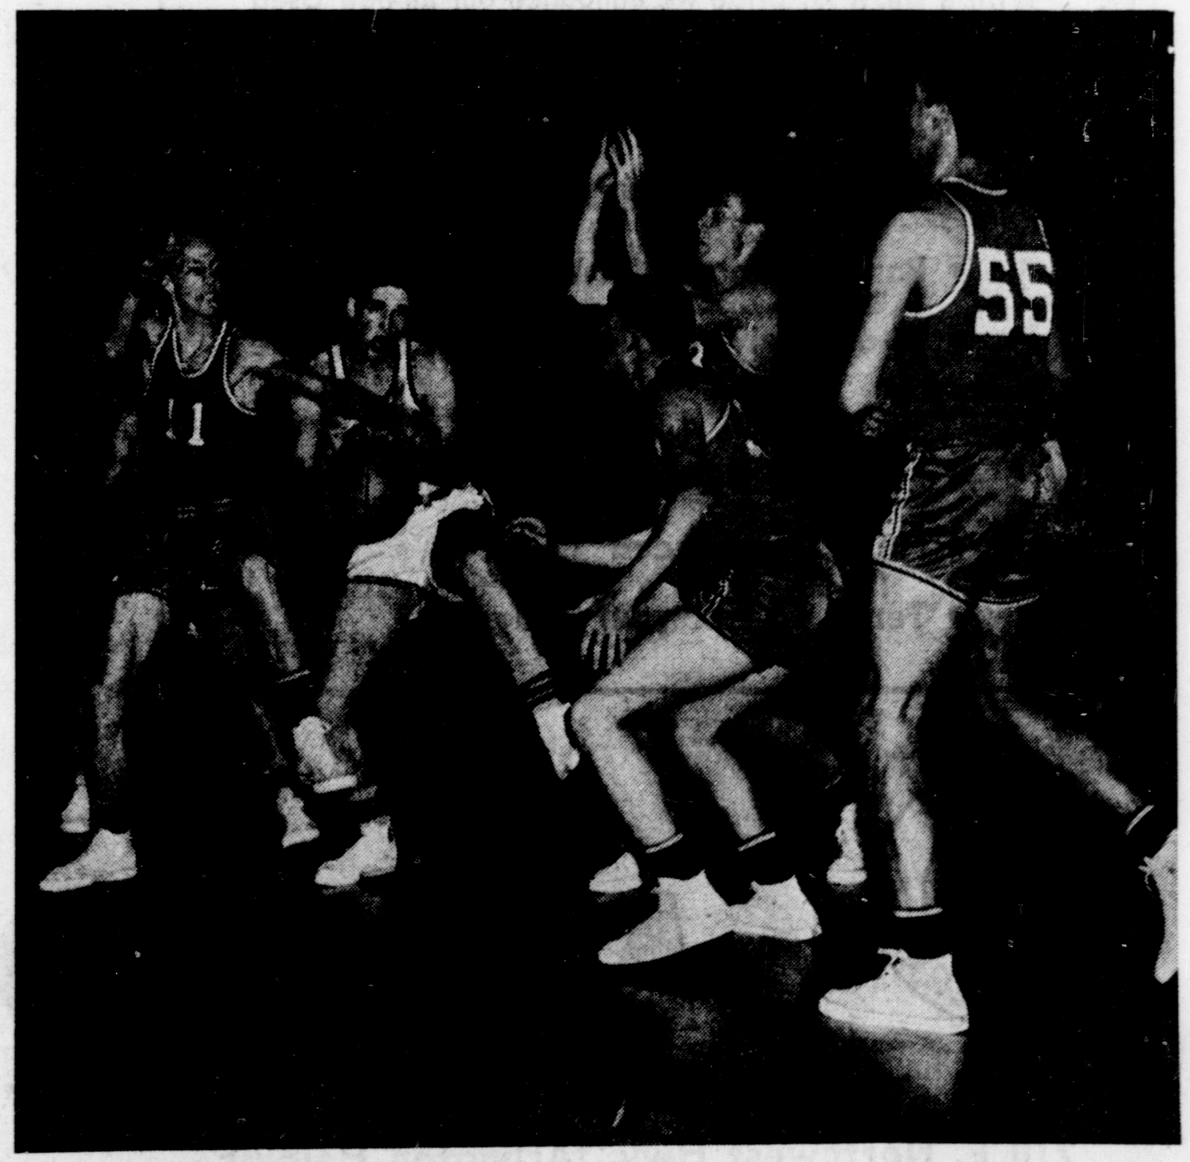
ENTRY FEE OF $18.25 due with each entry will cover all costs of bowling, score keeping, and officials, plus prize fund of $7.50. Bowlers will not have to think about anything other than good bowling the day of the tourney, with Paddock Publications underwriting costs of trophies, printing and advertising, and clerical help.



GEORGE POMEY (with ball) is surrounded by St. Charles players in action during Prospect's opening, 55-54 victory last Friday evening. St. Charles performers are Ken Gustafsen (11), Doug Mann (with hands raised), Elmer Anderson, and Jack Brens (55).

Beverly Lanes Keglers Advance On Stavros Unit

Beverly Lane moved another slot closer to first place Saturday night in the Paddock Classic traveling league, picking up two victories while pace-setting James Stavros dropped a pair to Tommy Thomas' Casablanca.

The double win for Beverly moved the keglers within two games of the top with Casablanca holding on to the third position.

Jim Perna sparked the two Beverly victories over Pentane Gas with scores of 222 and 223 in the opening two games. Perna's 627 was the only 600 series recorded in the match although Dave Catherwood flirted with the mark at 583.

BEVERLY took the first encounter 960-859, then followed with an impressive 1007-831 triumph in the second match. Pentane Gas copped the third 932-852.

Stavros' leaders could only pick up the middle game in a three game match with the Casablanca bowlers hitting 1087 in the finale for the evening's high. Irv Hahnfeldt, Ron Fogarett, and Marv Perry all eclipsed 200 in that third battle with Hahnfeldt's 262 the high individual score of the evening.

Casablanca's combined three game total of 3003 also took top honors for the Saturday night action.

MARTINETTI'S put on an impressive display in the battle among the league's top cellar clubs with the Ten Pin outfit picking up three victories and moving into a tie for fifth with Connies Snack Shop.

Glenbrook Tops Cards' Frosh Cagers, 45-30

Glenbrook's freshman "A" basketball unit handed Arlington a 45-30 defeat Tuesday afternoon in the young Cards' initial test of the 1959-60 campaign.

Coach Rog Steingraber's Arlington plebes trailed only 19-13 at the half, but the visitors erupted for a 26-17 edge in the final two periods for the easy victory.

Pete Vaughn headed Arlington's offensive attack with 11 points with Eric Berg tallying eight on four baskets. Dan Ringsmith took Glenbrook and game honors with seven baskets and a free throw for 15 markers.

Arlington will host Maine East Saturday, Dec. 12, at 9:30 a.m. in its second game of the season.

Plaques Replace Trophies

Sponsors of last year's Paddock bowling tournament champs will receive plaques for their permanent possession to replace the large traveling trophies.

Sports promoter Bob Paddock made this announcement this week as he picked up the traveling awards and completed final details for this year's events at Beverly Lanes and Gunnell's Lanes. The large trophies have always moved from winner to winner, and usually left quite a vacant spot when removed from sponsors' premises.

Original men's trophy was won three times and retired by Haseman Truckers of House league at Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine. New award was then put into circulation with Arlington Furniture Mart winning last January at Palatine. Women's event was won at Pioneer Lanes in Addison last winter by Arlington Market Walgreen's with the trophy prominently displayed ever since.

Both the Furniture Mart and Walgreen's will receive plaques shortly, suitably engraved with names of keglers and leagues involved. This time the men's tournament will be held at Beverly Lanes Jan. 9 and 10 with the women's event scheduled for Gunnell's Lanes Jan. 17.

Another Cage Team Needed!

Another basketball team is needed to fill out the Park League sponsored by the Arlington Heights park district. Also, additional players are needed by one entry, the Pioneer Park Pirates.

The league plays at Miner Junior High school with each team having one game a week on either Tuesday or Wednesday nights. Anyone may participate who is past high school age but most of the players are between 20 and 35 years old.

A $5.00 entry fee is required of teams but there is no charge for individual players on the Pioneer team. Phone the park office, CL 3-0620, to join.

League standings were tightened considerably in Monday night's play as the first place Foolish 4 were defeated three straight by what had been the last place Goofers. Two wins each were posted by the Fire Balls and Pin Heads. This all left the Foolish 4 with a narrow half game lead over the Pin Heads who in turn had the same margin over the Fire Balls in third place. The Goofers, Marj-Anns and Stinkers emerged in a deadlock for fourth. Top series were rolled by Mary Shambo with 531 and Bob Hourigan with 509. (RM

Warriors Drop Two

Blue Island and North Chicago administered a double defeat on Willowbrook's varsity basketball squad to set the Warriors' mark at 0-3 for the campaign.

Coach Jim Toman's quintet bowed to Blue Island in the Thanksgiving Eve clash, 60-53, they traveled to North Chicago where it succumbed, 63-52.

Trailing by one point at the close of the opening quarter, North Chicago rebounded with a 22-14 margin in the second period for a 31-24 halftime lead.

Willowbrook attempted to close the gap with a full-court press but the Warhawks riddled the defense with some fine shooting by DeWitt Williams and John Patterson who netted 10 points between them in the fourth stanza.

Ron Rau paced the Warriors with 19 points and Bill Offill chipped in with 13. Soph Bill Liskey tied Dave Bolger for North Chicago honors with 15 points each.

Jordan Among 120 Bowlers In Tournament

Al Jordan, instructor at Rolling Meadows Bowl, is among the 120 bowlers from the United States and several other nations currently competing in the World Bowling tourney at the Chicago Coliseum.

An invitational event, the tournament is running from December 2 through 11. Jordan, who carried a 204 average during the 1958 season, is a member of the Orchard Twin Bowl team in the Chicago Classic league.

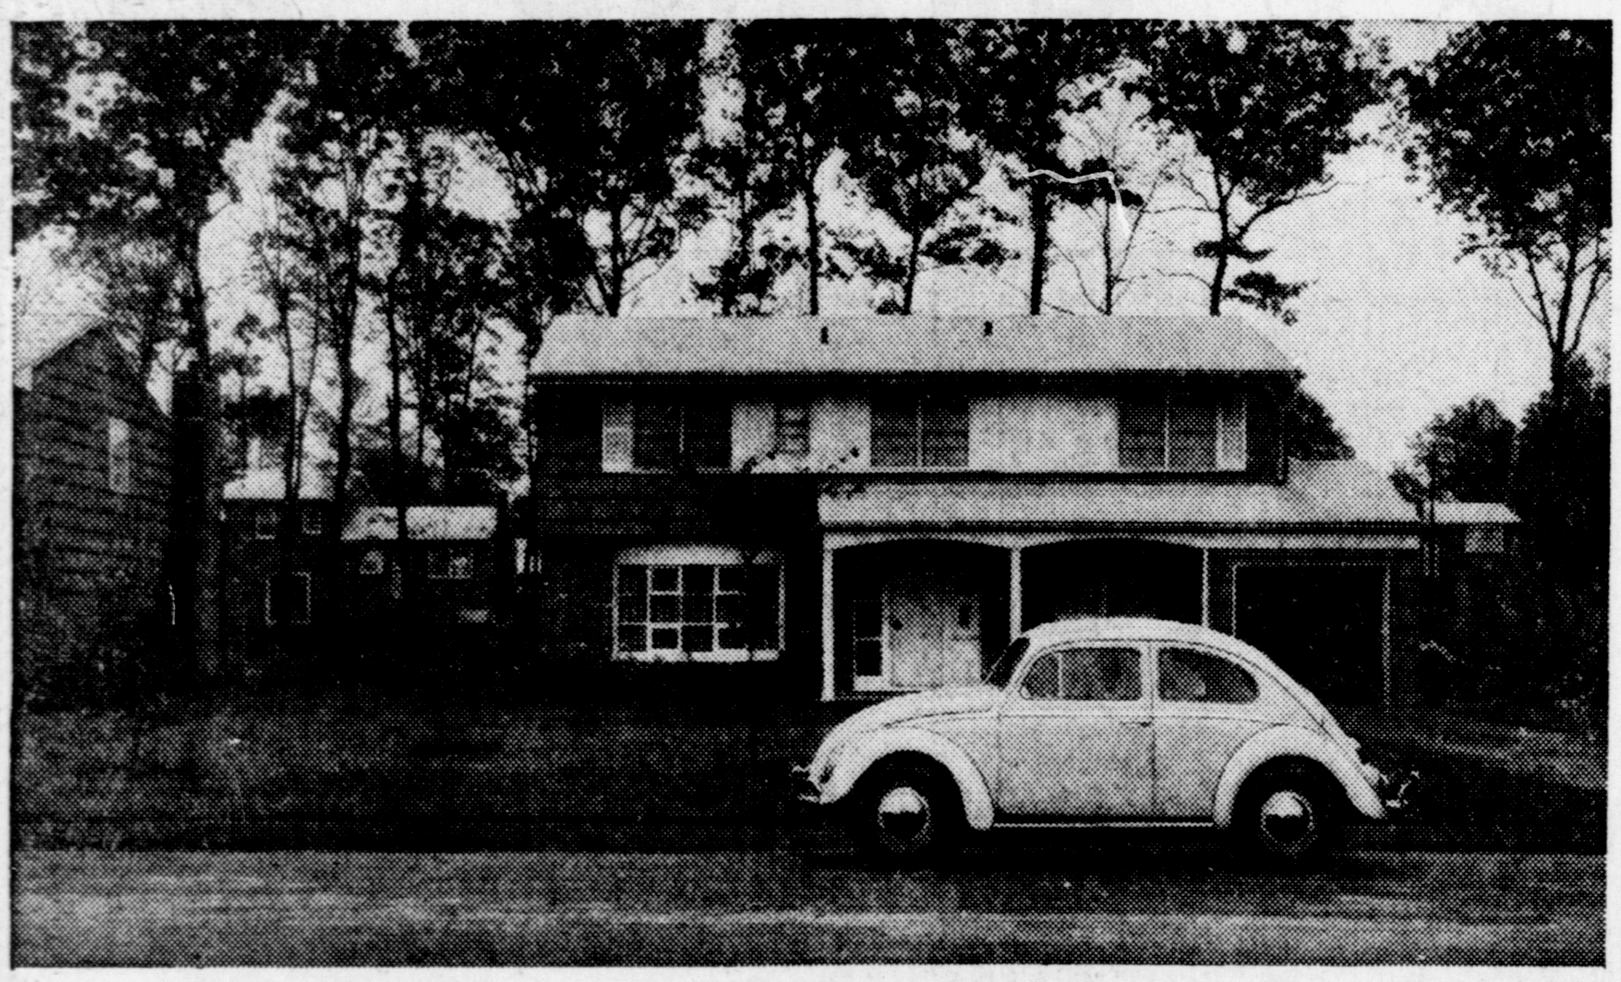
He was recently a finalist in the Chicago Match Games championship and rolled one game at a 298 clip. While he has been residing in the Lake Zurich area with his wife and three sons, they are soon slated to move into a new home in Hoffman Estates.

Wayside Gains Two Victories

Our Lady of the Wayside scored two easy basketball victories over newly organized teams from St. Monica of Meadowdale on Sunday.

Larry Wagner's 10 points led the junior varsity scoring in its 30-6 victory, while Joe Mueller with 12 points and Ray Merkle with 10 led the varsity team in its 43-7 conquest of St. Monica's varsity.

Next Saturday Wayside journeys to Lake Zurich to meet St. Francis de Sales and on Sunday the Wayside varsity team begins competition in the Notre Dame High School's grade school tourney.



What year car do the Jones drive?

The Jones drive a Volkswagen, and Volkswagens look alike from year to year.

A Volkswagen is never outmoded. Indeed, no one knows how long a Volkswagen lasts; the first VWs made have not worn out. We hear from VW owners who have clocked over 100,000 miles without engine repair. (If they should ever need it, they will find VW service is as good as the car.)

The Volkswagen does change—where it counts. An anti-sway bar has just been added to the front suspension to make curves even smoother. New insulation deadens engine and roadway noise. And the VW's new front seats are deeply contoured for even greater comfort. Over the years, almost every part in the VW has been changed—but not its heart or face.

Volkswagen owners find this a happy way to drive—and to live. No doubt you will, too.

Come in and drive a new Volkswagen today.

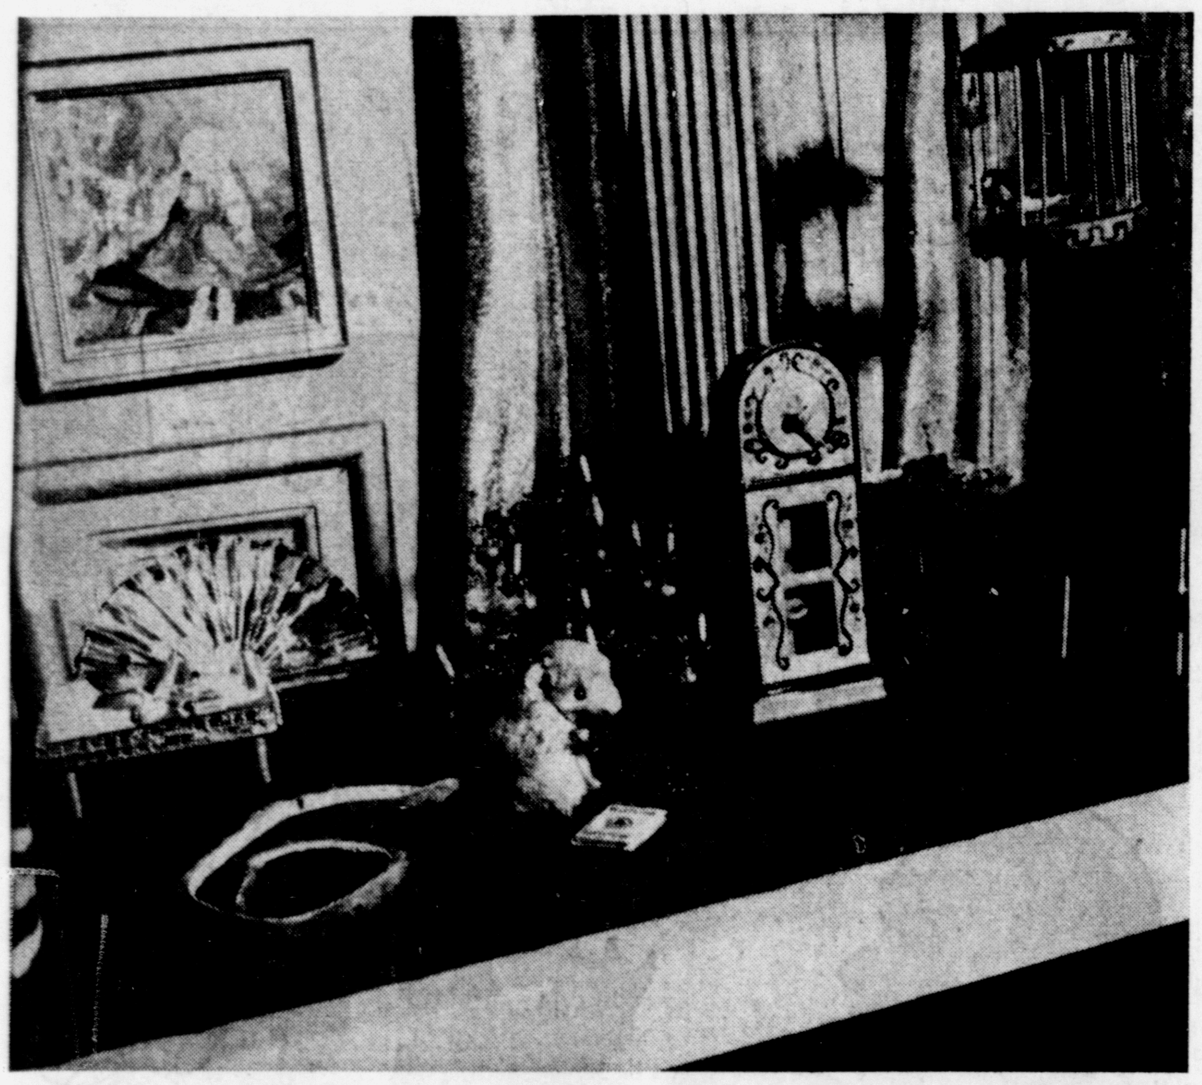
Ladies Sell Festive Gifts, Foods At Bazaars; Support Civic Projects

TWO BLUE RIBBON winners view a display at the Palanois Park Garden club combined show and bazaar held recently at the Paddock school, Palatine. Mrs. Lyle Ewing (left), Arlington Heights, was the first place winner for her Thanksgiving arrangement using only dried materials like nuts and pine cones. Mrs. D. C. Hamman, Palatine, won for her Christmas arrangement using only artificial and/or artificially colored material.

WOODEN CRECHES for holiday miniatures were among items offered by members of the evening circle of the women's guild of Peace church, Bensenville. Working at the table, November 4, were (from left) Mrs. Roy Garlisch, Mrs. Robert Decker, bazaar chairman, Mrs. Clifford Zingraf, and Mrs. Harold Marschall.

AT ST. COLLETTE'S, Rolling Meadows, the bazaar this fall was to raise money for new kitchen furnishings. Viewing the Christmas gift selection at the November 14 affair are Mrs. Matthew Bailey, president of the Woman's club, Mrs. Phillip Sweeney, card booth chairman, Mrs. Terry Geimer, doll clothes booth chairman, and Mrs. Robert Murphy, bazaar chairman.



TO GET HER FRIENDS to join her at Mrs. Claus' Cottage Mrs. Church Mouse used a miniature phone. "Church Mouse Originals" were featured at St. Philip's Episcopal church, Palatine, November 21.

BAZAARS ARE NOT restricted to church groups. This year ladies in the Mt. Prospect Infant Welfare society used a bazaar to raise funds for medical supervision for preschool children. A fashion show was part of their day's offering. Talking to model, Mrs. William Bagnuolo (center), are Mrs. William Hunter (left) and Mrs. Bert Herrmann (right) fashion show commentator.

SHOWING AN EDUCATIONAL aspect of the Palanois Park Garden club show is Mrs. Alfred Wedow with a leaf display gathered from different Palatine shade trees. This was one of three noncompetitive exhibits shown November 7 and 8.

CHRISTMAS TREE complete with all the glitter is admired by 4-year-old Susan Kanne, daughter of the John Kannes, and Susan Graham, 6, daughter of the William Graham's, all of Arlington Heights. The tree was part of the background decoration at St. Simon Episcopal church's "Holiday Fair." November 10.

WOMEN OF ST. JAMES Women's guild, Arilngton Heights, set aside November 21 and 22 for their annual "Holiday Shoppe." Admiring gifts at the main booth are Mrs. Robert Hetzel and Mrs. Joseph Dunne, bazaar cochairmen, and Mrs. James Murphy, guild president.

WONDERING WHAT it's all about is 7-month-old Jean Hartung, who has yet to observe her first Christmas. Jean, the daughter of the D. E. Hartung's, Rolling Meadows, is fascinated by the toys and Christmas items for sale at the St. Simon "Holiday Fair."

Restaurant Owner Recalls His Colorful, Varied Career

Famous Voice Noted For Song, Airwaves

"Who's that little chatterbox?
"The one with pretty auburn locks.
"Whom do you see?
"It's Little Orphan Annie."

Remember that song? Remember the voice, a rich baritone, echoing across the airwaves on that old radio set back in the '30s when times were rough and it felt good to sit there and forget the daily drag in the fantastic world of an adventuresome young girl?

Or maybe you remember Huyler's cafe at 310 N. Michigan ave., one of downtown Chicago's most famous restaurants during those days just before the big crash when the '20's really were roaring.

THE CAFE had a wonderful "strolling" brother act, two fellows who walked the dining rooms singing and playing beautiful operatic arias and semi-classics for the patrons.

Or maybe you sat in the balcony of Chicago's old burlesque palace, the Star and Garter, and watched a young singer on the stage just making a buck, and looking, looking for the big break he needed to get started.

Wherever you were in those days you probably heard the voice at some time or other. It traveled the nation from radio Chicago, and bounced off not a few concert hall walls in the middle west.

It made a name for its owner and brought him a great deal of satisfaction.

It also led him into the restaurant business in the middle '40s. Today he's still singing, though not professionally, and he's managing one of the northwest suburb's newest eating spots, the Waterfall restaurant in the Rolling Meadows Bowl.

His name: Lawrence Salerno.

Lawrence Salerno likes to talk of his younger days when he spent almost 10 years beating his way to the top in in the tough entertainment world of the prohibition era.

BORN IN A little village near Palermo, Italy, in 1899, Salerno came into a world filled with music. His mother was a fine soprano, his father an accomplished accordionist. One brother also played the accordion, the other the violin.

When he was seven, Lawrence began singing in a church choir in his native village. He liked it.

Three years later, his father brought him across the Atlantic to Madison, Wis. There the boy entered school, worked during the summers, and sang with groups whenever he could.

At 17, he made a decision. He was working in a Rockford, Ill. factory at the time.

The young man began taking singing lessons from Lorraine Rogers, an operatic soprano. A year later he returned to Madison and entered the Wheeler Conservatory of Music where he studied for six years, making concert, operatic and church appearances on the side to support himself.

In 1925 he came to Chicago to study under Vittorio Trevisan, a Chicago Civic Opera star.

The next two years were rough. Salerno, at 26, found out the hard way just how tough it was to break into the "big time."

He did concert work whenever he could, broke into radio on old KYW in the Congress hotel, sang at many, many amateur shows, plugged popular songs for publishers, and did two one-nighters at the Star and Garter.

He got the break at Huyler's when he and his cousin, Frank, signed on with their "strolling" act. They stayed there two years, working concurrently on WGN radio.

THE DUET split up about the time of the big depression. Lawrence continued on at WGN until 1942, singing the Little Orphan Annie theme for the local station and working national network shows with CBS and NBC

During the '30's, he toured extensively in the central states, giving concerts and making club appearances, but never straying far from Chicago, and his daily shows.

Salerno went into the restaurant business in 1945, operating the El Gaucho in Skokie. He stayed there until this year when he came to Rolling Meadows and the quiet, intimate Waterfall.

There he'll greet you at the door with a cordial welcome, and, if you can wrangle him into a corner booth, he'll tell you about the old days and music, which he dearly loves.

"Music as a profession is very, very hard work," he will say. "I was discouraged at first. You have to have great determination and make your own opportunities.

"The most successful singers are individualists with their own styles."

Today's entertainers?

"Perry Como is a great success in his field, but he couldn't compare in a concert to someone like John McCormack.

"Mario Lanza was a fine lyric tenor. Bing Crosby is another great performer. Frank Sinatra—a stylist getting better with age.

"Elvis Presley? I won't give an opinion on him. Ask the kids."

SALERNO THINKS there are great things coming in American music and culture.

"We are going to develop our own culture," he says.

"European countries have centuries of their own music, art, and literature behind them. The reason we look to them now is because we are a new nation.

"It isn't that we aren't capable of great works; it's just that we look to the older artists for examples.

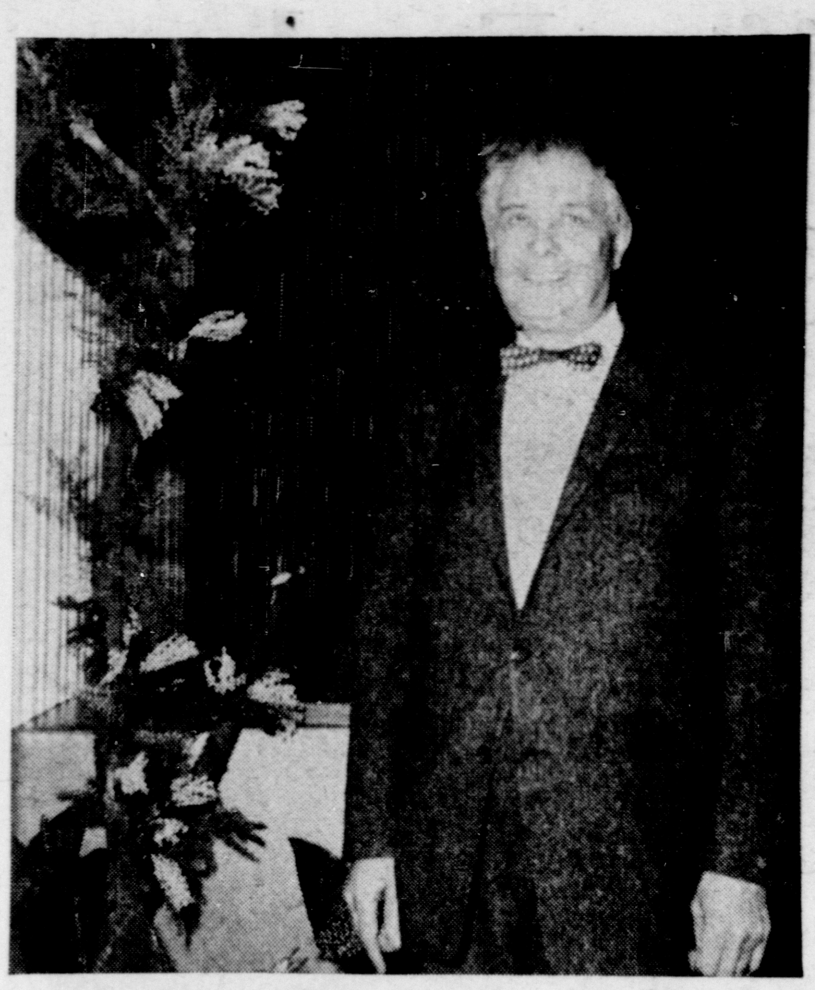
"Look at Frank Lloyd Wright. He developed a form of architecture that is completely distinctive.

"Some of our music and composers, 'The Desert Song,' 'Student Prince,' 'Song of the Vagabonds,' 'Porgy and Bess,' Romberg, Gershwin, Berlin, our great folk music—all typically American.

"These things will be very popular years from now. They will be our classics."

And on and on he will go, stressing the importance of an artist feeling what he sings, bemoaning the lack of great opera in Chicago, talking of the past, and remembering those lines that were part of his daily life for 13 years:

"It's Little Orphan Annie."



LAWRENCE SALERNO, one of the great singing stars of the '20s and '30s in the Chicago area stands ready to greet dinner patrons in the foyer of the Waterfall restaurant in the Rolling Meadows Bowl. Salerno is the manager of the new dining room.

BRING OUT YOUR BEST... PLAY A HAMMOND ORGAN

Practically everyone can have an interesting personality—it's a matter of expressing it. Playing a Hammond Organ is a natural way to express your personality. You put your personality into the music by the way you interpret it. The more you play a Hammond Organ the more you find yourself expressing your personality in many other ways. Even more wonderful is how easy it is to play! With no previous musical training, you can quickly learn to play pleasing music as soon as you begin. And you progress by playing the music you like. Just think of the fun you can have by being the life of the party when you entertain your friends on a Hammond Organ.

Try a Hammond in your home —you'll be playing by Christmas

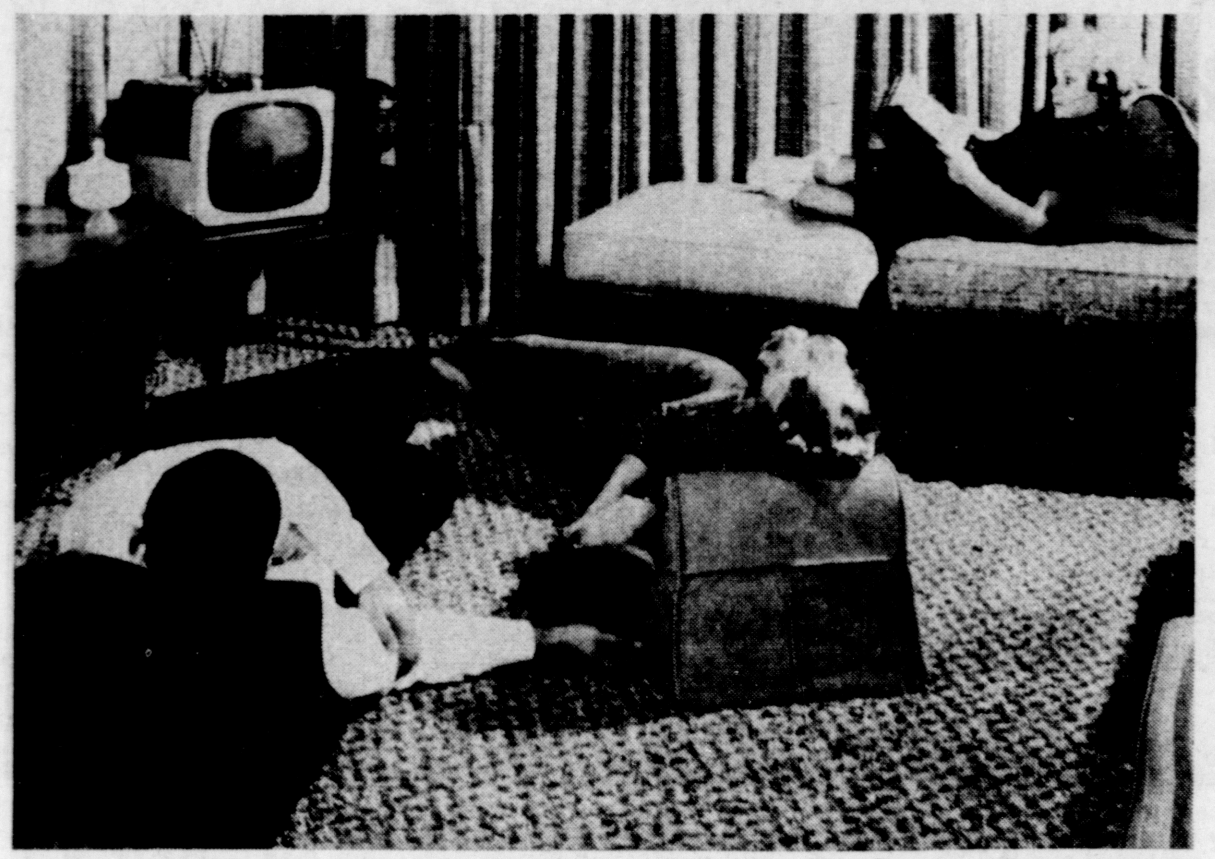
Addison Firm Makes New Pillow



NEW "CONTOUR PILLOW" made of washable, allergy-free, poly-urethane plastic foam that provides sitting or reclining comfort in any position. The Contour pillows are made by Foamlab Company, 22 W. Interstate rd., Addison.

A new, washable, miracle foam, "Contour Pillow" scientifically designed for complete relaxation and maximum casual comfort has been created by the Foamlab Company of 22 W. Interstate rd., Addison.

This new allergy-free, tapered "Contour Pillow" of poly-urethane plastic foam provides sitting or reclining comfort while supporting a combination of head, neck, chin, chest, back, shoulders, and arms.

MADE WITH zippered and removable covers of washable pinwale corduroy, the "Contour Pillow" is available in 11 decorator colors and special school colors for students.

Ideal for children, adolescents, and adults it can be used in several positions anywhere indoors or outdoors, and offers a new type of support to asthma sufferers, persons with heart trouble, and convalescents.

The new "Contour Pillow" is not affected by temperatures up to 300 degrees Fahrenheit; can be sterilized; will not oxidize, harden, or crumble; and is not affected by household cleaning agents or solvents.

CURRENTLY being sold at Marshall Field and Company, Carson Pirie Scott & Company, and The Fair Store (Chicago); Schuster's Milwaukee (Milwaukee, Wis.); and Macy's (New York), the new "Contour Pillow" will also be sold soon in department, home furnishings, and specialty stores throughout the country. Where not yet available, the "Contour Pillow" can be obtained by writing direct to the Foamlab Company and giving the name and address of the local stores.

Poly-urethane foam—said to be the most superior type of synthetic cushioning ever made—is the result of years of research.

Foamlab has perfected machinery and techniques for molding poly-urethane foam into consumer products, and the "Contour Pillow" is one of the first. (BB

Carson's Opens New Budget Shop

Carson Pirie Scott and co. announce the opening of the third unit in the store's expanding budget shop operation at Edens Plaza: the Ladies' budget shop. This newly completed shop occupies the area formerly tenanted by five other stores.

Previously opened (but not officially announced) was the Infants' and Children's Budget shop, featuring apparel, accessories, and toys for boys and girls age 6 months to 14 years. These two new units join the already established Men's and Boys' Budget shop (carrying men's apparel and accessories, and boys' clothing sizes 6 to 18) in offering merchandise of dependable quality, attractively priced.

THE NEW LADIES' Budget shop is spacious and pleasingly proportioned. It is well-lighted by natural sunlight, as half of the east wall and the entire north side of the shop is of glass. The decor is modern, suggestive of an exclusive specialty shop and, as a feature not usually found in budget shop operation, eight graceful, lifelike mannikins display apparel and accessories.

The show will feature smart new fashions at popular prices including ready-to wear (sportswear, dresses, coats and maternity wear), intimate apparel (lingerie, foundation garments, robes and housecoats), accessories (handbags, gloves, hosiery, scarfs, jewelry and millinery) and ladies' and children's shoes.

Local Man Dayco Sales Engineer

WILBUR ASHLEY

Wilbur W. Ashley, 400 S. Carlyle, Arlington Heights, has been appointed sales engineer in the Dayco division of Dayton Industrial Products Company, a division of The Dayton Rubber Company, according to Norman Neilson, sales manager of the division.

He will handle sales of the Dayco line of graphic arts rollers, lithoblankets and color separators and fountain dividers for the printing field in the Chicago area. The addition of Ashley to the Chicago Dayco sales staff will further increase sales service facilities in keeping with the over-all expansion program of Dayton Industrial Products Company.

Ashley joins Dayton after two years with American Type Founders Company, where he was employed as sales engineer. Prior to that he was an ink chemist for 14 years with International Printing Ink Company. (BB

How is Real Estate SELLING?

That's a question we are asked every day. Frankly, the way property "moves" when it is for sale depends on how it is handled. For this reason we suggest that you discuss your needs with one of our five experienced Sales Counsellors.

We don't claim to work miracles but our FIVE FULL TIME men do work hard, advertise more, make more phone calls, write more letters, find more mortgage money and start off on the right foot by putting the proper price on homes for sale.

If you feel there is no substitute for EXPERIENCE, INTEGRITY and RESULTS, CONTACT US TODAY TO EITHER BUY OR SELL A HOME.

St. Paul Federal says...

"Business as usual during construction"

Building Report No. 4 to shareholders and friends

Right now, next door to us on the east, there's a huge power shovel scooping up dirt, trucks moving in and out of the area and men relaying instructions. Yes, and lots of interested folks are peeking through the wire mesh viewers in our 140-ft. fence. The reason, of course, is our new building addition.

Have you seen it?

Despite all of this construction activity, we expect no interruption to service or inconvenience for our customers. Fact is, this project of ours is still another incentive for you to visit St. Paul Federal. If you're like most of us, you'll enjoy the role of sidewalk superintendent.

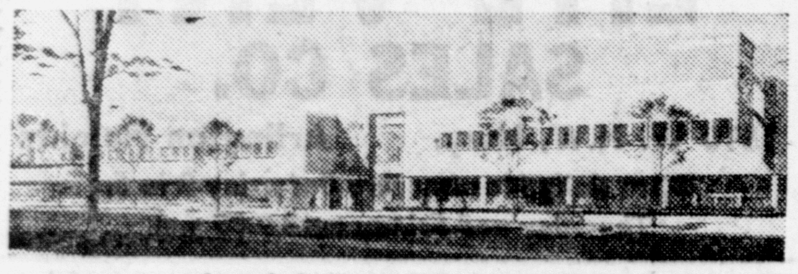
Cement work next

Now that a gigantic hole has been dug on our building site, forms will go up soon for the footings and foundation. Then comes the parade of ready-mix trucks that will dump thousands of yards of concrete into these forms. By that time, the real size of our new addition will become apparent to you. We're adding 45,200 sq. ft. of space on three levels, bringing our total area to 76,700 sq. ft.

Plenty of free parking

Actually, the new addition is being erected on the site of an original St. Paul parking lot. But there will be just as much parking facilities as before. Some months ago the Association acquired another nearby area, so we continue to have three lots sufficient to park 175 cars. They are located on North Avenue at Nashville; Normandy and North; and Euclid Avenue at North, Oak Park side.

Please remember—there's business as usual at St. Paul all during construction. And we welcome you and your family to inspect our building site and activity at any time. We'll keep you posted, so watch for our next building report in your local newspaper.



It's your building . . . watch it grow!

"GOOD LIGHTING means good merchandising," states Ernest Van Stockum, owner of Van's Paint Store on Oakwood avenue in Des Plaines. When Van decided to modernize the lighting in his paint store, the first consideration was to aid his customers in color selection and color matching. This was accomplished by using the latest and most powerful fluorescent lamp manufactured, called the 'power groove' lamp. It is eight feet long and 2 1/8'' in diameter, grooved on both sides causing the arc stream to travel in curved paths. The result is the equivalent of an arc from a nine foot straight lamp in an eight foot tube.

Each lamp produces 15,000 lumens and are the first commercial fixtures to use these new lamps. Each fixture has four lamps with a total output of 60,000 lumens. Curved parabolic blades provide low comfortable brightness across the bottom of the fixture. The store now has a 250 foot candle level, which exceeds even that recommended for self service areas.

The photograph shows the difference in comfortable, pleasant brightness between the new lighting installation in the Paint Store, and the present fluorescent installation of 30 foot candles in the Art Store, which is yet to be remodeled. It is believed that Van's Paint Store is the best lighted store in Des Plaines. Because of great interest in higher illumination levels, photos and write-ups are being featured nationally on Van's new installation.

Want a Letter From Santa Claus? Indiana That Is!

It's Christmas time in Santa Claus again. Little Indiana Village with magical postmark is mailing headquarters for letters from St. Nick.

Nestled in the Southern Indiana hills, the tiny hamlet of Santa Claus with less than 50 year-round inhabitants is the hub of frenzied activity. This storybook village, dedicated to the children of the world, is literally "snowed under" with mail. This Holiday Season some five million pieces of mail will pass through the tiny post office and receive the official Santa Claus postmark.

This year the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Des Plaines is offering a special service to its customers and the community. The Association offers a selection of enchanting Christmas letters from Santa Claus.

The envelopes may be addressed to any child and mailed in the special mail box in the Association lobby. The letters that are mailed are transported to the town of Santa Claus, where they are postmarked and returned directly to the child with the envelope bearing the renowned Santa Claus postmark.

New Bank Certified For FHA

The Bank of Arlington Heights, scheduled to open in Arlington Market after the first of the year, has been certified by Commissioner Julian H. Zimmerman as a lending institution approved by the Federal Housing Administration to make mortgage loans insured under FHA's programs.

A letter from D. G. Minto, Assistant Commissioner Field Operations, designating the above institution as an "approved mortgagee" was received recently by W. C. Wolf, President. Mortgage loans insured by FHA are available for the purchase of homes and for the development of rental or cooperative housing projects. The money for the loans that the approved mortgagee makes under FHA programs comes from its own funds, not from any Government funds.

FHA INSURANCE enables lenders to give borrowers more favorable loan terms than might otherwise be possible. The mortgage insurance programs operated by the Federal Housing Administration in cooperation with private lenders have already benefited millions of people throughout our country. More than 4 million families have been helped toward home ownership and nearly 700,000 families have been provided homes in rental or cooperative housing projects.

Any person interested in obtaining an FHA-insured mortgage is invited to make application at The Bank of Arlington Heights.

Postmaster Outlines Tips For Christmas Mailings

Some important tips to assure prompt and safe delivery of Christmas cards and gifts were outlined this week by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield as follows:

1. Address mail fully and clearly. Write legibly, or print plainly. Avoid abbreviations.

2. Use the 4-cent letter rate for Christmas cards, assuring forwarding of the letter if the addressee has moved, and return if the card is undeliverable.

3. Don't mail money in Christmas gifts or letters. Use postal money orders or checks.

4. When making a larger mailing - such as Christmas card mailings - separate letters into "local" and "out-of-town" bundles. Local post offices have "local" and "out-of-town" wrappers for this purpose free of charge.

5. PACK AND wrap gifts securely. Cushioning material should be placed on all sides of the Christmas gift. The carton should be wrapped in heavy paper and tied with strong twine.

6. Delicate gifts, such as glass, must be marked "Fragile," and food stuffs subject to spoilage should be marked "Perishable."

7. Insure parcels. Register letters of real value. Where only proof of delivery is required for letters of no intrinsic value use Certified Mail.

8. Use Combination Mail where a letter or message — other than a gift tag — is to be enclosed inside a Christmas package.

9. Mail Christmas cards and parcels early to avoid the last minute rush and waiting in line at the post office. The best times to avoid crowds at stamp windows in most post offices are before 10 a.m. and between 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. Use the new stamp vending machines that have been installed in many post offices.

10. If you don't know the answer to a mailing problem — ask. Every postal employee is happy to answer questions on postal rules and regulations.

IN ADDITION to these tips, Summerfield noted that local post offices have the free pamphlet, "Post Office Department Publication No. 3," which contains rates of postage and limits of size and weight for domestic mail.

Another free pamphlet at post offices is entitled "Packaging and Wrapping Parcels For Mailing."

Summerfield emphasized the importance of shopping and mailing early for Christmas.

"The hard working postal employees, whose efforts during every Christmas season are so outstanding, must depend upon public cooperation to get their job done. We know that all citizens will recognize the importance of this, and will again extend us this cooperation and help," the Postmaster General added.

EDENS PLAZA SHOPPING CENTER merchants have a novel Christmas greeting for shoppers at the 20 stores in the center. This bright red shopping bag will be given free as well as match folders with the same design. The Edens Plaza Christmas tree will also identify salespeople in the shopping center at Edens expressway and Skokie highway in Wilmette.

Santa Claus Fares Set

"Santa Claus" fares will again be offered to children on Chicago and North Western railway suburban trains starting this weekend to encourage shoppers to bring their youngsters to loop stores.

The uniform 30-cent round-trip fares for children between five and under 12 years will apply from more than 50 suburban communities served by the railway's three divisions. Each child or group of youngsters must be accompanied by an adult. Tots under five ride free.

The downtown trips will be offered Saturdays, Dec. 5, 12 and 19.

TICKETS will be good on all coach trains from suburban stations as far away as Geneva, Harvard, Winthrop Harbor and Williams Bay, Wis.

Regular half-rate round-trip fares for youngsters under 12 are more than a dollar from many points and as high as $2.31 from Williams Bay; $1.90 from Harvard.

The railway said that "Santa Claus" tickets should be purchased in advance and will not be sold on trains. They will be on sale at suburban downtown terminal.

Area Man Control Manager

Donald E. Novy, 126 Flagstaff lane, Hoffman Estates, has been named production control manager at Republic Flow Meters Company, a subsidiary of Rockwell Manufacturing Co. He will be responsible for scheduling production, inventory control, and developing manufacturing techniques. He has been with Republic five years, having been a contract engineer and service engineer.

DONALD NOVY

Novy is a mechanical engineering graduate of the University of Illinois (BS, 1953). He is a member of the American Production and Inventory Control Society. (BB

Mount Prospect Man Celebrates 30 Years on Job

Archibald L. Potter, 113 S. Elmhurst ave., Mt. Prospect, is receiving the congratulations of his associates at Commonwealth Edison Company this week.

The occasion is his 30th service anniversary with utility sales departments. He started in 1929 as a lighting salesman, later became an engineer of power equipment and since 1951 has been a sales engineer.

He works at the Chicago-North headquarters of the power service department, 3500 N. California ave. He studied electrical engineering at Lewis Institute and mechanical engineering at Armour Institute, both schools now known as Illinois Institute of Technology.

Fishing is Potter's favorite hobby. Following his school days he was interested in basketball and played professionally with the Standard Oil Red Crowns. Married 18 years, he and his wife, Florence, have lived in Mt. Prospect 10 years. (BB

Heights Man Announces Lie's Talk

Trygve Lie, Ambassador at Large of Norway, will address a joint meeting of the International Trade Club of Chicago and The Norwegian-American Chamber of Commerce of Chicago Thursday, Dec. 3, at the Morrison Hotel, it was announced by Earl A. Denton, Trade club president of 700 E. Park, Arlington Heights.

Ambassador Lie will discuss opportunities for business and investment in Norway. The former Secretary General of the United Nations is currently engaged in a special assignment for the Norwegian Government to promote Norway's foreign trade and to stimulate foreign investments in that country.

Also speaking at the meeting will be Arne Skaug, minister of trade and shipping of Norway. Skaug will survey current economic trends and business activities in the countries of the Free Trade Area (the Outer Seven) and the European Common Market (the Inner Six). (BB $18,500 — DON'T PASS THIS ONE UP — granted the outside is a little plain - and the photographer could have done a better job of showing off this home, but the FACT IS here is a terrific buy — A little ingenuity in planning makes this an unusual home in this price range — built for the FAMILY. The house basically is sound and neat as a pin, but that isn't the half of it — THE REAL STORY is the 4 BEDROOMS and 1½ BATHS and the well planned traffic pattern — You can enter from the back entrance into the kitchen and to the right a powder room and on into the 4th bedroom (mighty nice arrangement on the messy days when the childen will be in and out). A full basement provides an adequate play area and work space for Mother and Dad. The kitchen has plenty of cupboards and a BIG formal eating area . . . The 4th bedroom would also be ideal for the extra Adult that might be living with you. Good financing — Only 1 block to school.

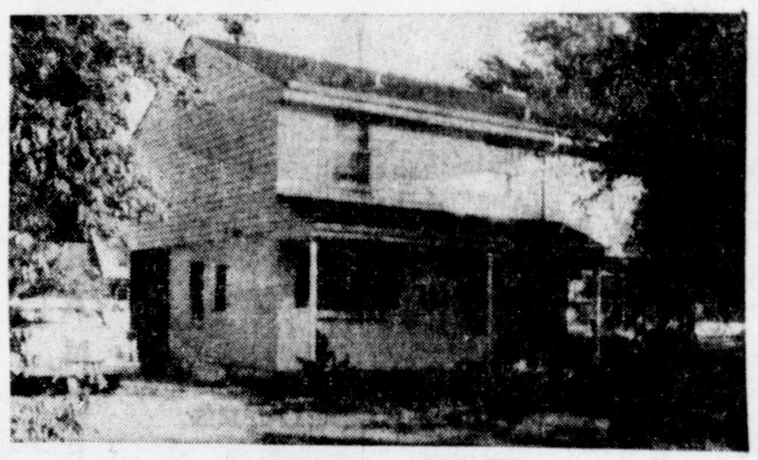
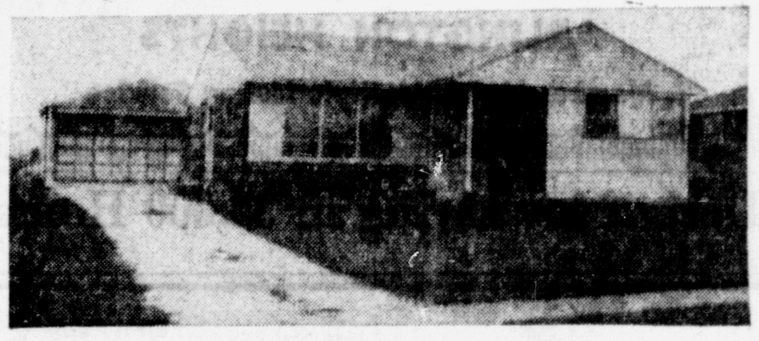
AND A SEWING ROOM, TOO
This prestige English Tudor is set among towering elms and beautiful, established homes in one of Mt. Prospect's most scenic neighborhoods. The home features a gracious 23 ft. living room with fireplace — a family style kitchen with a bay window breakfast area overlooking the magnificently landscaped back yard. There are 3 bedrooms — the master bedroom is next to an exquisite dressing room — the sewing room is another additional plus item — a full basement and attached garage. $19,200 mortgage available and priced to sell. Mid 20's

A1PARKOURLADYPIONEERJR.HI.K5
Yep! that's a mouthfull, but it adds up to some real important factors to consider in purchasing a home. You should consider the features offered in certain neighborhoods because you're not in the house all the time — much of the time is spent enjoying what the immediate neighborhood offers. In this case you have the following within 2 blocks of the home: Pioneer Park and swimming pool, Our Lady of the Wayside Church and school, Park K-5 school, South Side junior high school. This home cost $28,000 new and thousands of dollars worth of extras have been added. It's yours for $27,750



HERE'S A HONEY
An Immaculate 4-bedroom Colonial within a "Holler" of transportation, shopping, schools, and what have you. Features like the following can be yours — center entrance traffic pattern — first floor den — 1½ baths — separate dining area — full basement — large lot and low price. See this soon — it's really a honey.



YOU'RE JUST A PLAIN FOOL
if you pass this up. This is one you should buy even if you don't need a home. Maybe your maintenance expense on your present home is so high that an income property like this could be worth thousands a year to you plus a sizeable income. If you're talking cash, this home might be purchased for less than $15,500. There are 3 bedrooms and a 2-car garage. It's the best buy in Rolling Meadows today.

A DIRTY RACKAFLAX is what you'll call yourself if you let some other 2 bedroom home buyer beat you to this one. There isn't a finer, sharper, sweeter, neater home in the northwest suburbs — A real "honeymoon special" if we ever had one to offer. Huge living room, gorgeous kitchen, 2 fireplaces, full basement, attached garage. See this soon — it's a sleeper. (Oh, yes, excellent traffic pattern.)

HOG - WASH
is what you'll say — but it isn't — this home is the ultimate in Biggety-Bigness. Four huge (and we mean huge) bedrooms, a 20 ft. kitchen with acres of wood cabinets, a 21 ft. panelled family room, large living room and fireplace, 2 ceramic baths, 2-car attached garage. (You can't see it — but it's there — We'll show you). All on a spacious half acre. And this is no hogwash — it's priced thousands of dollars below replacement cost — $23,900.

Our Apology To Plumbers

We're plumb sorry.

One article in a recent series appearing in Paddock Publications, titled "American Doctor — Plumber or Saint," has stirred the ire of some members of the plumbing industry. Let us explain.

TO SOME extent the American doctor is revered and damned. One popular criticism is that the doctor is an overpaid technician, someone who has an acquired skill. He is often likened to a plumber since he works on the "pipes" of the body.

There was in the article no intent to deprecate the ancient and honorable trade of plumbing—or medicine for that matter. If the article left this impression, it was unintentional. (B8

Appointed Division Manager

RICHARD SNYDER

Richard Snyder, United States Gypsum Company, has been appointed central industrial division manager, in Chicago. The announcement was made by M. R. Druliner, general manager of the industrial sales department.

A graduate of the University of Illinois, Snyder joined United States Gypsum in 1950. He was sales engineer from 1951 to 1954, when he became sales supervisor. In 1955, Snyder became southwestern district manager in Dallas, returning to Chicago in 1958 as assistant to the general manager of industrial sales.

He lives at 1412 Gloria Drive in Palatine, with his wife, Hannelore, and the children, Hans Robert and Richard Alonzo.

Elected To High Position

John P. Domeier has announced that the senior vice president of Oak Park Federal Savings, Percy E. Wagner, was recently elected president of the American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers.

Domeier, president of the savings firm, stated that the election occurred on the 25th anniversary of Wagner's certification as an A.I.R.E.A. member.

The election took place in Toronto, Canada, at the annual convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards and its affiliated organizations. One of these affiliates is the AIREA, with a membership of some 2,000 individual members throughout the nation who have met the institute's rigid qualifications for membership.

The American Institute of Real Estate Appraisers is a professional organization and its members are designated by the term "M.A.I." (Member, Appraisal Institute). In addition to maintaining high membership requirements and a code of professional conduct, the institute has won nationwide recognition for its work in the field of real estate education and as the publisher of a leading professional quarterly, the "Appraisal Journal." Cancer Scientists Aided By 750 Palatine Families

This week the final returns in the cancer prevention study in Palatine were turned in at the Mt. Prospect office of the northwest suburban chapter of the American Cancer society.

According to Mrs. Bentley L. Buxton, group leader, the response of workers to do the researching was gratifying as well as surprising. The researchers also were encouraged by the willingness of families to participate in the program.

VOLUNTARY assistance in this nation-wide survey being sponsored by the American Cancer society is coming from 500,000 workers in several hundred counties of 22 states across the country. The researchers enrolled 10 families in which there was at least one person over 45 who filled out the questionnaire. Other members of the family over 30 were asked to fill out the form.

The information was put in a sealed envelope by the participant and will be transmitted to scientists who ar conducting the survey. I is estimated that more tha 750 families in this area arc participating in this important research project.

All families enrolled will be followed for the next six years. Cancer cases which occur will be studied in relation to information given in the original questionnaire in 'he hope that clues as to a ıumber of possible causes of cancer will be revealed.

MRS. DAVID C. Talbot, Mrs. Lawrence Burtis, Mrs. Harold P. Berg, Mrs. Ivar Strand, Mrs. Royal S. Brown, Mrs. Edgar W. Trout, Jr., Mrs. S. R. Paddock Sr and Mrs Buxton were researchers in the Palatine area.

Mrs. P. J. Meginnis, Schaumburg's representative on the northwest board, reports that all families interviewed in that area were most willing to participate.

Palatine is represented on the northwest suburban chapter by Stuart R. Paddock Sr., chairman, Dr. Richard E. Howell and Mrs. Buxton. (B9

'You Can Count On Her'

By Mrs. Ellie Anson Clearbrook 9-4655

South Arlington

Our Lady of the Wayside Brownie and Girl Scout troops are having a mother-daughter Christmas party at Pioneer Park Monday, Dec. 7. Each troop will give a Christmas program.

Troop 550, under the leadership of Mrs. Patrick Phibin, will make tray favors for St. Joseph's Home for Christmas.

Girls of troop 102 will go in a group to see the play, "Sleeping Beauty," Sunday, Dec. 6.

South Junior high school girls of troop 564 are making puppets for Children's Memorial hospital as their Christmas service project. Recently this group had its court of awards at the home of its leader, Mrs. Lillian Anderson. Ten girls were awarded badges.

Elk Grove

Brownie and Girl Scout troops of Elk Grove are busy with service projects, too. Last week all troops in the neighborhood participated in the distribution of baskets to needy families.

A cupcake sale was held recently at Higgins school by troop 358. This was one way the girls are earning money to help finance a trip to Galena next spring. Brownie troop 78 donated cup cakes along with mothers of the Scouts and neighbors. This same Brownie group made tree foils with pennies corresponding to their ages in celebration of the Juliette Lowe Friendship fund.

An educational as well as interesting trip was enjoyed last month by troop 676. The girls and their leader, Mrs. Elaine Goettmann, visited the First National Bank of Des Plaines.

A NEW Brownie troop has been formed in Elk Grove under the leadership of Mrs. Ralph Lewis. Nineteen Brownies were invested in troop 4.

Attractive centerpieces were made by troop 596. The girls collected milkweed which they sprayed with copper and then set them in foam.

Mrs. Jean Joy took her troop 202 on a tour of the Hinsdale Health Museum last week.

North Mt. Prospect

Brownie troop 59 of Busse school celebrated its first birthday with a tea for mothers last week. Each girl received a 1-year service star. Two new girls were invested into the troop by the leaders, Mrs. Dolores Haugh and Mrs. Lorne Enszer.

Palatine

Troop 301 welcomes four new members of Winston Park. Mrs. D. V. Sergol is leader of this group.

Brownie troop 612 enjoyed a late cookout and hike in Deer Grove with its leaders, Mrs. Hill and Mrs. Hallquist.

DOINGS

Merry Maids Plan Mother, Daughter Tea

The third meeting of the Medinah Merry Maids was held November 24 in the home of Ruthann Kretschmer; hostess for the evening was Linda Herrmann.

Plans for a mother and daughter Christmas tea were made and committees were chosen. The tea will be held Sunday, Dec. 20 in the kindergarten, from 2 to 4 p.m., and it is hoped that every member and her mother will make plans now to attend.

The next 4-H meeting will be held December 7 in the home of Freita Andrews. Members are reminded to be on time, as the new fine for being late goes into effect at this meeting.

Palatine 4-H Holds Potluck

Palatine township 4-H club held a potluck and achievement night on November 27 in Highland Grove church with their leader, Mr. Bergman on the welcoming committee.

Opening the program were Nancy and Shirley Thurnau, Georgia Bergman and Kathy and Joan O'Connor, pantomiming the song, "French Heels." Steve Bergman gave a speech on keeping a record book, followed by Bill Engler, who spoke on choosing a project. "Let the Sun Shine In" was sung by Joyce Weise, Shirley and Nancy Thurnau, Georgia Bergman and Kathy and Joan O'Connor and various games were played by club members and their parents.

Mr. Bergman informed the group on how 4-H awards were received and closed the program with a farewell speech.

Youths to Attend YMCA Conference

"Dating to Marriage" and "Teenage Futures" are slated for discussion by over 900 high school boys and girls attending a Youth Conference of the YMCA of Metropolitan Chicago Sunday, Dec. 6, from 2 to 9 p.m. in the Sherman hotel of Chicago. On hand from Northwest Suburban YMCA's Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y clubs will be several youths from this area.

Guest speaker at the conference dinner will be Rev. Bob Richards, Olympic pole vault and decathlon champion who will talk to the teenagers about youth problems. Included in the afternoon program will be round-table discussion groups headed by adults but with teenagers participating by talking over their problems.

Four basic areas of discussion have been selected by the Youth Conference committee. The topics and discussion leaders are: "Teenage Delinquency" by Dr. Elmer J. Hjortland, pastor of the United Lutheran church of Oak Park; "Dating to Marriage" by Robert Clarke, student minister of Millikin university; "Current Events" by Justin Fishbein of the Chicago Sun Times; "Teenage Futures" by Dr. Frank Endicott director of placement at Northwestern university.

Dick Lavers of Arlington Heights is Northwest Suburban 'Y's representative working on the Youth Conference. Mr. Lavers is chairman of the local 'Y's boys work committee.

Attends Tax Seminar

Meet 'Annabelle', Unusual Guinea Pig

by NATALIE MEYER

Hello. I'm Annabelle — a very unusual guinea pig, I'll have you know.

First of all, I'm the most widely traveled guinea pig in Arlington Heights and Palatine. I visit a different house every week.

Second of all, I'm black and white, distinctive colors for guinea pigs which are usually brown.

Thirdly, I'm very talkative. Most people think guinea pigs are dumb; not much fun to have around. I'm not dumb, and I'm very much fun to have around. Just ask the teachers in the Oak st. school in Palatine. That's where I live during the week.

I USED TO LIVE in a kindergarten room in Arlington Heights. Little children are fun, but I've grown very fond of the seventh graders in Palatine. Ask the students if you don't think I'm fun to have around.

People have all sorts of notions about me. For example, Mr. Castor whom I went to live with last summer wasn't at all excited about the idea of having me around for three months. But he changed his mind fast during the first week I was there until I was a most important member of the family.

There are some other things you ought to know about me. For instance, I'm a very good eater. Every day I'm fed rabbit pellets, lettuce, carrots, and water. There are guinea pig pellets, but I'm such an unusual guinea pig, that I have to have special food. People say I look funny when I munch carrots.

I'm also a mother. My children don't live with me any more, but during my two short years of life, I've produced 12 beautiful children.

One of my children lives nearby in the Palatine kindergarten that meets in the Methodist church.

OH, I FORGOT to mention with my diet, that I also eat wood and cardboard and grass. These things are not given, of course, but whenever I get a chance I steal a feast. Once a boy took me home with him in a cardboard box. Boy, did I fool him fast. I just settled down for a nice tasty morsel of cardboard and chewed my way out. My regular box is lined with wire.

I didn't run away, though. I love the children too much. That's another distinctive trait of mine. I'll never run away. The door on my box is always open. Sometimes I crawl out and have a fine time sitting behind the cage. I might wander around Miss Thacker's room where I live, but I'd never run away.

My home is always clean. I hate messy housekeepers, don't you? My housekeepers are different every week. While one student holds me, the student that is going to take me home with him for the weekend cleans my cage. That way we get to know each other quite well, and keeping my house clean is no problem for children on weekends.

People laugh at me a lot. Do you know why? They say they laugh at me because I seem so intelligent. I don't know that that's very funny. Of course I'm intelligent. I'll tell you a story about cats just to prove how smart I really am.

CATS ARE A strange breed. I got to know them quite well at Pat Castor's house. He has a big black cat, George Russell. Then there's this cat that lives next door.

In some ways I look like a cat. My ears are short, and I have soft fur. But I have short legs and beady black eyes. Cats don't quite know what to think of me. They keep their distance pretty well, and we've never gotten into a fight. Sometimes the cat next door spends the whole day lying on top of my cage just watching to see how I act.

But to get back to how smart I am. When the cats look like they're a little mad, I run into the hedge and get my back against the wall. Then, if they ever should attack I can easily move in any direction.

During the winter I spend my time in the classroom. Lots of people come to visit and ask how I am. I have many friends. Weekends are special occasions, of course. That's when I got to visit the children's homes.

For Thanksgiving I went to visit Elaine Eppley in Lake Park Estates. Since it was such a long weekend, the children drew out of a hat to see who I would stay with. Otherwise they sign up for ordinary weekends. Twenty-one of the 27 seventh graders have already signed up this year.

SOMETIMES there are special events. Not long ago I was the model for Miss King's eighth grade art class. Oh, you should have seen me pose. I'd put my nose in the air like a real model. Or else I would curl up in a little ball. Once I made a mess and everyone laughed again. I think people sometimes laugh at the silliest things.

Mostly for the modeling, though, I just sat straight, so the artists could draw more easily. When they were all done the best pictures were put on the front bulletin board. When I saw all the different ways that I looked, I didn't believe it was me.

The best picture was given to Mr. Castor for his office. Susan Kleinhans did it, and I thought it was wonderful.

Another special occasion was when they came to take my picture. I was very well behaved then and smiled for the camera. I got tired soon, though, because the flashbulbs kept hurting my eyes.

The things I like best to do are: skittering across the floor, eating grass, and talking.

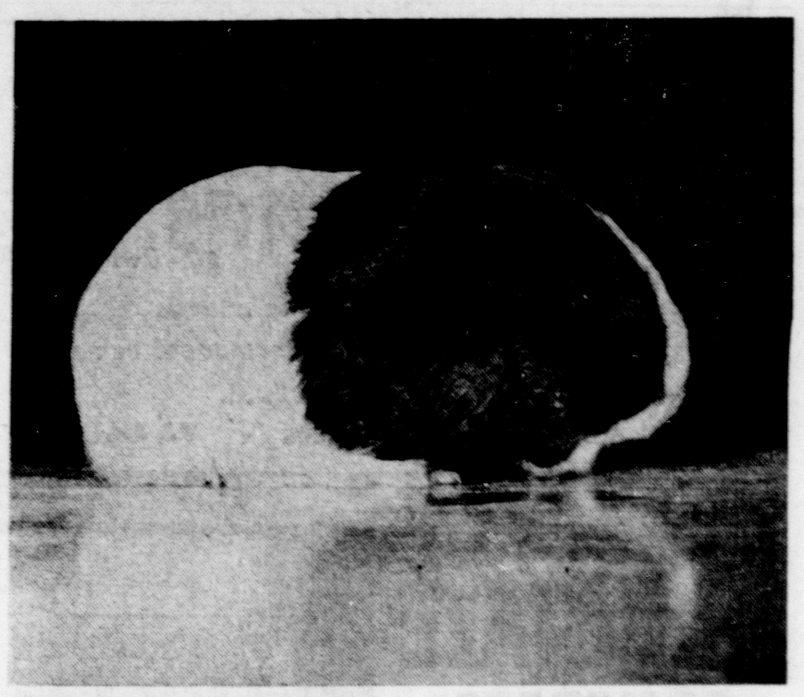
WHEN I DECIDE to skitter, I gather my feet under me and take off. This doesn't happen very often, because it tires me out. Usually I sit quite still; then when no one is expecting it, I just skitter. It is such fun.

I can only eat grass in the summer. When Mr. Castor mows the grass he puts me out. I don't move much, but eat all the grass in one place around me. Then when he is going to cut where I am sitting, he has to move me. I don't like to move fast when I am eating grass.

Talking is the best. People don't know how to describe how I talk very well. In the morning when Miss Thacker comes into the room, I whistle and whistle, because I've become very lonely during the night. I also talk whenever anyone holds me and pets me. Then it's kind of like a purring sound but much louder. This tells people that I'm happy. Now don't you think that's smart?

AS WE SEE ANNABELLE...

THIS IS ME nuzzling into Susan's shoulder. When I'm held like this I talk and talk. Susan Kleinhans got to be in this picture, because she drew the best likeness of me, but it isn't on the board because Mr. Castor has it in his office. I think some of the drawings here are rather good.



THIS IS ME, Annabelle! You can see that I have a beautiful black and white coat of fur. I'm being very quiet here posing for the camera. (Some people say I'm just a ham at heart. I don't know though. I just like people.)

Hospital Administrator Will Attend Conference

A two-day, state-wide conference on Our Changing Hospitals, to be held in Springfield Thursday, Dec. 3, and Friday, Dec. 4, will be attended by Alan B. Campbell, administrator of Northwest Community Hospital.

The conference, which is also the 37th annual meeting of the Illinois Hospital association, will be held at the Hotel Abraham Lincoln.

Ray E. Brown, president of the state hospital organization, will deliver the key-note address at the conference at the annual business assembly at 1:30 p.m. Thursday, when changes in hospital service, brought about by new social, medical and economic conditions, will be outlined.

FIVE WORKSHOPS will begin the conference Thursday at 10 a.m., when prominent Illinois hospital officials will lead discussions on "Building Strength into the Hospital Organization." The workshops will cover the relationship of the hospital to the trustee, auxiliary, community, medical staff, employee and patient, it was announced.

Dr. Edwin L. Crosby, director of the American Hospital association, will be the banquet speaker Thursday evening. He will talk on the "Status of Relationships Between Hospitals and Medicine."

Dr. E. T. Thompson, chief of Intramural Research Activities of the U. S. Public Health Service, Washington, D. C., will participate in a major session of the conference, entitled "Planning and Financing of Progressive Patient Care," to be held Friday morning, Dec. 4.

DR. RUTH E. CHURCH deputy director of the State Department of Public Health, Illinois, will take part in another Friday session covering the "Role of the General Hospital in Rehabilitation." Others who will participate are Dr. Dan C. Ogle, president of the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation, Peoria; Jacob G. Gold, executive director of the Orthodox Jewish Home for the Aged, Chicago, and Emil O. Stahlhut, chairman of the Special Committee on Aging, IHA, and administrator of the Abraham Lincoln Memorial Hospital, Lincoln.

Delbert L. Price, president-elect of the state association, and administrator of the Children's Memorial Hospital, Chicago, will be the luncheon speaker Friday. Price will be installed as the 1960 president of the Illinois Hospital Association at the conference.

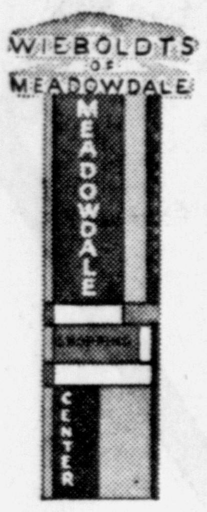
Wieboldt's Christmasland

where Santa stops . . . where the family shops



from the top of the tower

by JUNE MARLOWE

Where are the elevators?

Lady rushed up to me here in the new store at Meadowdale last week.

"Where are the elevators?" she asked.

"There aren't any!" I had to tell her, "and we're glad. Take a look around you, ma'am, at this light airy 150,000 square feet of wide open retail store all on one floor! Everything's right out where you can get AT it! You can see from one department to the next."

'Don't fence me in?" She smiled.

"THAT'S the idea!"

In recent years the trend in department stores has been toward bigger open areas to shop in. Women like to wander freely as they shop and look.

FOR ALL WE KNOW, Wieboldt's big T-shape Meadowdale store may be one of the biggest one-story department stores in the whole country!

I NEVER WILL GET OVER being a little girl, I guess, when it comes to parties, parades and pageantry. The traffic jams, the cops blowing their whistles right spang out here in the middle of Meadowdale Shopping Center . . . those wonderful kids from Dundee Community High School tooting their cold horns into the bright wintry air, morning of Wieboldt's grand opening . . . the hum of people inside the store . . . the wondrous array and glitter, the sense of richness and newness-just-unpacked . . . the colors, the new smell, the giddy inviting air of it all! Well! I never get over my excitement at a store opening. Hope I never do! And everywhere, the beautiful children . . . everywhere you looked.

The plums are in the pudding

Our candy shop is filled with delicious goodies. It's time to trim the festive house . . . and think about how best to serve our families and friends.

Wiebold't has (brand new for the holidays) a handsome dinner service in Johnson Bros. Windsorware. If you've ever used any of this English glazed pottery, you know how lovely and how very durable it is. I've had some for twenty years now. And the reason I bought it in the first place was that I'd always admired my grandmother's rose-patterned Windsorware shining on her shelves through many decades of family gatherings. . . .

Some of the new holiday pieces feature both male and hen turkeys, some just one bird, others a bird on the wing Another pattern has an autumn fruit motif that is just plain beautiful. All have interesting shapes and are richly, handsomely colored — not at all heavy or baroque. Good to touch, and good to look upon!

Incidentally, if you haven't seen our china and glassware department, it's something to see! Especially when the sun's in full shine, lighting up the exquisite glass colors and kindling the prismatic crystal.

There's stunning contemporary Swedish cut glass and pressed glass from Germany (they make it in a press, the same way light bulbs are laid out).

T'other day, the people from Haeger Potteries in Dundee were in our store. They set up their kilns right there in the ceramic department and made their pottery. It was fascinating to watch. Can't say I'm ready to do-it-myself just yet! It was good to work with these creative neighbors of ours. Imagine! There are hundreds of these artistic people at work practically right next door to us.

P.S. News For Children!

Santa Claus arrives in Meadowdale on Saturday, December 5th. He'll have his sack full of candy for all the kids! And we're inviting the old gentleman to set up shop (and visiting hours) right smack dab in one of Wieboldt's windows!

NOW WIEBOLDT'S MEADOWDALE, YOUR NEIGHBOR, INVITES YOU OVER!

Bogged Down in Paint

About once in every 10 years I become imbued with the spirit of derring-do and decide to do my own decorating. The original do-it-yourself girl. I always figure that if others can, why can't I. I'm beginning to find out why I can't.

In the first place I can never make up my mind as to colors. When I finally light on some weird shade such as elephant gray, I have to listen to the moans and groans of both family and friends. They have no vision, no imagination. I like elephant gray bathrooms. It's different. To say the least.

Having fought the good fight, I finally get the paint. There I bog down. Sometimes I look at the paint cans for months and months. When I finally take brush in hand, the entire house comes apart. Some people can paint one small room and not upset the rest of the home. Not I.

How anyone can create such havoc with two little paint brushes, one paint can, one roller and one step ladder is almost beyond me. But, I'm the girl who can do it. Everything, including me, has little dabs of paint on it. Anyone caring enough to ask what color paint I am using, can get a good idea by looking at my right arm where I leaned against the doorjamb. I always lean against the doorjamb. It is all part of my method.

Now I am in the process of looking at three rolls of wallpaper that I purchased in a moment of weakness. If I have trouble making up my mind on paint color, it is nothing to my making up my mind on wallpaper. Sometimes I spend years poring over the books. Mostly I never get to the papering stage. Just looking.

But, this time I am going to be strong. I'm going to get that stupid paper on the wall if it's the last thing I ever do. And, at the rate I am putting it off, it will be. I may even go to my final rest clutching those three rolls to me. Instead of a lily, you know.

Tea to Welcome Mrs. Church Home From Far East

A tea to welcome home Congresswoman Marguerite Stitt Church is being planned by members of the board of the Women's Republican club of the 13th congressional district of Illinois. Honored guests will be the presidents of all Republican Women's clubs in the district and the top woman official from each of the other Republican organizations. This includes the Young Republicans, the Republican Workshops and the high school and college age groups.

Tea will be served at the home of Mrs. Walter A. Strong, 1377 Tower rd., Winnetka, Tuesday, Dec. 8, at 2 p.m. Each township committeewoman will be a liason hostess for the guests from her own township.

Mrs. Church, a member of the house foreign affairs committee, will have just returned from an extended trip to both the near and the far east.

Good Advice

Man must cease attributing his problems to his environment, and learn again to exercise his will—his personal responsibility in the realm of faith and morals.—Albert Schweitzer.

THE GOLDEN WEDDING anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hugo R. Fick, 255 W. Hellen rd., Palatine, will be celebrated by the couple with a family get-together Friday evening, Dec. 4, the date of their marriage 50 years ago at home in Chicago. The Ficks have made their home in Palatine for the past five years. They have one son, Norman, who resides with his wife and two children in Chicago.

Mrs. Fick suffered a stroke last January and has been bed-ridden since. Her husband retired in 1955, after working at Walther Memorial hospital in Chicago for five years. Previous to that he owned his own business, the Midwest Tea Co.

She Makes 150 Pounds of Candy For Christmas Gift-Giving

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by LOIS SEILER Food Editor

More than 150 pounds of candy are made each year by Mrs. Sheridan T. Winter of Prospect Heights.

This enterprising and ambitious woman starts in after Thanksgiving making and packaging several different varieties of candy for Christmas giving.

During the year she finds attractive little dishes and saves all boxes that can be used. These she edges with paper doilies and purchases candy cups to place each piece in when packing.

This good cook has shared several of her favorite candy recipes with us this week.

One is for Caramel Turteletts, a very popular and chewy confection consisting of pecans covered with caramel and dipped in delicious chocolate.

THIS SAME dipping chocolate is used to coat her luscious Old English Nut Toffee. The toffee may also be covered with chopped nuts if desired.

Another of her recipes is for crunchy and flavorful peanut brittle, which contains two cups of salted peanuts.

And Mrs. Winter's fourth recipe is for a rich and buttery fudge which makes 4½ pounds of candy. This creamy fudge has several variations. Nuts may be added, or tiny marshmallows that have been cut in half can be forced into balls of fudge and then rolled in chopped nuts.

For gift giving Mrs. Winter has often poured the fudge into small bread pans lined with foil, then removed the solid loaves of fudge and gift wrapped them. This way the fudge stays moist and fresh and can be sliced as needed.

In her gift boxes she often inserts jordon almonds or adds stuffed fruits or sugared orange rind, that has one half dipped in chocolate for color.

ALL OF THESE are excellent recipes, designed to please the most discriminating gourmet. What better way to say "Merry Christmas" than an elegant box of superb homemade candies from your own kitchen? $t is a gift which all age groups appreciate and enjoy.

Mrs. Winter has several helpful hints for successful candy making. Of course, the most important requisite is a candy thermometer.

A large marble slab is also necessary although heavy cookie sheets placed over ice cubes may be substituted. She always places the marble slab in the refrigerator overnight, or it may be covered and set out of doors. If a great deal of candy is made, steel bars that can be placed on the marble eliminates the washing of many pans. Heavy sauce pans should be used to prevent burning, and candy should be made on a day when the humidity is low.

Good candy takes time and no substitutes should be used, but if care is taken the finished product will look and taste professional.

IN ADDITION to her culinary skill, this talented woman has many other interests and hobbies. She makes floral arrangements and centerpieces for all seasons of the year, which she also gives as gifts, and is an accomplished seamstress, making her own clothes, hats and embroidery.

Mrs. Winter formerly managed the Chesterfield country club and now operates her own accounting service and insurance agency from her home. She is also associated with Smith and Dawson Realtors.

And if time permits, this busy woman attends the Prospect Heights Book Review club and the Arlington Heights Woman's club.

Caramel Turteletts

2 cups granulated sugar
1 cup light corn syrup
2 cups 22 per cent cream (warm)
1/3 cup butter
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla

In a 4-quart saucepan cook sugar, syrup and one cup of the cream about 10 minutes. Then add the remaining cup of warm cream very slowly and cook about five minutes.

Have flame only high enough to prevent boiling over.

Add butter, a small amount at a time. When candy thermometer reads about 230 degrees F, lower flame and cook slowly at 244 degrees. Add salt and vanilla and stir gently. Let stand 10 minutes.

When caramel is slightly cool, drop by spoonsful onto a thick layer of pecan meats which have been placed on two cookie sheets. Leave a one-inch space between dots so that Turtletts may be sparated. When sheet is filled, place in refrigerator for about 20 minutes until carmel is set. If caramel becomes too cold it will be necessary to let it stand in room temperature about 30 minutes before covering with chocolate.

Chocolate for Dipping

Prepare this before starting the caramel or later if you are going to dip other candy at the same time.

Melt 1½ pounds dark or milk chocolate over hot water, about 175 degrees F, in upper part of double boiler. Keep covered; let stand about 20 minutes and then beat until smooth

Remove from hot water and let cool to about 78 degrees. Room must be cool for this work, not over 70 degrees, and chocolate must be the right temperature. Test one or two pieces. If chocolate does not set on Turteletts within 5 or 6 minutes, chocolate or room is too warm. If it sets instantly and is very dull, chocolate is too cool.

Drop turteletts into cool melted chocolate and pick up with fork, shaking off surplus chocolate. Place rounded side up on waxed paper. Let stand in cool room until set.

Makes 2½ pounds.

Old English Nut Toffee

½ pound butter (do not substitute)
2 cups sifted granulated cane sugar
½ cup finely chopped almonds with skins on (optional)

In a 2-quart heavy saucepan combine the above ingredients, placing butter in first, then sifted sugar and last the chopped nuts. (¾ pound butter may be used for richer toffee.) Place over medium flame and bring to the boiling point, stirring continuously only until mixture reaches 212 degrees.

Continue to cook over medium flame until it reaches 300 degrees. During cooking process if butter separates from other ingredients, beat until thoroughly blended, raising or lowering flame as necessary. Do not stir after temperature reaches 212 degrees unless butter separates or mixture is browning too rapidly on the sides!

When it reaches 300 degrees, remove from heat, stir gently a few seconds and pour at once onto a lightly greased marble. Spread toffee with candy spatula.

When cool but not hard, mark off in squares. When cold, break into pieces. Dip in coating chocolate and drop into ground nuts or leave plain.

Makes 2 pounds toffee.

Any left-over nut meats and left-over dipping chocolate may be combined and dropped by spoonsful onto waxed paper to make nut clusters.

Peanut Brittle

1½ cups granulated cane sugar
1½ cups light corn syrup
¼ cup water
2 tablespoons butter
2 dups salted peanuts
1 teaspoon baking soda
½ teaspoon vanilla
2 teaspoons water

In a 2-quart heavy saucepan cook sugar, syrup and water until thermometer reads 275 degrees. Remove thermometer, lower flame to medium.

Add butter and stir until dissolved. Add salted peanuts all at once and stir constantly for about five minutes over medium flame.

Place thermometer in candy again and continue to cook until brittle is delicately brown, about 300 degrees, and remove from fire.

Combine the baking soda, water and vanilla and add to the candy. Stir entire mixture until brittle rises, about 30 seconds.

Pour onto well-greased marble and spread thin. When slightly cool, lift both ends and turn over with fingers; spread as thin as possible. Keep turning until candy is well cool. When cold, break into pieces. Store in air tight jars or tins.

Makes two pounds.

Fudge

4½ cups granulated sugar
1 large can evaporated milk
¼ pound butter
2 large packages semi-sweet chocolate bits
1 10¾ ounce bar sweet milk chocolate
1 jar marshmallow creme
1 tablespoon vanilla

Mix the sugar, milk and butter together in a heavy, 3-quart saucepan. Place on medium flame, stirring constantly, until thermometer reads 234 degrees.

Remove from fire and stir in two large packages of semi-sweet chocolate bits and the milk chocolate. When blended, add the marshmallow creme and vanilla. Beat until smooth.

Pour into square buttered pans to about a one-inch thickness. When cold, cut into squares and let sides of squares dry slightly before packing. This is a rich, buttery fudge and should be stored in a cool place.

Yield: 4½ pounds.

Variations:

1. Two cups of chopped nutmeats may be added to the fudge.

2. The fudge may be poured into little bread pans that have been lined with foil. When cool, the fudge may be removed and gift-wrapped. These loaves will stay moist and fresh and can be sliced as needed.

3. When fudge has set and is cool enough to handle, it may be rolled into small balls. Tiny marshmallows that have been cut in half can be forced into the center. Roll the fudge balls into chopped nutmeats.

A few drops of green food coloring can be added to finely-chopped nut meats. Rub through your hands, spread the colored chopped nuts thinly on waxed paper to dry and then use.

Ruth Ruhnow Becomes Bride Of Wendell Schoenbeck

Six attendants wearing peacock velvet gowns, preceded Miss Ruth Ruhnow down the aisle of St. Paul Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect on October 24, when she became the bride of Wendell Schoenbeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schoenbeck of Rand rd., Palatine.

The bride was given in marriage by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer W. Ruhnow, 310 W. Fremont, Arlington Heights. Rev. R. O. Bartz performed the 6 p.m. double ring ceremony. As organist, Elmer Jackisch, accompanied Miss Myra Clausing, as she sang "Wedding Benediction" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The church pews were trimmed with satin bows and greens, with vases of white chrysanthemums decorating the altar.

The bridal gown, a white organiza taffeta, had long sleeves, a scoop neckline and a lace trimmed bodice with gatherings on the sides. The skirt, draping into two folds, formed a bustle effect. Part of the ribbon from the bride's mother's wedding bouquet, was used to line the bodice. The veil, borrowed from a friend, Mrs. Carol Goebbert, held a small hat trimmed with seed pearls.

MRS. KENT Molemkamp of Mt. Prospect, served the bride as matron of honor and bridesmaids were the groom's cousin, Mrs. Darlene Dornan, of Arlington Heights, two schoolmates, Miss Micki McClaskey of Rolling Meadows, Mrs. Sharon Walter, of Chicago and Mrs. Carol Goebbert of Palatine. Their street-length princess style gowns had scoop necklines, matching taffeta bows in the back and cap sleeves. Headpieces were bands of peacock velvet with flat bows, and accenting the ensembles were bouquts of yellow snowdrifts with shastas in the middle of three lemon leaves. Dressed alike was Linda Fay Ruhnow, 8-year-old sister of the bride.

Serving the groom were Elwood Goebbert of Palatine, best man; Michael Ruhnow, brother of the bride, Dave Dornan, relative, Robert Wille, school friend, and Robert Schaefges, all of Arlington Heights. Junior usher was Warren Schoenbeck, brother of the groom.

THE BRIDE'S mother wore a champagne crepe sheath dress with chiffon bodice and hat and shoes of nile green. Her corsage was made of green cymbidium orchids.

A silk copen sheath dress, with matching hat and shoes, was the choice of the groom's mother, who also wore a white orchid corsage.

The reception for 350 guests was held in the VFW in Des Plaines, after which, the couple departed on a 2-week honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and Canada.

The bride attended Arlington Heights high school and is a secretary in the research library of the Universal Oil Products company. The groom, a graduate of Arlington high school, is presently employed at the Northern Illinois Gas company. They are now at home on Rand rd., Box 43, Palatine. (Jenart Studio.

Holiday Entertaining

The traditional Twelve Days of Christmas, famed in song and story, have generally come to mean the six weeks at the end of each year.

During these weeks friends are welcome to drop in casually, with or without a special invitation. Keep on hand several varieties of interesting snack treats and a generous jar of real mayonnaise. With these basic ingredients, plus a little of this or that to be found in the refrigerator or on the emergency shelf, it is easy to prepare in minutes a colorful tray of pass-around goodies to go along with tea or coffee, cold drinks or a sparkling punch bowl.

Here are a few suggestions, and many others will come to mind.

Roquefort Cheese Balls

¼ cup crumbled Roquefort cheese

1 3-oz. package cream cheese

1 tablespoon real mayonnaise

Paprika

Combine all ingredients, except paprika. Shape into balls. Roll in paprika and chill. To serve, pierce with very thin pretzel sticks. Yields: 24 cheese balls.

Mustard Franks

Cut cocktail frankfurters into quarters lengthwise. Arrange into triangles on shredded wheat wafers. Combine 2 tablespoons real mayonnaise with 1 tablespoon mustard-with-horseradish and 1 tablespoon pickle relish. Spoon into center of triangles. At serving time, broil until frankfurters are brown. Yield: 24 canapes.

Egg - Mayonnaise Dip

3 hard-cooked eggs

1 3-oz package cream cheese

½ cup real mayonnaise

¼ teaspoon grated onion

1 teaspoon paprika

Salt and pepper to taste

Press eggs through a fine sieve. Add remaining ingredients and blend well. Chill. Serve as a dip with potato snack crackers.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

by DOLORES HAUGH

Christmas Caroling Party

The time of year is here when across the snow we listen to hear the lovely Christmas carols that are reserved for just this season. Because the carols are so well loved and because we usually sing them for such a limited time, why not plan on a Caroling Party. Again, with all the holiday preparations, it will be a very simple affair. It can even be quite impromptu with just a spur of the moment call to a few friends, a fire laid in the fireplace and a cup of coffee and Christmas Cookies afterwards.

Invitations

On the back of a musical score of a Christmas song, which can be obtained very reasonably or which may have come with last year's Christmas cards, paste on a large green musical note on which the following verse has been typed:

SING TO THE TUNE OF JINGLE BELLS
Come along, Come along,
Come along with me,
On December 21st, a party
there will be.
Dress up warm,
At eight we'll meet, the winter winds do blow,
Together we will harmonize
- acaroling we go.

STATE ANY instructions such as telling talented friends to bring along their accordion or harmonica. Any accompaniment helps, so if nothing else, bring strings of jingle bells on plastic strips along to provide background mood. Be sure to invite friends who will enjoy this sort of thing and will fall into the singing whole heartedly even if they are not operetta sopranos or Carusos.

A few practice runs on the carols you want to sing helps you and your hubby, or girl friends, as this makes an excellent teen age party, carry the melody. If teen agers go out caroling it is wise to give instructions such as how long they should be gone and make arrangements with one or two mothers to invite the carolers in to get warm and have a cup of cocoa or coke.

Also it is wise to decide that any monetary gifts received will go to a church group or charity.

Decorations

The table will, of course, be the focal point when the carolers return and also the fireplace. Have the fire laid and ready to roar into action the moment you get in the front door. If you want a little spectacular effect, throw in some salt, which produces a yellow glow, calcium chloride, orange, borax, green, potassium chlorate, violet blue, etrontium nitrate, red. These chemicals can be obtained at the drug store and can be thrown into the fire direct or put into solution and the logs painted, dried and then they will burn in technicolor longer.

A CHRISTMAS decorat ion on the fireplace should of course, carry out the caroling theme. Why not dress one or two Ginny dolls as carolers? Place them in a background of greens, on a carpet of cotton. Your children can do this as their contribution to the gala affair.

The table should repeat the Christmas theme, using red and green on white. A simple menu will aid the hostess in joining her friends more quickly and also be prepared well in advance. Some kind of hot casserole, rolls, coffee and cake can be made ahead of time. The rolls and casserole can be popped into the oven immediately upon arval home. Hot coffee too, by the gallons should be perking at once.

Decorate and garnish with holly, on food stuff, cut holly leaves from green pepper and use pimentos for the berries. Dessert can be a white frosted cake topped with little dime store elves playing musical instruments, backed by a forest of little green brush trees. If you are talented with the pastry tube, the words to a carol complete with musical score is also attractive.

Procedure

Make sure your guests are all equipped with bells, words and music and also flashlights, in case some don't know the words. Stay only the allotted time. Return home, light fire and put in casserole, start coffee and heat punch. A simple punch is pineapple juice with cinnamon sticks in it, served in mugs.

Provide boot space for your guests and also hangers on the shower curtain rod in the bathroom for drippy coats if the weather cooperates. Serve as soon as you are ready, but take your time and let the guests get warm and chatty before the food. Make it a real relaxed affair for yourself and guests.

IT IS A LOVELY way to sing in the holiday season and get one's soul in the proper spirit. So put on your mittens, sound an E, and off you go into the snow singing to the stars, signing your musical Christmas greeting to all your neighbors and friends. (SSD

Hatlen Women Report Card Party a Success

"The event was a great success, especially the lovely table prizes and individual table gifts," commented members and guests who attended the November 18 public card party, sponsored by the Women's organization of Hatlen Heights.

Of the 13 gifts awarded at the event, the main prize, a large picnic table and benches, was won by Mrs. B. Swanson of 107 Audrey, Mt. Prospect, who, along with others present were served home made cakes and coffee.

Monies collected from this ways and means project will go toward the organization's charities, some of which are; the Rolling Meadows school for mentally retarded children, the Boy and Girl Scouts and the Northwest Community hospital.

From the organization comes a "thank you" to all the contributors, workers and the press, for making the worthwhile project successful. (S

THE BRITISH COLONIAL HOTEL in Nassau was "home" for five days recently for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Saunders, 304 Elmhurst rd., Prospect Heights. The couple combined business with pleasure while Clark Equipment Co. of Battle Creek entertained its top 12 dealers at the hotel. Mr. Saunders is district sales manager for Clark's.

DANSK DESIGNS, designed by Jens H. Quistgaard, includes tableware especially suited for the season of holiday entertaining ahead. Dansk is well-known for three collections. One is made up of lightweight burnt umber flamestone casseroles and serving pieces that cook open flame or oven. Outstanding is the casserole with warming stand and the coffee and tea sets. Staved teak collection has serving pieces in natural, water-resistant Siamese teak designed with sculptural simplicity. The colorful Kobenstyle collection comes in brilliant yellow, red and turquoise porcelain in pieces in which the hostess can cook, bake and serve. Dansk designs can be seen at Dirigo, 170 N. Milwaukee, Wheeling. (S

Homemaker Can Use Turkey Bones for Soup

Practically the only leftover you have after the leftovers of a Thanksgiving dinner are gone, is the skelton of the turkey which is delicately known as the turkey "rack." And if you think you can't use this particular leftover you're wrong. Because the frugal homemaker can make a truely delicious turkey soup out of it.

The recipe for this unusual turkey soup calls for a handy package of chicken noodle soup mix. This gives the soup a savory flavor as well as additional nutrients. Chopped celery and carrots round out the necessary ingredients.

IT IS suggested that the turkey "rack" be cooked in the water for three or four hours which results in an excellent stock, the secret of good turkey soup. This will produce about three quarts of stock for the soup.

This superlative soup, served with hot buttered biscuits, is a nourishing and appetizing way to serve what's left of the Thanksgiving bird.

TURKEY SOUP

Turkey Rack from roast turkey

Water, about 5 quarts

1 cup coarsely chopped celery, cooked

1½ cups coarsley chopped carrots cooked

3 packages chicken noodle soup mix

Cover turkey rack with water and simmer, covered, 3-½ to 4 hours. Remove meat from bones and strain stock if desired. Return meat to stock, then add celery, carrots and noodle soup mix. Simmer 7 minutes. Makes 10 to 12 servings. (SSD

Meadows Juniors Plan Children's Holiday Parties

Final plans for their annual children's Christmas party will be made December 7 when members of Rolling Meadows Junior Woman's club meet in the home of Dottie Frye, 4206 Owl drive, Rolling Meadows. At this year's party, the children will bring gifts for Santa Claus to distribute to underprivileged children.

Club members are asked to tag each gift as to whether it is for a boy or girl and approximate age. Entertainment, refreshments and Santa's bended knee will welcome the children Saturday afternoon, Dec. 12, at the Rolling Meadows bank.

A meeting of the community achievement committee was held November 30 when members sewed bean bags while discussing plans for the Christmas party they will again give for children of the Clearbrook School for Retarded Children. The bean bags will be used as part of their gift to the school. The party is to be held on the last day of school before the children's Christmas vacation. (S

Legion Auxiliary To Participate In Yule Program

Mrs. Irene Weidner, president of Merle Guild unit, American Legion auxiiiary, announces that the local guild will again participate in the annual Christmas gift shop project, a program sponsored by the auxiliary in veterans' hospitals as part of a vast rehabilitation program.

Shops, stocked with hundreds of items suitable for Christmas giving, are set up in the hospitals and veterans recriving $20 or less per month government compensation, are allowed to select, without cost, gifts for members of their families. Auxiliary members wrap the gifts and the package is mailed without identification of the sponsoring organization.

Mrs. Dorothy Petersen, rehabilitation chairman of the local unit, reports that members have made contributions toward the insulin, vaponefrin, treasure chest and hospitality funds, as well as canteen books, Downey nursery and Easter gifts. (S

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

An Evening of Opera

Dear Peg:

It is so easy to forget how thrilling and inspiring great music can be when you're exposed to it as infrequently as many of us are. Not that most of us wouldn't love to have season tickets to the concerts, it's that we're at that time in our lives when the raising of our children and the housekeeping require all the time we have to give and only rarely are we given the opportunity of a few hours with musicians playing or singing the great music of the ages. I was never made more aware of this fact than I was while sitting in the Civic Opera House last week, watching the dress rehearsal of La Gioconda (I believe the last time I attended anything in the Opera House was a couple of years ago when the girls and I saw the Nutcracker Suite danced there). It was such a thrill to be sitting in the middle of the Opera House, just twenty-three rows back, with absolutely no one in front to obstruct our full view of the stage. Actually, if we had had seats for one of the regular performances we couldn't have seen or heard as well as we did at the full dress rehearsal.

I was so excited when Nancy called just a few days before and said that she, as a patron of the Lyric Theatre, had a pass for two to the dress rehearsal of this opera and would I like to go and take someone with me. There are very few things that I would take Megan out of school for a day to see or hear, but this was one of them — to me, the rare opportunity of an afternoon at the opera was more to her advantage than an afternoon with arithmetic that particular day. Needless to say, she agreed.

Not realizing how well attended the dress rehearsals are, I was surprised to arrive 40 minutes before the rehearsal and find a line waiting to get into the lobby of the Opera House — the seating arrangement is first come first served anywhere except in the first twenty-two rows downstairs and the seats were almost all filled. With the exception of three short interruptions, while the maestro gave some instructions and repeated a few phrases, the opera proceeded exactly as it was to do for the following opening night performance.

I had really forgotten how large the stage is at the Opera House and was amazed to see the tremendous size of the scenery — high walls and a second story balcony for the opening courtyard scene and the bow of a ship which seemed to be two stories high for the second act. The costumes, representing the ruling class in Spain at the time of the Inquisition, were richly jeweled velvets and laces in vivid colors.

The story of the opera (always incidental to the music) is concerned with a lovely ballad singer who has a tragic life and death, having her love for a nobleman spurned and her blind mother condemned a witch by the villain whose advances she resists. Eileen Farrell as Gioconda, the ballad singer, and Richard Tucker as the nobleman filled the Opera House with their rich full voices and thrilled all who were fortunate enough to be hearing them. Megan sat entranced throughout even the longest arias and of course was so delighted to see the ballet, the Dance of the Hours, performed in the third act. This was a never-to-be-forgotten experience for both of us.

My love,
Patty

Sorority Activities

Panhellenic

The third meeting of the year for the Des Plaines Panhellenic club will be held Thursday, Dec. 10, at 1 p.m. in Old Orchard country club. Following the luncheon will be a dramatic Christmas reading given by one of the members, Ellie Anson, of Mt. Prospect. Ellie was a speech major at Northwestern and is experienced in radio work, children's theater productions and has given many book reviews and dramatic readings.

A good membership is needed at this meeting because the club will vote on changing its name and also on joining the National Panhellenic association. Dues will also be payable at this time. Luncheon reservations can be made by calling Mrs. Anson at CL 9-4655. All national sorority members living in Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Prospect Heights and Palatine are invited.

Chi Omega

A busy evening will be in store for the Chicago-North Shore junior alumnae of Chi Omega at their Tuesday, Dec. 8 meeting which will be held at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Alex Vogl, 720 Coronet, Glenview. The members will be filling stockings for children at the Evanston Receiving Home of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society.

Another attraction at the December meeting will be a bake sale with fancy cakes, pies, coffee cakes, muffins and brownies made by members.

Tuesday, Dec. 15, at 8 p.m., Chi O's and their husbands will decorate the Evanston Receiving Home. At this annual affair, they decorate the main dining room, the entrance hall and the library, which the Chi O's have furnished. Mrs. Horace S. Villars Jr. of Elk Grove, past welfare chairman, and Mrs. Frank Strong of Arlington Heights, past president of the group, will be on hand to give helpful decorating hints. Plans will also be made for the Valentine Cupid dance.

All area Chi Omegas who have been out of school for only 10 years or less are invited to attend this meeting.

Alpha Omicron Pi

The annual Christmas party of the northwest suburban alumnae chapter of Alpha Omicron Pi will be held December 9 at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. James H. Murray, 9437 Potter rd., Des Plaines.

The evening will be entirely social and members are requested to bring dollar donations for the ruby fund, a special philanthropy of AOPI.

All AOPI alumnae in this area are invited. Those wishing further information are asked to call Mrs. Sam Cullison, CL 5-5410.

Delta Delta Delta

Tri Deltas will open the Christmas social season with their annual pine Christmas party for husbands Saturday, Dec. 5, beginning at 8:30 p.m. The party will be held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mitchell, 433 N. Prospect, Park Ridge. Mrs. Bushnell Fullerton of Park Ridge is chairman of the party which will feature a midnight buffet. Entertainment is being planned by Mrs. Rollyn F. Meyers of Des Plaines.

Mrs. George Busse of Mt. Prospect, CL 5-3932, is accepting reservations.

Pi Beta Phi

The annual Christmas party for members of the Pi Beta Phi Alumnae club of Arlington Heights will be held in the home of Mrs. John Kehe, 638 N. Highland, Arlington Heights. The Wednesday, Dec. 9. meeting will be opened with group singing under the direction of the Pi Phi music chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Brown. A short business meeting will follow.

Each Pi Phi is asked to bring a $1 gift, which will be distributed in a novel manner. Refreshments will be served.

Co-hostesses for the party will be: Mrs. Robert Lollar, Mrs. Lawrence Brown and Mrs. Ray Anderson.

The monthly bridge group met in the home of Mrs. William Hannum December 2. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Gordon Martin, Mrs. Dorothy Starek and Mrs. Sam Clark Jr.

Alpha Chi Omega

Northwest Suburban Alumnae club of Alpha Chi Omega sorority will meet Monday, Dec. 7 at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. William G. Grashorn, Arlington Heights. Co-hostess for the evening will be Mrs. Paul M. Black. The president, Mrs. Ralph Davis, will preside over the meeting.

The group has planned to spend the Christmas meeting making rhythm instruments and bean bags for students at the Clearbrook School for Retarded Children in Rolling Meadows. Also candle arrangements will be on display for those interested. Profits from the candle sales will go toward a schoarship which will be awarded by the speech clinic on the Northwestern campus, an Alpha Alpha charity for Alpha Chi Omega.

Following the business meeting, refreshments will be served during a social hour.

Suburbs Are Proud Of Her!

by JON PETERSON

I first met Dorothy Macleod, as most people do, by looking at her pictures stacked high on the club room walls of Idle Hour Stable in Park Ride.

Wherever you turn there is a picture captioned "Dorothy Macleod," with a short note about her horse and the mention of another championship.

When I grew tired of looking at her pictures, I never have covered them all, I glanced through the picture window into the ring and saw a frail figure atop a well-muscled spirited horse. Nothing in her bearing showed who she was, but the way she rode told me it was Dorothy.

She is a blue-eyed beauty by anyone's standards and looks at least six years younger than her 29 years. She stands just an inch over five feet, barely tipping the scales over 100 ounds.

Dorothy was born on the northwest side of Chicago near Higgins road, where she still lives with her mother and her pet beagle, Spike.

Twelve years ago when she attended Schurz high school as a junior she started riding seriously, at least seriously enough for horse owner, Si Jayne to groom her as his rider. The first three years were spent winning championships for herself and Si in the amateur divisions of most of the midwestern shows. By the time she was 20 Dorothy had turned professional and was jumping in the "International."

CALLED a "natural" by most people she is considered by experts to be the outstanding woman rider in the United States, if not the world. There is no other professional "lady" rider in the country who is as well known or who has ridden as many hunters and jumpers to victory.

With the completion of her triumphal eastern tour on Windsor Castle, Dorothy bashfully admitted to breaking over 15 records. In the past seven years she has won over 750 championships and has been champion of every show she's entered at one time or other.

She was the first woman to win the $1,000 stake in the history of the International Horse show. She was also the first of her sex to win the jumper championships at Harrisburg, Washington, and the National. When asked what the greatest moment in her career was she said, "winning the championship at the Garden climaxed my whole career."

Dorothy was the first woman to win the $5,000 big jump stake at Harrisburg, and is the first person, man or woman, to win the professional triple-crown consisting of championships at Harrisburg, Washington, and the National.

"I owe all my winnings to two things," said Dorothy, "Si Jayne, and the fact that I ride only horses he hand picks."

Dorothy has great faith in Si's ability as a horseman. She pointed out that he had bought Windsor Castle for $25,000 and doubled his money in five months. When Si first brought the "Wonder Horse" to the suburbs he was a stop and go horse; when Si got finished Windsor just kept going and didn't stop until he had beaten horses from the U.S., Canada, and England.

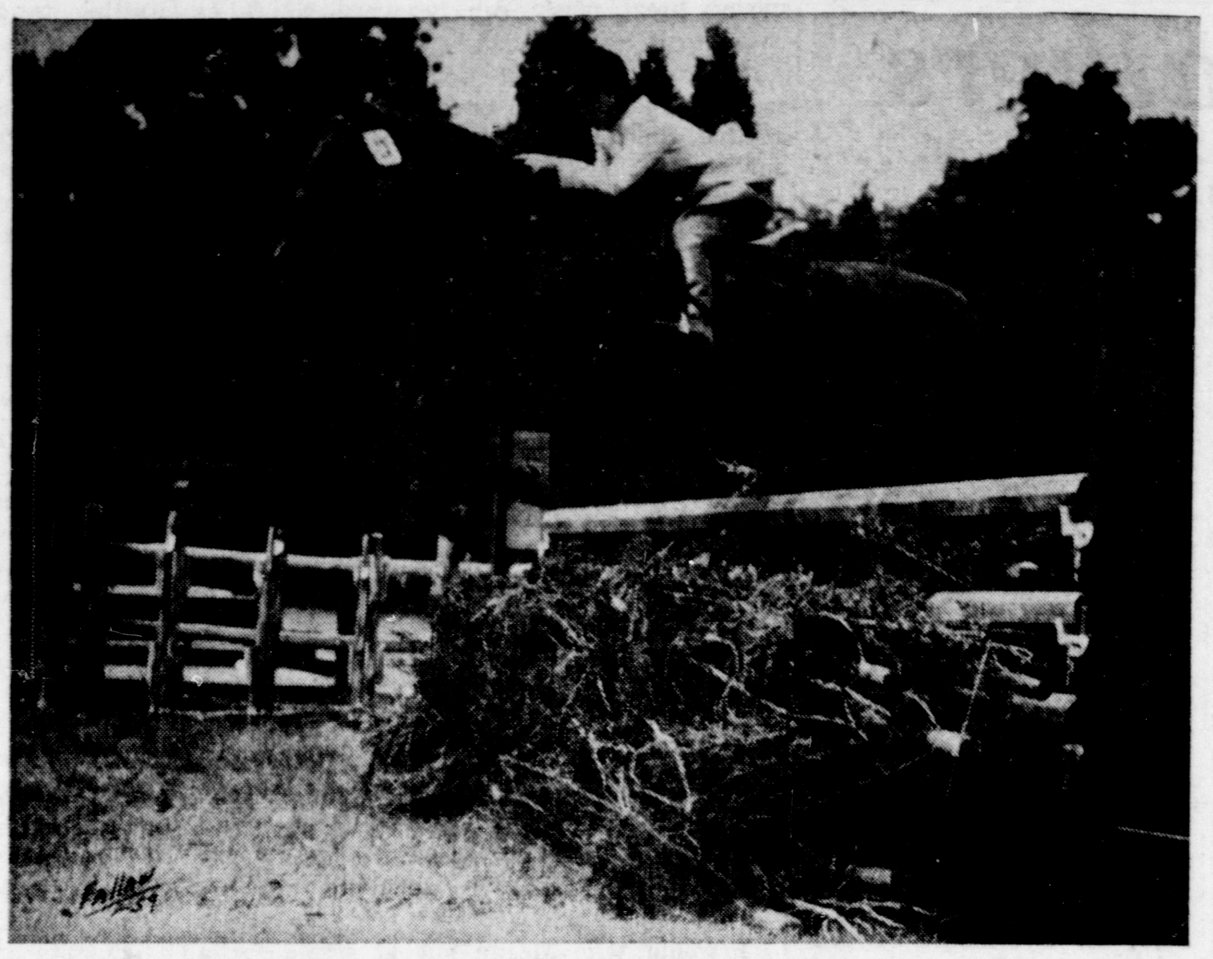
IN THE PAST several years Dorothy has ridden many horses to victory. This year it was Windsor Castle who ended up being the top money winner besides U. S. champion.

In 1957 she rode Cinderella to perpetual victory as a conformation hunter, working hunter, and open jumper. In the same year she steered Apt Pupil through an undefeated season as a working hunter.

1955 brought Dorothy into the forefront on the back of Count-to-Ten, the United States Hunter champion for that year.

In 1950 she rode Lady Gordon to enough victories to make "Lady" the second largest money winner of the season. The following year Ladies Gordon and Macleod copped the highest money winning honors.



DOROTHY MACLEOD is shown riding "The Duke" at the Oakbrook Polo Club horse show in Hinsdale. "The Duke," a chestnut gelding, standing over 16½ hands was one of the most promising green working hunters Si Jayne brought out this year. Miss Macleod is considered the world's greatest lady rider.

THESE are just a few of the outstanding horses she has taken over the hurdles. Two others you might remember are Happy Day and Corpond. When next seen Dorothy will be riding Si's new open mare Pocohontas at the International. The mare was part of the $50,000 package received in exchange for Windsor.

After the show season ends, Dorothy gallops race horses for Ralph Fleming at Idle Hour stable, hunts at the Wayne Du Page Hunt club, where she is a member, and schools new horses. Aside from enjoyment these activities help her keep in shape for the following season. In her spare time Dorothy occasionally teaches some jumping classes, but if possible, she prefers to sneak off to Miami for a good rest.

Through her career many offers have been made to her at higher wages. So far she has preferred to stay with Si since, as she says, "more money couldn't make me any happier than I am now, working with fine people who truly know and love horses."

THINKING she was busy enough riding all the time, I was surprised to hear of all her other activities. According to her friends she's an ace photographer, strong swimmer, a skiing and tobaggoning enthusiast, and shrewd gin player. As a bowler she makes a better gin player and has hit a high mark of 118 for ten frames. I like to think that if nothing else at least I can bowl better.

Mild-mannered to a fault, Dorothy is usually quiet and reserved. Though she looks serious and thoughtful most of the time, a well placed joke will send her into hysterics and bring forth her naturally vivacious personality.

Graceful and confident, she has been admired by many as an exceptional woman athlete. It has been rare for any horse to react as well under another rider as they did when "little Mac" was on them. Dorothy feels that she has at least another 15 years left as a professional rider. After that she expects to open a stable and train horses of her own.

Her greatness as a champion is unequalled, her warmth as a woman unmatched. The combination of these two features puts Dorothy Macleod on a peak high above the average woman. She has forsaken the life of an average girl and has dedicated herself to a sport of excitement and danger. The high leap into space over a fence, atop a powerful horse, is the vibrant thrill of her conquest. She has conquered the horse world as she conquers the people she meets, with her ability, her knowledge, and her beauty. (Soc

Use This Magic Mayonnaise For Perfect Salad Topping

A good fruit salad is the solution to so many menu problems that something novel is always worth filing away in your recipe file. In this case it is a magic mayonnaise with slivered salted almonds or pecans added, ideally suited to serve with any fruit salad.

The dressing is quickly made with sweetened condensed milk, which turns into a smooth, creamy mayonnaise without cooking when it is combined with lemon juice. In flavor and texture it is delicious.

THERE ARE SO many fruit combinations good for salads that you need never be at a loss for choice. Oranges and grapefruit are likely to be on hand at this time of year, and so are apples and peaches, pears and pineapple are good. So are prunes.

Cherries add color and taste tang to any fruit group. They all combine temptingly with cottage cheese to give the salad more substance. And a cottage cheese-fruit-nut combination, with this special magic nut mayonnaise, is attractive for infromal party refreshments as well as everyday meals.

Nutted Magic Mayonnaise

2/3 cup sweetened condensed milk

¼ cup vinegar or lemon juice

¼ cup salad oil or melted butter

1 egg yolk
½ teaspoon salt
Dash of cayenne pepper
1 teasoon dry mustard
¼ cup slivered salted almonds or pecans

Place all ingredients excepting nuts in a pint jar, cover tightly and shake vigorously two minutes. If desired ingredients may be placed in a mixing bowl and beaten with rotary egg beater until mixture thickens. Fold in slivered nuts. If thicker consistency is desired, chill for about one hour before serving.

Open Canteen At Hospital

Holy Family hospital auxiliary announces the opening of its new canteen which will be operating from 7 a.m. to 3 p.m. everyday at the hospital, Golf and River rds. The canteen will continue in operation until the hospital is completed.

More workers are needed and anyone interested is urged to contact Mrs. Edward Riederer, CLearbrook 5-5227. Those who cannot donate a full day to the canteen are asked to help during the rush hours, 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. or to donate food items for the menus.

Although the canteen is used principally by the workers at the construction site, the public is invited to visit at any time. All proceeds are directed to the auxiliary's projects which benefit the hospital.

Fire Proofing Your Christmas

During the Christmas holidays, your home probably contains more fire hazards than at any other time of the year. This is the time to take extra-special precautions, says O. L. Hogsett, extension safety specialist at the University of Illinois. The life of your family may depend on it.

The Christmas tree can be one of the leading hazards. Here are some suggestions to help you keep it from turning into a blazing torch:

Select a freshly cut tree just a few days before Christmas. Cut the base of the tree diagonally, and keep the base submerged in water. When you put the tree up, locate it away from the fireplace, powerful lights, radiators and other sources of heat. Use only tree lights approved by the Underwriters Laboratories for the tree, and inspect them carefully for frayed cords and damaged sockets. Don't overload the electrical cirucit with additional lights, toys and appliances.

USE ONLY nonflammable decorations on the tree. Always turn the lights off when retiring or leaving the house. Discard the tree when its needles become dry and fall off. Remove Christmas packages and wrappings as soon as the gifts have been taken from the packages.

And an added word of precaution to smokers: Use extra care with your cigarettes, cigars and pipes around all flammable material.

THE UNITED States Forest Products Laboratory advises you to guard against fire by spraying your tree with a solution of nine parts water glass (available at the drug store), one part water, and a teaspoon of household detergent. This will not change the color of the needles, but gives them an attractive shiny and translucent finish.

For best results, stand the tree in water following this treatment. In fact, even if you don't spray the tree, it is wise to stand it in a pail of water because this precaution reduces both the hazards of fire and falling needles!

Festive Fresh Date Treats

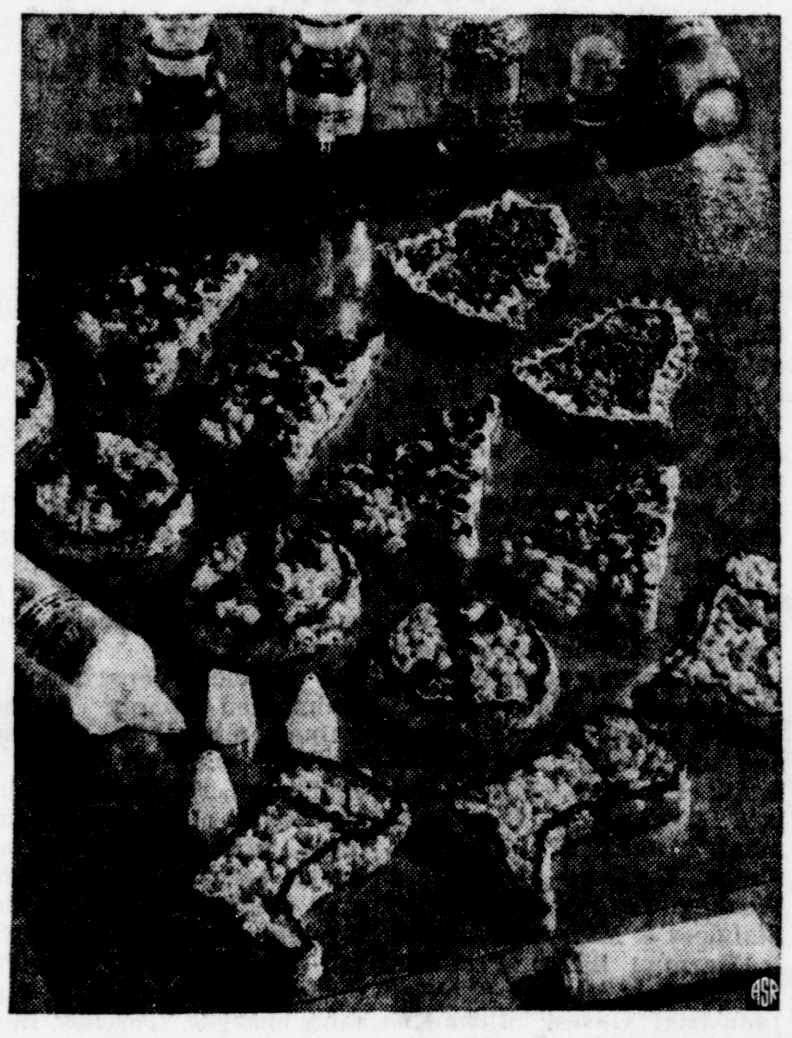
Delight visitors with a snack tray of cheese and fresh California dates stuffed with both sweet and savory fillings. "Date Fancies" are stuffed with a flavorful mixture of ground semi-sweet chocolate, candied ginger, nuts and a little orange marmalade, and topped with almond or pecan halves. For those who prefer savory fillings, stuff fresh dates with grated sharp cheese or with paper-thin slices of ham or prosciutto. A mild cream cheese also makes an excellent stuffing for California dates.

The cheese-and-ham stuffed dates should be eaten the day they are made. The other date goodies may be made ahead, covered and stored in the refrigerator to keep them from drying out.

For "Date Fancies," put ½ cup nuts and ½ cup semi-sweet chocolate pieces through food chopper, using a fine blade. Combine with 1 tablespoon finely chopped candied ginger, 3 tablespoons orange marmalade and ¼ teaspoon salt, stirring until mixture is evenly moistened. To prepare 1 (10-ounce) package pitted fresh California dates for stuffing, slit sides with sharp knife and press open. Stuff with chocolate-nut mixture If desired, top each stuffed date with a pecan or blanched almond half.

Makes about 2½ dozen stuffed dates.

Quick 'n Easy Cookies For Children To Decorate



It's easy to let the children make and decorate Christmas Cookies with this no-bake Cereal Christmas Cooky recipe. For very young children, mother had better prepare the no-bake cooky mixture, ready to be cut into Christmas shapes. Let the children make simple cardboard patterns and cut out the cooky shapes. Use tubes of decorating jelly or frosting to add a festive decoration.

These wholesome easy-to-make cookies are just packed full of good nutrients so necessary for young boys and girls. Breakfast cereals, when used as a recipe ingredient, not only improve the flavor and texture, but they contribute protein, valuable B vitamins, essential minerals, and food energy.

Cereal Christmas Cookies

¼ cup butter or margarine
½ pound marshmallows
¼ teaspoon salt
5 cups oven-toasted rice cereal, regular, presweetened, or cocoa-flavored

Combine butter or margarine, marshmallows, and salt in large saucepan. Place over low heat and melt, stirring constantly. Add cereal; stir carefully until cereal is evenly coated with marshmallow mixture. Turn onto buttered baking sheet and press to ½ inch thickness. Cool to lukewarm. Use a sharp knife and cardboard pattern and cut out simple Christmas cooky shapes (trees, bells, boots, and ornaments). Decorate as desired with tube frostings, decorating jellies, or candies. Yield: two dozen cookies.

A & O Glass Co., located at 6320 N. Milwaukee Ave., Chicago, are specialists in furnishing a large assortment of Glass for every purpose, including Mirrors for Doors, Walls and Mantels, Glass for Furniture Tops, Television Set Tops, etc., Plate and Window Glass and Auto Glass.

A complete Reglazing and Mirror Resilvering Service is maintained, also offering free estimates, pick-up and delivery service.

Glass is one of the most indispensable materials of which man makes use. Without glass most of us wouldn't know what we look like and some of us who are obliged to wear spectacles, wouldn't be able to see at all. Glass is thus associated with vision and visibility.

One of the principle claims for each new car which makes its appearance, is that it affords greater visibility or in other words, it has more glass in its make-up.

We all know how unpleasant it is to drive along a highway on a rainy evening when each passing car splashes water or mud on our windshield. We also know that even bugs which accumulate on the windshield can diffuse light rays of the headlights of oncoming vehicles and imperil our safety.

When we consider the unpleasant effects of these temporary and relatively minor windshield imperfections, we begin to realize the importance of the glass in our car.

A & O Glass Co. are equipped to install new glass on all makes and models of cars or trucks. If a cracked windshield or window has been imperiling your vision and safety, and you've been putting off having it fixed, this would be a good time to go to A & O Glass Co. and have it taken care of. This is the bad driving season and you ought to have your car in the best shape to get through it O'K' . . . . . Ask for Bob Applehans . . . .

Tree Experts, Can Give Your Trees The Care They Deserve And Protect Them From The Ravages Of Approaching Winter

Surely you or anyone else does not want his trees to die needlessly. Practically all trees need periodical feeding and spraying and sometimes pruning.

Your trees, like all living things, need a regular physical check-up and care, preferably by a tree expert. Expert tree care will protect them from the ravages of approaching winter. A weak fork should be braced against the weight of ice and snow. Proper care now will give them extra strength and reward you with rich emerald foliage next summer.

Ralph Synnestvedt & Associates, 3602 Glenview Road, Glenview, specialize in Tree Service, including Tree Planting, Pruning, Power Spraying and Removing. They will place at your service skilled crews with modern equipment to handle all branches of tree service, such as Trimming, Surgery, Feeding, Cavity Work, Cabling, Bracing, Fertilization, including Winter Pruning of Shrubs and Mulching of Evergreens.

Now is the best time for Tree Removals, that can be handled more economically during the winter months.

Ralph Synnestvedt & Associates are acknowledged experts in their field, with a record of long experience that is outstanding, and are members of the National Shade Tree Conference, also the National Arborists Association.

All work handled is fully covered by insurance protecting the interests of customers against liabilities due to accidents and other conditions. Inquiries are invited from anywhere in the Northwest Area. Ask for Raymond E. Lee, manager Tree Department . . .

NORTHWEST suburban sewer permits include:

—First of four permits granted to the village of Mt. Prospect was for an extension of the village sewer system to serve Kirchoff's subdivision in Rockwell street, extended. Plans for the 30-acre industrial site call for 325 feet of 18-inch sewer, 335 feet of 21-inch sewer, and 463 feet of 24-inch sewer which will have an indirect connection to the Upper Des Plaines interceptor of the Sanitary District.

—Mt. Prospect Bible church has been given permission to contruct a sanitary sewer to be connected with the village system. Plans call for 150 feet of 6-inch sewer which will have an indirect connection to the Metropolitan Sanitary District sewer at Mt. Prospect.

—Bel-Aire Estates, a 5-acre residential development, was given permission to build an extension of the private sanitary sewer in Linneman road. The 355 feet of 8-inch sewers will have an indirect connection to the Mt. Prospect interceptor.

—Judith Ann Serafine's Gardens Resubdivision in Mt. Prospect was granted the authority to construct an extension of the village sanitary and storm sewer on Judith Ann drive. The 670 feet of 15-inch and 169 feet of 8-inch sewer will discharge into the village system at Main and Highland with an indirect connection to the Upper Des Plaines interceptor.

—THE FIRST of three permits issued in Arlington Height was for an extension of the village sewer system to serve Northwest Highlands Subdivision Unit 4. Plans by James McHugh Construction Co. for the 4.5 acre residential tract call for 1,198 feet of 8-inch sewer which will have an indirect connection to the Upper Des Plaines interceptor.

—St. Simon's Episcopal church, Arlington Heights, was authorized construction of a sanitary sewer for the private system on church property with a private connection indirectly discharging into the Kimball Hill sewer in Kirchhoff road. Plans by Architect Elmer William Marx call for 64 feet of 4-inch and 122 feet of 6-inch sewer lines.

—Extension of the existing sanitary sewer system was approved for the village of Arlington Heights to serve the Arlingdale Garden apartments. The 800 feet of 8-inch sewer will serve a 6.4 acre tract with 500 persons with a direct connection to the village sewer at Harvard and Hawthorne.

—First of two permits granted in Elk Grove Village was for an extension of the village sanitary sewer system in Central Park and Greenleaf between State hwy. 83 and Nicholas blvd., to serve a 54-acre industrial development. An additional 166 acres will be added. Plans by McCabe and Associates, engineers, call for 2,426 feet of 10-inch and 1,304 feet of 12-inch sewers.

—CONSTRUCTION of a new private sanitary sewer in Elk Grove to serve Briarwood Lakes units 1 and 2 was approved for a 41-acre residential tract. The system will have a direct connection to the Upper Des Plaines interceptor.

—The village of Rosemont was given permission to build an extension of the village sanitary sewer system to serve Baltis' Resubdivision. The 1,780 feet of 8-inch sewer serving a 14.6-acre home development will have an indirect connection to the Salt Creek interceptor.

—One of two village of Wheeling permits was for an extension of the village sanitary sewer system to serve Sohn's resubdivision which will be an indirect connection to the village sewage treatment plant. Plans call for 586 feet of 8-inch and 490 feet of 12-inch sewers.

—Approved for construction was a private sanitary sewer system for the Marvin Thwreatt building in Wheeling. The 170 feet of 6-inch sewer will have a direct connection to the village sanitary sewers in Wheeling road. There will be no industrial waste from the building, according to Robert Stauber and associates, engineers.

—AN EXTENSION of the city of Rolling Meadows sanitary sewer system in Central road was granted for a 30-acre residential development. Plans for 603 feet of 12-inch sewer and 2,763 feet of 8-inch sewer with an indirect connection to the Metropolitan Sanitary district sewer in Central ave. at Wilke rd.

—The village of Bartlett was given permission to extend its village sanitary sewer system to serve a 1.39-acre residential site. The 384 feet of 8-inch sewer will be placed in Chase and Hale aves., at Taylor ave. with a direct connection to existing village sewers.

—Largest of the northwest suburban programs was approved for the village of Streamwood which sought an extension of the village sanitary sewer system to serve Woodland Heights Unit IV with an indirect connection to the Sanitary District's Streamwood Sewage treatment plant. A total of 385 acres with a population of more than 6,000 will be served by 16,600 feet (about three miles) of 8-inch sewer and 1,020 feet of 15-inch sewers. (B8

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

by Edward Rentz

Carving is almost a lost art, since the style of the host's carving at the table has been replaced. To carve correctly requires skill, practice, and good instruments. Here are a few hints.

Rolled Roast — Lay the roast flat on the platter and slice horizontally, using carving fork in side to hold the roast firmly.

Standing Roast — Place on platter, bone side down, place fork in top of meat and the sharp knife slices the meat as thinly as possible through heavy and thin ends of roast.

Steaks — Run the knife along each side of the bone to separate the meat from it. Cut meat in oblong strips so that each piece contains a portion of the meat nearest the bone.

'WAY BACK WHEN'

50 YEARS AGO
December 3, 1909
Arlington Heights:

The roads are good in every direction after you get outside the village. If the village board would turn over her roads and saloon revenue to the highway commissioners our streets would soon be put and kept in much better condition. Arl. Hts. like Chicago, diverts the public funds from the proper channels. Arlington Heights: J. W. Burkitt, Jr. has contracted with the Studebaker Co. for ten automobiles, five of each kind shown in his ad. this week, to be delivered, two at a time as he can sell them. He has built a handsome cement block garage for a display and sales room and will have a shop in the rear where he can repair any make of autos, as he is an expert in that line, especially on fixing balky gas engines.

Schaumburg:

Henry Christoph Redeker was born Jan. 23, 1836, at Solldorf, Electoral Hesse, Germany. In 1848 his parents emigrated to America and settled in the town of Schaumburg, Cook Co., Ill. where the deceased attended parochial school of St. Peter Evan. Luth. church and was confirmed April 1850, by the Rev. F. Hoffmann, Pastor of St. Peter's church at that time. July 15, 1858, Mr. Redeker married Miss Engel Mary Hitzemann and the couple settled on the well known Redeker farm, 2 miles east of Schaumburg Center. 5 children were born to them, one son and four daughters; One daughter, Mrs. Fred Bohne died in the summer of 1906. The other children are Henry Redeker, Jr., Mrs. Henry Fasse, Mrs. Henry Kastning, and Mrs. Fred Goebbert. Mr. Redeker took sick of pneumonia November 21, and died 11:30 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 27, aged 73 years, 10 months, and 4 days. He leaves his widow, one sister Mrs. Steege, residing at Bloomington, Ill., 4 children, 21 grandchildren, and 4 great grand children. Interment Nov. 30.

40 YEARS AGO
Dec. 5, 1919
Arlington Heights:

The Memorial Monument is now complete. The bronze eagle, with a spread of 3 feet, was put in place last week and adds greatly to the monument, which we believe is second to none in appropriateness, or even in beautiful simplicity. The eagle was designed by John Pauling, the finest sculpter in Chicago and was cast by Mr. Merchem at the American Art Bronze factory. While the cost of this adornment did not lead to its selection, it is interesting to know that the "good luck" that attended the committee thruout the selection and purchase of the memorial tablet and stone, stayed with them in the purchase of the eagle. It only cost $300.00, but is much finer than others that would have cost $650. That monument committee has finished their "job" and it has been suggested that the stone be officially dedicated next summer with a memorial band concert. The park will probably be named Memorial Park in honor of the purpose to which it has been put.

Palatine:

An electric arc light should be placed at the corner of Brockway and Slade streets. It would add greatly to the appearance of the business section of town and would be in keeping with the surroundings. As one stranger said the other day, that Starck building looks as though a small section of Michigan Blvd. Chicago had been moved out into the country. One more such stunt will make Palatine look like a real town. That arc light would be a step in the right direction and the cost to the adjoining business men would be practically nothing. Who will start the ball rolling?

Palatine:

The appearance on Palatine streets of a large truck bearing the words "Porkmaker Herd of Berkshires, Palatine, Ill." is the first intimation that we "city" people have had one of the largest Berkshire hog breeding farms is located just 1½ miles north of town on the Foster farm and is doing its share of advertising this town from the Atlantic to the Pacific oceans. This week the farm was visited by Mrs. L. E. Wills, of Stockton, Cal., Mrs. R. E. Fritchie, Douglasville, Pa., and Mrs. R. Pyron, Cartersville, Ga. The visitors were all women, but they are interested in Berkshires just the same. And Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Beaty do not care who they sell to, just so the buyers love Berkshires as much as they do.

Does Arlington Heights need a hospital? Dr. E. K. Pfaff reports 12 patients in St. Joseph's Hospital at Elgin under his care and two more going Friday. The doctor reports that he has also six cases in the homes under care of special nurses who would gladly avail themselves of home hospital service if they could. The need of a hospital here is acute and it is gratifying to learn that one of the large corporations interested in developing Arlington Heights contemplates erecting a 25 bed hospital in the spring. We hope this will materialize and that it will be 50 instead of 25 beds as this seems to be the capacity now needed.

Palatine:

The days of W. L. Smyser in Palatine are happy memories to those who attended high school around 1900. Mr. Smyser was principal of the high school for ten years and among one of the yearly events each Arbor Day, was the planting in the railroad park of a young maple tree. Around its roots was always placed a bottle containing the names of the high school pupils.

This week workmen are busy removing two magnificant maple trees from that park. Each tree is thirty or more years old and are no doubt the product of one of those Arbor Days that the older grads of the high school remember so well. The trees are being removed to make room for the third track and will grace the Mt. Prospect home of Mr. Terpning, general superintendent of the Northwestern RR.

George K. Volz, who has been Arlington Heights fire chief 35 years and a member of the department forty years presented his resignation to the Arlington Heights board Monday evening, the resignation to take effect Dec. 18, the anniversary date of his election as a member of the department.

The board regretfully accepted the resignation and passed a special resolution setting forth the services that Mr. Volz had given to the community.

Arlington Heights:

The latest project to be undertaken by the Lions Club is the improvement of the railroad and other parks by the planting of fir trees. Permission is expected by the park board. A fund of $100.00 has been set aside out of the community service account of the club to be used for the purchase of the trees. The planting will take place as soon as possible.

From "Tales of the Street" Palatine:

When and if we ever have any winter, the younsters will probably have a skating pond. The Lions Club has cleaned off the weeds where the pond will be east of the high school and the fireman will flood the place. Whether or not there will be any lights for the rink, is something else again. From a report made at Monday night's village board meeting, if someone will supply the poles to put them on and some one pay for the juice, the Public Service Co., will make the service "hook up" free of charge. Also from the attitude of the Village board, it looks as if the Village would pay for the juice.

So now, if somebody has a couple of poles, some flood lights and the necessary wiring, etc., it looks like the youngsters would have a place to skate. Provided, of course, that this balmy Indian Summer don't last until next April.

A nylon flag presented to the village of Arlington Heights by the VFW Post 981 at their board meeting November 2, will replace the original Daily News flag which has hung in the council chamber for over 20 years. Arlington Heights won this flag for having the most outstanding July 4th community celebration in the Chicago area, July 4, 1926. It will be preserved as a historic memento of the past.

The new Palatine Chamber of Commerce is conducting a contest for a slogan for Palatine. Several years ago the Palatine Lions Club conducted a contest for a slogan or theme for Palatine and the winning entry was "Palatine, The Real Home Town." To our notion that's a pretty good slogan, at least an awful lot of people have thought that Palatine was a real home town during the past few years and have come here to make their home. And those of us who have been here for a long while always did know that this was "the real home town."

Winter Weather Sends Traffic Accidents Up

Traffic accidents in the northwest suburban area climbed this past week as winter's first breath turned roads unfamiliarly slick, according to reports compiled by District 3 state police.

Among the more serious mishaps were:

On Saturday, two women were taken to Resurrection hospital for treatment following an accident at Arlington Heights State rd. and Illinois 58.

TREATED FOR injuries suffered after their car ran into the rear of a tractor-truck stopped for a red light at the intersection were the driver, Joan G. Austin, 27, of 510 Thorndale, Branigar's Estates (an unincorporated area in Elk Grove Village), and Devota Delhanty, 50, a passenger, of the same address.

Two of Mrs. Austin's children, Devota, 6, and Madeline, 5, also riding in the car, escaped injury.

Police said the truck, headed north on State rd., was stopped for the traffic light when the Austin vehicle plowed into its rear. Mrs. Austin was charged with traveling too fast for conditions. Driver of the truck, Lawrence E. Duffy, 56, of 9200 Crescent dr., Franklin Park, was not injured. Damage to the Austin car was estimated at $800, while the trailer suffered about $100 damage.

IN ANOTHER mishap on the same date, two drivers were rushed to DuPage Memorial hospital in Elmhurst following a 3-vehicle smashup at Nerge rd. and Illinois 53.

Listed in satisfactory condition at the hospital was John Brewczynski, 30, of R.R. 1, Itasca, whose car ran into the rear of a Cook county dump truck spreading cinders while proceeding west on Nerge road.

A third car heading in the same direction swerved to avoid hitting the truck and car and careened into a ditch, police reported.

Driver of the third car, Daniel Esteveg, 31, of R.R. 1, Box 350A, Roselle, was taken to the hospital for treatment, then released. Driver of the truck, Joseph B. Poremba, 64, of 135 E. Michigan, Palatine, and a co-worker, Casimer Kozowicz, 47, of 211 Euclid, Mt. Prospect, were not injured.

POLICE described Brewczynski's auto as a total wreck; damage to the truck was set at $500, and Esteveg's car suffered about $150 damage.

In another accident on the same date, police cited Katherine E. Cardella, 41, of R.R. 1, Crystal Lake, with driving too fast for conditions after her car skidded into the oncoming lane and another car on a curve while traveling east on Illinois 72, a quarter mile west of Illinois 83.

A passenger in her car, Elizabeth Krach, 62, of 145 Eric st., Rt. 1, Crystal Lake, was taken to Resurrection hospital for treatment.

DRIVER OF THE other auto headed west was Edward J. Olsen, 11 E. Chicago ave., Elgin. Mrs. Cardella's son, John, 6, and John Krach, 65, passengers in the Cardella vehicle, were not hurt. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $375.

Also on Saturday, police charged Ben Lepkowicz, 44, of 917 Tomahawk dr., Round Lake, with driving on the wrong side of the road and with an expired chauffeur's license after he swerved into the opposite lane of traffic and hit a car going south on Illinois 83 near Euclid ave.

Driver of the other car was Richard C. Proebstle, 22, of 1224 Kensington, Arlington Heights, who was shaken up in the crash. Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $500.

ON SUNDAY, following an accident on a forest preserve road (Illinois 68) and U.S. 14, police cited John P. Lauer, 17, of 3544 Box Quinten, Prairie View, for driving too fast for conditions after he lost control of his car negotiating a curve and ran into a northbound car driven by Lester Poklen, 34, of 608 S. George, Mt. Prospect. Poklen's son, Scott, 10, was shaken up in the mishap and taken to see his own physician. Two other Poklen children, Sally, 3, and Susan, 6, were not hurt, and a 16-year-old boy and girl in Lauer's car also escaped injury. Police set damage to the vehicles at $400.

November 27: Police charged Oscar W. Gappert, 58, of 620 E. Lincoln, Arlington Heights, with driving too fast for conditions after his car ran into the rear of a truck proceeding west on Illinois 72 at the intersection of U.S. 45. Gappert was taken to Resurrection hospital for treatment of injuries suffered in the crash.

DRIVER OF the truck was Hugh A. Nelson, 20, of 607 W. Park, Libertyville. Damage to Grappert's auto was set at $600; there was no damage to the truck, police said.

November 26: Following a 3-car collision at Touhy ave. and Wolf rd., police cited Edward W. Schroeder, 58, of 4014 N. Meade, Chicago, with disobeying a stop sign after he pulled out from a stop sign at Wolf rd. headed north and was hit by a car proceeding west on Touhy ave. driven by Thomas E. Lennon, 51, of 1517 W. Arthur, Chicago. The impact of the collision sent Schroeder's auto spinning into another car pointed south on Wolf rd. which was halted at the stop sign.

Schroeder and his wife, Helen, 57, were taken to Resurrection hospital. Their condition is listed as fair. A son, Robert, 18, was shaken up. Driver of the third auto was Edward F. Greco, 39, of 721 Lams ct., Mt. Prospect. His wife, Frances, 39, the couple's children, Donald, 12, and Linda, 10, and a fourth passenger in the Greco car, Josephine Caltagirone, 70, were also shaken up and will see their own physician. Damage to the three vehicles was estimated at $1,600.

NOVEMBER 22: Police cited Antonio Ortiz, 38, of 55 Robin rd., Carpentersville, for driving on the wrong side of the road after his car swerved into the other traffic lane and another car, while he was driving east on U.S. 14 near Quentin rd. Ortiz told police he fell asleep at the wheel. Driver of the other car was John S. Kukla, 31, of P.O. Box 1000, Palatine. Ortiz suffered cuts in the crash, police said. Damage was set at $800 to the two cars. (B8

Glenview Squadron On Duty in Europe

Fleet Tactical Support Squadron VR 722, attached to the U.S. Naval Air Station at Glenview, is currently operating regular schedules of air transport missions throughout the Mediterranean-European area.

The squadron, made up of "Weekend Warriors" from Chicago and Midwest area, is conducting its two weeks annual training duty at the Naval Air Station at Port Lyautey, French Morocco. The squadron arrived on Wednesday, Nov. 11, and presently is operating three R5D Douglas Skymasters (DC-6 Aircraft) in support of fleet tactical squadron activities, including airlift transport of personnel and military cargo.

VR 722 is operating flights out of Port Lyautey to Madrid, Barcelona, Naples, London, Athens, Gibralter, Carthagena and Palma. The squadron flew from Glenview Sunday, Nov. 9. to Port Lyautey, via Jacksonville, Fla., where it embarked reservists of an antisubmarine patrol squadron enroute to the Mediterranean for training duty. VR 722 will return to their home base on Sunday, Nov. 22, via the Azores and Newfoundland. (WUS

At Fort Sill

Second Lt. Robert A. Bloecker, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Bloecker, 821 N. Vail, Arlington Heights completed the 17-week field artillery officer basic course November 4 at the Artillery and Missile school, Fort Sill, Okla.

The course, designed for newly-commissioned officers, trained Lt. Bloecker in communications, artillery transport, tactics and target acquisition.

The lieutenant is a 1955 graduate of Arlington high school and a 1959 graduate of Indiana university.

In Germany

Sp/4 David Aldrich, son of the L. E. Aldriches, 215 S. Evergreen, Arlington Heights, will be spending his third Christmas in Germany. A member of the 79th Engineers, Dave arrived in Europe in July, 1957.

According to his parents, the home town paper is eagerly read by him, and his current address is: 79th Engr. Bn., H and S Co., APO 189, New York, N. Y. (WUS

YOU'D BE HAPPY TOO...

If your folks were Oak Park Federal savers. Maybe they are. Then you know how it feels to be part of a happy family. Knowing that my education is being paid for now... that my doctor and dental bills will be no problem if they happen... knowing this makes my pop feel better. And that makes my mother feel better.

You'd be happy too.

Saving is a pleasure at Oak Park Federal Savings because saving is a convenience. Saving by mail, for example, gives you 24-hour access to your teller window at the house that security built. No dressing up and driving, no wear and tear on time and temper. You don't even have to look for a postage stamp.

Oak Park Federal's Save-by-Mail envelopes are postage free.

Write in, or call, if you like, for your free Save-by-Mail booklet and envelope with which you can open your account from the kitchen table or the desk in the den.

CITIZENS

SANTA CLAUS CLUB*

*World's Only Christmas Club That Works Backwards

WITHDRAW NOW—

DEPOSIT LATER

The world's only Christmas club that works backwards — that gives you Christmas shopping cash now, BEFORE you save —is again open for memberships.

This is the annual Santa Claus Club of Citizens Bank in Park Ridge. Once a year at this time Citizens distributes Christmas checks to members of its regular Christmas Club. But at Citizens an extra fund is reserved for immediate payment to members of the Santa Claus Club, a club of depositors who did not share in the Christmas Club.

This fund now totals more than $2,000,000, and the Santa Claus Club will pay it out to you and others who join — in checks of $100, $200, or $300 — until the fund is exhausted. You will be eligible for your Santa Claus payment if you already hold a Citizens account (or open one of any kind before December 23rd) and join the Club before memberships close.

So, if you weren't one of the lucky Christmas Club savers here is YOUR SECOND CHANCE.

1. You are eligible to apply if you already have any account at Citizens. If not, you may open one — either savings or checking (regular or low-cost) — in any amount at the same time you join the Club. But you must do it before memberships close, and in no event after December 22nd.

2. Send this coupon today to the Santa Claus Chairman telling him which amount you want. Or call him on the phone — no need to come into the Bank, unless you prefer.

3. When your membership is approved, the Chairman will mail your Santa Claus check the same day, still in time for your shopping. You repay in ten small monthly deposits — as little as $10.60 each — beginning late in January.

No red tape, but do it today. Once memberships close, they will not open again for a whole year.

ADULT EDUCATION AT CHURCH

Many ministers are educated seven years beyond high school, and these make a contribution to adult education. The church job is to help its congregation apply a Christian philosophy to the life process and to the building of a good society. The teaching ministers could do a bigger job if you gave them the chance.

Excesses Weaken Men's Strength

[illegible] Truxell

Doctors are almost unanimous in saying that emotional disturbances are just as likely to cause physical conditions to build up and bring about a heart attack as overweight, overwork, and overeating. They are able to pick out people prone to heart trouble; the emotional individuals, the high speed worker, the worrier, people who live tense, driven lives.

But there is, I think, another way of living that can be conducive to heart trouble. It is the way of fear, of never having peace of mind, of constant inner turmoil arising from anxiety. It is self criticism, the self-conviction of sin, and the accompaning fears of death, of being discovered, and of disease. It is being out of step with God.

GOD NEVER intended that man should strive as hard as he does for the things of this world. He never intended that man should crave homes many times larger and more expensive than they need for comfortable living. Jesus said: "Store not up treasures for yourselves upon earth, where moth and rust corrupt, and where thieves break in and steal; but store up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break thru nor steal."

Neither did He intend that men should drink to excess at a party or tavern, then drive home in a condition that endangers the life of everyone they meet. He never intended that they should smoke to excess; or build up within themselves the habits which instill a fear for their health, or a sense of guilt for setting poor examples to other people, and to their children.

ADULTEROUS practices, which God condemns, can bring about guilt feelings, and sudden panics, that have a two fold reaction; while increasing the blood pressure and heart beat, it has a demoralizing reaction of spiritual condemnation which packs a tremendous physical and emotional wallop. You have the definite conviction that the sin you have committed has alienated you from God.

I believe that spiritual strength can keep men and women from the excesses and sins which contribute to heart trouble, bring about marital unhappiness, anxiety, tensions, and many forms of sickness and untimely death.

Local Witnesses To Attend Assembly

Arlington Heights congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses has made final arrangements for its circuit assembly to be held this weekend, December 4-6th, in Steinmetz high school, 3030 N. Mobile, Chicago.

Mr. Narve, presiding minister of the local group, said the theme of the conference is "Do The Divine Will." He said, "The existence of fear and lawlessness emphasizes the need to learn what God's will is for this earth. God purposes that all have an opportunity to learn."

"The people of our community," he continued, "appreciate the need for the divine will to be done in these perilous times and we, as Jehovah's Witnesses, are anxious to do our part."

THE 3-DAY program includes a variety of talks on Bible subjects. Groups of ministers will discuss problems and demonstrations will show how Christians can do the divine will better. Sessions will be conducted morning, afternoon and evening with a baptism of new ministers Saturday afternoon.

Featured speaker on the program, appearing daily, will be Andrew K. Wagner from world headquarters in Brooklyn, who will deliver the principal address Sunday, December 6, on the subject, "When Is God's Will To Be Done On Earth?"

Among delegates will be Richard Sanders, 668 W. Old Plum Grove, Palatine, Robert Yesko, S. Benton st., Palatine, William Addy, Jr., 204 Waterman, Prospect Heights, and Fred Hoffmann, 38 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights. (B9

Letters to the Fence Post

Fence Post Mail Welcome

Letters to the Fence Post should be brief and concise. All letters must be signed, but names will be withheld from publication on request. No anonymous letters will be considered for publication. United Funds Aren't Perfect

I haven't had the pleasure of meeting Mr. Charles Hayes of your staff, but I am sure I would enjoy knowing him. His signed articles show him to be an articulate person who thinks about and is concerned with the problems of his community. However, I do feel he is mistaken in supporting the united fund movement. Here are some reasons why this is so.

As he describes it, the problem seems to be one of avoiding the multiplicity of fund-raising campaigns some people find irritating, without eliminating vital services in the area of health, welfare and social services.

At first the United Fund idea sounded like a real answer to this problem. Ideally it would mean one gift per year to support all services . . . volunteer service for fund raising workers only once per year . . . drastic reductions in fund raising costs and duplication of services . . . and a board of "experts" to decide for you what organizations get your support and how much of your contribution each is allocated.

EXPERIENCE has revealed important flaws in the plan. First, most people don't give as much to the United Fund as they do when asked to give many times during the year. Internal Revenue department statistics show the average taxpayer gives less than 1½ per cent of his annual income each year to all non-profit appeals including his church — and yet he is allowed a deduction of up to 20 per cent for this purpose.

Organizations participating in United Funds simply don't get enough support to keep their programs and services up to par, and certainly not enough to expand needed services to meet growing needs. As a result, all over the country agencies each year are dropping out of United Funds or similar organizations (like Community Chests or Community Funds). The Chicago Community Fund which 10 years ago numbered 199 agencies as participants, now includes only 159. The Evanston United Fund in the last year has lost several important participants.

Second, United Funds have an extremely difficult time arousing enough emotional appeal to get people to give more on a "once-per-year" basis, because of the many diversified causes and organizations that are lumped together in a United Fund.

WE ALL have our favorite causes that we like to work for and support. In Mr. Hayes' case these are his "church, the community hospital and family service agency." How would Mr. Hayes feel if these important organizations didn't receive the necessary support they deserve because of inclusion in a United Fund? To overcome this handicap most "united drives" have to use pressure tactics to try to obtain the necessary revenue —such as coercion of employees through management and labor to give large sums on a payroll deduction basis and telling people in their homes that they have to give and that they have to give a certain amount or more — social coercion.

Companies and individuals are often boycotted business-wise or socially if they don't conform to the United Fund rules through their support of causes not included in the United Fund. Many times collusion between municipal officers and local United Fund organizers will actually threaten with arrest local citizen volunteers who dare to venture forth in the community for a cause not included in the United Fund. Are these methods American? What effects do they have on the "spirit of giving"? The answer is found in a wave of resentment against United Funds that is building up across the Nation.

THIRD, AS TO reduced fund raising expenses, the reduction of costs for agencies participating in United Funds is more than "eaten-up" by the fact that over several years participation they receive less income. In addition, United Fund Income and Expense statements don't show costs incurred by the individual participating agencies in their necessary support of the drive.

Fourth, how can a relative handful of people on the local level be experts on all diseases and health and medicine in general, and on welfare and social service problems in particular? How can "politics" possibly be kept out of a local budget reviewing committee? Unsatisfactory answers to these important questions have caused many local organizations in different parts of the country to withdraw from united campaigns and larger national agencies to adopt policies against inclusion.

I hope Mr. Hayes will look more thoroughly into the background of the United Fund before advocating it again. And, if he's "broke" and "living in a state of near-tension," then he must be giving to every Tom, Dick and Harry who comes around and giving much more than the average American citizen. If this is true, he is certainly to be commended.

Fund Raising Up to Citizen

The editorial by Mr. Hayes about being "fed up" with all of the appeals for "good causes" is a good one.

We cannot entirely agree with his solution, however. He seems to be saying that he cannot give to every cause; but then he goes on to suggest that a united fund will mean he can give to every cause. Isn't this somewhat contradictory?

PERSONALLY I don't feel that turning over to someone else the decision of how my charity dollar is to be spent is a desirable solution to the problem. The first premise he makes is correct: no one can support ALL, nor should he be expected to.

Charity is a matter between God and the giver; not subject to the decisions of your neighbor on what he thinks you should be giving to his pet charity. Personal decision should be recognized as one's right. Let's not condemn our neighbor because he doesn't give to some cause we consider important. He will give to the causes he considers important.

Annexation Issue Cited

In an article last week by the new staff writer a strong pitch was made for the planners of Addison to envision the boundries of our community stretching from route 83 to 53.

As a resident of the community I now see the struggle of the village to provide minimum health and welfare services for its citizens. We see our police department hard pressed for funds to provide manpower for around the clock protection, we see our sewar department operating with a plant designed to serve 6000 people now operating at near capacity, last summer we faced water shortages that necessitated sprinkling restrictions. True we now seem to have wells that will supply our needs, but how long will these last?

MORE IMPORTANT, do the people now living in the area described by your writer really desire to become a part of Addison? Are they willing to pay the price, in annexation fees, that will guarantee that we who are now residents won't be faced with additional taxes? Will these people pay the costs of streets, curbs, street lighting, sidewalks, storm sewers and other improvements that will meet the high standard of our subdivision control ordinance? To these questions I answer, "I doubt it." I doubt if these people really desire such a move. Your writer I believe is dreaming of a metropolis that while it may be theoretically possible is not practical.

If these people now outside the village desire to become a part of our community - we should welcome them - the first move should be theirs to make - we as a village should not seek out established areas for annexation.

Mothers Day And Charity

The proposal of Mr. Hayes that we do away with the constant collections for various causes and establish a united fund, reminds me of Mothers Day.

On Mothers Day, we drive to the rest home or poor house, tell her how busy we have been this last year (fund raising, you know) eat the chocolates we have brought as Mother must be careful of her digestion, give her a great big kiss and if things go well we can still get in a few holes of golf.

A UNITED FUND is an effort to wrap up all the day-to-day problems of living in a neat little package. It sounds so sensible, it seems so efficient and it makes me sick.

Mr. Hayes says his favorite causes are his church, the community hospital and the family service program. I assume he will urge his minister to hold one collection a year, these weekly dunnings make it so difficult to concentrate on the sermon, "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver." Let's cut out the bake sale, the rummage sale, the card parties and special collections for the migrant Mexican workers. Stop the push for more funds for the hospital. Sure costs have gone up, but these sick people should realize we have a budget and we give it a lot of thought at our yearly meeting.

The united fund will provide for the family program —not as much as they want of course, but a nice little mathematical fair share. If they run out of funds they can close the office after posting a sign on the door "See you after next year's united fund collection."

FUND RAISING is a nuisance but so is sickness. The real trouble is that the same few people are asked to do the fund raising. I doubt that Mr. Hayes is bothered so much by the constant causes as he may be by his feeling that he and other leaders are called on to raise the funds.

When we establish a united fund we have just added one more fund drive. We can make all the rules and regulations we want — the fact remains that the polio fund, heart fund, cancer drive will insist on their democratic if stubborn right to be wrong and make their own solicitation.

The YMCA will discover as they did in Park Ridge that their fair share allocation was not enough to complete their building program. The Boy Scouts will need new camp facilities. What happens to the cranberry eaters — we didn't know about that when we planned last year's budget. The united fund answer is please don't bother me.

EVERYONE HAS his favorite charity or community service program. If the cause is proper and managed by responsible citizens, it should have the right to tell me it's aims and solicit my support. I do not have to support it, but I should not be prevented by the rules of a united fund that blackjacks the community officials into passing an ordinance that bans door to door soliciting by others than the united fund.

If we are going to be sensible, why don't we eliminate all fund raising and let the government take care of us all? The tax bill will go up a little more but we will only be bothered once a year. And we can relax because we know that next year Mother will get her chocolates direct from Washington with a bicarbonate of soda tablet thrown in.

Waste of Tax Money Lamented

The chartered Itasca Home Owners association is pleased to see the citizens of Itasca feel the present Village form of government was quite satisfactory.

For the record, we would like to advise all interested parties that we had been requested by the Heights association to assist with their campaign to promote the commission form of government. After due consideration, our membership decided we would not support either form of government in this election, but let the people decide for themselves the form of government they desired.

IT IS TOO bad the Heights association did not "see the light" before it was too late, as their hasty action has cost the taxpayers in excess of $1,000 which our town can ill afford.

We see by published statements there is a so called understanding between the Heights association and the village board and they now pledge their whole-hearted support to these officials, which is all very fine. However, this understanding comes a bit late as the taxpayers money has already been spent.

The Itasca Home Owners association has always given their support to policies which benefit the homeowners and we shall continue to carry on as we have in the past continually striving for better, more efficient government.

He's Weary Of Complaints

I am sick and tired of the many letters written to the Fence Post criticizing Palatine stores.

I grant you there is a need for more stores in our village and generally merchants welcome friendly competition. But PLEASE do not put all of us in the same class.

Just last weekend the traffic included shoppers from four neighboring communities. (Proof of this was the residential address required on all our checks.)

MRS. "TIRED of Commuting" complains about seeing herself coming and going. Doesn't she realize a good manufacturer has a large distribution and the clothing she meets was not necessarily purchased in the same locale?

In closing, may I suggest that these critical writers open one of these super deluxe stores they dream about and experience for themselves the joys of merchandising.

State Has No Right: Reader

Most heartily agree with "No Religion For Schools," (Fencepost - November 24, 1959 - B.W., Roselle). May it go one step further. As was pointed out, the United States should never be associated with any one particular theology or theological concept. For as we are a 'melting pot' of different races and creeds; so we are certainly a 'melting pot' of different religions. We are supposedly free of pressures because of our Constitutional rights of separation of Church and State.

But—what does it say on our folding money and coins? "In God We Trust." What does it say in our Pledge of Allegiance - our pledge to uphold the rights of our nation and what it stands for? "One Nation Under God." What of our children's programs on T.V. which are for the purpose of fun and education? One program has the children say their prayers before devouring the cookies and milk.

WHAT OF THE people in this great country who are not Christians? What of the people who do not believe in one God as we know it? And what of us who do not prefer to use the word God - meaning an all powerful, all knowing supernatural being? We feel hypocritical in uttering such nuances, which mean nothing to us.

Certainly our churches and religious centres are for this purpose. The state has no right to impose these religious connotations in its purely state functions. Let us keep things in their proper balance.

Who Is Featherbedding?

Railroad officials earning over $20,000 have increased 92.29%

Railroad employees have decreased more than 36%

One of Chicago's major railroads, Chairman of the Board of Directors earnings were $85,000 in 1957, and the NINETEEN TOP OFFICIALS' earnings were $618,226. This was an increase of $264,415 over the ELEVEN TOP OFFICIALS earning $353,809 in 1955, and at a time when railroad management was informing the General Public of their dire Financial Standings as outlined above. We ask you, Who Is Feathering Who's Bed. Listed below are some actual figures to assist you with a complete picture of the employees and official earning power.

Employees' Earnings

Passenger Engineers	$2.18
Passenger Firemen	1.92
Freight Engineers	2.23
Freight Firemen	1.96
Passenger Conductors	2.26
Passenger Brakemen	2.27
Freight Conductors	2.80
Freight Brakemen	2.84

Officials' Earnings

Railroad	Presidents	Vice Presidents of Operations
Southern Railway	$125,000	$75,000
N. Y. C.	125,000	60,000
Penn.	126,398	71,174
So. Pacific	140,000	75,000
Union Pacific	137,500	73,500

Divisions Officers and Assistants . . .
Hourly average pay $5.57

We live in the greater Chicago area. We own homes, pay taxes, buy food, furniture, clothing, appliances and automobiles. We contribute to the welfare of the community. We rear children who take a place in the community when mature.

Working under governing railroad operating rules is obsolete. They do not provide for premium overtime pay in passenger service. They do not provide for the five-day week except in yard service. They do not provide for overtime after forty hours, nor for premium pay on Sundays and holidays. They do not provide for a night differential in pay. No operating employee receives even a penny for "(Expenses away from home.") Extra crews can be held away from home as high as six days at any one time, or can be sent out from their home terminal for another six-day period "ad infinitum." Regular crews usually spend every other day away from home. Railroad operating crews can be required and are required to work 60-70 and even 100 hours per week without being paid a minute of premium overtime. This is a phase of the "dual" pay system which the railroads will not call to the "Public's Attention."

Our Short Hour Day

We have a few four and six hour workdays on our road jobs between various points, but what is not told about "Our Short Day" is, that after arriving at our destination we are held from twelve to sixteen hours WITHOUT ANY EXPENSE AWAY FROM HOME ALLOWED. Therefore, our short day is from twenty-four to thirty hours away from home.

Thirty-five out of fifty-one Suburban crews on the Chicago Northwestern Railroad work twelve to fourteen hours per day, five and six days a week. Straight time is paid for every hour worked on these assignments. Nine hours instead of eight constitutes a day's pay or one hundred miles, because of a short layover in the Chicago terminal.

The record will show that during the period of steam locomotives an average freight train consisted of seventy-five to one hundred cars. With the diesel locomotives of today "rail management" have increased freight trains to average one hundred fifty to two hundred cars. As indicated above, trains now are doubled in length and have twice the revenue tonnage. This gives railroad management a monetary increase, and also reduces the cost of operation by eliminating a five man crew. Not content with this reduction railroad management now wishes to cut a brakeman and fireman from the crew, thus further reducing operating crews far below safe operating standards.

On freight trains when the Diesel engines need emergency repairs enroute, the fireman can go back in units and make these repairs, while the engineer runs these long freight trains thru your community and off of your railroad crossings. With the elimination of the fireman the engineer would have to stop these long trains in your community and on your railroad crossing, preventing Fire Engines and Police Protection from getting to your home. The addition of extra units to haul these long trains, pays an engineer and fireman $0.50 a day more per unit. The conductors' and brakemen's basic pay is based on a train with eighty cars. They only receive a few cents more for each additional block of twenty cars. With the doubling of these long trains and the laying off of all these men, the railroad managements are still seeking higher rail tariffs in freight and passenger service.

This Is What The Fight Is All About

Costs of the Railroad Retirement System are borne equally by the railroads and the employees. The tax is figured on the first $400.00 earned by each employee, per month. By doubling the work load per employee, and halving the work force, the railroads can avoid paying their half of the present railroad retirement tax. Figure an excess of $28.00 per man — per month — savings. Multiply this by hundreds of thousands. THIS IS WHAT THE FIGHT IS ALL ABOUT.

THINK as outlined above, rail management shows little interest in your family or community's safety, IT'S YOUR LIFE THEY'RE PLAYING WITH.

Don't Single Out Doctors

I too, have been reading your current medical series and the comments by readers to your Fence Post.

I wish I could understand why so many people begrudge the medical men's salary?

Wno complains about the contractors, executives and businessmen wno earn over $16,000 a year? They are praised for being so successful!

IN REGARDS to Mrs. S. J.'s letter last week, have her ask any hospital about contributions from doctors. Every doctor on the staff gives plenty.

She asks if they give every penny above their living cost to the hospital. Does Mrs. S. J. give every penny above her living cost?

After all, she may be a patient at that hospital some day. The hospital benefits her as much as the doctor who must have a place where his patients may recuperate with the best care and facilities.

I get fed up hearing people complain about $10 office and house calls. Just let the TV blow a tube! The repairman is there pronto with at least that much cost, and no one squawks.

AS A NURSE I have worked in hospitals and a doctor's office. They are at the hospital at 7 a. m., continue to their office and many have hours to 9 p.m. When they do get home, they may be called out at any hour, for Mrs. Jones' baby decided to arrive at 3 a. m. Their time is not their own. Yes, they chose this way of life and for that I say if they earn $50,000 a year, God bless them.

Sure, there are doctors whose fees are out of line. This is indeed sad. But the average doctor is fair with his prices. These are the ones I defend.

YOUR FINAL article stated $18 billion was spent last year on medical care. Do you know the American public spends this annually on tobacco and liquor? Such values!

Let the people gripe if they must about someone earning in excess of $16,000 yearly.

But please don't single out the medical profession.

Keep Christ In Christmas

As I read the article "No Religion for Schools" by Barbara Wickstrom, numerous thoughts ran through my mind, which prompt me to raise certain issues from a logical standpoint.

Was it not a group of courageous Christians who found this land and established here schools, hospitals, orphanages and other institutions in addition to Churches so that the very principles of Christianity could not only be taught but practiced as well?

Was it not a group of men who were so controlled by the principles of Christianity that when drafting the Constitution and Laws of our Land they inculcated these very principles into such laws?

WAS IT NOT a fact that the Bible was one of the foremost textbooks in our public schools for many years and during that time the lives of many were shaped into great men who knew the fear of God and reverenced His name, and who built America into a nation with a consciousness that right is might, and that honesty and integrety were virtues to be desired, not to be sneered at? Taking the Bible from the classrooms of America is to me deplorable, for what do we have left to teach the youth of America if we do not teach them that "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people." Proverbs 14:34.

Is it not a fact that America, like all other nations, has adopted the calendar which is dated from Christ's birth? To be logical then if we are to abolish carol singing, pageantry and scenes of Christ's nativity from our public schools, should we not also abolish the calendar, the United States constitution, books of law and medicine, etc. from our public schools? All of these have their basis in the Bible.

Then I would also ask Miss Wickstrom if she observed Thanksgiving day, for that is a day set aside to give thanks to our Creator for His bountiful goodness and mercy unto us? If we do not thank God, whom should we thank?

CHRISTMAS is coming—a day we celebrate as the manifestation of God's great love for the world in that He gave us His son—a day that is recognized as a national holiday. To be logical, from a standpoint of separation of Church and State, I would assume that this day should not be recognized as a holiday in "unchristian" America because it imposes on all the citizenry a "particular theological notion."

A few months from now, we will observe two other holidays (Holy days to Christians) in which we commemorate the sacrificial death of our Lord and Saviour, the Son of God, and celebrate His resurrection from the dead and His victory over sin and death and Hell, that "whosoever believeth in Him, might not perish but have everlast-life". Should not these too be abolished as national holidays because they represent a "particular theological notion"?

Lest I be thought of as facetious or caustially critical, let me assure Miss Wickstrom that is not my intent, but rather to raise what I feel are some logical questions if her reasoning is acceptable. However, I would also invite Miss Wickstrom to investigate for herself the claims of Christ and to hear the word of the Prophet Isaiah, "Come now, and let us reason together saith the Lord: though your sins be as scarlet, they shall be as white as snow; though they be red like crimson, they shall be as wool." Let us keep Christ in Christmas.

Vital Issues Are Raised

I want you to know how much I appreciated Charles Hayes column last week: "Political Aspirant Asks Suburban View".

I hope many citizens clipped it for future use, as I have. The second step will be in securing the answers to the questions he has asked.

SINCE ONE of the most important functions of the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights is our Voters' Service, I am certain his article will receive careful study as we make up our candidates' questionnaire within the next few weeks. Also, I hope as voters of our area attend meetings where candidates appear, they will recall many of his subjects and learn first hand the answers to the items he has listed.

There is much work to be done in awakening the interest of our citizens in the coming elections in 1960. We are most grateful for the interest of Paddock Publications toward this end.

Religious Neutrality?

In the editorial "Church and State Is Growing Controversy," Mr. William Dulaney gives a very brilliant explanation of the reasons for the adoption of the first amendment of our constitution.

His statement, "It was precisely one of the reasons that our country was founded to insure that the majority would not rule or dictate in matters of individual conscience not concerned with the health, safety or welfare of the state". should be shouted to the winds so that all may hear.

Yet, in his paragraph of what he calls cultural heritage this explanation clearly shows why the phrase "In God We Trust" adopted by Congress as our national motto in 1956 and the words "under God" which were added to the pledge of allegiance to the flag by Congress in 1954 are flagrant violations of the basic rights granted to all Americans by the constitution.

THE CONCEPT of freedom of the press and of freedom of speech are clearly understood. These freedoms give you the right to say or print what you wish but you may not libel, slander or incite to riot etc. Thus these freedoms of speech and of the press could not exist if they did not go hand and hand with freedom from speech and freedom from the press.

How then can freedom of religion exist without also freedom from religion?

It is essential then that our governing bodies and schools remain neutral on the matter of religion in order to provide an area where freedom of belief may exist at all.

He Corrects Factual Error

Whenever I am in Arlington Heights I make it a first order of business to read your most informative newspaper, and yesterday, being in the insurance business, the above article caught my attention.

May I clear up what I think is a common misunderstanding regarding "Uninsured motorists clause" which was really the subject of the story.

The third paragraph of the first column reads as follows:—These "uninsured motorist clauses" also afford protection against sneak hit-and-run drivers who disappear after causing death, injuries, or property damage on streets and highways.

To the best of my knowledge the Illinois Uninsured Motorists coverage provides protection for bodily injury only.

THE EXACT wording as used in the standard policy by most insurance companies is as follows:—

"To pay all sums which the insured or his legal representative shall be legally entitled to recover as damages from the owner or operator of an uninsured automobile because of bodily injury, sickness or disease, including death resulting therefrom, hereinafter called 'bodily injury,' sustained by the insured, caused by accident and arising out of the ownership, maintenance or use of such uninsured automobile; provided, for the purposes of this coverage, determination as to whether the insured or such representative is legally entitled to recover such damages, and if so the amount thereof, shall be made by agreement between the insured or such representative and the company or, if they fail to agree, by arbitration."

YOU CAN SEE from the above, which is taken from a standard Lumbermens Mutual Casualty company policy, that there is no provision for property damage nor is there in that of any other company writing this particular form of uninsured motorists protection.

I do hope that you will print this letter to correct any misunderstandings your readers may have, and at the same time correct the information given in the article.

License Plates Are Now on Sale

Over-the-counter sale of 1960 Illinois motor vehicle license plates will begin Tuesday at the three new Chicago super-stations, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier announced this week.

The new facilities are located at 5301 Lexington st., 5401 Elston ave. and 9901 S. Parkway. Hours will be from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. weekdays and from 8:30 a.m. to noon Saturdays.

The facilities are designed to speed up the issuance of license plates to applicants, Secretary Carpentier said. Application blanks may be obtained at a lobby desk, a special counter is provided for filling out the applications, they will be checked at another counter, and the fee paid and plates issued at a third counter.

MAILING OF the 1960 plates will be started the same day in Springfield, Carpentier said. During the early weeks of the licensing period, plates will be mailed in numerical order. This procedure is necessary because of the limited space available in the Centennial building to store plates.

Consequently, motorists who applied during October for reassignment of high numbers will not receive them until those numbers are reached in the numerical sequence, Secretary Carpentier said. (A13

Mrs. Selke For Award

It is pleasing to see that Hoffman Estates is going to name a "Citizen of the Year."

A fitting nominee for such an honor is Mrs. Carl Selke. As fire telephone operator she has served the community 24 hours a day. This is a nerve-wracking job, for every time the fire phone rings disaster may be striking somewhere. Having had a fire alarm bell in my home, I well know the feeling of impending tragedy which must grip Mrs. Selke when that phone rings.

ON TOP of that she must put up with false alarms, crank calls and calls from well-intentioned but unthinking persons who call the fire alarm number just to ask questions about community affairs or anything else under the sun.

Let us salute Mrs. Selke as "Citizen of the Year."

Stan Petry New Dog Club President

New president of Northwest Obedience Dog Training club is Stanton H. Petry, S. State rd., Arlington Heights. Petry, who has served as the club's vice president, chairman of the club's first annual licensed trial in 1958 and as trainer for the various classes in the school, was elected at the group's last bi-monthly meeting.

Other officers elected at the meeting were Douglas Gilman of Palatine, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Schmidt of Des Plaines, secretary; and Mrs. Charles Berry of Arlington Heights, treasurer. Director of training is Joseph Mertens of Elgin.

DeForest Muster of Bensenville, outgoing president, was elected to the board of directors.

Next meeting of the club is set for December 18 with a Christmas party to follow the following night.

Clergymen Asked to Help In Traffic Safety Appeal

Illinois clergymen will stress the moral aspects of careful driving this month in connection with a state-wide December traffic safety campaign.

The Governor's Religious Leaders Traffic Safety Advisory panel has announced that clergymen throughout the state will participate in the campaign by emphasizing moral driving responsibility. A number of sermons will encourage wider acceptance by motorists of their moral obligation to protect the lives and property of other drivers.

Last December, 208 were persons killed in traffic mishaps. The Christmas holidays have become bloody ones with a frightening increase in highway deaths and injuries. The goal of the current safety campaign is to save one life each day from traffic accidents. If this program is successful, there will be 31 fewer deaths this month than in December, 1958.

We hope churchmen in northwest suburbs will join with other Illinois clergymen in this commendable program. With this united effort, we are confident they can contribute much toward the success of the campaign.

The Way We See It

Everyone Has Share In Nation's Health

Across the land, medical costs are running away at a rate faster than any other commodity or service — an astounding 6 per cent climb each year, according to the bureau of labor statistics.

Hospital costs are soaring, outstripping all other items on the nation's medical bill. A hospital room which cost $9.85 in 1945 now runs $31.22 a day, and the consumer price index shows that rates have more than doubled in the past 10 years.

Inflation, unquestionably, has something to do with mounting medical costs, but inflation accounts for only 25 per cent of the cost-rise picture.

According to American Hospital Association officials, the major factor in climbing costs is medical specialization — more complicated machinery, more highly trained technicians to operate it, and more complicated techniques in medical care.

Caught in the price squeeze is the vast middle-income bracket in America's economy. The wealthy do not fear major medical expenses, and the indigent cannot pay for them. Upon the shoulders of the middle class, then, falls the greatest financial burden.

Will these costs rise indefinitely?

Yes, says the American Hospital Association.

What then is the solution to medicine that is rapidly outpricing itself?

The AHA believes that ultimately government — on local and national levels — will participate more and more in the paying of the nation's health bill. Already, they point out, 44 per cent of all medical care in the United States is borne by some form of government.

Perhaps it is in the very essence of the cost spiral — specialization — that a solution lies. If we can project the progress of medical science far enough into the future, we may see some hope of an economic leveling off, for while specialization is on the increase we are beginning to realize its effects — a healthier America.

Advances in preventive medicine, such as orthodontia and the Salk vaccine, may one day lead to a lessening of the demand on our medical services. A child whose teeth have been straightened may not have to replace them in later years; a child who is spared the ravages of polio will not need the nursing, the iron lung, and the other special care and treatment now dispensed on such cases in wholesale quantities.

Americans have a stake in the health and welfare of their fellows — a direct economic stake. Future tax dollars can be saved if a young body is rehabilitated and sent out into society, productive and sound.

Whether by tax dollars or by some private means of prepayment, the health of the nation must be insured. If for no other than reasons of economic expediency, everyone has a share in the good health of the nation. (FP

High School Students Are Setting Example for All

"How are you getting along in these summer days, dear friends? . . .

"Thanks to your help and love, I am fine and happy as usual. . . .

"I was most happy to receive the photograph album from you. Imagine how delighted I was to be able to see every one of you in the photographs."

The writer of this letter — Moon Yung Sook, a 13-year-old Korean girl—was addressing her foster parents, who number over 2,000.

They are the students of Arlington high school who have sponsored her under the auspices of Foster Parents, Inc., a national organization, for the past four years.

Throughout the country, American foster parents—be they one, or as in this case, a collective parent—receive letters in many foreign and unfamiliar languages.

The letters are translated by the Foster Parents' organization, through which arrangements can be made to assist children orphaned or made destitute by war.

Anyone can qualify for membership in the program. Obviously, the only qualification needed is a small measure of generosity.

And while the many tongues which record appreciation of this qualification are foreign, the language they speak is a universal one: it is the language of love.

It was this message which was first delivered by the prophet in whose name we celebrate the essential meaning of Christmas.

Prep Athletes Accorded High Honor for Talents

Two of the finest football players to ever perform at Arlington high school were recently accorded the highest honor bestowed on prep atheltes when they were named to All-State teams.

Halfback Mike Dundy and tackle Dan Striegel were selected on the All-State football aggregations at the termination of their final competitive grid season at Arlington high.

Dundy led Arlington in rushing, scoring, and total offense and was second in pass receiving. He was the second leading scorer in the West Suburban league and was a unanimous All-Conference selection. In addition, he was named to All-Suburban and All-Chicago area football teams.

Striegel played all but eight seconds of the entire 1959 football season and was a standout on both offense and defense. He was also named to the All-Conference and All-Suburban area honor teams.

Three other boys received special mention ratings on the post-season teams: Arlington quarterback George Bork and guard Roy Klehm and Prospect's guard Jeff Rogers.

We want to take this opportunity to congratulate these boys not only for the honor they have brought to themselves but also for the honor and prestige they have given to their communities and respective high schools.

The World at Large

Racial Challenges Now Face Suburbia

by WILLIAM DULANEY

An unsigned inflamatory letter is circulating in Chicago's suburbs. It refers to the propsed integrated subdivision in Deerfield and warns residents that, "It may be your town or village ed letter advises property owners to, "Look—ask cludes by warning, "Renext." The mimeographmember—it can happen —and act now." It conto you."

The letter is right. It could happen in any of our communities. I also concur with the letter's asking us to "ask." We should ask ourselves what our reactions would be if faced with the prospect of an integrated community or subdivision in our municipality.

No doubt a few of us would welcome such a project as progress in the field of human relations. A larger number would fight it and resist any attempt at integration no matter how controlled. The majority of us, however, I suspect, would be torn between traditional prejudices and what we know is right. We would discuss it with our close friends, but hesitate to speak up in public. We would try to reconcile some vague notions about the brotherhood of man with concern over our property values. We would wonder how it happened so quickly when we'd never even associated the problem with the northwest suburban area.

AND WHILE most of us would wish it was some other community that was being integrated, we would recall something about Christian principles and keep quiet. We'd stay out of the limelight and watch with interest and some apprehension the ensuing developments. And the developments?

In Deerfield a school teacher was met with shouts of "Fire him!" when he rose at a public meeting and said he favored the proposed project. Several ministers urged acceptance of an integrated community, only to be jeered. Village board members have refused to take a public stand on the issue. The village manager protests that the builder acted dishonestly in not revealing his plans when he applied for and was granted a building permit. Cries of "Throw them out!" accompanied an attempt by spokesmen for the proposed subdivision to answer property owners' questions. Petitions are being circulated urging the village to condemn the project's land. A white citizen's council has yet to be formed, but opponents of the project have organized an 11-lawyer committee to represent them.

Many of Deerfield's residents have panicked. They have quit shaking their heads and clucking their tongues over Montgomery, Ala., or Poplarville, Miss. Despite protestations that they are not prejudiced, they don't want Negroes in their community, regardless of economic, cultural or educational levels. Their thinlyveiled rationalizations about the builder's deceit (since when was it necessary to specify on a building permit application the race for whom your subdivision is intended?) fall flat. They just don't want Negroes as neighbors in Deerfield.

AS FOR THE argument by some that the proposed project is out to make a buck and bilk its Negro customers, since when did they last buy a house at cost?

But what of the thousands of other residents who are sitting quietly, watching the furor with interest? By their silence they're lending tacit approval to the hypocritical, debasing, ignoble and selfish actions of their more vociferous townfolk. It's not enough that the ministers call for peaceful integration of the community or that a lone resident takes the floor in favor of the idea. They need the support of those who know, but are afraid to say publicly, that segregated housing on any basis other than ability-to-pay is immoral and illegal.

They need public bolstering by those who are aware, but keep quiet from fear of ridicule, that it's better that integration come through intelligent planning rather than be eventually forced upon them or their neighbors by an exploding Negro population.

City officials have also abdicated responsibility in Deerfield. They have to this point failed to exercise the leadership necessary to permit the development of the subdivision in a calm atmosphere. On the contrary, the village manager has charged the builder with dishonesty in not revealing his plans when applying for a permit. This argument was answered by John W. Hunt, a member of Adlai Stevenson's law firm and vice president of Progress Development corp., builders of the project, who said:

"It seems to us the people who say there should be some kind of advance notice when a builder goes into a community should demand such notice by the builder who, in violation of good conscience and principle and the law of the land, intends to build discriminatory housing."

THE DEERFIELD controversy brings home to me once again that, contrary to popular theory, economic and educational levels have little to do with prejudice. A threat to the status quo, be it in Cicero, Trumbull Park or Deerfield, will, it appears, always arouse the spleen of small, petty men.

At the same time the violence of the demagogues' reaction seems to paralyze the rest of the community, a majority, into shameful silence. (FP

Religion and Science

Huxley Back In the Foray

by MARTIN E. MARTY

It is difficult to remember when in recent times the issue of religion - and - science was more in the news than last week. The event which occasioned the discussion was the centennial of the publication of Charles Darwin's "Origin of the Species," as everyone who reads more than the sports pages by now must know.

The University of Chicago gathered distinguished scientists and theologians to explore the controversial subject of Darwinism after its first century. From some of the headlines one might gain the impression that all this was new.

The biggest splash came when Sir Julian Huxley spoke from the pulpit of Rockefeller chapel to predict the doom of religions in the face of the scientific world-view. The next morning the newspapers were full of anxious replies from churchmen, both clerical and lay. Most of the papers spoke as if Sir Julian were on the verge of upsetting all of America's sacred institutions by his attack on the meaning of religion in today's kind of world.

WHY THIS should have caused so many cases of jitters is hard to see. From the 1870's to the 1920's partisans of both sides rang all the changes possible on the subject. We can now smile at many of their efforts — as if we would have known more, way back then. We can smile at the evolutionists who thought they had Christian theology sewed up and at the Christians who thought they had the evolutionists sewed up. We can take lightly the efforts of the "theistic" evolutionists who tried to build bridges and we can take lightly the Christians who blithely asserted that evolution was "God's way of doing things."

But as time passed most of those issues wore thin and we all went back to business. Christians who accepted the presuppositions of their own faith urged the men of science back to their microscopes and test tubes; men of science have more and more learned that they are not priests or theologians.

Sir Julian Huxley's only real sin the other day was that he turned back the clock. His only real beside-the-pointedness was that the people who have long lived with the issue yawn when they hear it put this way.

Huxley is dated, and this was never more obvious than when, two years ago, he put together his ideas on religion in a book, "Religion without Revelation," a book that created little or no stir. Most people, except for the headlines this week, probably forgot that men like Dr. Huxley were still around to haunt them.

ON THE Huxley side of things it must be admitted that religious people and spokesmen for the Christian faith often trigger his kind of outburst. When men of faith attempt to discuss the scientific question on the scientists' terms in a "prove-the Bible true" kind of apology they set themselves up for his kind of attack.

Second, if Huxley thinks this way he has a right and a duty to attempt to propagate his views, though a pulpit may seem an incongruous launching pad.

And if his anti-religion missile fizzles and falls it will be because once again we learn that Christians, at least, do not believe in a world view but in a God who opens many kinds of futures.

THERE IS another side of Sir Julian, too. Recently I read a moving book, The Phenomenon of Man" by the Jesuit paleontologist Pierre Teilhard de Chardin. Its introduction spoke of the effort of Teilhard to reconcile his Catholic Christianity and his evolutionary (and revolutionary) discoveries.

It says, "Through (Teilhard's) combination of wide scientific knowledge with deep religious feeling and a rigorous sense of values, he has forced theologians to view their ideas in the new perspective of evolution and scientists to see the spiritual implications of their knowledge. He has both clarified and unified our vision of reality. . . The religiously-minded can [illegible]onger turn their ba[illegible] upon the natural world, or seek escape from its imperfections in a supernatural world; nor can the materialistically-minded deny importance to spiritual experience and religious feeling."

The author of those words: Sir Julian Huxley. I wish he'd said them in Rockefeller chapel. I wish they would have made the headlines. (FP

Can We Blame School For Society's Ills?

by CHARLES HAYES

Angry and ill-tempered debates on the status of our schools have been a repetitious and depressing feature of American Life ever since sputnik began its global streak.

In the suburbs as elsewhere, the school has emerged as a convenient scapegoat for national ills.

The science-sputnik fiasco resulted in everyone screaming reproaches at educators, demanding everything from required chemistry and physics to a full-scale adoption of the Soviet Union's educational program. Extremists extolled the virtues of the 19th century's one-room country school and its curriculum of 3 R's.

Burdened taxpayers, groaning under the weight of ever-expanding taxes at all levels of government, frequently pinpoint their resentment on the schools. Seldom equipped with information to substantiate their charges, they severely criticize modern education for its "gobble - de- - gook" and "fancy frills."

TO MEET the problems of juvenile delinquency, too many citizens rely on the school as a total answer. As one parent recently remarked, "After all, what am I paying taxes for?"

Faced with increased antagonism, suspicion, and misinformation, school officials may find it difficult to serve the educational interests of the community.

Both school and community are pressed to meet this challenge.

It is imperative, first of all, that we develop a keener appreciation of the school's problems and goals. We need increased citizen participation in the educational system with increased opportunity for citizen expression. This would give fresh insights and offer challenging solutions to educational problems as well as serve to create an intelligent community reception to higher educational costs.

To achieve such participation requires the interest and cooperation of both citizen and educator.

THE PUBLIC needs to inform itself on such problems as ability grouping, teacher recruitment, dropout rates, extra - curricular activites, teaching of foreign language, school finance, enrichment programs, needed physical facilities, teaching aids, and curriculums in general before it can presume to pass judgment on the system's worth.

To do something about sputnik and science, tax rates, juvenile delinquency, reading, writing, and arithmetic requires doing something about the myths that obscure the thinking of the average citizen.

We must stop shifting responsibility to schools that properly belong to community, home or church.

As a community, we must learn to accept responsibility for problems which reflect a lack of proper community life.

There are few satisfactory alternatives to a normal family life for children. As parents, we cannot blame the schools for confusion and emotional disturbances within a child which have resulted from family instability.

As citizens, can we justly blame the schools because of a shortage of scientists, teachers, journalists, social workers, engineers? Can we credit the schools for America's current cultural decay, for our stagnant literature or theater? Is it to the schools we point when confronted with a decline in political and intellectual integrity?

The roots of these concerns are buried deep in our failure as individuals and as a community to develop proper moral and social values. Needed now are ethical principles to live by. Needed now is the concept and experience of loyalty and solidarity, of beauty, of constructiveness and productiveness, creative expression, the spirit of the family and love.

The school alone cannot—and will not—provide it.

The challenge belongs to all of us. Together, we can meet it.

No Leftover Meals In Most of the World

There are few more delightful displays of the art of sleight of hand than the one the American housewife performs with leftovers. Whether it's done, for example, with the remainder of the Thanksgiving turkey or the Sunday roast, the result is a new, tasty, nourishing meal set before the family.

That's our happy story. But for two-thirds of the people of the earth, just getting enough to eat is a trick they can never pull off.

There's hunger, disease, despair.

AND THAT'S WHERE another feat of American magic comes in. It's done with the super-plenty of America's farms.

After all relief needs are met in the United States, CARE is given milk powder, flour, and corn meal by the Government, purchases rice, beans, margarine and meat, and for each $1 contributed sends a package of life-giving food to the needy in 15 countries of Europe, Asia, Latin America and the Middle East.

Donations to the CARE Food Crusade, Chicago 3, Ill., delivers help to the hungry in the donor's name, bringing a message of hope and friendship from the donor and America.

Hear Research Farm Plans

PLANS FOR the University of Illinois' new Moorman Animal Breeding research farm were unveiled Monday, Nov. 16, before 75 of the nation's top farm editors and industrial representatives.

In a special preview luncheon, O. Burr Ross outlined the farm's proposed physical setup and proposed research programs. Ross heads the college of agriculture's department of animal science. He and his staff will have the primary responsibility of operating the farm.

Scientists from the college of veterinary medicine, agricultural and civil engineering departments and public health service will be working closely with the animal science staff.

NOW UNDER construction, the farm will be one of the most outstanding research systems in the country when completed in 1961. It is being established with a $200,000 grant from the Moorman Manufacturing company, Quincy, Ill.

Ross detailed an elaborate breeding program designed to develop improved lines of hogs. Using Durocs and Yorkshires, the researchers will actually develop five lines. They will include two Duroc lines, two Yorkshire lines and one Duroc-Yorkshire crossbred line.

The farm's physical setup will also allow animal scientists to study management, environmental, disease and engineering problems.

RESEARCHERS will simultaneously study such factors as (1) building design and construction, (2) different housing systems, (3) manure handling and disposal, (4) ventilation, heat and air conditioning, (5) "disease-free" pig production and (6) equipment and automation.

Some buildings will have a controlled environment. This will permit relationship studies between environmental stress and physiological functions of the pig. From the results researchers can determine the best environments for pigs of different ages and sizes.

After the luncheon the groups toured the 90-acre farm site. Located south of the main university campus, a high fence will completely surround it.

VISITORS, employees and researchers will enter the farm through a special gate house. There they will receive sterilized boots and laboratory coats. Ross explained that these measures are necessary to keep the farm-disease-free. He pointed out that disease is one of the principal problems facing swine producers today.

Other speakers on the program were Dean Louis B. Howard of the college of agricuture, E. H. Wilson, president, Moorman Manufacturing company, and F. T. Wall, Dean of the U. of I. graduate school. (Fm

Economist Surveys Hog Market Outlook

A University of Illinois agricultural economist looked at the hog marketing picture with mixed emotions November 19 as he spoke to the National Swine Industry conference.

On the favorable side, M. B. Kirtley listed current increases in better quality hogs as a sign of progress in hog marketing.

"Better quality hogs coming to market gives more incentive for market firms to differentiate prices for quality," Kirtley explained. He estimated that about one-fourth of the hogs now marketed would grade U.S. No. 1.

THE ECONOMIST noted a more even flow of hogs to market over the past few years, thanks to multiple farrowing and improved production systems.

"This should help to eliminate periods when everyone struggles for hogs to keep up a kill regardless of quality, as well as periods when market gluts force prices so low that all grades of hogs give the processor a favorable return," he said.

He commended farmers for recent progress in leveling the hog flow and encouraged more of the same from them.

GOING TO the not-so-bright side of hog marketing, Kirtley singled out the pricing system as "one of our greatest impediments in hog marketing." He called for one unified system of grading.

"Currently there are U.S. grade standards, plant grade standards and buyer grades that are some modification of U.S. standards. The interest in developing effective systems for measuring quality is healthy, but frequently most confusing."

More training for both buyer and seller in evaluating live hogs was another point Kirtley stressed. For the sake of accuracy and consistency among plants and buyers, he added that more follow-up checks should be made on live and carcass grading.

KIRTLEY listed selection of pork cuts on the basis of quality as an important future goal in hog marketing. "Most of our progress to date has been a matter of quantity, not quality," he said. "We expect to receive more for certain lots of hogs because they will provide more pounds of more preferred lean cuts."

He added that carcass or live grades weren't refined enough for selection on quality, but that they could well serve as a basis for starting the selection.

The economist pointed out that merchandising programs for higher quality pork were being held back by the erratic market supply of high-quality hogs. He felt that success in merchandising would pave the way for further advances in the hog marketing system.

Down On The Farm

with Your Farm Adviser

Dr. Chamberlain of the U. S. Soybean Laboratory says purple moldy beans and green beans are caused by dry weather and a fungus disease. Some of you may have found damaged beans. This has occurred among all varieties. Some were more severely damaged than others. Most of it is caused when normal growth is stopped and soybeans are developing.

The surest way to boost soybean yields is to plant in narrow rows, according to the latest research at the University of Illinois, college of agriculture.

Agronomists have found that 24-inch rows give about a 15 per cent advantage over 40-inch rows. A farmer who averages 30 bushels with 40-inch rows could add almost five more bushels if he planted in 24-inch rows.

ILLINOIS FARMERS need a gross income of more than $10,000 in order to have an adequate standard of living, according to a University of Illinois agricultural economist.

D. F. Wilken reported that studies of farm business records tell this story clearly to farmers cooperating in the Illinois Farm bureau Farm Management service.

Wilkins said farmers who keep complete farm business records can see the strong and weak points in their farm business.

Illinois and total U. S. land values have more than tripled in the past 30 years.

THE AMERICAN cockroach, measuring 1½ inches in length, is the largest roach commonly found in Illinois.

A good reading lamp may help students make good grades. Quantity, quality, and location of a reading light are important for good study.

Don't test the other driver's ability to stop by recklessly pulling out of your driveway into his path. His brakes may be good and he may want to stop, but a wet, slippery highway may make it impossible. You can't afford a wrecked car or lost time and a hospital bill.

The expression, "If a little is good, a lot is better," doesn't apply when you're buying fuses. Buy and use 15-ampere fuses for lighting circuits unless you're sure your wiring will safely carry more current.

Dehorn Calves After 1 Week

Best time to dehorn calves is before they're a week old, said Carl F. Mees, county farm adviser. At this early age there is little or no bleeding and less chance of infection.

To remove horns from young calves, rub the horn button with sandpaper, a corn cob or other rough material until it is raw and inflamed. Then apply caustic potash or some other dehorning material.

It's best to put a ring of vaseline around the horn to keep caustic fluid from the animal's eyes. Also, be careful to keep the material off your face and hands.

Mees said an electric dehorner works well on calves up to three months old. Use it like a branding iron to burn a quarter-inch circle around the base of the horn to a cherry red color. Because the skin is not broken, there is no bleeding and little danger of infection.

Use dehorning shears or a saw on calves more than six months old. To do a good job with these tools, remove about a quarter inch of hide with the horn. Control excessive bleeding by searing the cut with a hot iron or by tying a string tightly around the poll.

Never use dehorning shears or a saw during the fly season or in cold weather, Mees warned. (Fm

Hints To Home Owners

by

James Fizzell

Assistant Farm Advisor

by: James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Adviser

The stately Amaryllis provides a bright accent for the flower window in late winter. That is a time of the year when bright splashes of color are especially appreciated. The scant foilage and short blooming season are more than compensated for by the bright color of the 6 to 8 inch flowers, and by the easy culture.

Amaryllis bulbs should be plump and free of rot or mold and at least 2½ inches in diameter for good flowering the first year.

Plant the bulb in a pot several inches larger in diameter than the bulb itself. Any good potting soil is satisfactory, however, the pot must be provided with good drainage. A layer of coarse gravel in the bottom of the pot is satisfactory.

THE BULB should be planted so that the upper ½ to 2/3 of the bulb is above the soil.

Be sure to have the soil level about ¾ of an inch below the rim of the pot.

Keep the soil on the dry side until growth appears and hold the bulb in a cool shaded place during this period.

When growth begins, move the plant to a warm sunny window and water more freely.

Insects and diseases are seldom a problem on these plants. If the bulbs do become diseased, it is wise to discard them immediately.

Magnificent flowers, brightly colored and supported on a tall stem will be the reward for proper care, about 8 weeks after potting.

GARDEN LILIES, so delightful but often so expensive, can be easily propagated in the home without special training or complicated equipment. Where small bulbs are produced naturally in the leaf axils of the flower stalk, as in the Tiger Lily, they can be detached when mature and ready to fall, soaked in water for 48 hours, and planted in shallow flats. If protected from drying in summer and freezing in winter, they should produce a supply of bulbs.

In lilies that bloom in early summer, the bloom stalk may be pulled out of the growing bulb with a twisting upward pull after blooming and laid horizontally in a bed of moist sand. If the sand is kept moist, small bulbs will form along the stem at every node. These can then be grown to flowering size. Late blooming lilies will not have time to develop bulbs by this method out of doors but may be handled in the same way indoors.

ANOTHER sure-fire way to produce bublets is by the process known as scaling. In this method a large bulb is pulled apart scale by scale. Care should be taken to get all of the scale because the important part is where it has been attached to the base of the bulb.

Put the detached scales between layers of moist sphagnum moss in a mason-type fruit jar. Wet the sphagnum moss thoroughly, and then wring as dry as possible with the bare hands. This will remove most of the excess moisture but will still leave the moss moist enough to keep a good humidity in the jar. Place a layer of sphagnum in the bottom of the jar, cover with a layer of lily scales, then a layer of sphagnum, etc., until the jar is filled. Leave the jar open for 48 hours; then put the cover on without an air-tight seal. If the jar is kept at ordinary house temperature, small bulbs will form at the base of the old bulb scales. These should be left in the jar for several months, then planted shallowly in a flat of light soil and grown for a full year before being placed in the garden.

While this may seem a long time to wait, a single mature bulb will produce from thirty to fifty bulblets. By this means, we can all afford even the very fine expensive lilies for our own garden. The bulbs will usually bloom in three years. (BB

Ask That Hunters Save Rabbit Eyes

Although some rabbit hunters may be a bit squeamish about scooping the eye out of a rabbit with a spoon, they should forget their squeamishness and save an eye from each rabbit killed in the interest of future hunting.

The Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's clubs is urging rabbit hunters to cooperate in an important project of the Illinois Natural History survey and department of conservation. Progressive sportsmen know how important it is to learn about game birds and animals so that the sports of hunting and fishing can be preserved.

DR. REXFORD Lord, leader of the rabbit study, wants hunters to put an eye from each rabbit they kill in a jar of rubbing alcohol. Hunters should write with pencil on paper the name of the county where the rabbit was killed. This should be put directly into the jar. (Ink will run in the alcohol). A separate jar should be kept for each county where rabbits are killed. All jars should be turned in to the local game warden.

ONE OF THE purposes of the study is to determine rabbits' age and help predict future trends in rabbit populations. There is no question that the present Illinois rabbit population is very good, but no one knows why. Dr. Lord and his assistants are studying all angles of rabbit life and need help.

The major goal of the Illinois Federation of Sportsmen's clubs is to make Illinois sportsmen the best informed in the world. Collecting rabbit eyes is another small step toward achieving this goal.

Notes from Farm Outlook Meeting

by L. H. SIMERL

Gross farm income in 1959 is less than the record set in 1958, but more than in any of the five years from 1953 to 1957. Gross farm income includes all receipts from the sale of farm products plus government payments.

Gross farm income has decreased in 1959 primarily because of lower prices for hogs and reduced government payments. Declining prices for cattle may contribute to a further reduction in 1960.

FARM PRODUCTION expenses continued their upward creep in 1959 and seem likely to rise a little again in 1960. Higher property taxes, and probably larger outlays for machinery and supplies, will help to swell costs.

Net farm income is down about 15 per cent in 1959 from 1958 as a result of the lower receipts and higher costs. Net income is about the same this year as it was in 1957.

Only about 2 per cent of the total feed produced in the past seven years has been accummulated in surplus stocks. But most of the feed that has been piled up is corn. By next October 1 we will have about one-half a corn crop still on hand.

USDA OFFICIALS think that the 1960 spring pig crop will be smaller than that of 1959. If this proves to be true, hog prices should begin to work upward in the near future.

The Washington view is that prices of cattle will hold up well through 1960 unless drouth or fear of price breaks cause farmers and ranchers to liquidate, instead of building up, their herds.

Some price improvement is possible because farmers have held production about steady for two years while consumption caught up with output.

The egg and broiler markets have been so low that price improvement is almost sure to come.

Heavy Tillage, Cropping Hurt Soils, Yields

Machinery traffic and heavy cropping are putting the squeeze on Illinois soils. Agronomists diagnose the result as soil compaction, a problem thought to be underestimated in its ability to hurt yields.

Jack Baird, University of Illinois soil scientist, reported results on a soil that has been in a rotation of corn, corn, corn and soybeans for 45 years. The plow layer now weighs 250 tons more per acre than the same soil type from an uncropped grassland area nearby. This means a marked decrease in water intake, reduced root penetration and in some cases high soil and water losses from heavy rains.

BAIRD ADVISED farmers to tread lightly in seedbed preparation. Excess implement traffic is a main cause of compaction, especially where it's wet. Fields should be as dry as possible before they are worked. Fall plowing has an advantage in this sense because it allows later and probably drier entry in the spring.

Heavy trucks spreading fertilizer often track in a severe compaction problem. Baird said that frozen soil better supports these trucks, allowing them to spread without soil damage.

Minimizing tillage and wisely conserving crop residues head up the practices that tend to lessen soil compaction and the related problem of surface crusts. Surface crusts, said Baird, hold up water and air absorption and contribute mightily to losses of soil and water from erosion. (Fm

Prospectors Hear Talks, Demonstrations

A talk on how to handle bees without being stung was one of the highlights of the November 11 meeting of Prospectors 4-H club. The talk was given by Dale Bennett in the home of Gilbert Poppenhagen, where the meeting was held.

Demonstrations included one on making wire taps, also by Dale, another on making 3-way switches by Bill Schwartz and one on plant cuttings, also by Bill.

Larry Oehlerking was elected junior leader of the club, as well as reporter. His associate will be Ed Weigt.

WORDS OFTEN MISUSED

Avoid using APT, in the sense of LIKELY or LIABLE. "Mary is APT at playing the piano, but because she is too often LIKELY to neglect her lessons, she is LIABLE to failure in her ambition to become a great musician.

"He LIGHTED his cigarette" is preferred to "He LIT his cigarette."

The expression "to contact," with the meaning of "to communicate with (a person)," is not good usage, although it has a wide colloquial use in business.

Suburban Horsewomen Vie For International Honors

by JON PETERSON

The 60th annual International Livestock Exposition and Horse Show is at the Amphiteatre until Saturday.

At the horse show many contestants from our suburban area will be competing against horses from around the globe. In all probability there will again be the underlying contest between the American-owned horses and the Canadians, who usually manage to cop a few coveted awards.

Excitement will be at a pitch this year in the open-jumping events as we watch three local girls fight it out for the championship. The favorites in this event will probably be Dorothy Macleod riding Pocohontas, Si Jayne's new open-mare; Alison Rogers riding Hushpuppy; and Barb Beitzel up on Ralph Fleming's outstanding jumper, Jacksorbetter, and Harold Marzano's Our Flirt.

WE DON'T KNOW too much about Pocohontas except that Si accepted her at $10,000 value and was pleased with her performance at the National. With Dorothy riding the mare there is a good chance for success but we'll have to wait and see what "Poco" has in her.

Alison's Hushpuppy has been groomed expressly for this show over the past several months and looks like a healthy contender for a blue ribbon and some hefty prize money. Hushpuppy has been schooled over the jumps until he knows them by heart - we can only hope that he won't take them for granted and lose out due to some minor faults.

Our Flirt is the Canadian mare that beat out Hushpuppy at the South Shore show this season and she's got plenty of jump in her. Barb and Flirt seem to jump like a pair that understands each other's whims, that combination is pretty hard to beat. Jacksorbetter is the Canadian bred gelding we've heard so much about due to his triumph over Windsor Castle at Columbus.

WHILE THERE will, of course, be many excellent horses competing for the jumping crown, these four should be the major contenders for the championship. It is probably the first time in the history of the International that three WOMEN riders will be tops in their division, challenging each others ability.

All four horses are championship material, all three riders are already champions in their own right. The cup will be given not only to an outstanding horse this year, but also to an outstanding rider. Point differences will probably be very small and there should be an exciting finish as one of the jumpers forges ahead to victory.

Fearing to make any prediction in the Hunter division I will just suggest that you keep your eye on Sea Tramp and Happy Landing. Whether they win or not they're two horses who should be seen by connoisseurs of formidable hunters. (B8

It's Time Again For Toys For Tots

Once again, preparations are being made to make it a Merry Christmas for thousands of needy children throughout the Chicagoland area.

All of Chicagolands Marine Corps Reserve units are doing their part with the help of the Shell Oil company, which is again making available their service stations as collection points.

The Marines are happy to play the role of Santa Claus, as they collect and prepare the toys for distribution on their off-duty time. Many of the toys will be repaired or repainted by members of the Marine Reserve units and the Marine Corps League of Park Ridge, so that they will be suitable for use.

IT IS URGED that all those who wish to donate toys do so as soon as possible to allow the necessary time for sorting, repairing and delivery prior to Christmas. If wrapped toys are donated, it should be noted on the wrapping as to whether it is for a boy or girl and for what age group.

The drive will officially start December 7 and will be concluded December 21, giving the Marines three days to complete their toy deliveries to the needy children.

The Chicagoland Marine Reserve units are out to exceed last years collection of approximately 265,000 functional toys. A total of 14,450 toys was collected in the northwest area alone.

FOR THE local and northwest area, members of the Marine Air Reserve Training detachment and the Marine Air Reserve squadrons (VMA-543, VMA-611, HMR-776, MACS-22, and MARG-12) based at Glenview have volunteered their time to collect, sort, repair and deliver the toys in time for Christmas.

Lt. Col. Edmond P. Hartsock, commanding officer of the Marine Air Reserve Training detachment, Glenview, said, "The Marine Reserves of the Naval Air Station, Glenview, are pleased to play this small role in making children happier on their day—Christmas. It is also a pleasure to receive the splendid cooperation of the Shell Oil company in this most worthy project."

For further information and pickup of toys, the inquirer should call Sgt. James R. Smallridge, Naval Air Station, Glenview, PA. 4-1000, ext. 422. (B-9

Economy? Yes! Cup for cup kibble-sized Ken-L-Biskit provides more nutrition than most other dry dog foods—so you can feed less because this food does more.

Goodness? That's important too. Dogs get more out of Ken-L-Biskit. Rich in meat protein. More digestible because it's baked. There's less waste.

But the real appeal is the fact that dogs eat it up. They like it. They love it! An empty feeding bowl is all the proof you need.

The Gift Of Love

In almost 2,000 years it hasn't changed a bit. There always comes some quiet time along the Eve or on the Day when Love is born again in each of us. Dr. Ralph Sockman, pastor still of the first parish he came into forty-two years ago and minister of the National Radio Pulpit since 1928, recalls the way this Love unfolds in him each year, and tells about the kind of Christmas he is looking forward to.

The Town Where Kindness Lives

Phyllis McGinley is the prize-winning poet and author of such books as A Short Walk From The Station, Pocketful of Wry, and, most recently, The Province Of The Heart. In private life she is married to Charles Hayden and is the mother of Julia and Phyllis. They live in the suburbs in a rambling, comfortable house on a quiet, tree-lined lane, and this month we offer her tribute to the sleepy, seaside village that has been their home for over 20 years.

Have A Hearth

Here's good news for everyone but Santa. There are now compact, portable fireplaces you can buy in many styles and sizes, colors, and designs that you can put almost anywhere to add yet another touch of beauty and warmth to your house. We present four ways to have your "fake" and heat it, too, this winter.

Remodeled By The Owners

The Paul Monaghans and their three children—Carol, 5, Alec, 3, and Peter, 10 months—love life on Philadelphia's Main Line, and they love living in the 1890 carriage house they did over themselves. We photograph it in this issue as seventh in our series on Unusual Suburban Homes.

Where can you always find a good Baby Sitter?

BY JEAN WEST

Young families in Silver Spring, Maryland, have the answer

WHEN we moved to Silver Spring, my husband and I were too busy arranging and rearranging furniture, planting our first vegetable garden, digging weeds and encouraging new grass, and becoming acquainted with our neighbors to think much of going out dancing, or to the movies, or visiting our city friends.

Gradually, however, the furniture was arranged to our liking, we reaped our small harvest of vegetables, the grass grew thicker and the weeds thinner, and we once again had the feeling we'd like to leave the children for a few hours at least and go out on the town, just the two of us.

Having so decided, we found ourselves facing a problem never encountered in the city. Here we were, in a spanking new house, with a spanking new baby boy, and every couple was just like us—too much like us. We couldn't find any grandmothers in the vicinity, and only two teen-agers, and they weren't much interested in baby-sitting.

We tried exchanging sittings with one or two of our neighbors. But to our disappointment this didn't work out too well—one would want to go out three nights a week or so, the other only once a month. Or there would be a neighborhood get-together, and everyone would want to go out, but no one would want to sit.

Then four of us hit upon an idea—why not form a cooperative baby-sitter's group where a pool of parents would undertake to sit for each other? We went around door-to-door, covering three blocks, passing out flyers we had made, asking anyone interested in such a venture to come to a meeting. To our amazement twenty women attended, and our cooperative was formed.

The club grew until we had to close the membership. Today, of the original four members only one remains, but the group is very active and all members are happy. Although the group was formed because of a scarcity of baby sitters, many mothers join to save money. Others feel more relaxed when they are out, knowing that an experienced mother is in charge.

Since forming our club, we have found that there is nothing very unusual about our situation or our solution. Parents in other places have had the same idea, and organized, so that when one couple wanted to go out, they could call on another parent to come in to sit with their children.

FOR THOSE who may not be acquainted with the workings of a baby-sitters' cooperative, here is a list of the rules which have helped to make our club an effiicient body:

1. Each member, selected in alphabetical order, will be secretary for a period of one-half month.

2. Upon request, the secretary will obtain a sitter from the list of members, calling first those owing the most hours. The sitter will then notify the person for whom the appointment was made.

3. The secretary will balance the books each half month.

4. Within one or two days after the sitting, the sitter will inform the secretary as to the number of hours she stayed.

5. For daytime care the children will be brought to the sitter's house. One child counts as single time; two or more children count as double time. Daytime sitting is voluntary.

6. Double time is counted after 12 midnight on weekdays and Sundays, and after 1 a.m. on Fridays and Saturdays.

7. If a sitter is engaged for a certain hour, time is counted from that hour, even when the parent is late picking the sitter up.

8. Subject to "employer's" approval, husbands may be sitters.

9. Double time must be counted if a sitter is required to care for two families at the same time.

10. Any sitting done before 7 p.m. is considered daytime sitting.

11. If a member refuses to sit when she has no other engagements, the club can ask that

I Want

Christmas tree even if I were forced to live alone.

And then as midnight approaches, I want Christmas carols. If there is no church within reasonable reach, it is good to gather around the piano as a family and sing "O Little Town of Bethlehem," "The First Noel" and "Silent Night, Holy Night." But I find it still better to join with fellow worshippers in a church, where the music and candlelight mellow our mood, to hear again the story that never grows old.

It is already clear that I want to celebrate Christmas in a home. Twice in my lifetime I have spent Christmas Day in hotels. Once I was in New Delhi, India, where the hotel had not even any decorations to mark the day. The other hotel was in America, and the managers did much to make it a festive occasion. Although the hotel announced in the rooms, "This is your home away from home," I could not feel at home there on Christmas Day. No more Christmases for me away from home, if I can help it!

The Babe born in Bethlehem kindles feelings which call for a home to give them brightest glow. Christmas is not only the day which commemorates the birth of the world's best child but also the day when love at its best is born in each of us. Even the Old Scrooges feel the lure of love and look longingly into the windows of homes where Tiny Tims make glad the heart.

Yet much as I want a Christmas in a home, I prefer not to spend it in my own home. Surprised? Well, I live in a city apartment, and I like a house for Christmas. Just about the loveliest sight I know is a house in Christmas evening dress—wreaths of holly on the door, red bells in the windows, the lights of a Christmas tree shining within, and then to make it perfect, the eaves framed in the white of snow. God does not always guarantee us a white Christmas, but we can control the other colors.

Yes, I hope to hie me from my city apartment to a home in the suburbs where my daughter and her husband live. And would you guess it? There are four little grandchildren in that same house. Some people say that it takes children to make Christmas. I do not quite subscribe to that, for the Christmas spirit can be wherever love is, and love is not limited to children. But little ones do add a flavor of expectancy and excitement. In them we see the pure springs from which flow the stream of Christmas joy.

About the only time I ever enjoy being pulled out of bed is on Christmas morning, when little grandchildren tug at me. They are impatient to get through breakfast and get at the presents stacked around the Christmas tree. But two years ago I saw a little seven-year-old boy, who could not wait through breakfast, slip shyly up behind his father and put at his plate a letter-rack which he had made for him at school. That gesture made me realize the truth that "it is more blessed to give than to receive."

In our family we open the presents one at a time so that all eight of us can share the joy of each recipient. And I have noted the extra sparkle in little Lisa's eyes when Mother or Father opens a package prepared by her. And so with the other children. Oh, they like to get gifts. Their little fingers fumble feverishly in untying the knots, and they squeal with delight at what they discover. But they stop, look, and listen when others open the gifts they have given.

Erich Fromm says that a child does not really learn what love is until he is about eight years old. Up to that time he receives the love of others, but at about that age he awakens to the joy of giving to others. If Fromm is right, then Christmas is the ideal setting for the birth of love in a child's heart.

After the gifts have been distributed, I want some fun. Yes, and some feasting. The feasting need not be extravagant, and the fun should not be artificial. To sit as a group while a Christmas story is read (and for me Dickens' "Christmas Carol" never loses its appeal); perhaps to play one of the new games which comes from under the Christmas tree; to sing again a few carols; to hear the students home from school recount some experiences; to read Christmas cards from friends who remember us; and most of all, to look at one another until we really see each other (which the little girl in Thornton Wilder's "Our Town" said we never do)—these are some of the things which make the Christmas I want.

The story of Bethlehem calls us back to the simple essentials of life—the beauty and wonder of childhood, the tender love of parents, the adoration of the humble, and the humility of the wise. Let us not lose the essence of Bethlehem in the froth of our modern Babels.

NEW FORMULA ELECTRASOL® RESTORES DISHWASHERS TO 100% EFFICIENCY

Eliminates FOOD PROTEIN FOAM that Reduces Dishwasher Action As Much As 90% . . . to Cause Spots, Streaks, Film.

MAKE SIMPLE EGG FOAM TEST! COMPARE YOUR PRESENT DETERGENT WITH NEW FOAM-CONTROL ELECTRASOL

OLD-STYLE DETERGENTS CAN'T CONTROL PROTEIN FOAM

Drop pinch of your dishwasher detergent into yolk-soiled egg cup. Fill with hot water. Stir vigorously. Note protein foam that can reduce dishwasher action almost to zero.

NEW FORMULA ELECTRASOL STOPS FOAM FORMATION

Drop pinch of new Electrasol into equally soiled egg cup. Note freedom from protein foam. This means 100% efficient dishwasher performance. No spots, streaks or film!

Foam Control Means Spot-Free Glasses

Economics Laboratory, leader in dishwasher detergent research, proved what scientists long suspected; that food proteins (egg yolk, milk, grease, gravy, meat, potatoes, etc.) create foam that slows down washing action almost to zero; that ordinary detergents can't control foam; that spots, streaks and film result; that new formula Electrasol eliminates foam, restores washing action to 100% efficiency. Result? Spotless glassware, dishes, silver! Get foam-control Electrasol, most economical dishwasher detergent. Enthusiastically endorsed by dishwasher manufacturers!

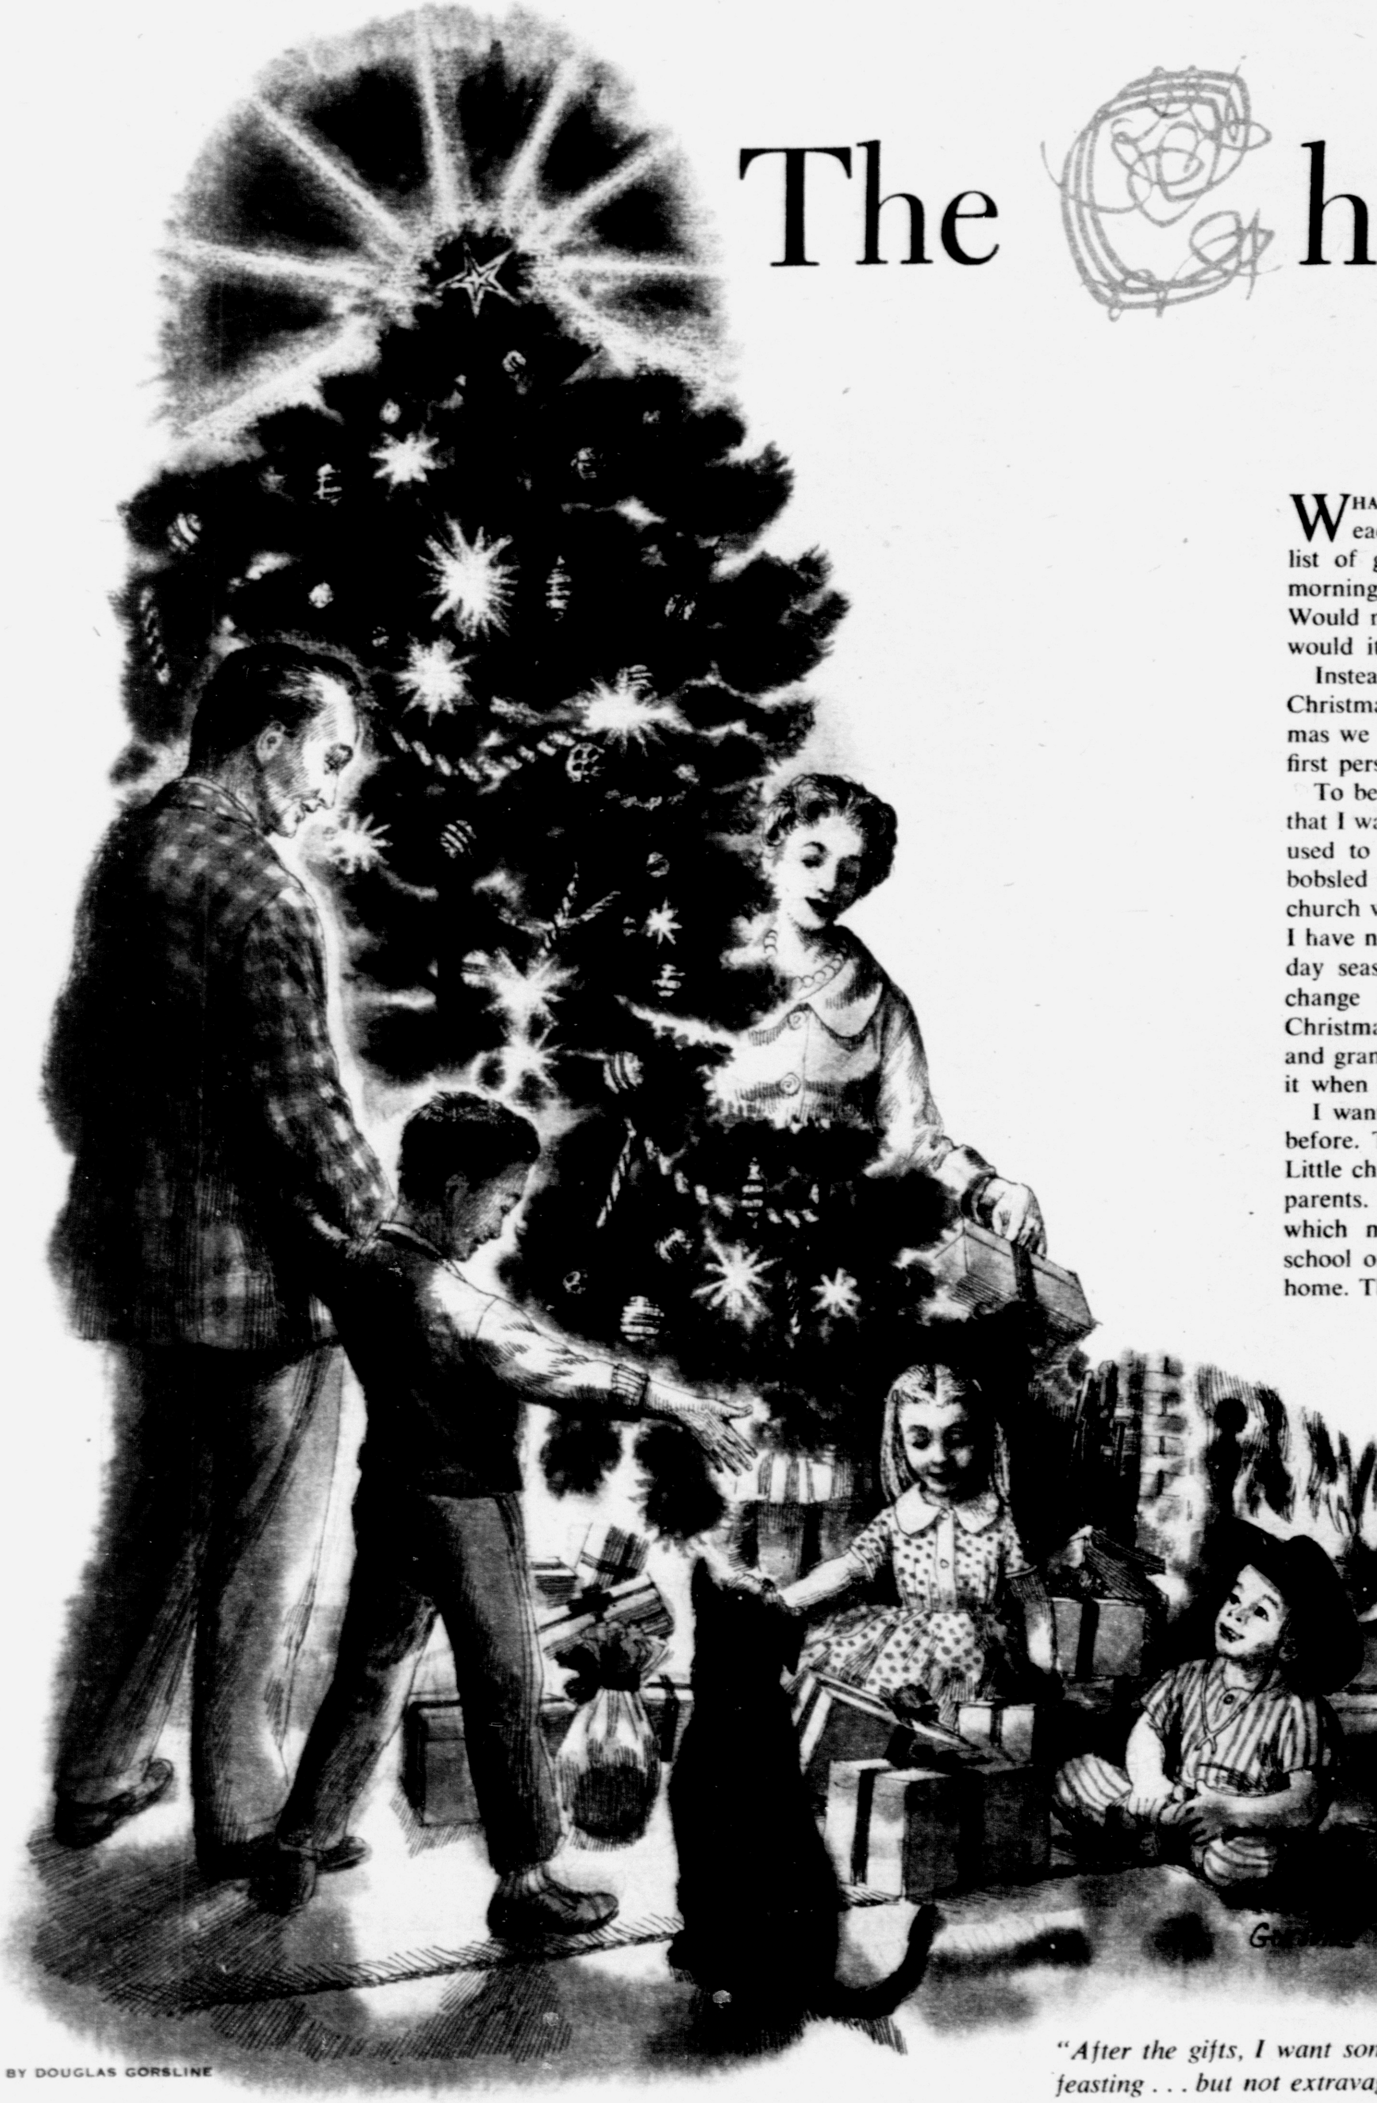
The Christmas



DRAWING BY DOUGLAS GORSLINE

"After the gifts, I want some fun. Yes, and some feasting . . . but not extravagant, not artificial."

WHAT do you want for Christmas? Suppose each member of the family made out a list of gifts desired. And then on Christmas morning each found all the items asked for. Would not that make a perfect Christmas? Or would it?

Instead of asking what do we want for Christmas, I am going to consider the Christmas we want. And I shall write frankly in the first person.

To be really honest I should have to confess that I want the kind of Christmas "that Mother used to make." I do not expect to ride in a bobsled through the snow to the little country church with its community Christmas tree, but I have not outgrown the nostalgia for the holiday season of my boyhood. And despite the change of trimmings, I desire to keep the Christmas spirit in such a way that my children and grandchildren will not lose the longing for it when they grow up.

I want a Christmas that begins the evening before. The thrill of expectancy is in the air. Little children are preparing surprises for their parents. Mothers are adding those touches which make sons and daughters back from school or college feel how good it is to come home. The tree is lighted—yes, I should want a names of at least half the population? I know it does not flourish well in country places, there being withered by the twin blights of spite and curiosity.

In one bay of the living room, which is still big enough to drive a horse and carriage through, the Monaghans put up the staircase above, which ascends with broad open treads to the bedrooms on the second floor. Designed by Mr. Monaghan, who is an architect, the stairway caused much headshaking (it is attached to the floor at only one point), but he built it anyway and today it not only "works" but also serves to underline the spaciousness and freedom of the room that contains it.

Set against a glowing red wall, a massive XVIIth-century chest is a featured piece in the carriage-house living room.

TODAY has been one of the days for counting blessings. Yesterday our village shared with the rest of the Eastern seaboard a storm of spectacular fury. Other communities were treated worse, by newspaper accounts, but we did not escape. We all lost a tree or two (and we are proud of our trees), the shingles of our roofs went flying; worse, the electricity failed and that meant, of course, no light, no heat, no current for the freezer or the laundry or the radio, or, in many cases, the important stove. There were floods in cellars, lost gardens. But nobody was hurt, nobody minded very much, and nobody I know of went to hotels or Red Cross centers to sit out the debacle. They went to one another's houses, quite as a matter of course. Those of us who had heat took in those without and did not expect gratitude. We helped one another push fallen maples away from walls and hedges. We made enormous quantities of coffee and sandwiches, and we tucked other people's babies away in the nursery with our own. I have just returned from a walk down the street. My neighbor to the left, whose current had returned, was giving lunch to seven children besides her own, all of different ages and degrees of overstimulation. She planned on keeping them for a day or two since at their respective homes there would be no furnaces running for another twenty-four hours. The neighbor to my right was storing in her deep-freeze container the contents of someone else's freezer and inviting everybody to stay for dinner. Farther down three male neighbors were helping a householder patch his roof until the arrival of the uncertain carpenter.

Now all those were kind actions, but not unusual for any community when the excitement of an emergency bubbles in the veins like champagne. What astonishes me in our village is that we continue to be kind when the intoxication passes. We have not acquired the fear of being repulsed, which is the modern snobbery. We love our neighbor on small occasions as well as large. We visit the sick, we comfort the afflicted, but we are also benevolent toward those whose fortune is as good as ours, or better, so that we win the grace of doing good without condescension. Even the well-to-do are included in our affection. We lend our cars; we admire one another's gardens without malice; we listen with honest delight to the returned traveler in whose journey we could not afford to join; we tend one another's children, run one another's errands, turn taxi driver or nurse or dog-walker or caterer at our neighbor's signal. We are usually very busy people and therefore capable of accomplishing extra tasks. It is the leisured, I have noticed, who rebel the most at an interruption of routine.

I HAVE nearly forgotten the city ways. Tell me, you people in towns, when your neighbors go shopping of a morning, do they call you first to see if you have an errand that needs doing? If they find a bargain of unusual brilliance, do they fetch it home for you, offering to return the trophy if you have no use for it? When you are ill and maidless, do they send a dinner for the family, complete to chicken and lemon pie? Mine do. The one benefaction they withhold is advice. Our charity encompasses minding our own business.

WERNER WOLFF—BLACK STAR

Here is Phyllis McGinley at the backdoor of the house where she has lived for twenty years—in this cherished and familiar setting, as she says, she collected the flowers for "A Garland of Kindness."

A Garland

WE ARE old-fashioned in our village. I tell you this in the strictest confidence; we do not admit it to ourselves. Do our roofs not blossom with television aerials, our kitchens with mechanical dishwashers? Do we not read the most recent books, even when we dislike them, and in our medicine cabinet store the stylish panaceas of the season? Our addiction to large families and infrequent divorces we consider merely tokens that we are ahead of, not behind, the fashion. We discuss the current ideologies, we speak knowingly of child psychology, we have seen the newest oddity by Samuel Beckett and the latest show of Toulouse-Lautrec. Our attitudes are modern, and we share the modern faults of haste and sentimentality. It is our virtues that are old-fashioned.

For here we love our neighbor. What is more, we are reactionary enough not to love him impersonally. To us he is not mankind, but man; and our affection warms us both.

Now kindness is a virtue neither modern nor urban. One almost unlearns it in a city. Towns have their own beatitude; they are not unfriendly; they offer a vast and solacing anonymity or an equally vast and solacing gregariousness. But one needs a neighbor on whom to practice compassion. It has taken me many years to emerge from the self-centered cocoon which the city had wound about me, and even now I offer small benefactions with a sort of shyness and am as shy to accept them. So I am constantly being surprised by the matter-of-fact, everyday kindness with which my friends seem overflowing.

Is it the same in other villages? Does this flower blossom in any suburb where the economic soil is neither very rich nor very poor and where one knows the

I know a charming lady who after a number of years of married life here is now separated from her husband. She is still part of the circle as she always was, for we do not believe we must go in pairs, like the animals in the Ark. But we do not know why the separation occurred, and we have never inquired, considering that the simplest sort of kindness.

When you go away on a short holiday, what do you do with your children? Hire a strange nursemaid if the ménage does not already include one? We are apt to drop them off casually with friends—there is always room. I know a couple with five descendants all under twelve who went to Key West for three weeks on their first vacation together in years. For this event they did engage a supposedly capable woman, paying her a king's ransom. Some days before they were expected back, the woman announced to the family across the street that she wasn't feeling so well and thought she'd have to leave. Did the family across the street—young, with four children of their own packed away in eight rooms—have the kindness to wire the couple at once? Certainly not. They invited the entire tribe of five to stay with them so that the vacation could proceed.

WE EXPECT mercies here, not only from ourselves but from others. We make friends with those who are only part-time villagers. We expect the bus-driver to back up for us if we are late at the stop. We expect him to deal justly with the children he takes to and from school and feel we need give him nothing in return except our admiration. Once when my husband was delayed on a rainy night and I could not meet him, the driver carried him to our door, two blocks off the route. And who in the city has for friend and ally the red-haired man who delivers parcels from the great stores in town? We have. We meet him in the village drugstore, drinking coffee, and he obligingly burrows into the back of his truck for the C.O.D. package we would not have been home to receive. We entrust him with messages for other friends. Once he sat for half an hour with a baby when the baby's mother was called suddenly uptown. If we know him by no other name except "Red," that is not a mark of disrespect. We simply began on a first-name basis.

I find ours a difficult village to live up to. Because I am not so busy as most householders here, I guard my free time more jealously. I shudder, for instance, to think of what it would have cost me to be as generous as another neighbor down the block. She shares with me Jessie, a "cleaning woman" of surpassing talent. Jessie has two daughters, both of whom take piano lessons at public school. They own a childish aptitude but no piano, so my friend permits them to practice an hour a day each on her own instrument. "Tum-tum-tum, diddley-diddlety," it goes every afternoon for two horrendous hours. I, who love Jessie more dearly than a sister, would sooner part with her forever than suffer such an ordeal. Yet I have never heard my friend mention that she considers her generosity more than natural.

OF COURSE, I betray myself when I dwell on such simple instances. The cocoon is still around me, so I peer from it, astonished at what others take for granted. I am astonished at the kindness of policemen stationed at school crossings. I marvel at the patience of firemen rescuing kittens from trees, of the municipal employee who spent half an afternoon explaining the garbage-disposal system to one of my daughters, an officer of her Civics Club. I enjoy the fact that one can never walk to the business section without being offered a lift by every passing driver, stranger or no.

I grow more accustomed, as the years pass, to accepting kindness. But I have never ceased to cherish with affection and with pride an incident that happened soon after we had moved here. I think it was then I began to collect the flowers for my garland, as children collect chestnuts in the fall, valuing them for their number rather than their use.

The war—one of the wars—was in progress then, and the affair revolved about a Japanese family living not far from us. I shall call them the Yamotos. They were pleasant people who spoke English well and were interested in politics only to the extent that they had left Japan because they preferred democratic ways. Mr. Yamoto commuted with the other husbands, and Mrs. Yamoto attended sessions of the P.T.A. and compared notes with the other wives on report cards and pressure cookers. Then an ugly thing occurred. The Yamotos cultivated, like all of us, a vegetable garden where the back lawn used to spread, and one sweet spring night it was broken into and uprooted. Who the vandals were it was never discovered. I think we all prayed that it was children's work. Surely we did not harbor here an adult mind so twisted and vindictive as to consider the outrage a patriotic act! The news shocked me into nausea. Hate, the kind of hate that darkened Europe, seemed to be casting its shadow on our own people. But, true to my city training, shock merely numbed me. I thought of atonement in terms of letters to the papers; my neighbors protested less and did more. By evening the garden had been replanted. There were no public statements, no petitions, no paid protests. Simply, people with gardens of their own came hurrying spontaneously to the rescue with plants, with seedlings, with spades for digging and stakes to drive into the ground. By an act of common love we wiped out our uncommon shame.

OH, this is no Eden. We have our bores and our braggarts, our snobs and our slanderers. But I believe the scales, if there were scales to measure human nature, would tip heavily in the right direction. Kindness has become a way of life most of us attempt. We do not try to legislate our neighbor. And when we cannot love him, we at least can like him well enough.

I sat three summers before last in a church crowded to the final aisles. It wa seven-thirty of a weekday morning, bu a third of the village was there. The polic epidemic had struck at a young neighbo of ours and her three-month-old baby we had come to pray for them. I stil recall the emotion of the moment. A fe phone calls had been made the nigh before, a few messages passed. And her we were—the lazy, the beset, the lat risers—the men on the way to the 8:0 the women with children still asleep home. I doubt that we were all sto believers in the power of prayer. But was the only gift left to offer.

As the world grows colder and darke we need to remember these things. The must be thousands of villages as ol fashioned as ours, warmed by the heart fires of compassion. Surely a flame kindled and so fed can never be alt gether extinguished.

I Brought An Apple Home Last Night…

BY CHRISTINA PAPPAS

I brought an apple home last night.

It wasn't on my list, but they were carolling in town, the snow was falling, and my glasses fogged as I pushed through the light and glitter of the market.

I reached out for a cart, and blinked, and closed my eyes and opened them again, and there was Santa.

There, among the lettuce and the plums, the oranges and grapes, was Santa.

Suddenly I was a little girl again and we were making Santas from the big red plump delicious apples and it was before Christmas and there was nothing too little or too large to think of to do but that we had to do it and there was never time for everything.

I caught my breath and took the apple,
the big red juicy apple,

And flew along the aisles, past the pastries,
past the teas to the spices for the cloves . . .
cloves for eyes . . . marshmallows and almonds—head and feet—then quickly quickly to the raisins . . . cotton, glue, and toothpicks are at home and certainly enough red paper to make a hundred little hats.

I held the apple in my hand and wouldn't let them wrap it with the rest.

Glasses fogged now, not with cold but with remembering, I took the car-keys out and started home, with Santa safe and smiling on the dash.

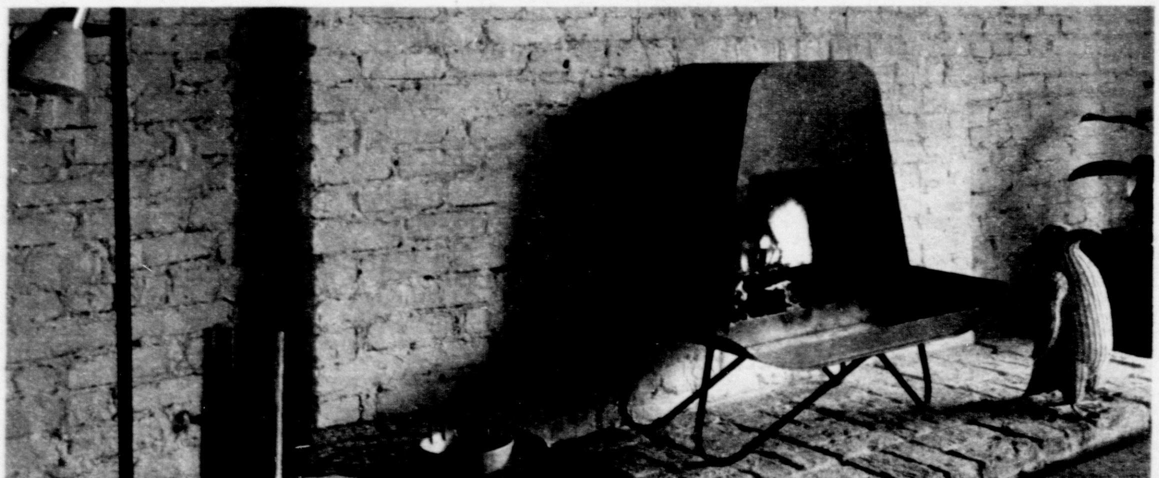
Fireplaces To Take Home

They are portable . . . they fit any room . . . and they can be installed in half a day

LIKE all other fireplaces, the fireplaces you see here burn wood, coal, or charcoal. They draw through an ordinary chimney flue (if you lack a chimney, you can make the necessary connection by cutting through ceiling and roof). Being light, these models require no supporting construction, and being portable, they can be moved when you move. Installation, about $50.



About $200. Building-supply firms, or write Kosmak, 45 Castle St., San Francisco.

CHRISTMAS TREE DESSERT

Using one stick from a package of cream puff mix, prepare 32 miniature puffs. Bake according to directions on package. Cool and cut off tops. Fill each shell with about 1 tablespoon of Lemon Whipped Cream, Cocoa Whipped Cream, or Mocha-Cocoa Whipped Cream. Replace tops. To form tree, arrange filled cream puffs in a tree shape on a serving dish. For the "lights" nestle candied cherries decoratively on the tree. (See photo.)

LEMON WHIPPED CREAM

To Prepare: 10 min.

1 cup chilled whipping cream
½ cup sifted confectioners' sugar
1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
Few grains salt
Few grains nutmeg
2 teaspoons lemon juice

1. Using a chilled bowl and beater, beat whipping cream until cream stands in peaks when beater is slowly lifted upright.

2. With final few strokes, beat in the sugar, lemon peel, salt, and nutmeg. Blend in the lemon juice one teaspoon at a time. Use as a filling for miniature cream puffs. Serve filled puffs with frozen sliced strawberries, thawed.

About 2 cups whipped cream

COCOA WHIPPED CREAM

To Prepare: 10 min. To Chill: 2 hrs.

3 tablespoons Dutch process cocoa
¼ teaspoon salt
1 cup whipping cream
2 teaspoons vanilla extract

1. Mix all ingredients together in a bowl in order listed. Chill 2 hrs. or longer. Chill a rotary beater.

2. Beat chilled mixture with chilled rotary beater until cream stands in peaks when beater is slowly lifted upright. Use as a filling for miniature cream puffs. Serve filled puffs with chocolate sauce. About 2 cups whipped cream

MOCHA-COCOA WHIPPED CREAM

Follow recipe for Cocoa Whipped Cream. Add 2 teaspoons instant coffee to the bowl after adding cocoa. Decrease vanilla extract to 1½ teaspoons.

FABULOUS CHEESE MOUSSE

A cool and smooth appetizer—this mousse is a subtle combination of the noble flavors of Roquefort and Camembert cheeses.

To Prepare: 25 min. To Chill: 3 hrs.

¼ cup cold water
1 tablespoon (1 env.) unflavored gelatin
3¾ oz. (3 1¼-oz. pkgs.) Roquefort cheese
2⅔ oz. (2 1⅓-oz. pkgs.) Camembert cheese
1 egg yolk, slightly beaten
1 tablespoon sherry
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ cup chilled whipping cream
1 egg white

1. Lightly oil a fancy 1-pt. mold with salad or cooking oil (not olive oil); set aside to drain. Chill a small bowl and rotary beater.

2. Pour the cold water into a small cup or custard cup. Sprinkle the gelatin evenly over the water. Let stand about 5 min. to soften. Dissolve completely by placing cup over very hot water.

3. Force the Roquefort and Camembert cheeses through a fine sieve. Blend in the egg yolk, sherry, and Worcestershire sauce. Stir the dissolved gelatin and add to the cheese mixture, blending thoroughly.

4. Using the chilled bowl and beater, beat whipping cream until it is of medium consistency (piles softly).

5. Using clean beater, beat egg white until rounded peaks are formed. Fold whipped cream and egg white into the cheese mixture. Turn into the mold. Chill until firm.

6. Unmold onto chilled plate and garnish with sliced pimiento-stuffed olives. Serve with crackers.

Holiday Fruit Bread

One pkg. Aunt Jemima Oatmeal Bread Easy Mix
⅔ cup (1 small jar) S & W Glace Fruit Mix
1 egg, unbeaten
⅔ cup milk

Mix fruit with mix in bag. Mix and bake according to package directions. Cool thoroughly. Decorate with glace red cherries and citron "leaves." To make leaves, slice candied citron about ⅛ inch thick. Cut in the shape of holly leaves. Soak for several minutes in a little water tinted green with food coloring. Drain on absorbent paper.

MELANIE DE PROFT Food Editor

These twin turkeys weigh 6 to 8 lbs. each. Roast stuffed turkeys of this size, uncovered, on a rack in a shallow pan in a 325° oven, 3½ to 4 hrs., or until tender.

LINGONBERRY ICE

The flavors of meat and poultry are pleasantly accentuated by this refreshing ruby-red ice.

To Prepare: 10 min. To Freeze: 2-3 hrs.

¼ cup cold water
2 teaspoons unflavored gelatin
1¼ cups very hot water
2 tablespoons sugar
1 14-oz. jar lingonberries
2 tablespoons lemon juice

1. Pour the cold water into a small cup or custard cup. Sprinkle the gelatin evenly over the water. Let stand about 5 min. to soften.

2. Add softened gelatin to very hot water; stir until gelatin is completely dissolved. Add sugar and stir until dissolved cool. Blend in lingonberries (sieved, if desired) and lemon juice.

3. Pour mixture into a refrigerator tray. Freeze until firm (2 to 3 hrs.), stirring two or three times. To serve, cut into squares.

1½ pts. ice

SWEET POTATO-RICE STUFFING

For additional servings, prepare a casserole of this stuffing. Heat uncovered in a 325°F oven 20 to 25 min.

To Prepare: 35 min.

½ cup butter
1½ cups coarsely chopped celery
1½ cups chopped onion
2 cups packaged precooked rice
2½ cups quick chicken broth (dissolve 3 chicken bouillon cubes in 2½ cups hot water)
2 tablespoons brown sugar
1¾ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon ground coriander
¾ teaspoon crushed rosemary
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 1-lb. 2-oz. can vacuum-packed sweet potatoes, cut in ½-in. pieces

1. Heat butter in a large heavy skillet having a tight-fitting cover. Stir in celery, onion, and rice. Cook over low heat until rice is golden yellow; stir occasionally with a spoon.

2. Stir in 2 cups of the chicken broth and a mixture of the brown sugar, salt, pepper, coriander, rosemary, and ginger. Cover skillet. Bring mixture to boiling and cook over low heat 15 min., or until rice is tender. Set aside to cool.

3. Mix the eggs with remaining ½ cup chicken broth. Blend into the rice mixture. Add sweet potatoes; toss gently. Lightly spoon into body and neck cavities of turkey (do not pack).

Stuffing for two 6- to 8-lb. turkeys

SWEDISH GINGERSNAPS (Pepparkakor)

The spicy fragrance of these cookies is part of the wonderful aroma of a Swedish Christmas. Roll the cookies as thin as parchment.

To Prepare: 25 min. To Bake: 6-8 min.

1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1½ teaspoons ground ginger
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ teaspoon ground cloves
½ cup butter
¾ cup sugar
1 egg, well beaten
1½ teaspoons dark corn sirup
Whole blanched almonds (about 10), cut in small pieces

1. Sift together the first 5 ingredients. Set aside.

2. Cream butter until softened. Add sugar gradually, creaming until fluffy after each addition. Add egg and corn sirup gradually, beating thoroughly after each addition.

3. Mixing only until blended after each addition, add dry ingredients in thirds. Chill in refrigerator several hours.

4. Remove a portion of the chilled dough at a time and place on a lightly floured surface. Roll about 1/16 in. thick. Cut with lightly floured cookie cutters into various shapes. Press one piece of almond onto the center of each cookie. Transfer cookies to ungreased cookie sheets.

5. Bake at 375°F 6 to 8 min. Carefully remove cookies to cooling racks to cool completely.

Books, Movies & Records

HANDEL: WATER MUSIC SUITE—HAYDN: SYMPHONY NO. 94 – This fine recording shows how William Steinberg has added stature to the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra, which has become one of our finest orchestral groups. Both pieces are handled with the deftness and delicacy needed for these beautiful 18th-century works, and both are witness to a wonderfully developed string section. One of the gems of the season–bravo Mr. Steinberg! (Capitol)

BARTÓK CONCERTO FOR ORCHESTRA– Composed after Bartók came to this country, this work reveals a very sober and sometimes somber intensity. Ansermet and L'Orchestre Suisse Romande perform wonderfully. (London)

BACH - BRANDENBURG CONCERTOS – These six famous pieces have been recorded by Karl Munchinger and the Stuttgart Chamber Orchestra. Although no two concertos are alike, the high quality of performance is consistent. (London)

MOZART-SCHUMANN-HAYDN – A fascinating record of wind-instrument virtuosity contrasting the Baroque and Romantic periods. Andre Pepin, flutist, plays Mozart, "Flute Concerto No. 2"; Edmond Leloir plays Schumann's "Adagio and Allegro for Horn"; and Paolo Longinotti plays Haydn's "Trumpet Concerto." (London)

ADRIAN SIEGEL

Eugene Ormandy directs THE MESSIAH for Columbia.

HANDEL: MESSIAH– A brilliant edition of the great oratorio. Eugene Ormandy directs the Philadelphia Orchestra, with Eileen Farrell, William Warfield, Martha Lipton, and Davis Cunningham as soloists. The chorus is sung by the great Mormon Tabernacle Choir of 375 voices which is one of the oldest and largest choral groups in the world. (Columbia)

THE YEOMEN OF THE GUARD–This seldom-performed Gilbert and Sullivan opera, unlike their others, is not a social satire, but rather a melodrama set to music. The story tells of a young man saved from execution by some strange twist of fate. The songs are delightful and sound refreshingly new. (Angel)

CALLAS SINGS VERDI AT LA SCALA– This prima donna, at the pinnacle of her success and vocal achievement, has given some of the finest performances ever heard at La Scala opera house. Her power and range are ideal for Verdi. On this disc of highlights, she sings arias from "Rigoletto," "The Force of Destiny," "A Masked Ball," and "Aida." (Angel)

What's New In

The ideal mother-in-law "owns a yacht and stays on it," according to Billie Burke in her new book WITH POWDER ON MY NOSE.

BOOKS

PEANUTS and Hazel are with us—'tis the season to be jolly. THE HAZEL JUBILEE contains 350 cartoons (selected from her 16 years' association with artist Ted Key). Hazel reigns supreme over the Baxter household. Voice of authority on any subject from kite flying to baseball to politics, friend of all pets and children, spontaneous and irrepressible, Hazel is at her all-time best. (Dutton, $3.95)

PEANUTS REVISITED—Old and new favorites by Charles A. Schulz. Here is Charlie Brown pondering over life's vast problems; Schroder, ever the artist at heart; Linus, lost and afraid without his favorite blanket; Lucy, her philosophical comments that sting with truth; and Snoopy, so human in every way—well, almost. (Rinehart, $2.95)

WITH POWDER ON MY NOSE – Billie Burke chats happily and frankly to women of all ages on several subjects close to their hearts—clothes and appearance, diet and exercise, the mother-in-law, and the younger generation. Of special interest to your daughter or mother are these chapters: "The Trouble with Women," "With a Possum on My Head," and "Clothes—and the Shape You're In." (Coward-McCann, $3.95)

PREPOSTEROUS PAPA – An affectionate portrait by Lewis Meyer of his father, who settled in Oklahoma. Papa started out in the dry goods business, but before long the land bug bit him hard. He bought acres upon acres, boasted that he was the "only Jewish farmer in Oklahoma," tried to raise onions, run a chicken farm, and start a nursery—all without success—until one day black geysers burst everywhere. The discovery of oil is only one of the many happy chapters in Papa's fruitful life. (World, $3.95)

HAWAII—James A. Michener begins this chronicle with the birth of the volcanic islands. About a thousand years ago, the adventurous Polynesians came and, centuries later, well-meaning missionaries, who brought new and strange ways of living to a Stone Age society. Other groups came, the Chinese, the Japanese, and the Filipinos, each with different national customs. Ultimately, through association, education, and intermarriage, a new type of people was formed. Michener's novel emphasizes the triumphs and failures, the passions and hatreds, and the struggle for identity by the men and women of various countries who chose the islands for their new home. (Random House, $6.95)

THE HERO: CHARLES A. LINDBERGH AND THE AMERICAN DREAM—Kenneth S. Davis in his exciting biography reveals the amazing social phenomenon of mass adulation. After his solo flight, Lindbergh was transformed from a young pilot into a legendary god, and the public's thirst for hero-worship seemed insatiable. Lindbergh's private life is recounted with awareness and an understanding of the man and his time. (Doubleday, $4.95)

THE GESELL INSTITUTE PARTY BOOK—A very helpful handbook on how to give parties for all ages, from three to fifteen years. This guide, based on series of parties given by the Institute, describes and explains what works and what doesn't work. It concentrates on an important fact—the tremendous difference in the things that make successful parties for the various age groups. Types of entertainment and refreshment, number of guests, and the duration of the party all vary greatly from one age group to the next. By Ilg, Ames, Goodenough, Anderson. (Harper, $2.95)

ABRAHAM LINCOLN: THE PRAIRIE YEARS and THE WAR YEARS—Carl Sandburg has reduced his massive six-volume biography to three, and Dell has boxed the set in an attractive case. ($2.95)

EXODUS—Here in paperback is one of today's best sellers: the story of an American nurse and an Israeli freedom fighter caught in the most dramatic event of our century—the birth of a nation. Leon Uris. (Bantam, 75¢)

YOUR ADOLESCENT AT HOME AND IN SCHOOL—Written by a husband and wife team, Lawrence K. and Mary Frank, parents of six children. This book contains expert advice on how to understand and help teen-agers. Among the topics discussed are: homework, dating, physical changes. (Signet, 50¢)

Walter Slezak, Carroll Baker, and Katina Paxinou in THE MIRACLE, the story of a postulant who runs away from her convent to seek adventure.

MOVIES

LIL' ABNER—Al Capp's whole menagerie of wacky comic-strip characters is brought almost intact from Broadway to the screen. A colorful, carefree musical with lots of laughs, good production numbers, curvaceous girls, and hillbilly charm.

THE LAST ANGRY MAN—Taken from Gerald Green's novel about a doctor in Brooklyn, outraged by a TV program which attempts to exploit his lifetime of selfless service for a sponsor's benefit. The doctor, magnificently played by Paul Muni, gets strong support from David Wayne as the TV producer.

ON THE BEACH—Deals with the last survivors of an atomic war that has wiped out all civilization except in southern Australia. The cast is headed by Gregory Peck as an American submarine commander and Ava Gardner as the Australian girl in love with him. Others are Fred Astaire in his first dramatic role, as an atomic scientist, and Anthony Perkins and Donna Anderson as an Australian couple.

BELOVED INFIDEL—Based on Sheila Graham's best seller about her love affair with F. Scott Fitzgerald, with Deborah Kerr and Gregory Peck in the leading roles. The film is built primarily on their romance rather than on any characterization of its famous hero, but it has its own appeal.

OPERATION PETTICOAT—A nonsensical farce about a patched-up submarine trying to get back from Manila to Hawaii at the outbreak of World War II. Skipper Cary Grant's efforts are hampered by the admiral's aide, Tony Curtis, and five Navy nurses. After dozens of hair-raising experiences, the submarine is finally saved by the resourcefulness of the nurses. Funny from beginning to end.

RECORDS

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU—An all-around Christmas record of a dozen vocals by leading pop artists: Frank Sinatra, Nat "King" Cole, Dean Martin, Les Baxter, and others. Potpourri of Yuletide spirit with something for everyone. (Capitol)

BURL IVES—CHEERS—A new group of songs by one of our greatest folk singers. Besides some of the old favorites, Ives turns his talents to madcap numbers such as "Lydia, The Tattooed Lady," "The Kling King Bird," and "Rebecca Came Back From Mecca." Hilariously funny record. (Decca)

CHRISTMAS SING ALONG WITH MITCH—You just can't help adding your own voice to these carols. Even if you don't remember all of the words, you can flex your vocal cords, since eight copies of the lyrics are included. (Columbia)

THE BANJO KINGS GO WEST—The Kings, Roberts and Roundtree, have pushed for the revival of the banjo. On this platter they ring out with "Home on the Range," "Texas Stomp," "Don't Fence Me In," and other western ditties. (Good Time Jazz)

BILLY TAYLOR—A piano and four flutes! This unusual ensemble of instruments shows without a doubt that the flute is a natural for small pop combos. It is light and airy, can be played with ease, and can express a variety of moods. The spinner includes "Lady Be Good," "The Day Is Ended," "How About You?" and some of Taylor's own compositions. (Riverside)
